

Leonardo: step forward in financial strategy, revolving credit facility renegotiated

- Significant reduction of margins, down 25bp, and positive effects expected on the financial charges
- Size reduced, down to €1.8bn, and duration extended to 2023

Rome, 14 February 2018 – Leonardo signed a new Revolving Credit Facilities with a pool of domestic and international banks.

The RCF envisages the payment of a spread of 75 basis points above Euribor, 25 basis point less than the previous conditions.

The size was also reduced to 1.8 billion euros, compared to the 2 billion euros of the former RCF, and the duration was extended till February 2023, when there aren't repayment duties on the capital market.

Alessandro Profumo, CEO, stated “the Revolving Credit Facility renegotiation is a step forward in the implementation of a disciplined financial strategy. Favourable market conditions enabled us to renegotiate the credit line in order to reduce further the financial charges, confirming the gradual decrease of working capital needs, while maintaining a banking liquidity source in line with financial market expectations, including credit rating agencies.”

The new RCF has been signed by 26 banks, and oversubscribed for 3.6 billion euros; the success of the renegotiation confirms the interest of the market for Leonardo.

Within the pool, the banks that signed the renegotiation are:
