Introduction

Borsa Italiana acquisition created the main paneuropean market infrastructure and the main venue for european capital markets: Euronext Group

Euronext Group is the biggest liquidity pool in Europe and our mission is financing the real economy and connect local economies to global capital markets.

With Borsa Italiana entrance in Euronext Group, it has been created:

The main venue for capital markets in Europe, with about 1,900 listed companies for an aggregated market cap of € 6,5 tn at the end of December 2023;

The main infrastructure supporting equity financing, with € 2,5 Bn raised in 2023 by investors to finance companies all over Europe.

Euronext actively participates in discussions at EU level to encourage the Commission to promote the development of Growth Markets for the benefit of SMEs, to enable fundraising, growth, employment and the value creation for stakeholders.
Starting from October 3°, 2022 simplifications of listing rule to access Euronext Milan market enters into force

Starting from October 3°, 2022 simplifications of listing rule, announced by Borsa Italiana on September 23°, 2022 enters into force, to the benefit of companies aiming to raise capital on the regulated market Euronext Milan.

Driven by the integration of Borsa Italiana into Euronext, the changes to Euronext Milan’s listing rules align the listing process in Italy with European and global standards, aiming to simplify the requirements for issuers preparing to go public, thereby reducing workload and time for market participants.

Specially, the documentation requirements, the extent of Borsa Italiana’s role in reviewing listings and the Sponsor’s responsibilities have been significantly simplified.

Simplifications are in line with Euronext’s commitment to facilitating access to financing on its venues, and make the listing process as attractive, competitive and efficient as possible in Europe, in particular across the seven listing venues where it operates: Amsterdam, Brussels, Dublin, Oslo, Lisbon, Milan and Paris.

Introduction

Since 2018, we helped over 240 companies to achieve their growth ambitions

Borsa Italiana stock markets allow companies of all sizes to gather important financial resources.

Resources to finance growth, to diversify funding sources and to involve domestic and international investors in companies shareholder base.

IPO increases company visibility and standing and helps to motivate and involve the management team in group results.

Today there is greater consensus among institutions, associations of companies and operators, on the importance of a domestic market role that favors access to capital for companies with growth ambitions.

Among the recent initiatives to favor IPOs, it is worth mentioning the introduction of the Individual Savings Plans in 2017 Budget Law, which consists in tax benefits related to investments towards SMEs and the introduction of fiscal incentives on IPO costs for SMEs within 2018 Budget Law, extended with the 2023 Budget Law.

In this presentation we will illustrate how companies can access listing opportunities in one of our markets.

Italy Primary Markets team remains available for answering questions or concerns regarding how companies can seize these opportunities.

Primary Markets Italy
Borsa Italiana markets count 429 listed companies. SMEs - companies with a market cap less than € 1 Billion - represent more than 80% of Italian listed companies, with 346 companies.

IPO offers an answer to these challenges and represents a key choice for the future of the company.

It is crucial to carefully consider all the IPO elements and all the implications that a listed company status set within the ordinary business management.

In the following pages we will answer to some of the questions supposed by companies that are considering an IPO, the various consequences and advantages.

We will be glad to answer these and other questions in more detail if requested.

On the final page of the document you will find a list of useful contacts, do not hesitate to contact us.
Is IPO intended for large companies only?

No. A small business turnover is not an obstacle if generated by companies with success stories, solid and sustainable projects and a reliable corporate strategy.

Investors will choose to share a growth path with smaller companies, if based on solid and reliable growth prospects and business plans.

The market

In 2017 macro-economic factors at national and international level, together with measures introduced by the Italian Government, generated structural changes: new funds were born, liquidity on the market and in particular on SMEs increased, the advisory network dedicated to this asset class strengthened too

PIR effect

PIR (Individual Savings Plans), introduced in the 2017 Budget Law, are generating increasing liquidity on the market. The PIR effect is a flywheel for mid and small caps in Italy.

Euronext Growth Milan success

Balanced regulatory approach, ease of access, minimum bureaucracy and the expert support of the Euronext Growth Advisor make the access to capital markets easy for SMEs.
Who decides my company value?

The market defines it.

Advisors who accompany the issuer along the listing process have the task to meet the entrepreneurs’ expectations on valuation with the real willingness of investors to buy at a certain price.

Advisors generally use valuation methodologies that compare the company with listed comparables.

The advisors team selection is crucial since they can appreciate the company competitive advantages in order to enhance the company strengths towards investors.
FAQ

Who buys my company shares?

Professional Investors

The main categories of professional investors include institutional investors, among which credit agencies, investment firms, insurance companies, UCIs, pension funds and fund manager companies.

Retail investors

Retail investors are mainly private investors who are not included in the professional investor's definition.

Type of shares

Shares included in the offering may be:

- newly issued shares in the event of a capital increase (OPS),
- existing shares offered for sale by existing shareholders (OPV),
- a mixed combination of newly issued and existing shares (OPVS)
FAQ

Which information requirements do I have to fulfill once my company is listed?

Periodic Accounting Information

Annual report, half-year report, quarterly report - where present – according to the listing market.

Price Sensitive and Extraordinary Disclosure

The issuer communicates to the market, as soon as possible, all preferred information concerning the company.

I.e.: these information include: the acquisition and sale of assets, extraordinary operations, changes in the expected results for the period (profit warning and earning surprise) and changes within key managers.

For some events, regulation may also require, in addition to the sharing of a press release, the publication of a prospectus or an informative document.

Technical information

The issuer communicates to the market additional information required by Borsa Italiana, according to Regulation, in order to guarantee a correct and orderly market functioning.

I.e.: these information include: the corporate events calendar, a change in share capital and a change in company name.

*These documents must be prepared in accordance with (i) Italian Accounting Principles (ii) International Accounting Principles - mandatory if the issuer has issued financial instruments that are widely distributed among the public or listed on regulated markets, (iii) US GAAP - Generally Accepted Accounting Principles
FAQ

Who are the external parties involved?

Many external parties act to ensure the IPO success.

Listing Agent (only on Euronext Milan): financial intermediary that assists the company throughout the entire process, guaranteeing the quality, accuracy, completeness of the information provided by the issuers, and the orderly and correct execution of the process.

Euronext Growth Advisor (only on Euronext Growth Milan): It can be either a bank, or a SIM or a corporate finance company belonging to the auditors network included in Borsa Italiana register. The Euronext Growth Advisor evaluates the applicability of the company for admission on Euronext Growth Milan, manages the IPO process and assists the company along its stay on the market.

Global Coordinator: investment bank that coordinates every aspect of the IPO process, including placement. For Euronext Milan market the Global Coordinator can be the Listing Agent, for Euronext Growth Milan the Global Coordinator must be the Euronext Growth Advisor.

Legal consultants assist the company, shareholders and intermediaries for all the contractual, regulatory and legal aspects of the IPO process.

Auditing company in addition to the auditing activity, it runs an assessment on budget data and is among the deputy subjects to make verification on the management information system of the issuer.

Financial Advisor sustain the company in the listing process, supporting the entrepreneur relationship with all the advisors, assists the company in the offering definition, according to the financial needs.

Media company, through media and investor relations services, it manages marketing activities in order to guarantee to the issuer the market visibility in the period before the placement.
Which corporate governance requirements are asked on Euronext Growth Milan?

Euronext Growth Milan
The issuer has to adopt and maintain "appropriate" corporate governance rules, according to the management efficiency and investor protection targets.

There is no "standard" formula suitable for all companies: the appropriateness must be concretely assessed by each issuer (together with the Euronext Growth Advisor support) considering all the peculiarities, including the ownership structure and type of business.

Among other things, it will be appropriate to take care of the centrality and effectiveness of the board of directors, with a balanced composition and set up, in terms of competences and independence.

In any case, as a guarantee for investors, Euronext Growth Milan Issuers Regulation establishes some minimum protections - among which the following are crucial:

- the adoption of procedures that ensure transparency and accuracy of transactions with related parties, as well as
- the statutory provision of the tender offer obligation in the event of a change of control.
