145.1

Market intermediaries are required to fulfil the participation requirements and shall be liable for the orders sent to the market.

145.2

Market intermediaries must organise themselves in order to be able to control orders entered, including those entered via interconnections. To this end, attention must be paid to:

- the controls on the maximum quantities and prices of orders entered;
- the controls on the overall trading activity carried out by the different persons who operate via interconnections;
- the frequency according to which persons who operate via interconnections enter order which have overridden controls and systems alert in terms of price, size or number.

- a) the price of the last contract;

¹ The possibility to segregate different participations in the settlement system is temporarily suspended.

- b) spread present on the book ²
- c) price and quantity limits, possibly by instrument;
- d) possible price impact caused by the order entered;
- e) minimum order quantity, taking into account the economic significance of the order;

- 145.4 In particular, market intermediaries must equip themselves with controls and automatic alarm systems that prevent the entry of anomalous orders, whose price, size or number could affect the orderly functioning of the market. To this end market intermediaries shall take account of the nature of their activity. In addition the procedures and controls must be adequate to permit the correct entry of orders and the handling of any alarms.
- 145.5 As for interconnections, in addition to providing the persons who send orders via interconnections with appropriate professional support, market intermediaries shall equip themselves with controls and monitoring systems in order to:
- prevent the entry of orders that exceed the maximum variation thresholds;
 - instruct such persons regarding the manner of entering orders.
- 145.6 Market intermediaries shall ensure that they can delete orders entered via interconnections or, if necessary, restrict the possibility to enter orders via interconnections with or without the prior consent of the subject who entered the order via interconnections.

	2030.1	the indicative uncrossing price shall be the price at which the largest quantity of Blt Eq MTF financial instruments can be traded;
	2030.2	where the quantity referred to in article 2030.1 can be traded at more than one price, the indicative uncrossing price shall be equal to the one which produces the smallest quantity that cannot be traded with reference to the buy and sell orders having prices equal to or better than the price in question;

	2030.4	where applying article 2030.3 the market pressure on the buy side is equal to that on the sell side, the indicative uncrossing price shall be equal to the price closest to the static price, referred to in Article 2080, where the static price is out of the range individuated by the two prices determined applying the previous article 2030.3 or is equal to the static price itself where it is included between the two prices determined applying the previous article 2030.3.
	2030.5	where no static price exists, the indicative uncrossing price shall be equal to the lowest price among those referred to in the previous subparagraphs.
	2031	The pre-auction phase shall end at a time within an interval within the last minute of the same phase.
G	2032	The last indicative uncrossing price shall be considered valid and adopted as the auction price for the conclusion of contracts if it differs from the static price by less than the maximum percentage variation established by the guidelines Sec. 204 and provided the indicative auction prices and corresponding volumes remained stable in a predefined period (final validation period). This check is repeated for a limited number of times within the time referred to in article 2032. The final validation period duration and the stability criteria of indicative auction prices and corresponding volumes are established in the Guide to the Parameters.
G	2033	If the difference between the indicative uncrossing price and the static price exceeds the maximum percentage variation referred to in article 2032, the volatility auction phase shall be started for a period established in the guideline sec. 204.

2034	The conclusion of contracts referred to in article 2032, shall be the result of the automatic matching of buy orders with prices equal to or higher than the auction price with sell orders with prices equal to or lower than such price in accordance with the price and time priorities of the individual orders and until the quantities available are exhausted.
2035	At the end of the opening auction or of the volatility auction, limit orders which are partly or wholly unfilled shall be automatically transferred to continuous trading as limit orders and with the price and time priority of the original order. 2040.2	the entry of a buy market order shall result in its being matched with one or more sell orders with the most advantageous prices on the book at the moment the market order is entered until the quantities available are exhausted; conversely, the entry of a sell market order shall result in its being matched with one or more buy orders with the most advantageous prices on the book at the moment the market order is entered until the quantities available are exhausted. Market orders may be entered only where there is at least one limit order of the opposite sign on the book.
2041	For each contract concluded via automatic matching in accordance with the previous article, the price shall be equal to that of the order having higher time priority.
