Issue Price: 100 per cent.

This document constitutes a prospectus (the “Prospectus”) for the purposes of Article 6(3) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 14 June 2017 on the prospectus to be published when securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market, as amended (the “Prospectus Regulation”). This Prospectus contains information about the issue by Defensive Certificates PLC (the “Company”) as issuer of the certificates described above (the “Certificates”) and has been prepared in accordance with Article 6 of the Prospectus Regulation. This Prospectus is to be read in conjunction with all documents which are incorporated herein by reference.

The Certificates will be issued on the terms set out in the section of this Prospectus entitled “Master Conditions” (pages 80 to 156 inclusive) (the “Master Conditions”), as supplemented or modified by the terms set out in the section of this Prospectus entitled “Pricing Conditions” (pages 157 to 183 inclusive) (the “Pricing Conditions”) and as further supplemented or modified by the provisions of the Global Certificate representing the Certificates (together, the “Conditions”). The provisions of such Global Certificate are summarised in the section of this Prospectus entitled “Summary of Provisions Relating to the Certificates While in Global Form” in Appendix A.

This Prospectus has been prepared on the basis that offers are not made within an exemption from the requirement to publish a prospectus under Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation (a “Non-exempt Offer”). Any person making or intending to make a Non-exempt Offer of the Certificates on the basis of this Prospectus must do so only with the Company’s consent – see the section of this Prospectus entitled “Consent to the use of the Prospectus in connection with Non-exempt Offers” below.

This Prospectus has been approved by the Central Bank of Ireland (the “Central Bank”), as competent authority under the Prospectus Regulation. The Central Bank only approves this Prospectus as meeting the standards of completeness, comprehensibility and consistency imposed by the Prospectus Regulation. Such approval should not be considered as an endorsement of either the Company or the quality of the Certificates that are the subject of this Prospectus and investors should make their own assessment as to the suitability of investing in the Certificates.

The Company will make reasonable efforts to arrange for the Certificates to be listed on the SeDex market of Borsa Italiana (the “SeDex Market”) and admitted to trading on the SeDex Market, within 2 days of the Issue Date. No assurance can be given that such listing will be obtained and/or maintained. The SeDex Market is not a regulated market pursuant to the provisions of the Directive 2014/65/EU.

The SeDex Market assumes no responsibility on the correctness of any of the statements made or opinions expressed or reports contained in this Prospectus. Admission to trading and listing on the SeDex market is not to be taken as an indication of the merits of the Company or the Certificates.

The Certificates are equity-linked in that (i) the interest amounts payable in respect of each Certificate will be linked to the performance of the worst performing share amongst a basket of shares (each, a “Reference Share” and together, the “Reference Shares”) and (ii) the redemption amount payable on the maturity date of the Certificates, or any early redemption amount payable by the Company upon an early redemption of the Certificates, will be linked to the net asset value of up to EUR 15,000,000 of Class I Shares in Smart Global Defence Zero Coupon Fineco AM Fund, a sub-fund of FAM SERIES UCITS ICAV (the “Fund”) due 30 June 2028 held by the Company (the “Underlying Fund Shares”).

Prospective investors should have regard to the factors described under the sections headed “Risk Factors” on pages 9 to 47 inclusive and “Conflicts of Interest” on pages 48 to 49 inclusive of this Prospectus. In particular, prospective investors should note that the Company is a special purpose vehicle and that investors in the Certificates have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property (as defined in the Conditions) with respect to the Certificates. No other assets are available to the Company to make payments to the Certificateholders or other creditors. The Certificates are not guaranteed by, and are not the responsibility of, any other entity. If the Certificates redeem early, if there is a default at maturity or if there is an enforcement of security then any sums realised from the Mortgaged Property with respect to the Certificates will be paid to the Certificateholders and other creditors with respect to the Certificates in accordance with a defined order of priority. In such order, the claims of other creditors will be met before the claims of the Certificateholders. If there are insufficient sums available, this may result in the Certificateholders not receiving payment in full or at all.

The Certificates will not be rated.

THE CERTIFICATES ARE COMPLEX INSTRUMENTS THAT INVOLVE SUBSTANTIAL RISKS AND MAY NOT BE A SUITABLE INVESTMENT FOR ALL INVESTORS. INVESTORS SHOULD MAKE THEIR OWN ASSESSMENT AS TO THE SUITABILITY OF INVESTING IN THE CERTIFICATES IN LIGHT OF THEIR OWN CIRCUMSTANCES AND FINANCIAL CONDITION. EACH PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR IN THE CERTIFICATES SHOULD HAVE SUFFICIENT FINANCIAL RESOURCES AND LIQUIDITY TO BEAR ALL OF THE RISKS OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE CERTIFICATES. OWING TO THE STRUCTURED NATURE OF THE CERTIFICATES, THEIR PRICE MAY BE MORE VOLATILE THAN THAT OF UNSTRUCTURED SECURITIES.

INVESTORS MUST SATISFY THEMSELVES AS TO THE NATURE, IDENTITY AND CREDIT STATUS OF THE FUND AND THE COUNTERPARTY AND THE EXTENT OF THE CREDIT EXPOSURE TAKEN.

DEFAULT OR SIMILAR EVENTS BY, OR IN RESPECT OF, THE COUNTERPARTY OR TAX IMPOSITION AND OTHER EVENTS AFFECTING THE SWAP AGREEMENT MAY CAUSE THE CERTIFICATES TO REDEEM EARLY. DEFAULT OR SIMILAR EVENT BY, OR IN RESPECT OF, THE FUND OR DEFAULT WITH RESPECT TO ANY UNDERLYING FUND SHARES OR THE FAILURE OF ANY UNDERLYING FUND SHARES TO PAY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THEIR EXPECTED PAYMENTS SCHEDULE OR TAX IMPOSITION AND OTHER EVENTS AFFECTING ANY UNDERLYING FUND SHARES MAY LEAD TO AN EARLY REDEMPTION OF THE CERTIFICATES. ANY OF THESE EVENTS MAY CAUSE SIGNIFICANT LOSSES TO THE CERTIFICATEHOLDERS AND IF THE CERTIFICATES ARE REDEEMED, MAY RESULT IN THE CERTIFICATES REDEEMING AT ZERO.

Responsibility

The Company accepts responsibility for the information given in this Prospectus. To the best of its knowledge the information contained in this Prospectus is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect its import. The information set out in this Prospectus relating to the Underlying Fund Shares and the Fund has been obtained from the Fund. Such information has been accurately reproduced and, as far as the Company is aware and able to ascertain from information published by the Fund, no facts have been omitted that would render the reproduced information inaccurate or misleading.

The information contained in the section of the Prospectus entitled “Description of the Fund and the Underlying Fund Shares” (pages 187 to 188 inclusive) includes information in respect of the Fund and the Underlying Fund Shares (each as defined in the Conditions contained in this Prospectus) (the “Underlying Fund Shares Information”).

The Company has only made very limited enquiries in relation to the Underlying Fund Shares Information, and neither the Company, the Arranger, the Dealer, the Calculation Agent, the Broker, the Counterparty nor the Trustee makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of the Underlying Fund Shares Information and prospective investors in the Certificates should not rely upon, and should make their own independent investigations and enquiries in respect of, the Underlying Fund Shares, the financial condition and affairs and creditworthiness of the Fund and the tax, accounting, legal and regulatory consequences of an investment in the Certificates. Certificateholders who purchase Certificates may, as a result of any relationship such Certificateholders have with the Fund, have access to information relating to the Fund which is not publicly available and is not available to other Certificateholders. Neither the Dealer nor the Company shall have any obligation to disclose to any Certificateholder or any prospective investor in Certificates any such information (whether or not confidential) (whether such Certificateholders purchase Certificates upon their primary issue or in the secondary market).

Consent to the use of the Prospectus

The Company consents to the use of this Prospectus in connection with the offer of the Certificates during the period commencing from, and including, 14 March 2024 to, and including, 11 April 2024 (the “Offer

Period”) by FinecoBank S.p.A. of Piazza Durante 11, Milan 20131, Italy (the “Distributor”) in the Italian Republic, for so long as it is authorised to make such offers under MiFID II and in the Italian Republic.

Certificates may be sold by the Distributor from time to time to retail purchasers of the Distributor in the Italian Republic. These sales shall be conducted by the Distributor in accordance with the terms and conditions set out in the section of this Prospectus entitled “Terms and Conditions of the Offer”.

Form of Certificates

The Certificates are in registered form.

Risk Factors

Investing in the Certificates involves risks. Before purchasing the Certificates, investors should carefully consider, in particular, “Risk Factors” below.

Warning

You are about to purchase a product that is not simple and may be difficult to understand. The Certificates are equity-linked in that (i) the interest amounts payable in respect of each Certificate will be linked to the performance of the worst performing Reference Share amongst a basket of Reference Shares and (ii) the redemption amount payable on the maturity date of the Certificates, or any early redemption amount payable by the Company upon an early redemption of the Certificates, will be linked to the net asset value of the Underlying Fund Shares. Investors should therefore be prepared to be exposed to the risks related to the Reference Shares and Underlying Fund Shares. The payment of any interest amounts in respect of any interest accrual period is variable and not guaranteed, and in the worst case scenario may be zero. If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares does not move in the anticipated direction, the Certificates may return less than the amount invested, and in a worst case scenario, investors may lose up to the entire value of their investment.

Any decision to invest in the Certificates should be based on a consideration of the Prospectus as a whole by the investor. Any investor could lose all or part of their invested capital. Where a claim relating to the information contained in the Prospectus is brought before a court, the plaintiff investor might, under the national legislation of the member states of the European Economic Area, have to bear the costs of translating the Prospectus before the legal proceedings are initiated. Civil liability attaches only to those persons who have tabled the summary set out in the section entitled “Summary” of this Prospectus, including any translation thereof, but only if such summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of the Prospectus or if it does not provide, when read together with the other parts of the Prospectus, key information in order to aid investors when considering whether to invest in the Certificates.

Language

The language of this Prospectus is English. Certain legislative references and technical terms have been cited in their original language in order that the correct technical meaning may be ascribed to them under applicable law.

Target Market

Solely for the purposes of the manufacturer’s product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Certificates has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Certificates is eligible counterparties, professional clients and retail clients, each as defined in Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MI FID II”) and (ii) all channels for distribution of the Certificates are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Certificates (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturer’s target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Certificates (by either adopting or refining the manufacturer's target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

In this Prospectus, unless otherwise specified or the context otherwise requires references to "EUR" are to Euros, the single currency adopted by certain member states of the European Community pursuant to the Treaty establishing the European Community as amended by the Treaty on European Union.

DISCLAIMERS

No verification by the Arranger or Dealer: Neither the Arranger nor the Dealer has separately verified the information contained herein. Accordingly, no representation, warranty or undertaking, express or implied, is made and no responsibility is accepted by the Arranger or the Dealer as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained in this Prospectus or any other information provided by the Company in connection with the Certificates. Neither the Arranger nor the Dealer accepts liability in relation to the information contained in this Prospectus or any other information provided by the Company in connection with the Certificates.

No fiduciary role: None of the Company (or any directors, officers or shareholders), the Dealer or any of the Transaction Parties or any of their respective affiliates is acting as an investment adviser or as an adviser in any other capacity, and none of them (other than the Trustee to the extent set out in the Trust Deed) assumes any fiduciary obligation to any purchaser of Certificates or any other party, including the Company. None of the Company (or any directors, officers or shareholders), the Dealer or any of the Transaction Parties assumes any responsibility for (i) conducting or failing to conduct any investigation into the business, financial condition, prospects, creditworthiness, status and/or affairs of the Fund or the terms thereof or of any Counterparty or the terms of relevant Swap Agreement (ii) monitoring the Fund or any Counterparty, during the term of the Certificates.

No reliance: Investors may not rely on the views of the Company, the Dealer or any of the other Transaction Parties for any information in relation to any person.

Independent review and advice: This Prospectus is not, nor does it purport to be, investment advice. None of the Company, the Arranger, the Broker, the Dealer, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Custodian or any Agent, or any affiliate of any of them (including any directors, officers or employees thereof), is acting as an investment adviser or providing advice of any other nature, or assumes any fiduciary obligation, to any investor in Certificates.

None of this Prospectus or any other information supplied in connection with the Certificates is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation and should not be considered as a recommendation by the Company or the Dealer that any recipient of this Prospectus or any other information supplied in connection with the Certificates should purchase any of the Certificates. An investment in the Certificates is subject to a very high degree of complex risks which may arise without warning. The Certificates may at times be volatile and losses may occur quickly and in unanticipated magnitude. The Certificates are speculative and bear the risk that they could lose some or all of their investment in certain circumstances (see risk factor entitled "Investors in Certificates may receive back less than the original invested amount" on page 23). No person should acquire any Certificates unless (i) that person understands the nature of the relevant transaction and the extent of that person's exposure to potential loss and (ii) any investment in the Certificates is consistent with such person's overall investment strategy. Each investor in the Certificates should consider carefully whether the Certificates are suitable for it in the light of such investor's investment objectives, financial capabilities and expertise. Investors in the Certificates should consult their own business, financial, investment, legal, accounting, regulatory, tax and other professional advisers to assist them in determining the suitability of the Certificates for them as an investment. Each investor in the Certificates should be fully aware of and understand the complexity and risks inherent in the Certificates before it makes its investment decision in accordance with the objectives of its business. See the section entitled "Risk Factors".

Suitability of investment: Each investor in the Certificates must determine the suitability of such investment in light of the investor's own circumstances. In particular, each investor should:

- (a) have sufficient knowledge and experience (if necessary, in consultation with the investor's own legal, tax, accountancy, regulatory, investment or other professional advisers) to evaluate the Certificates, the merits and risks of investing in the Certificates, all information contained or incorporated by reference into this Prospectus and all information contained in this Prospectus or any supplement (if any);

- (b) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of the investor's particular financial situation, an investment in the Certificates and the impact the Certificates will have on the investor's overall investment portfolio;
- (c) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Certificates, including where the settlement currency is different from the currency in which such investor's principal financial activities are principally denominated;
- (d) understand thoroughly (if necessary, in consultation with the investor's own legal, tax, accountancy, regulatory, investment or other professional advisers) the terms of the Certificates, including certain agreements and representations that any person who purchases Certificates at any time is required to make, or is deemed to have made, as a condition to purchasing the Certificate or any legal or beneficial interest therein, and be familiar with any relevant financial markets;
- (e) understand thoroughly and evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser and/or other professional adviser) the rates, prices, amounts and other terms and conditions of the Certificates and the Transaction Documents, all of the risks thereof (economic and otherwise, including those which relate to the Underlying Fund Shares and the Fund), and be capable of assuming and be willing to assume (financially and otherwise) those risks;
- (f) in respect of the Reference Shares, understand thoroughly (if necessary, in consultation with the investor's own legal, tax, accountancy, regulatory, investment or other professional advisers) the nature of the Reference Shares and how the performance thereof may affect the pay-out and value of the Certificates;
- (g) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser and/or other professional adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect the investment and the investor's ability to bear the applicable risks;
- (h) review the publicly available information relating to the Fund, including but not limited to, publicly available budgetary and other financial information of the Fund and otherwise must have, in its professional judgement, sufficient independent access to information concerning the Fund, and be satisfied that as a reasonable retail investor it is in a sufficiently informed position to be able to make its decision to invest in the Certificates;
- (i) only invest in the Certificates if its purchase of the Certificates would be fully consistent with its financial objectives and condition, complies with all investment policies, guidelines and restrictions applicable to it and has determined the Certificates are a suitable investment for it;
- (j) be able to sustain a complete loss on its investment in the Certificates, can bear the lack of liquidity with respect to its investment in the Certificates and has no reason to anticipate any change in its circumstances, financial or otherwise, which may cause or require any sale or distribution by it of all or any part of the Certificates.

The Certificates are complex financial instruments. An investor should not invest in Certificates unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Certificates will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Certificates and the impact that the Certificates will have on the investor's overall investment portfolio.

Prospective investors in the Certificates must make their own investment decisions based upon their own judgement as an investor and upon any advice from such advisers as they deem necessary or desirable in connection with its decision to purchase the Certificates and not upon any view expressed by the Company, the Arranger, the Dealer, the Calculation Agent, the Broker, the Counterparty or the Trustee (including any directors, officers, employees or representatives thereof).

No offer: This Prospectus does not constitute an offer of, or an invitation by or on behalf of, the Company or the Dealer to subscribe for, or purchase, any Certificates. The distribution of this Prospectus and the offering or sale of the Certificates in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. Persons into whose possession this Prospectus comes are required by the Company and the Dealer to inform themselves about and to observe any such restrictions. The publication of this Prospectus is not intended as an offer or solicitation for the purchase or sale of any Certificates in any jurisdiction where such offer or solicitation would violate the laws of such jurisdiction.

No representations: None of the Company, the Arranger, the Dealer, the Calculation Agent, the Broker, the Counterparty or the Trustee (including any directors, officers, employees or representatives thereof) has given or gives (directly or indirectly through any other person) any assurance, guarantee or representation whatsoever as to the expected or projected success, profitability, return, performance, result, effect, consequence or benefit (including legal, regulatory, tax, financial, accounting or otherwise) as to an investment in the Certificates. Prospective investors in the Certificates must make their own investment decisions based upon their own judgement as an investor and upon any advice from such advisers as they deem necessary or desirable in connection with its decision to purchase the Certificates and not upon any view expressed by the Company, the Arranger, the Dealer, the Calculation Agent, the Broker, the Counterparty or the Trustee (including any directors, officers, employees or representatives thereof).

None of the Company, the Arranger, the Broker, the Dealer, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Custodian or any Agent, or any affiliate of any of them (including any directors, officers or employees thereof), makes any representation or warranty whatsoever or accepts any responsibility with respect to the Underlying Fund Shares or the creditworthiness of the Fund. In addition, none of the Company, the Arranger, the Broker, the Dealer, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Custodian or any Agent, or any affiliate of any of them (including any directors, officers or employees thereof), makes any representation or warranty whatsoever or accepts any responsibility as to the effect or possible effect of the linking of any payments due under the Certificates to the performance of the Fund. None of the Arranger, the Broker, the Dealer, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Custodian or any Agent, or any Affiliate of any of them (including any directors, officers or employees thereof), undertakes to review the financial condition or affairs of the Company during the life of any arrangements contemplated by this Prospectus, or to advise any purchaser or potential purchaser of any Certificates of any information coming to the attention of any of the parties which is not included in this Prospectus.

Any of such persons may have acquired, or during the term of the Certificates may acquire, non-public information in relation to the Counterparty and/or the Counterparty Posted Collateral. None of such persons is under any obligation to make such information directly available to Certificateholders. None of the Company, the Arranger, any Transaction Party nor any Affiliate of any such persons is under any obligation to make available any information relating to, or keep under review on the Certificateholders' behalf, the business, financial conditions, prospects, creditworthiness or state of affairs of the Counterparty or any issuer/obligor in relation to any Counterparty Posted Collateral transferred to the Company under the Credit Support Annex or conduct any investigation or due diligence thereon.

Distribution: Investors should be aware that information on the terms and conditions of the offer by any financial intermediary shall be provided at the time of the offer by the financial intermediary.

No person has been authorised to give any information or to make any representations other than those contained in this Prospectus in connection with the issue or sale of the Certificates and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Company or the Dealer. Neither the delivery of this Prospectus nor any sale made in connection herewith shall, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the affairs of the Company since the date hereof or the date upon which this document has been most recently amended or supplemented or that there has been no adverse change in the financial position of the Company since the date hereof or the date upon which this document has been most recently amended or supplemented or that any other information supplied in connection with the Certificates is correct as of any time subsequent to the date on which it is supplied or, if different, the date indicated in the document containing the same. Investors should therefore be prepared to be exposed to the risks related to the Reference Shares and Underlying Fund Shares. The payment of any interest amounts in respect of any interest accrual period is variable and not guaranteed, and in the worst case scenario, may be zero. If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares does not move in the anticipated direction, the Certificates may return less than the amount invested, and in a worst case scenario, investors may lose up to the entire value of their investment. This summary has been prepared in accordance with Article 7 of the Prospectus Regulation and should be read as an introduction to the prospectus (the "Prospectus"). Any decision to invest in the Certificates should be based on a consideration of the Prospectus as a whole by the investor. Any investor could lose all or part of their invested capital. Where a claim relating to the information contained in the Prospectus is brought before a court, the plaintiff investor might, under the national legislation of the member states of the European Economic Area, have to bear the costs of translating the Prospectus before the legal proceedings are initiated. Civil liability attaches only to those persons who have tabled the summary, including any translation thereof, but only if the summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of the Prospectus or if it does not provide, when read together with the other parts of the Prospectus, key information in order to aid investors when considering whether to invest in the Certificates.

C. KEY INFORMATION ON THE CERTIFICATES
C.1	What are the main features of the Certificates?
C.1.1	Type, class and ISIN
The Certificates are equity-linked securities. The Certificates are in registered form intended to be cleared through Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and will initially be represented by a Global Certificate. The ISIN Code of the Certificates is XS2779831507.
C.1.2	Currency, denomination, par value, number of certificates issued and duration
The Certificates are denominated in euro (" EUR "). The specified denomination of the Certificates is EUR 1,000. The aggregate principal amount of the Certificates is up to EUR 15,000,000 and the issue price per Certificate is 100 per cent. of par, being EUR 1,000 per Certificate. The Certificates issue on 18 April 2024 and are scheduled to mature on 7 July 2028 (the " Scheduled Maturity Date "). The Certificates may redeem earlier if an early redemption event occurs.
C.1.3	Rights attached to the Certificates
Overview: The Certificates are equity-linked in that (i) the interest amounts payable in respect of each Certificate will be linked to the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share (as defined below) amongst a basket of Reference Shares (as defined below) and (ii) the redemption amount payable on the Scheduled Maturity Date of the Certificates, or any Early Redemption Amount (as described below) payable by the Company, will be linked to the net asset value of up to EUR 15,000,000 of Class I Shares in Smart Global Defence Zero Coupon Fineco AM Fund, a sub-fund of FAM SERIES UCITS ICAV (the " Fund ") due 30 June 2028 held by the Company (the " Underlying Fund Shares "). The return on the Certificates is, therefore, linked to the performance of both the Worst Performing Reference Share and the Underlying Fund Shares. The Company has entered into (i) a swap transaction with the Counterparty, pursuant to which the Counterparty will pay to the Company amounts equal to the interest payments payable under the Certificates (which the Company will use to fund the interest amounts payable under the Certificates) in exchange for an initial payment made by the Company to the Counterparty on the Issue Date (the " Swap Agreement ") and (ii) a credit support annex, pursuant to which credit support will be provided by the Counterparty to the Company in respect of the Counterparty's obligations under the swap agreement (the " Credit Support Annex "). The Credit Support Annex will form part of the Swap Agreement.

Security and Ranking: The Certificates are secured obligations of the Company and rank pari passu without any preference among themselves. The Certificates represent limited recourse obligations of the Company. The Company grants the security outlined below (the “Security”) to the Trustee in order to secure the Secured Liabilities owed to the Secured Parties, including its obligations under the Certificates. Following the enforcement of the security, the claims of Certificateholders will be allocated to amounts received or recovered in respect of the Mortgaged Property on a pari passu and pro rata basis, following the satisfaction of the higher-ranking claims of the other Secured Parties in accordance with the priority of claims (as described below).

The Security primarily comprises: (i) certain English law charges and assignments in favour of the Trustee over the rights of the Company to the Underlying Fund Shares together with any assets and/or property derived therefrom and any collateral posted by the Counterparty to the Company under the Credit Support Annex; and (ii) certain Irish law security interests in favour of the Trustee over the rights of the Company to the Underlying Fund Shares. The Company also grants English law assignments to the Trustee over certain of its rights under the Agency Agreement and the Custody Agreement. In addition, the Company also grants an English law assignment to the Trustee of its rights under the Swap Agreement. Such assets, property, income and rights charged and/or assigned in favour of the Trustee is referred to as the “Mortgaged Property”.

Where: “Agency Agreement” means the agency agreement entered into in relation to the Certificates between, amongst others, the Company, the Trustee and the Principal Paying Agent; “Custody Agreement” means the custody agreement entered into in relation to the Certificates between the Company, the Trustee and the Custodian; “Issue Date” means 18 April 2024; “Secured Liabilities” means, in respect of the Certificates, the obligations of the Company under (i) the Certificates, (ii) the Trust Deed to the Trustee in respect of the Certificates including any expenses, costs, claims or liabilities properly incurred by the Trustee in the performance of its duties, (iii) the Custody Agreement for the payment of all claims of the Custodian for reimbursement of payments properly made to any party in respect of sums receivable on the Underlying Fund Shares and in respect of any expenses, costs, claims or liabilities properly incurred by the Custodian in the performance of its duties under the custody agreement, (iv) the Agency Agreement for the payment of all claims of the Principal Paying Agent for reimbursement in respect of payments of principal and interest properly made to holders of Certificates and in respect of any expenses, costs, claims or liabilities properly incurred by the Principal Paying Agent in the performance of its duties under the Agency Agreement and (v) the Swap Agreement; “Secured Parties” means the persons to whom Secured Liabilities are owed; and “Trust Deed” means the principal trust deed made between, amongst others, the Company and the Trustee, as supplemented by the issue deed in respect of the Certificates dated on or about the Issue Date.

Priority of Claims: If the Certificates redeem early, or if there is a default at maturity (whether in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares by the Company or otherwise), or if there is an enforcement of the Security, then the proceeds of the Mortgaged Property will be applied in accordance with a specified order of priorities. In such order of priorities, the claims of other creditors of the Company in respect of the Certificates will be met before the claims of the Certificateholders. Amounts paid in priority to the Certificateholders include, among other things, (i) payments due to the Trustee, (ii) payments due to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement and (iii) any payments due to the Custodian and/or the Principal Paying Agent. The Mortgaged Property is the only property the Company has from which to meet the claims in respect of the Certificates. As a result of other claims having priority to those of the Certificateholders, this means there may not be enough cash for the Company to meet its obligations to Certificateholders (whether in full or at all).

Redemption Amount: The Certificates, unless previously redeemed or cancelled, will be redeemed on the Scheduled Maturity Date and the “Redemption Amount” payable in respect of each Certificate will be an amount in EUR determined by the Calculation Agent equal to (subject, for the avoidance of doubt, to the limited recourse provisions described below) (i) EUR 1,000 (being 100 per cent. of such Certificate’s principal amount); plus (ii) subject to a minimum of zero, such Certificate’s pro rata share of the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares payable on their scheduled maturity date minus the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates.

Early Redemption Amount: The “Early Redemption Amount” payable to Certificateholders if the Certificates are redeemed prior to their stated maturity will generally be an amount equal to their share of (i) the lower of (a) the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates and (b) the proceeds of the redemption or sale of the Underlying Fund Shares plus (ii) any termination payment payable by the Counterparty to the Company in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any), minus (iii) any termination payment payable by the Company to the Counterparty in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any), plus (iv) an amount, subject to a minimum of zero, equal to such proceeds of the redemption or sale of the Underlying Fund Shares minus the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates and minus (v) any payments owed by the Company to any other Secured Parties which rank in priority to the claims of Certificateholders.

Interest: The Certificates bear interest from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date to (but excluding) the Scheduled Maturity Date at a rate of interest for each annual interest accrual period determined by the Calculation Agent to be equal to: (a) if on the Valuation Date immediately preceding an annual interest payment date the Reference Share Worst Performance is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level, 6.50 per cent. per annum; or (b) otherwise, 0.00 per cent. per annum.

Where: "Barrier Level" means 90 per cent.; "Closing Reference Share Price" means, on any day and in respect of any Reference Share, the official closing price of such Reference Share on the relevant exchange or quotation system as of the scheduled closing time on the relevant day, or if there is no official closing price, the mid-market price per such Reference Share on the relevant exchange or quotation system at the closing time on such day, all as determined by the Calculation Agent; "Initial Reference Share Level" means, in respect of any Reference Share, the initial price of such Reference Share on the Initial Valuation Date as determined by the Calculation Agent; "Initial Valuation Date" means 18 April 2024; "Interest Commencement Date" means 7 July 2024; "Reference Share" means each of the following shares: (i) Intesa Sanpaolo S.p.A.; (ii) Stellantis N.V.; and (iii) Eni S.p.A.; "Reference Share Level" means, in respect of any Reference Share and a Valuation Date, the Closing Reference Share Price of such Reference Share on such Valuation Date; "Reference Share Worst Performance" means the value determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the following formula: $\left[\frac{Worst_0}{Worst_1} \right]$; "Valuation Date" means (i) 2 December 2024 and (ii) 30 June in each year from, and including, 2025 to, and including, 2028 and with a final Valuation Date on 30 June 2028; "Worst₀" means the Reference Share Level in respect of the Worst Performing Reference Share; "Worst₁" means the Initial Reference Share Level in respect of the Worst Performing Reference Share; "Worst Performing Reference Share" means, in respect of any Valuation Date, the worst performing Reference Share.

Events of Default and Early Redemption Events: The Certificates may redeem prior to the Scheduled Maturity Date due to certain events, including: (i) for certain taxation reasons, including the imposition of certain additional taxes affecting the Company, the Underlying Fund Shares or payments made by the Company and failure by the Certificateholders to provide certain information for tax purposes; (ii) the termination of the Swap Agreement; (iii) the occurrence of an event of default with respect to the Certificates, which includes (a) a default by the Company in the payment of any amount, if unremedied for at least five business days; (b) a failure by the Company to perform or observe any of its other obligations for at least 30 days; (c) certain bankruptcy events in respect of the Company; or (d) a notification by Company, the Counterparty or any of the Certificateholders to the Trustee that (x) the Custodian or the Principal Paying Agent failed to comply with their payment or delivery obligations; or (y) certain information exists that the obligor of the Underlying Fund Shares has defaulted on its obligations thereunder or becomes insolvent; (iv) the determination by the Calculation Agent that the market value of the Certificates is less than, or equal to, 30 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates; (v) the occurrence of certain events in respect of the Fund, including: (a) insolvency in respect of the Fund, its management company or any of its service providers, (b) a merger or other consolidation in respect of the Fund, (c) a termination of the Fund, (d) nationalisation of the Fund, (e) any litigation involving the Fund, (f) events which affect the calculation of the net asset value and performance of the Fund, or (g) events which affect the trading of the Fund, any operational failures, or other legal and regulatory constraints; (vi) the occurrence of certain extraordinary events with respect to any Reference Share, including: (a) a merger or tender offer in respect of a Reference Share, (b) a nationalisation of any of the Reference Shares or assets of any of the Reference Share issuers, (c) an insolvency filing or other similar proceedings affecting any of the Reference Share issuers which impact on the transferability of the Reference Shares or (d) a delisting of the relevant Reference Shares on an exchange; or (vii) as a result of the occurrence of certain additional disruption event with respect to any Reference Share, including: (a) a change in any applicable law, or a change in the interpretation of any applicable law, pursuant to which it has (or, it will, within the next 15 days prior to the maturity of the Certificates) become unlawful or illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any of the Reference Shares or (b) any issuer of the Reference Shares becomes subject to insolvency or similar proceedings.

Limited Recourse: The Certificateholders and the other transaction parties, including the Counterparty, will have recourse to the Mortgaged Property for the Certificates. The Mortgaged Property includes the Underlying Fund Shares and the Company's rights under the Swap Agreement. The Certificateholders and the other transaction parties will have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property in respect of the Certificates and not to any other assets of the Company. Certificateholders' claims (and those of other transaction parties) will be limited to the Mortgaged Property and subject to the order of priority referred to above. If the Mortgaged Property is not sufficient to meet Certificateholders' claims and those of all the other relevant parties, the Mortgaged Property will be used to meet claims according to the specified order of priority. Amounts owing to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement, and certain other sums payable to certain transaction parties, will be paid before Certificateholders. If there is no Mortgaged Property left after paying them, Certificateholders will not be paid.

Withholding Tax: Payments of principal and interest in respect of the Certificates will be made subject to withholding tax (if any) applicable to the Certificates without the Company being obliged to pay further amounts as a consequence.

Governing Law: The Certificates will be governed by English law.

C.1.4	Rank of the Certificates in the Issuer's capital structure upon insolvency
The Certificates are secured, limited recourse obligations of the Company and rank equally amongst themselves without any preference among themselves.
C.1.5	Restrictions on free transferability of the certificates
Interests in Certificates traded in any clearing system will be transferred in accordance with the procedures and regulations of that clearing system. The Certificates will be freely transferable, subject to restrictions on sale of the Certificates into certain jurisdictions. Investors should note that the Certificates have not been, nor will be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") or with any securities regulatory authority of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States of America. No person has registered nor will register as a commodity pool operator of the Company under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act of 1936, as amended (the "CEA") and the rules of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission thereunder (the "CFTC Rules"), and the Company has not been nor will be registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Any offer or sale of the Certificates must be made in an offshore transaction exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act pursuant to Regulation S thereunder ("Regulation S"). The Certificates may not at any time be offered, sold, pledged, delivered or otherwise transferred except to a person that (A) is not a U.S. Person (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act), (B) is not a U.S. Person (as defined in the Credit Risk Retention Regulations issued under section 15G of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) and (C) is a Non-United States Person (as defined in Rule 4.7 of CEA (excluding for the purposes of sub-section (D) thereof, the exception to the extent it would apply to persons who are not non-United States persons)), in an offshore transaction and in each case in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904 of Regulation S, and in accordance with any other applicable securities laws.
C.2	Where will the Certificates be traded?
The Company will make reasonable efforts to arrange for the Certificates to be listed on the SeDex market of Borsa Italiana (the " SeDex Market ") and admitted to trading on the SeDex Market, within 2 days of the Issue Date.
C.3	What are the key risks that are specific to the Certificates?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Early Redemption of Certificates: The Certificates may redeem prior to their maturity date due to certain events as set forth in their terms and conditions (see the subsection of this summary entitled "Events of Default and Early Redemption Events" above). If the Certificates are redeemed prior to their stated maturity date, Certificateholders will be entitled to receive the Early Redemption Amount, subject to the limited recourse provisions. • Limited recourse: Certificateholders and other transaction parties will have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property in respect of the Certificates and not to any other assets of the Company. If, following realisation in full of the Mortgaged Property relating to the Certificates, any outstanding claim remains unpaid, then such claim will be extinguished and no debt will be owed by the Company in respect thereof. • Investors in Certificates may receive back less than the original invested amount. The redemption amount payable in respect of each Certificate is expressed to be an amount in EUR determined by the Calculation Agent equal to (i) EUR 1,000 (being 100 per cent. of such Certificate's principal amount) plus (ii) such Certificate's pro rata share of the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares payable on their scheduled maturity date minus the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates. If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares is less than the initial purchase price of the Certificates at maturity, although the final redemption amount in such circumstances is expressed to be an amount equal to the principal amount of each Certificate, Certificateholders' claims in respect of such amount will be subject to the limited recourse provisions in respect of the Certificates. This means that Certificateholders will have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property in respect of the payment of the final redemption amount under the Certificates, which will be an amount that is less than the principal amount of the Certificates, and not to any other assets of the Company and therefore investors may lose some or all of their investment. Investors should therefore be prepared to be exposed to the risks related to the Underlying Fund Shares. If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares does not move in the anticipated direction, the Certificates may return less than the amount invested, and in a worst case scenario, investors may lose up to the entire value of their investment. In addition, investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Fund and the credit risk of the Counterparty in respect of the Swap Agreement (as well as to the credit risk of the Custodian and the Principal Paying Agent) and may lose up to the entire value of their investment if any of the Fund, Counterparty, Custodian and/or Principal Paying Agent goes bankrupt or is otherwise unable to meet its payment or delivery obligations. • Payment of interest amounts is conditional on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share: The payment of interest amounts by the Company in respect of any interest accrual period is conditional on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. If the value of the Worst Performing Reference Share, determined by dividing the closing price of such Reference Share on the relevant Valuation Date by the initial price of such Reference Share on the Initial Valuation Date, is less than the Barrier Level, investors will not receive any interest payment in respect of such interest accrual period. Investors should note that there may be a risk that if the issuer of a Reference Share becomes insolvent, the value of the Worst Performing Reference Share may become zero and, as a result thereof, no interest amounts will be paid under the Certificates to Certificateholders. Therefore, the payment of any interest amounts in respect of any Interest Accrual Period is, therefore, variable and not guaranteed, and in the worst case scenario, may be zero.

- The interest pay-outs and value of the Certificates are linked to the Worst Performing Reference Share: The performance of the Reference Shares can be unpredictable, influenced by a wide range of factors including interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments and political factors, and company-specific factors. The past performance of a Reference Share is not indicative of future performance. While the return on the Certificates is linked to the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share, any change may not be comparable or proportionate to the change in value of such Reference Shares.
- The Calculation Agent may amend the terms and conditions of the Certificates without Certificateholder consent: The Calculation Agent may amend the terms and conditions of the Certificates without Certificateholder consent in response to certain disruption events affecting the Reference Shares, which may have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.
- Limited Liquidity and Restrictions on Transfer of the Certificates: Certificates may have no liquidity or the market for the Certificates may be limited and this may adversely impact their value or the ability of an investor in Certificates to dispose of them.
- Market Value of Certificates: The market value of the Certificates may be highly volatile and may be adversely affected by a number of factors, such as (i) the value and volatility of the Underlying Fund Shares and the creditworthiness of the Fund, (ii) the value and volatility of the Reference Shares to which interest payments under the Certificates are linked, (iii) market perception, interest rates, yields and foreign exchange rates, (iv) the time remaining to the maturity date and (iv) the nature and liquidity of the Swap Agreement.
- Risks relating to the Underlying Fund Shares: The Company's ability to pay amounts due on the Certificates is linked to the performance of the Underlying Fund Shares, which can be influenced by a wide range of factors including credit, liquidity and interest rate risks. The liquidity of the Underlying Fund Shares may be limited, and in times of financial distress, the Underlying Fund Shares may either not be saleable at all or may only be saleable at significant discounts to the amount originally invested. In particular, where the Certificates are to be redeemed early as a result of a redemption being triggered prior to the Scheduled Maturity Date or if a default has occurred with respect to the Underlying Fund Shares, there is no guarantee that the liquidation proceeds from the sale or redemption of the Underlying Fund Shares will be sufficient to repay the principal and interest due on the Certificates.
- Risks relating to the Swap Agreement and the Counterparty: Under the terms of the Swap Agreement, both the Company and the Counterparty have the right to terminate the swap transaction in its entirety under certain conditions, including the occurrence of an event of default by either party, illegality, tax-related issues or regulatory events. Any such termination of the Swap Agreement will generally result in a corresponding redemption in whole of the Certificates. Upon any such redemption, the amount paid to Certificateholders to redeem such Certificates may be significantly less than the Certificateholder's original investment in such Certificates and may be zero. In addition, Certificateholders are relying on the creditworthiness of the Counterparty in respect of the performance of its obligations to make payments pursuant to the Swap Agreement for such Certificates. Default by the Counterparty may result in termination of the Swap Agreement and, in such circumstances, any amount due to the Company upon such termination may not be paid in full.

The Reference Shares serve solely for determining if any interest payments are payable under the Certificates and are not held by the Company or any Transaction Party. RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Certificates involves substantial risks. The Company believes that the following factors may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations in respect of the Certificates and/or are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with the Certificates. The factors discussed below regarding the risks of acquiring or holding any Certificates are not exhaustive, and additional risks and uncertainties that are not presently known to the Company or that the Company currently believes to be immaterial could also have a material impact on the Company or the Certificates.

Investors should also read the detailed information concerning the Company and the Certificates set out elsewhere in this Prospectus and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

*In particular, prospective investors should be aware that repayment of any amount invested in the Certificates and any return on the Certificates is not guaranteed. As a result, the investors' return in respect of the Certificates may fall below the amount originally invested in the Certificates and, in a worst case scenario, the investors may lose up to the entire value of their investment.

For purposes of these risk factors, references to "Certificateholders" or "holders" of Certificates should generally be read as including holders of beneficial interests in the Certificates, except where the context otherwise requires.

1 Risks Relating to the Company and the Legal Structure

(a) Special purpose vehicle

The Company is incorporated as a special purpose vehicle. The sole business of the Company is the raising of money by issuing Certificates for the purposes of purchasing assets and entering into related derivatives and other contracts. The assets so purchased and the contracts entered into, including the Swap Agreement, are designed to ensure that the Company has sufficient assets to meet the obligations under the Certificates and the related contracts. Should the assets and the contracts (including the Swap Agreement) of the Company prove insufficient, there are no other assets available to satisfy the claims of Certificateholders.

(b) Insolvency

The Company is prohibited under the Trust Deed from engaging in activities other than the issue of the Certificates and related and incidental matters. In particular, the issue of the Certificates is on terms that provide for the claims in respect of the Certificates to be limited to the proceeds of the assets on which the Certificates are secured. See "Limited recourse, non-petition and related risks" below.

However, notwithstanding these restrictions and any limited recourse provisions, should the Company have outstanding liabilities to third parties which it is unable to discharge and as a result the Company becomes or is declared insolvent according to the law of any country having jurisdiction over it or any of its assets, the insolvency laws of that country may determine the validity of the claims of Certificateholders and may prevent Certificateholders from enforcing their rights or delay such enforcement. In particular, depending on the jurisdiction concerned and the nature of the assets and security, the security created in favour of the Certificateholders may be set aside or rank behind certain other creditors and the assets subject to such security may be transferred to another person free of such security.

In addition, certain jurisdictions have procedures designed to facilitate the survival of companies in financial difficulties. In such jurisdictions the rights of Certificateholders to enforce their security may be limited or delayed by such procedures.

Certificateholders are advised to consult their own legal advisers in relation to the insolvency laws applicable to the Company.

(c) Preferred creditors under Irish law and floating charges

If the Company becomes subject to an insolvency proceeding and the Company has obligations to creditors that are treated under Irish law as creditors that are senior relative to the Certificateholders and other secured parties, the Certificateholders (and other secured parties) may suffer losses as a result of their subordinated status during such insolvency proceedings. In particular, under Irish law, upon an insolvency of an Irish company, such as the Company, when applying the proceeds of assets subject to fixed security which may have been realised in the course of a liquidation or receivership, the claims of a limited category of preferential creditors will take priority over the claims of creditors holding the relevant fixed security. These preferred claims include the remuneration, costs and expenses properly incurred by any examiner of the company (which may include any borrowings made by an examiner to fund the company's requirements for the duration of his appointment) which have been approved by the relevant Irish courts. See "Examinership" below.

The holder of a fixed security over the book debts of an Irish tax resident company (which would include the Company) may be required by the Irish Revenue Commissioners, by notice in writing from the Irish Revenue Commissioners, to pay to them sums equivalent to those which the holder received in payment of debts due to it by the company.

Where the holder of the security has given notice to the Irish Revenue Commissioners of the creation of the security within 21 calendar days of its creation or within 21 days of the date of transfer of the fixed charge (whichever is the later), the holder's liability is limited to the amount of certain outstanding Irish tax liabilities of the company (including liabilities in respect of value added tax) arising after the issuance of the Irish Revenue Commissioners' notice to the holder of fixed security.

The Irish Revenue Commissioners may also attach any debt due to an Irish tax resident company by another person in order to discharge any liabilities of the company in respect of outstanding tax whether the liabilities are due on its own account or as an agent or trustee. The scope of this right of the Irish Revenue Commissioners has not yet been considered by the Irish courts and it may override the rights of holders of security (whether fixed or floating) over the debt in question.

In relation to the disposal of assets of any Irish tax resident company (such as the Company) which are subject to security, a person entitled to the benefit of the security may be liable for tax in relation to any capital gains made by the company on a disposal of those assets on exercise of the security. The impact of such a scenario on the Company could negatively impact the value of the Certificates.

The essence of a fixed charge is that the person creating the charge does not have liberty to deal with the assets which are the subject matter of the security in the sense of disposing of such assets or expending or appropriating the moneys or claims constituting such assets and accordingly, if and to the extent that such liberty is given to the Company any charge constituted by the Trust Deed may operate as a floating, rather than a fixed charge. The holder of a charge created as a floating charge which is purportedly crystallised into a fixed charge may be deemed to have waived the purported crystallisation event or, alternatively, be estopped from relying on the purported crystallisation where the person who created the charge retains liberty to deal with the assets which are the subject matter of the security following the purported crystallisation.

In particular, the Irish courts have held that in order to create a fixed charge on receivables it is necessary to oblige the chargor to pay the proceeds of collection of the receivables into a designated bank account and to prohibit the chargor from withdrawing or otherwise dealing with the moneys standing to the credit of such account without the consent of the chargee.

Depending upon the level of control actually exercised by the chargor, there is therefore a possibility that the fixed security purported to be created by the Trust Deed would be regarded by the Irish courts as a floating charge.

Floating charges have certain weaknesses, including the following:

- (a) they have weak priority against purchasers (who are not on notice of any negative pledge contained in the floating charge) and the chargees of the assets concerned and against lien holders, execution creditors and creditors with rights of set-off;
- (b) as discussed above, they rank after certain preferential creditors, such as claims of employees and certain taxes, on winding-up or on the appointment of a receiver even if crystallised prior to the commencement of the winding-up or the appointment of the receiver;
- (c) they rank after certain insolvency remuneration expenses and liabilities;
- (d) the examiner of a company has certain rights to deal with the property covered by the floating charge even if crystallised prior to the commencement of the winding-up; and
- (e) they rank after fixed charges.

If any fixed charged created pursuant to the relevant security documents are registered as floating charges instead of fixed charges, this could negatively impact on the value of the Certificates.

(d) Centre of main interests

Article 3(1) of Regulation (EU) 2015/848 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 20 May 2015 on Insolvency Proceedings (recast) (the “EU Insolvency Regulation”) is in force in Ireland since 26 June 2017 and applies to “insolvency proceedings” opened after 26 June 2017. Article 3(1) of the EU Insolvency Regulation provides that the centre of main interests (“COMI”) shall be “the place where the debtor conducts the administration of its interests on a regular basis and which is ascertainable by third parties” and in the case of a company, such as the Company, the place of the registered office shall be presumed to be the COMI in the absence of proof to the contrary and provided that the registered office has not been moved from another Member State within the three month period prior to the request for the opening of “insolvency proceedings”.

In the decision by the Court of Justice of the European Union (“CJEU”) in relation to Eurofood IFSC Limited, the CJEU restated the presumption in Council Regulation (EC) No 1346/2000 of 29 May 2000 on Insolvency Proceedings, that the place of a company’s registered office is presumed to be the company’s COMI and stated that the presumption can only be rebutted if “factors which are both objective and ascertainable by third parties enable it to be established that an actual situation exists which is different from that which locating it at the registered office is deemed to reflect”. This is consistent with Recital 30 to the EU Insolvency Regulation.

Recital 28 to the EU Insolvency Regulation further indicates that in assessing whether a company’s centre of main interests is ascertainable to third parties for these purposes, “special consideration should be given to the creditors and to their perception as to where a debtor conducts the administration of its interests”. As the Company has its registered office in Ireland, has not moved its registered office from another Member State to Ireland within the three month period prior to a request for the opening of “insolvency proceedings”, has an Irish corporate services provider, has Irish directors and is registered for tax in Ireland, the Company does not believe that factors exist that would rebut this presumption, although this would ultimately be a matter for the relevant court to decide, based on the circumstances existing at the time when it was asked to make that decision.

Accordingly, pursuant to Article 3 of the EU Insolvency Regulation and as the Company is an Irish incorporated company and has its registered office in Ireland there is a rebuttable presumption that the Company's COMI is in Ireland and consequently that any main insolvency proceedings applicable to it would be governed by Irish law.

After 31 December 2020, the provisions of the Recast EU Insolvency Regulation relating to Member States have ceased to apply to the United Kingdom. The United Kingdom has retained the jurisdictional test based on COMI. The UK COMI test is identical under the Insolvency Regulation however as the UK is no longer a Member State, there is no restriction on the UK opening parallel proceedings should the UK courts determine that the COMI of the Company is in the UK. It should be noted that there are various undertakings in the Transaction Documents to ensure that the COMI of the Company is in Ireland.

If the Company's COMI is not located in Ireland, and is held to be in a different jurisdiction within the European Union, Certificateholders should be aware that main insolvency proceedings may not be opened in Ireland, which may impact the realisation of the Company's assets on insolvency and, consequently, the proceeds available to satisfy the claims of Certificateholders.

(e) Examinership

Examinership is a court procedure available under the Irish Companies Act 2014 (as amended) (the "Companies Act") to facilitate the survival of Irish companies (which would include the Company) in financial difficulties. Where a company, which has its COMI in Ireland is, or is likely to be unable to pay its debts an examiner may be appointed on a petition to the relevant Irish court under Section 509 of the Companies Act.

The Company, the directors of the Company, a contingent, prospective or actual creditor of the Company, or shareholders of the Company holding, at the date of presentation of the petition, not less than one-tenth of the voting share capital of the Company, are each entitled to petition the court for the appointment of an examiner. The examiner, once appointed, has the power to set aside contracts and arrangements entered into by the Company after this appointment and, in certain circumstances, can avoid a negative pledge given by the Company prior to this appointment. Furthermore, the examiner may sell assets, the subject of a fixed charge. However, if such power is exercised, the examiner must account to the holders of the fixed charge for the amount realised and discharge the amount due to the holders of the fixed charge out of the proceeds of the sale.

During the period of protection (which is for an initial period of 70 days and may be extended to 100 days and further extended to 150 days at the discretion of the court), the examiner will formulate proposals for a compromise or scheme of arrangement to assist the survival of the Company or the whole or any part of its undertaking as a going concern. A scheme of arrangement may be approved by the relevant Irish court when at least one class of creditors has voted in favour of the proposals and the relevant Irish court is satisfied that such proposals are fair and equitable in relation to any class of members or creditors who have not accepted the proposals and whose interests would be impaired by implementation of the scheme of arrangement.

In considering proposals by the examiner, it is likely that secured and unsecured creditors would form separate classes of creditors. In the case of the Company, if the Trustee represented the majority in number and value of claims within the secured creditor class (which would be likely given the restrictions agreed to in the Conditions), the Trustee would be in a position to reject any proposal not in favour of the Certificateholders. The Trustee would also be entitled to argue at the relevant Irish court hearing at which the proposed scheme of arrangement is considered that the proposals are unfair and inequitable in relation to the Certificateholders, especially if such proposals included a writing down to the value of amounts due by the Company to the Certificateholders.

The fact that the Company is a special purpose vehicle and that all of its liabilities should be of a limited recourse nature means that it is unlikely that an examiner would be appointed to the Company.

However, if, for any reason, an examiner were appointed while any amounts due by the Company under the Certificates were unpaid, the primary risks to the Certificateholders are as follows:

- (a) the potential for a compromise or scheme of arrangement being approved involving the writing down or rescheduling of the debt due by the Company to the Certificateholders as secured by the Trust Deed;
- (b) the Trustee, acting for and on behalf of the secured parties, would not be able to enforce rights against the Company during the period of examinership;
- (c) the potential for the examiner to seek to set aside any negative pledge in the Certificates prohibiting the creation of security or the incurring of borrowings by the Company to enable the examiner to borrow to fund the Company during the protection period; and
- (d) if a scheme of arrangement is not approved and the Company subsequently goes into liquidation, the examiner's remuneration and expenses (including certain borrowings incurred by the examiner on behalf of the Company and approved by the relevant Irish court) will take priority over the monies and liabilities which from time to time are or may become due, owing or payable by the Company to each of the secured parties under the Certificates or under any other Secured Liabilities.

(f) Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive

The Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive ("ATAD") was adopted as Council Directive (EU) 2016/1164 on 12 July 2016 and had to be implemented by all European Union Member States by 1 January 2019. A second directive amending ATAD was adopted as Council Directive (EU) 2017/952 on 29 May 2017 ("ATAD 2" and, together with ATAD, the "Directives") and had to be implemented by all European Union Member States by 1 January 2020.

The Directives contain various measures that have been implemented into Irish law and could potentially result in certain payments made by the Company ceasing to be fully deductible. This could increase the Company's liability to tax, reduce the amounts available for payments on the Certificates.

There are two measures which are of particular relevance to the Company:

Firstly, ATAD provides for an "interest limitation rule" similar to the recommendation contained in BEPS Action 4 which restricts the deductible interest of an entity. Ireland has implemented the interest limitation rule to apply to companies with respect to their accounting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2022. The interest limitation rule provides that where an entity has exceeding borrowing costs of more than EUR 3,000,000 it may only deduct its exceeding borrowing costs up to an amount equal to 30 per cent. of its earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation in the year in which they are incurred but would remain available for carry forward, subject to certain conditions. For these purposes, "exceeding borrowing costs" means the amount by which an entity's borrowing costs exceed "interest revenues and other equivalent taxable revenues". If the Company does have exceeding borrowing costs in excess of EUR 3,000,000 the interest limitation rule may nonetheless permit the Company to deduct exceeding borrowing costs in an amount in excess of 30 per cent. (and potentially up to 100 per cent.) of its earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation, if certain conditions are satisfied. In particular, the Company should be able to deduct the full amount of its exceeding borrowing costs if it qualifies as a "single company worldwide group" (as defined in Section 835AY TCA) and does not owe any amount which gives rise to deductible interest equivalent to an “associated enterprise”. One of the conditions required to qualify as a “single company worldwide group” is that the entity is not a member of a “worldwide group” (as defined in Section 835AY TCA) (i.e., it is not included in consolidated financial statements prepared under generally accepted accounting practice or an alternative body of accounting standards). As a result, the Company will not qualify as a “single company worldwide group” if it is financially consolidated by a Certificateholder or any other person. If the Company is not a “single company worldwide group”, the Company should be able to deduct the full amount of its exceeding borrowing costs if it is a member of a “worldwide group” and its ratio of equity to assets is greater than, equal to or within two percentage points of the same ratio of its “worldwide group”.

Secondly, ATAD 2 provides for hybrid mismatch rules. These rules have applied in Ireland since 1 January 2020 and are designed to neutralise arrangements where amounts are deductible from the income of one entity but are not taxable for another, or the same amounts are deductible for two entities. These rules could potentially apply to the Company where: (i) the interest that it pays under the Certificates, and claims deductions, from its taxable income for, is not brought into account as taxable income by the relevant Certificateholder, either because of the characterisation of the Certificates, or the payments made under them, or because of the nature of the Certificateholder itself; and (ii) the mismatch arises between associated enterprises, between the Company and an associated enterprise or under a ‘structured arrangement’. ‘Associated’ for these purposes includes direct and indirect participation in terms of voting rights or capital ownership of 25.0 per cent. or more or an entitlement to receive 25.0 per cent. or more (50.0 per cent. in certain circumstances) of the profits of that entity, as well as entities that are part of the same consolidated group for financial accounting purposes or enterprises that have a significant influence in the management of the taxpayer. A structured arrangement is an arrangement involving a transaction, or series of transactions, under which a mismatch outcome arises where: (a) the mismatch outcome is priced into the terms of the arrangement; or (b) the arrangement was designed to give rise to a mismatch outcome. If the Company’s ability to deduct interest in a tax year is restricted by Ireland’s anti-hybrid rules, the Company may have material tax liabilities in Ireland as a consequence of interest not being deductible in computing its profit for Irish corporation tax purposes.

The Directives may result in corporate income tax being effectively imposed and due on the Company to the extent that (i) the Company derives income other than interest income or income equivalent to interest from the Underlying Fund Shares or (ii) if any of the anti-hybrid rules under ATAD 2 apply, (for example, if the Certificates issued by the Company qualify for tax purposes as hybrid instruments). If the Directives result in certain payments made by the Company ceasing to be deductible for tax purposes, the Company may have a liability to Irish tax in respect of amounts which fund such payments. This will increase the Company’s liability to tax and cause an early redemption of the Certificates and reduce the Early Redemption Amount payable to Certificateholders.

(g) Possibility of U.S. withholding tax on payments on the Underlying Fund Shares and the Certificates

Pursuant to certain provisions of U.S. law, commonly known as FATCA, a withholding tax is imposed on (i) certain U.S. source payments, and (ii) beginning on the date that is two years after the date of publication in the U.S. Federal Register of final regulations defining the term “foreign passthru payment”, payments made by “foreign financial institutions” that are treated as foreign passthru payments. This withholding tax is imposed on such payments made to persons that fail to meet certain certification, reporting, or related requirements. The Company may be a foreign financial institution for these purposes. A number of jurisdictions have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement FATCA (“IGAs”), which modify the way in which FATCA applies in their jurisdictions. Certain aspects of the application of FATCA to instruments or agreements such as the Underlying Fund Shares and the Certificates, including whether withholding on foreign passthru payments would ever be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments or agreements such as the Underlying Fund Shares and/or the Certificates, are uncertain and may be subject to change.

If the Company fails to comply with its obligations under FATCA (including any applicable IGA and any IGA legislation thereunder), it may be subject to FATCA Withholding on all, or a portion of, payments it receives with respect to the Underlying Fund Shares. Any such withholding would, in turn, result in the Company having insufficient funds from which to make payments that would otherwise have become due in respect of the Certificates. No other funds will be available to the Company to make up any such shortfall and, as a result, the Company may not have sufficient funds to satisfy its payment obligations to Certificateholders. Additionally, if payments to the Company in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares are, will become or are deemed on any test date to be subject to FATCA Withholding, the Certificates will be subject to early redemption. No assurance can be given that the Company can or will comply with its obligations under FATCA or that the Company will not be subject to FATCA Withholding.

The Company may be required to withhold amounts from Certificateholders (including intermediaries through which the Certificates are held) that are foreign financial institutions that are not compliant with, or exempt from, FATCA or Certificateholders that do not provide the information, documentation or certifications required for the Company to comply with its obligations under FATCA. If any Certificateholder or beneficial owner fails to provide any information so requested by the Company, the Company shall withhold amounts from payments due on the Certificates (including to intermediaries through which the Certificates are held) for the payment of such tax and all Certificates shall be the subject of an early redemption. Neither a Certificateholder nor a beneficial owner of Certificates will be entitled to any additional amounts if FATCA Withholding or any other withholding or deduction or charge in connection with an Information Reporting Regime is imposed on any payments on or with respect to the Certificates to make up the amount which would originally have been received by Certificateholders had such withholding or deduction or charge not been imposed. As a result, Certificateholders may receive less interest or principal, as applicable, than expected.

Each Certificateholder should consult its own tax adviser to obtain a more detailed explanation of FATCA and the other Information Reporting Regimes and to learn how FATCA and the other Information Reporting Regimes might affect such Certificateholder in light of its particular circumstances.

FATCA IS PARTICULARLY COMPLEX AND ITS APPLICATION TO THE COMPANY, THE CERTIFICATES AND CERTIFICATEHOLDERS IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE.

(h) Information Reporting Obligations and Consequential Amendments

Information relating to the Certificates, their holders and beneficial owners may be required to be provided to tax authorities in certain circumstances pursuant to domestic or international reporting and transparency regimes (including, without limitation, in relation to FATCA). This may include (but is not limited to) information relating to the value of the Certificates, amounts paid or credited with respect to the Certificates, details of the holders or beneficial owners of the Certificates and information and documents in connection with transactions relating to the Certificates. In certain circumstances, the information obtained by a tax authority may be provided to tax authorities in other countries. Some jurisdictions operate a withholding system in place of, or in addition to, such provision of information requirements. Pursuant to the Conditions of the Certificates and subject to certain limitations, a Certificateholder or beneficial owner of Certificates is required to provide forms, documentation and other information relating to such Certificateholder's or beneficial owner's status under any applicable law (including, without limitation, any Information Reporting Regime or any agreement entered into by the Company pursuant thereto) as is reasonably requested by the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company for purposes of the Company's, or such agent's compliance with any such law or agreement. If any Certificateholder or beneficial owner fails to provide any information so requested by the Company, the Company shall withhold amounts from payments due on the Certificates (including to intermediaries through which the Certificates are held) and all Certificates shall be the subject of an early redemption.

Additionally, the Company is permitted, subject to the fulfilment of certain requirements set out in Condition 22(b), to make any amendments to the Certificates, the Swap Agreement and any other Transaction Document as may be necessary to enable the Company to comply with its obligations under FATCA (including any applicable IGA and any IGA legislation thereunder) or its obligations under any legislation or agreements relating to any applicable Information Reporting Regime and any such amendment will be binding on the Certificateholders.

Neither a Certificateholder nor a beneficial owner of Certificates will be entitled to any additional amounts if FATCA Withholding or any other withholding or deduction or charge in connection with an Information Reporting Regime is imposed on any payments on or with respect to the Certificates. As a result, Certificateholders may receive less interest or principal, as applicable, than expected.

Each Certificateholder should consult its own tax adviser to obtain a more detailed explanation of FATCA and the other Information Reporting Regimes and to learn how FATCA and the other Information Reporting Regimes might affect such Certificateholder in light of its particular circumstances.

(i) Taxation position of the Company

The Company has been advised that it should fall within the Irish regime for the taxation of qualifying companies as set out in Section 110 of the TCA 1997 ("Section 110"), and as such should be taxed only on the amount of its retained profit after deducting all amounts of interest and other revenue expenses due to be paid by the Company. If, for any reason, the Company is not or ceases to be entitled to the benefits of Section 110, then profits or losses could arise in the Company which could have tax effects not contemplated in the cashflows connected with the Certificates and as such could adversely affect the tax treatment of the Company and consequently payments on the Certificates.

Ireland's Finance Act 2019 introduced some measures which may qualify the extent to which interest payable in respect of results-dependent securities may be deducted for Irish tax purposes. The measures provide that in many cases interest paid to persons which both, directly or indirectly, hold more than 20.0 per cent. of any results-dependent securities issued by the Company (or the interest payable in respect of them) and exercise "significant influence" over the Company may only be deducted for Irish tax purposes to the extent it is paid to a person that is resident in Ireland or is subject to tax in a member state of the European Union (other than Ireland) or a jurisdiction with which Ireland has a double tax treaty. The term "significant influence" is defined as meaning an ability to participate in the financial and operating decisions of the Company.

There is no guarantee that the tax treatment of an Irish securitisation company will not change in the future. The tax deductibility of the Company's interests costs will depend on the applicability of Section 110 TCA 1997 and the current practice of the Irish Revenue Commissioners in relation to that matter. If these rules change this may increase the Company's liability to tax and reduce the amounts available for payments on the Certificates and, in certain circumstances, constitute an Increased Tax Event. If any Increased Tax Event were to occur the Certificates may be redeemed in accordance with Condition 10(c)(ii) (Redemption and Purchase).

(j) No regulation of the Company by any regulatory authority

The Company is not required to be licensed or authorised under any current securities, commodities, insurance or banking laws or regulations of its jurisdiction of incorporation. There is no assurance, however, that in the future such regulatory authorities would not take a contrary view regarding the applicability of any such laws or regulations to the Company. There is also no assurance that the regulatory authorities in other jurisdictions would not require the Company to be licensed or authorised under any securities, commodities, insurance or banking laws or regulations of those jurisdictions. Any requirement to be licensed or authorised could have an adverse effect on the Company and could give rise to circumstances that could result in the early redemption of the Certificates, which may prove to be adverse to the holders of Certificates issued by the Company.

(k) No registration as investment company

The Company has not been registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act in reliance, where applicable, on the exception provided under Section 3(c)(7) thereof for companies whose outstanding securities (other than securities sold outside the United States in reliance on Regulation S) are beneficially owned by “qualified purchasers” (within the meaning of Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act) and which do not make a public offering of their securities in the United States. No opinion or no-action position has been requested of the SEC in respect of such non-registration. If the SEC or a court of competent jurisdiction were to find that the Company is required to register as an investment company, possible consequences include, but are not limited to, the SEC applying to enjoin the violation, Certificateholders suing the Company to recover any damages caused by the violation and any contract to which the Company is a party made in violation or whose performance involves a violation of the Investment Company Act being unenforceable unless enforcing such contract would produce a more equitable result. Should the Company be subjected to any or all of the foregoing or to any other consequences, the Company would be materially and adversely affected, which could negatively impact on the value of the Certificates.

2 Specific Risks relating to the Certificates

Prospective investors should be aware that the following statements are not exhaustive and the Certificates may have other or additional risks associated with them that are not described below.

(a) Early redemption of Certificates

The Certificates may redeem prior to the maturity date due to certain events as set forth in the terms and conditions of the Certificates. These include:

- (i) for the taxation reasons set out in Condition 10(c) (which include the imposition of certain additional taxes affecting the Company, the Underlying Fund Shares or payments made by the Company and failure by the Certificateholders to provide certain information for tax purposes);
- (ii) as a result of the termination of the Swap Agreement (see “Risks relating to the Swap Agreement and the Counterparty” below);
- (iii) as a result of the occurrence of an Event of Default with respect to the Certificates;
- (iv) as a result of the occurrence of a Market Value Early Redemption Event, as set out in Condition 10(i) (Market Value Early Redemption Event), which involves the determination by the Calculation Agent that the market value of the Certificates is less than, or equal to, the Market Value Threshold;

- (v) as a result of the occurrence of a Fund Event, as set out in Condition 10(j) (Early Redemption following a Fund Event), which includes the occurrence of any of the following events: (a) insolvency in respect of the Fund, its management company or any of its service providers, (b) a merger or other consolidation in respect of the Fund, (c) a termination of the Fund, (d) nationalisation of the Fund, (e) any litigation involving the Fund, (f) events which affect the calculation of the net asset value and performance of the Fund or (g) events which affect the trading of the Fund, any operational failures, or other legal and regulatory constraints;
- (vi) as a result of the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event with respect to a Reference Share, as set out in paragraph 4 of Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions, which includes the occurrence of any of the following events: (a) a merger or tender offer in respect of a Reference Share, (b) a nationalisation of any of the Reference Shares or assets of any of the Reference Share issuers, (c) an insolvency filing or other similar proceedings affecting any of the Reference Share issuers which impact on the transferability of the Reference Shares or (d) a delisting of the relevant Reference Shares on an exchange; or
- (vii) as a result of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event with respect to a Reference Share, as set out in paragraph 5 of Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions, which includes the occurrence of any of the following events: (a) a change in any applicable law, or a change in the interpretation of any applicable law, pursuant to which it has (or, it will, within the next 15 days prior to the maturity of the Certificates) become unlawful or illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any of the Reference Shares or (b) any of the Reference Shares Issuers becomes subject to insolvency or similar proceedings.

In such instance, the amounts paid to Certificateholders will generally be their share of the proceeds of the sale or redemption of the Underlying Fund Shares (or the rights in respect thereof) plus any termination payment paid by the Counterparty to the Company in respect of the Swap Agreement following payment by the Company from such sums of amounts payable to any creditors of the Company in respect of the Certificates who take priority to the claims of Certificateholders as specified in the terms and conditions of the Certificates. If any termination payment in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any) is due to the Counterparty from the Company, such amount will, in most circumstances, be payable out of the proceeds of sale or redemption of the Underlying Fund Shares (or the rights in respect thereof) in priority to any payment to Certificateholders.

Upon early termination of the Swap Agreement, an early termination payment based on the losses or costs or, as the case may be, gains of the determining party in entering into a replacement transaction or its economic equivalent (or otherwise determined in accordance with the terms of such Swap Agreement) will be payable by the Company to the Counterparty, or (as the case may be) by the Counterparty to the Company under the Swap Agreement. Such payment will generally be determined by the Counterparty save for where it is in default. If the Counterparty is in default, the payment will be calculated by the Calculation Agent. The determination of any such losses or costs or, as the case may be, gains in entering into replacement transactions and therefore the value of the Swap Agreement (if any) at such time will be dependent on a number of factors including without limitation (i) the creditworthiness and liquidity of the assets underlying the swap payments, (ii) market perception, interest rates, yields and foreign exchange rates and (iii) the time remaining to the scheduled termination date of the Swap Agreement.

You should note that the Certificateholders and the other Transaction Parties will have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property in respect of the relevant Certificates and not to any other assets of the Company (see also risk factor entitled “Limited recourse, non-petition and related risks” below). If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares or the Swap Agreement does not move in the anticipated direction and is less than the initial purchase price of the Certificates at maturity, investors may risk losing some or all of their investment. There is no assurance that upon any such early redemption the funds available will be sufficient to pay in full the amounts that holders of the Certificates would expect to receive if the Certificates redeemed in accordance with their terms on their Maturity Date or that such holders will receive back the amount they originally invested.

(b) Limited recourse, non-petition and related risks

The only debtor of the Certificates is the Company. Certificateholders may therefore demand payments on the Certificates only from the Company. As described below, the Company is not able to meet its payment obligations with respect to the Certificates from assets or related derivatives and other contracts other than those purchased or entered into by the Company in connection with the Certificates. If net proceeds derived therefrom are not sufficient to make all payments of Secured Liabilities that, but for the operation of the limited recourse provisions in the Conditions and/or any agreement entered into by the Company relating to the Certificates, would be due, then the obligations of the Company in respect of such Secured Liabilities will be limited to such net proceeds. Any shortfall will be borne by the Certificateholders, the Counterparty and other secured parties in relation to the Certificates in accordance with the order of priorities specified in the terms and conditions of the Certificates (applied in reverse order). Therefore, there is no assurance that the funds available will be sufficient to pay in full the amounts due on the Certificates.

Certificateholders should be aware that, in most if not all circumstances, the claims of the other secured parties rank senior to those of Certificateholders. Further, none of the holders of Certificates or any person acting on behalf of any of them is entitled to take any further action against the Company or any of its officers, shareholders, members, employees, corporate service providers or directors to recover any further sum and no debt or liability shall be due or owed by the Company in respect of any such further sum. In particular, none of the holders of Certificates or any person acting on behalf of any of them may at any time institute, or join with any other person in bringing, instituting or joining, insolvency, administration, bankruptcy, winding-up, examinership or any other similar proceedings (whether court-based or otherwise) in any jurisdiction in relation to the Company or any of its assets, and none of them shall have any claim arising with respect to other obligations entered into by the Company. Prospective investors should be aware that the Company may become subject to claims or other liabilities (whether in respect of the Certificates or otherwise) that are not subject to the limited recourse and non-petition limitations (see “Insolvency” above). Consequently, Certificateholders risk losing some or all of their investment, as they have lower priority in claims and cannot pursue additional legal actions against the Company.

The Certificates will not be guaranteed by, or be the responsibility of, any other entity. In particular, the Certificates do not represent an interest in and will not be obligations of, or insured or guaranteed by, the Arranger, the Dealer, the Broker, the Custodian, the Counterparty, the Trustee or any Agent, or any Affiliate of any of them. Certificateholders may therefore demand payments on the Certificates only from the Company and have no claim against any other entity involved in the issuance of the Certificates.

(c) Investors will have to rely on the procedures of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg for transfer, payment and communication with the Company

The Certificates will be represented by a Global Certificate. Such Global Certificate will generally be deposited with a common depository on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg. Euronext Securities Milan may hold Certificates on behalf of Italian investors as custodian through its customer accounts with Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg. Except in the circumstances described in the Global Certificate, investors will not be entitled to receive definitive Certificates. Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and their respective direct and indirect participants will maintain records of the beneficial interests in the Global Certificate. While the Certificates are represented by a Global Certificate, investors will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and their respective participants.

While the Certificates are represented by a Global Certificate, the Company will discharge its payment obligations under the Certificates by making payments to the order of the common depositary on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, for distribution to their account holders. The Company has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in the Global Certificate. Therefore, a holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Certificate must rely on the procedures of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, to receive payments under the Certificates. The Company has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in the Global Certificates.

(d) Meetings of Certificateholders, electronic consent and written resolutions

The Trust Deed contains provisions for calling meetings of Certificateholders to consider certain matters affecting their interests generally and to obtain written resolutions on matters relating to the Certificates from Certificateholders without calling a meeting. A written resolution signed by or on behalf of the holders of not less than 75 per cent. in principal amount of the Certificates who for the time being are entitled to receive notice of a meeting in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed shall for all purposes be deemed to be an Extraordinary Resolution.

For so long as the Certificates are in the form of a Global Certificate registered in the name of any nominee for, one or more clearing systems, then, in respect of any resolution proposed by the Company or the Trustee, where the terms of the proposed resolution have been notified to the Certificateholders through the relevant clearing system(s), each of the Company and the Trustee shall be entitled to rely upon approval of such resolution proposed by the Company or the Trustee (as the case may be) given by way of electronic consents communicated through the electronic communication systems of the relevant clearing system(s) in accordance with their operating rules and procedures by or on behalf of the holders of not less than 75 per cent. in principal amount of the Certificates outstanding, and such electronic consents shall, for all purposes, be as valid and effective as an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Certificateholders duly convened and held. Neither the Company nor the Trustee shall be liable or responsible to anyone for such reliance.

A written resolution or an electronic consent as described above may be effected in connection with any matter affecting the interests of Certificateholders, including the modification of the Conditions of the Certificates, that would otherwise be required to be passed at a meeting of Certificateholders satisfying the special quorum in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed, and shall for all purposes take effect as an Extraordinary Resolution.

These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Certificateholders including Certificateholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting or in respect of the relevant resolution (or participate in the written resolution or electronic consent, as the case may be) and Certificateholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority (either in a meeting or by written resolution or electronic consent). Consequently, the rights of a holder of less than 25 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates then outstanding, or a Certificateholder who does not attend and vote at a meeting or participate in respect of a resolution or consent irrespective of its holding, may be varied in a manner that is adverse to its wishes and/or interests.

(e) Modification

The Trustee may agree, without the consent of the Certificateholders, to (i) any modification of any of the provisions of the Trust Deed or any Related Agreement as each affects the Certificates which is in the opinion of the Trustee of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error, (ii) any modification (except as aforesaid), waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of any of the provisions of the Certificates or the provisions of the Trust Deed or any Related Agreement as each affects the Certificates which, in any such case, is not in the opinion of the Trustee materially prejudicial to the interests of the Certificateholders (subject to certain restrictions) and (iii) in certain circumstances determine that any Event of Default or potential Event of Default shall not be treated as such. In addition, other changes to the terms and conditions of the Certificates may be agreed by meetings of Certificateholders or written resolution of the requisite number of Certificateholders. Any dissenting or absent Certificateholders will also be bound by such change.

(f) Substitution of the Company

The Trustee may also agree, without the consent of Certificateholders, to the substitution of any other company in place of the Company as principal debtor under the Trust Deed and the Certificates and any related agreements. Certificateholders will not have the right to object to such substitution. The Trustee, the Counterparty and the Company should use all reasonable efforts to effect a substitution (i) if the Company is required to do so in accordance with the terms of the Swap Agreement, (ii) in the circumstances set out in Condition 10(c), upon the occurrence of a Withholding Tax Event or an Increased Tax Event with respect to the Company. Where the Company is substituted, Certificateholders may nevertheless suffer losses arising out of the substitution process and shall be exposed to the creditworthiness of the substituted company.

(g) Trustee indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding

In certain circumstances, the Certificateholders may be dependent on the Trustee to take certain actions in respect of the Certificates, in particular if the security in respect of the Certificates becomes enforceable under Condition 4(e). Prior to taking such action, the Trustee may require to be indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities.

“Indemnified” and “secured” are technical legal terms. An indemnity broadly means a promise to protect the receiving party against loss by paying money on the happening of a specified event. So, in the instances where the Trustee requires to be indemnified prior to taking certain action, this effectively means that the Trustee wants a promise that if it suffers a loss or a cost by taking that action then someone else (i.e. the Certificateholders) will pay that amount to the Trustee so that the Trustee does not have to pay that amount itself. As well as, or as an alternative to being indemnified, the Trustee may require to be “secured” against loss or costs arising from what it does, or does not, do. This means that a particular set of assets have been identified as being legally available for the Trustee if it does suffer a loss or a cost. If it suffers that loss or cost then it could “enforce the security”. This normally means that it can require that the particular assets are sold and the proceeds used to meet the loss or cost suffered by the Trustee. The final protection the Trustee might require is that it is pre-funded against any cost or liability. This is not a precise legal term but practically simply means that some money is paid to the Trustee before it takes a particular action so that if it does incur a loss or cost it already has that money to hand.

If the Trustee is not satisfied with its indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding, it may decide not to take such action, without being in breach of its obligations under the Trust Deed. Consequently, the Certificateholders may have to either arrange for such indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding or accept the consequences of such inaction by the Trustee. With respect to enforcement under Condition 4(e), this may lead to application of the limited recourse provisions prior to some or all of the Mortgaged Property securing the Certificates being realised, with the Certificateholders losing any rights in respect of the proceeds of such unrealised Mortgaged Property. Certificateholders should be prepared to bear the costs associated with any such indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding and/or the consequences of any such inaction by the Trustee. The Trustee will not be liable to the Company or anyone else for any costs, charges, losses, damages, liabilities or expenses arising from or connected with any enforcement under Condition 4(e) or from any act or default of the Trustee, its officers, employees or agents in relation to the Security except to the extent caused by the Trustee's own fraud or wilful misconduct or that of its officers or employees.

The reason why the Trustee requires such indemnity, security or pre-funding is that the losses or costs that may be incurred by the Trustee in taking any action might be substantial and these are not losses or costs that the Trustee is prepared to take on. Were it not for such protections, a Trustee would not be prepared to take on such role and Certificateholders would not be able to benefit from the Trustee being able to hold security on their behalf or being able to take action against the Company as Trustee. Therefore, Certificateholders should be aware that in the absence of providing the requisite indemnity, security, or pre-funding to the Trustee, they may be directly affected by any determination by the Trustee not to enforce the security, potentially adversely impacting their investment as the realisation of any assets or property in connection with any enforcement may be hindered or delayed.

(h) Certificateholders required to take action in certain circumstances

In certain circumstances the Certificateholders may need to take collective action in order to exercise rights granted to them in the Conditions. In particular, in the case of an Event of Default in respect of the Certificates, there will be no early redemption of the Certificates within 30 days of the date on which the relevant Event of Default occurred unless the Trustee exercises its discretion to declare an early redemption or is directed to declare an early redemption (x) in writing by holders of at least 20 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of Certificates outstanding or (y) by an Extraordinary Resolution of the holders of the Certificates (provided, in each case, the Trustee is indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities). Accordingly, in such instance, the Certificateholders will be required to indemnify and/or secure and/or pre-fund the Trustee to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities and a sufficient percentage of Certificateholders would be required to direct the Trustee to declare an early redemption within 30 days of the date on which the relevant Event of Default occurred.

(i) Priority of claims

Following a Liquidation and on an enforcement of the Security, the rights of the Certificateholders to be paid amounts due under the Certificates will be subordinated to (i) expenses, remuneration and other amounts due to the Trustee, (ii) any taxes required to be paid by virtue of the realisation of any assets or property in connection with any Liquidation or enforcement and any costs, charges, expenses and liabilities incurred by the Company or Broker in connection with such Liquidation or enforcement, (iii) amounts owing to the Counterparty representing the return of its excess collateral transferred under the Credit Support Annex and/or manufactured distributions thereon, (iv) certain amounts owing to the Custodian, amounts owing to the Principal Paying Agent in respect of reimbursement for sums paid by them in advance of receipt by them of the funds to make such payment and the expenses, costs, claims or liabilities properly incurred by the Custodian or the Principal Paying Agent, (v) any other claims specified as having priority in the Pricing Conditions, (vi) amounts owing to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement, and (vii) any other claims as specified in the Conditions, as amended by the Trust Deed relating to the Certificates, that rank in priority to the Certificates. As a consequence of this subordination, the Certificateholders' priority in receiving payment from the proceeds of a Liquidation or enforcement of the Security is lowered, meaning that they will only be paid after all the aforementioned claims and expenses have been settled, potentially reducing the amount available to be paid to Certificateholders or, in some cases, leading to no payment if the proceeds are insufficient to cover higher-ranking claims.

(j) Taxation and no gross-up

Each Certificateholder will assume and be solely responsible for any and all taxes of any jurisdiction or governmental or regulatory authority, including, without limitation, any state or local taxes or other like assessment or charges that may be applicable to any payment to it in respect of the Certificates including proceeds from a disposition of the Certificates and repayment of principal. If any withholding tax or deduction for tax is imposed on payments of interest on the Certificates, the Certificateholders will not be entitled to receive amounts to compensate for such withholding tax and no Event of Default shall occur as a result of any such withholding or deduction.

The Company may become liable for tax charges whether by direct assessment or withholding. If any such event occurs that materially increases the costs and expenses of the Company or otherwise adversely affects the Company, the Certificates may become subject to early redemption at their Early Redemption Amount which is likely to be less than the final redemption amount that may have been payable at maturity otherwise due to such increase in costs and expenses of the Company.

(k) Investors in Certificates may receive back less than the original invested amount

Investors in Certificates may lose up to the entire value of their investment in the Certificates as a result of the occurrence of any one or more of the following events:

- (i) The final redemption amount payable in respect of each Certificate is expressed to be an amount in EUR determined by the Calculation Agent equal to (i) EUR 1,000 (being 100 per cent. of such Certificate's principal amount) plus (ii) in respect of each Certificate, subject to a minimum of zero, such Certificate's pro rata share of the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares payable on their scheduled maturity date minus the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates. The Certificates however are not principal protected. The redemption amount payable in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares on their maturity date will be dependent on the net asset value per Underlying Fund Share at the time (although the Fund will seek to protect the net asset value per Underlying Fund Share at 100 per cent. of the initial offer price of such Underlying Fund Share, subject to there being no default by the issuer of any investments made by the Fund or the counterparty to any derivatives trades entered into by the Fund). If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares does not move in the anticipated direction and at maturity is less than the principal amount of the Certificates, although the final redemption amount in such circumstances is expressed to be an amount equal to the principal amount of each Certificate, Certificateholders' claims in respect of such amount will be subject to the limited recourse provisions in respect of the Certificates. This means that Certificateholders will have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property in respect of the payment of the final redemption amount under the Certificates, which will be an amount that is less than the principal amount of the Certificates, and not to any other assets of the Company (see also risk factor entitled "Limited recourse, non-petition and related risks" above). Investors should therefore be prepared to be exposed to the risks related to the Underlying Fund Shares. If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares does not move in the anticipated direction, the Certificates may return less than the amount invested, and in a worst case scenario, investors may lose up to the entire value of their investment. Notwithstanding the above, if the Calculation Agent in its sole discretion determines at any time that the market value of the Certificates is less than, or equal to 30 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates, then the Company will redeem the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount, enabling investors to recover part of their initial investment prior to the maturity date of the Certificates, although such amount may be less than the final redemption amount that may have been payable at maturity and could result in Certificateholders losing part of their investment;

- (ii) the Company, the Custodian, the Paying Agent, the Fund or the Counterparty in respect of the Swap Agreement are subject to insolvency, bankruptcy, examinership or analogous proceedings or some other event impairing the ability of each to meet its obligations on the Certificates, Underlying Fund Shares or Swap Agreement, as applicable;
- (iii) the investor seeks to sell the Certificates prior to their scheduled maturity, and the sale price of the Certificates in the secondary market is less than the purchaser's initial investment;
- (iv) the Certificates are subject to certain adjustments in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Certificates that may result in the scheduled amount to be paid upon redemption being reduced to or being valued at an amount less than a purchaser's initial investment;
- (v) on any early redemption of the Certificates, payment default at maturity or enforcement of security, any sums payable by the Company (or, in the case of enforcement of security, by the Trustee) will be paid in accordance with a specified order of priorities. The Certificateholders are at the bottom of that order of priorities. As a result, they may not receive amounts owing to them in full or at all or amounts received by them may be lower than would have been the case were they higher in the order of priorities. In particular, investors may receive less (possibly substantially less or zero) than the principal amount of their Certificates or than the amount they invested; and
- (vi) the Company does not hold the Underlying Fund Shares until their maturity date, the issuer of any investments made by the Fund, or the counterparty to any derivatives trades entered into by the Fund, defaults.

Notwithstanding that the Certificates are linked to the performance of the Underlying Fund Shares, investors in the Certificates do not have and shall not receive any rights in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares and shall have no right to call for the Underlying Fund Shares to be delivered to them.

(l) The interest pay-outs and value of the Certificates are linked to the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share

An investment in the Certificates is not equivalent to an investment in conventional debt securities. The terms of the Certificates differ from those of ordinary debt securities because the Certificates may not pay interest, depending on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. If the value of the Worst Performing Reference Share, determined by dividing the closing price of such Reference Share on the relevant Valuation Date by the initial price of such Reference Share on the Initial Valuation Date, is less than the Barrier Level, investors will not receive any interest payment in respect of such interest accrual period. The interest payable in respect of the Certificates, and therefore the value of an investment in the Certificates, is linked to the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. Certificateholders should therefore be prepared to be exposed to the risks relating to the Reference Shares, whose value or level can alter sharply because it reflects the performance of general stock or market conditions. A decline in the performance of the Worst Performance Reference Share amongst the basket of Reference Shares is likely to have an adverse effect on the value and return on the Certificates. For specific risks in respect of the Reference Shares, see Risk Factor entitled "Risks Relating to the Reference Shares").

(m) Not a bank deposit

Any investment in the Certificates does not have the status of a bank deposit in Ireland and is not within the scope of the deposit protection scheme operated by the Central Bank of Ireland. The Company is not authorised or licensed by the Central Bank of Ireland by virtue of the issue of the Certificates.

(n) Market Value of Certificates

The market value of the Certificates will be affected by a number of factors, including, but not limited to (i) the value and volatility of the Underlying Fund Shares and the creditworthiness of the Fund, (ii) the value and volatility of the Reference Shares to which interest payments under the Certificates are linked, (iii) market perception, interest rates, yields and foreign exchange rates, (iv) the time remaining to the maturity date and (v) the nature and liquidity of the Swap Agreement. Any price at which Certificates may be sold prior to the maturity date may be at a discount, which could be substantial, to the value at which the Certificates were acquired on the issue date.

Prospective purchasers should be aware that not all market participants would determine prices in respect of the Certificates in the same manner, and the variation between such prices may be substantial. Accordingly, any prices provided by the Dealer may not be representative of prices that may be provided by other market participants. For this reason, any price provided or quoted by the Dealer should not be viewed or relied upon by prospective purchasers as establishing, or constituting advice by the Dealer concerning, a mark-to-market value of the Certificates. The price (if any) provided by the Dealer is at the absolute discretion of the Dealer and may be determined by reference to such factors as it sees fit. Any such price may take into account fees, commissions or arrangements entered into by the Dealer with a third party in respect of the Certificates and the Dealer shall have no obligation to any Certificateholder to disclose such arrangements. Any price given would be prepared as of a particular date and time and would not therefore reflect subsequent changes in market values or any other factors relevant to the determination of the price.

(o) Investments may be subject to investment law and regulations

Investment activities of certain investors are subject to investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each prospective investor should therefore consult its professional advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) the Certificates are legal investments for it, and/or (ii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or, if relevant, pledge of any Certificates. Financial institutions should consult their professional advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Certificates under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

(p) Resolution of financial institutions

Following the global financial crisis, in 2011 the Financial Stability Board (the “FSB”) produced a document setting out key attributes of effective resolution regimes for financial institutions. Resolution is the process by which the authorities can intervene to manage the failure of a firm in an orderly fashion. The FSB’s proposals have been implemented in the laws of, among others, the European Union and the United States.

The taking of any actions by the relevant resolution authorities under any regime may adversely affect the Certificateholders. Whilst the Company itself is unlikely to be within scope of any implementing legislation, if the obligor in respect of any Underlying Fund Shares (including the Fund) or the Counterparty is within the scope of any implementing legislation:

- (i) any applicable bail-in power might be exercised in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares or the Swap Agreement (as the case may be) to convert any claim of the Company as against such person;
- (ii) any applicable suspension power might prevent the Company from exercising any termination rights under the Swap Agreement; or

- (iii) any applicable close out power might be exercised to enforce a termination of the Swap Agreement and to value the transactions in respect of such agreements (which value may be different to the value that would have been determined by the Company or the Counterparty (as the case may be)).

The operation of resolution regimes and their application to cross-border financial institutions is complex and the resolution of the Fund or the Counterparty is likely to adversely affect the Certificates in multiple and unpredictable ways. Following an exercise of any powers by a resolution authority, the Company may have insufficient assets or sums to meet its obligations under the Certificates or any Transaction Document for that Series, the Certificates may be the subject of an early redemption and any payment of redemption proceeds to Certificateholders may be delayed. Each Certificateholder should take such advice as it deems necessary to ensure that it understands the impact that a resolution regime may have on its investment in the Certificates.

(q) Qualified financial contracts

In September 2017, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the “Board of Governors”) adopted a final rule (the “Final Rule”) imposing restrictions on the ability of a party to call a default under, or to restrict transfers of, certain qualified financial contracts (“QFCs”) entered into by any top-tier bank holding company identified by the Board of Governors as a global systemically important banking organisation (each a “GSIB”), the subsidiaries of any U.S. GSIB (with certain exceptions) or the U.S. operations of any foreign GSIB (with certain exceptions) (collectively, subject to certain exceptions, “Covered Entities”). The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency have adopted parallel rules which are substantively the same as the Final Rule. A QFC includes, among other things, over-the-counter derivatives, repurchase agreements, contracts for the purchase or sale of securities and any credit enhancement in respect of the foregoing contracts (including a guarantee as well as a charge, pledge, mortgage or other similar credit support arrangement). In respect of the Certificates, the Counterparty and the Dealer may be Covered Entities to which the Final Rule applies and the Swap Agreement, the Dealer Agreement and the Trust Deed (as non-U.S. law governed contracts) are likely to constitute QFCs.

While the relevant U.S. federal banking laws and regulations (the “U.S. Special Resolution Regimes”) provide for such restrictions on default rights and transfers, if the relevant contract is not governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States, a court outside the United States may decline to enforce such provisions even if a Covered Entity is in a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime. To address this, the Final Rule requires a Covered Entity to ensure that each QFC it enters into (a “Covered QFC”) includes provisions that (i) restrict default rights against such Covered Entity to the same extent as provided under the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes and (ii) restrict the exercise of any cross-default rights against such Covered Entity based on any affiliate’s entry into bankruptcy or similar proceedings. In respect of the Certificates, each Transaction Document which constitutes a Covered QFC will include provisions which reflect these requirements and, as a result, the Company may face a delay in being able to enforce its rights against such a Transaction Party or be restricted from terminating such a Transaction Document.

Holders of beneficial interests in a Global Certificate will not have a direct right to vote in respect of the Certificates so represented. Instead, such holders will be permitted to act only to the extent that they are enabled by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and their respective participants to appoint appropriate proxies. Similarly, holders of beneficial interests in a Global Certificate will not have a direct right under such Global Certificate to take enforcement action against the Company in the event of a default under the Certificates but will have to rely upon their rights under the Trust Deed.

(r) Limited Liquidity and Restrictions on Transfer of the Certificates

The Certificates may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop. If a market does develop, it may not be very liquid and potential investors may not be able to find a buyer. Therefore, potential investors may not be able to sell their Certificates or, if they can, they may only be able to sell them at a price which is substantially less than the original purchase price.

The Company may list the Certificates on a stock exchange but, in such case, the fact that such Certificates are listed will not necessarily lead to greater liquidity. If Certificates are not listed or traded on any exchange, pricing information for such Certificates may be more difficult to obtain and they may be more difficult to sell.

The Dealer may act as a market maker for the Certificates, but is not required to do so (subject to the rules of any applicable securities exchange). As other market makers may not participate significantly in the secondary market for the Certificates, the price at which you may be able to trade your Certificates is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which the Dealer is willing to buy the Certificates. If at any time the Dealer or another agent does not act as a market maker, it is likely that there would be little or no secondary market for the Certificates.

If the Dealer does make a market for the Certificates, it may cease to do so at any time without notice (subject to the rules of any applicable securities exchange).

The Certificates are also subject to selling restrictions and purchaser representations and requirements and transfer restrictions that may limit your ability to resell or transfer them.

For these reasons, you should not assume that a secondary market will exist for the Certificates, and you should be prepared to hold your Certificates until their scheduled maturity. The availability of any secondary market may be limited or non-existent and, if you are able to sell your Certificates, you may receive significantly less than you would otherwise receive by holding the Certificates to their scheduled maturity.

The Certificates are structured instruments for which there is likely to be limited liquidity. Generally, but especially in times of financial distress, the Certificates may either not be saleable at all or may only be saleable at significant discounts to their fair market value or to the amount originally invested.

The Certificates are subject to certain transfer restrictions and can be transferred only to certain transferees under certain circumstances. Such restrictions on the transfer of Certificates may further limit their liquidity. Purchasers should have regard to the section of this Prospectus headed "Transfer Restrictions".

(s) Exchange rate risks and exchange controls may result in investors receiving less interest or principal than expected

The Company will pay principal and interest on the Certificates in EUR (the "Certificates Currency"). This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Investor's Currency") other than the Certificates Currency. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Certificates Currency or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to the Certificates Currency would decrease (i) the Investor's Currency equivalent yield on the Certificates, (ii) the Investor's Currency equivalent value of the principal payable on the Certificates and (iii) the Investor's Currency equivalent market value of the Certificates.

Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

(t) Impact of Increased Regulation and Nationalisation

The global financial crisis led to a materially increased involvement of governmental and regulatory authorities in the financial sector and in the operation of financial institutions. In particular, governmental and regulatory authorities in a number of jurisdictions have imposed stricter laws and regulations around certain financial activities and/or have indicated that they intend to impose such controls in the future. The United States of America, the European Union and other jurisdictions are actively considering or are in the process of implementing various reform measures. Such regulatory changes and the method of their implementation may have a significant impact on the operation of the financial markets. Examples of such legislation and its consequences are considered in “Resolution of Financial Institutions” in this Section. It is uncertain how a changed regulatory environment will affect the Company, the treatment of instruments such as the Certificates, the Arranger, the Counterparty and the other Transaction Parties. Note that the Counterparty may be entitled to terminate the Swap Agreement upon the occurrence of certain regulatory events (as described in “Regulatory Event” under “Termination Events” in the Section of this Prospectus entitled “The Swap Agreement”) – see ‘Risks Relating to the Swap Agreement and the Counterparty’ below.

(u) Change of law

The terms and conditions of the Certificates are governed by English law in effect as at the date of issue of the Certificates. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to English law, the law governing the incorporation of the Company or administrative practice after the date of issue of the Certificates.

3 Risks relating to the Reference Shares

(a) Payment of interest amounts is conditional on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share

The payment of interest amounts by the Company in respect of any Interest Accrual Period is conditional on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. If on the Valuation Date prior to any Specified Interest Payment Date the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share amongst a basket of Reference Shares, determined by dividing the closing price of such Reference Share on such Valuation Date by the initial price of such Reference Share on the Initial Valuation Date, is greater than or equal to 90 per cent. (the “Barrier Level”), then an interest amount determined at a fixed rate of 6.50 per cent. per annum will be payable by the Company in respect of the Certificates on such Specified Interest Payment Date in respect of the related Interest Accrual Period. If, however, on such Valuation Date the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share amongst the basket of Reference Shares is less than the Barrier Level, then no interest amount will be payable in respect of the Certificates by the Company on such Specified Interest Payment Date even if the performance of the other Reference Shares in the basket is not less than the Barrier Level. For the purposes of the payment of interest amounts on the Certificates, only the performance of the Reference Shares on each Valuation Date is relevant. The performance of the Reference Shares on dates that are not designated Valuation Dates, even if exceeding the Barrier Level, does not have an impact on the payment of interest amounts under the Certificates. Interest is only payable on a Specified Interest Payment Date if the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level on the Valuation Date prior to such Specified Interest Payment Date.

In addition, investors should note that there may be a risk that if the issuer of a Reference Share becomes insolvent, the value of the Worst Performing Reference Share may become zero. As a result thereof the value of the Certificates will be adversely affected and no interest amounts will be payable under the Certificates to Certificateholders in respect of all future Specified Interest Payment Dates following such insolvency.

Therefore, Certificateholders should be aware that their potential interest earnings are dependent on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. If such Reference Share underperforms and is less than the Barrier Level on the relevant Valuation Date in respect of any Interest Accrual Period, Certificateholders will not receive any interest amounts for the corresponding Interest Accrual Period, even if all other Reference Shares perform above the Barrier Level. The payment of any interest amounts in respect of any Interest Accrual Period is, therefore, variable and not guaranteed and in a worst case scenario, may be zero.

(b) The performance of the Reference Shares will depend on many diverse and unpredictable factors

The performance of the Reference Shares is dependent upon macroeconomic factors, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments and political factors, and company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, market liquidity for the Reference Shares, shareholder structure and dividend policy. Any one or a combination of such factors could adversely affect the performance of the Reference Shares which, in turn, could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(c) The past performance of a Reference Share is not indicative of future performance

Any information about the past performance of a Reference Share should not be regarded as indicative of any future performance of such Reference Share, or as an indication of the range of, or trends or fluctuations in, the price or value of such Reference Share that may occur in the future. It is not possible to predict the future value of the Reference Shares (and therefore, the Certificates) based on such past performance. Actual results will be different, and such differences may be material, and could have a negative impact on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(d) The market value or return on the Certificates may not be comparable or directly proportionate to the change in value of such Reference Shares

Unlike a direct investment in the relevant Reference Shares, Certificates represent the right to receive interest payments which will be determined by reference to the performance of the relevant Reference Shares. Whilst the return on the Certificates will be influenced (positively or negatively) by the Reference Shares, any change may not be comparable or directly proportionate to the change in value of such Reference Shares, and you may receive less or lose more than if you had invested in the Reference Shares directly or through another product.

(e) No claim against the Reference Share Issuer or recourse to the Reference Shares

The Certificates do not represent a claim against or an investment in any Reference Share Issuer and you will not have any right of recourse under the Certificates to any such company or the Reference Shares. The Certificates are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by any Reference Share Issuer and such companies have no obligation to take into account the consequences of their actions on Certificateholders. Each Reference Share Issuer may take any actions in respect of its Reference Share without regard to your interests as a Certificateholder, and any of these actions could adversely affect the value of and return on the Certificates.

(f) No right to participate in dividends or any other distributions

Certificateholders will not participate in dividends or any other distributions paid on the Reference Shares. Therefore, the return on the Certificates may be lower than holding such Reference Shares directly or through another product.

(g) Determinations made by the Calculation Agent in respect of Potential Adjustment Events, Extraordinary Events or Additional Disruption Events may have an adverse effect on the value of the Certificates

Upon determining that a Potential Adjustment Event, Extraordinary Event or Additional Disruption Event has occurred in relation to a Reference Share or a Reference Share Issuer, the Calculation Agent has discretionary authority under the terms and conditions of the Certificates to make certain determinations to account for such event including to (i) make adjustments to the terms of the Certificates and/or (ii) in the case of an Extraordinary Event or an Additional Disruption Event, redeem the Certificates prior to their scheduled maturity date, any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

- (i) Potential Adjustment Events: these include (A) a sub-division, consolidation or re-classification of the relevant Reference Shares, (B) an extraordinary dividend in respect of a Reference Share, (C) a call by a Reference Share Issuer in respect of the Reference Shares that are not fully paid, (D) a repurchase by a Reference Share Issuer, or an affiliate thereof, of the relevant Reference Shares, (E) in respect of a Reference Share Issuer, a separation of rights from the relevant Reference Shares or (F) any event having a dilutive or concentrative effect on the value of the Reference Shares.
- (ii) Extraordinary Events: these include (A) a delisting of the Reference Shares on an exchange, (B) an insolvency (where all the Reference Shares of the Reference Share issuer are transferred to a trustee, liquidator or similar official or may not be legally transferred) or bankruptcy of any Reference Share Issuer, (C) a merger event entailing the consolidation of the Reference Shares with those of another entity, (D) a nationalisation of the any Reference Share Issuer or transfer of the Shares to a governmental entity or (E) a tender offer or takeover offer that results in transfer of the Reference Shares to another entity.
- (iii) Additional Disruption Events: these include (A) a change in applicable law or a change in the interpretation of any applicable law, since the Issue Date that makes it (or will make it, within the next 15 days prior to the maturity of the Certificates) illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of the Reference Shares or (B) an insolvency or bankruptcy filing by or on behalf of the Reference Share issuer.

(h) Exposure to correction of prices in connection with the Reference Shares

There is a risk to investors associated with the possibility that the price for a Reference Share that was previously published on the relevant exchange and used to make any calculations or other determinations in connection with the Certificates is subsequently corrected. If such correction is published on the relevant exchange by the earlier of (i) the end of the standard period for settling trades in the Reference Share according to the rules of the exchange and (ii) two Business Days before a payment by the Company is due or a determination in respect of the Certificates may have to be made, the Calculation Agent has discretionary authority under the terms and conditions of the Certificates to adjust the amount that is payable under the Certificates to account for any correction in the price of any of the Reference Shares, which may result in a lower amount than the amount which would have been payable if determined in accordance with the price which was originally published on the relevant exchange. Any such adjustment may have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

4 Risks relating to the Underlying Fund Shares

The following risks are some of the risks that the Underlying Fund Shares are exposed to, but the list does not purport to be exhaustive. Potential investors should be aware that the Underlying Fund Shares may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. Potential investors should review the Fund's offering document in respect of the Fund and the Underlying Fund Shares, including the risk factors, prior to making an investment in the Certificates. However, the Company assumes no responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of any Fund offering documents.

(a) Market risks relating to the Underlying Fund Shares

The Underlying Fund Shares relating to the Certificates will be subject to credit, liquidity and interest rate risks. No investigations, searches or other enquiries will be made by or on behalf of the Company, the Certificateholders or the Trustee in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares and no representations or warranties, express or implied, will be given by the Company, the Arranger, the Broker, the Dealer, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Custodian or any other Agent, or any Affiliate of any of them (including any directors, officers or employees thereof), in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares.

There might only be limited liquidity for the Underlying Fund Shares and generally, but especially in times of financial distress, the Underlying Fund Shares may either not be saleable at all or may only be saleable at significant discounts to its fair market value or to the amount originally invested. As the Company has entered into a Credit Support Annex as part of its Swap Agreement, by virtue of the collateral requirements applicable to any such arrangements the Outstanding Assets held by it from time to time may comprise assets in addition to the Underlying Fund Shares. If the Company holds additional assets, the types of assets that may comprise Outstanding Assets may be diverse and may be less liquid and more volatile than the Underlying Fund Shares.

As the nature of the Underlying Fund Shares is such that in accordance with their terms value varies dependent on their performance, the ability of the Company to pay amounts due on the Certificates will be adversely affected by an adverse performance of such assets. Upon the occurrence of a Liquidation Event, the Underlying Fund Shares relating thereto will be sold or otherwise liquidated (except where otherwise transferred in accordance with the Conditions). No assurance can be given as to the amount of proceeds of any sale or liquidation of such assets at that time, or upon any enforcement of Security, since the market value of such assets will be affected by a number of factors including but not limited to (i) the creditworthiness of the issuer of those assets, (ii) market perception, interest rates, yields and foreign exchange rates, (iii) the time remaining to the scheduled maturity of such assets and (iv) the liquidity of such assets. Accordingly, the price at which such assets are sold or liquidated may be at a discount, which could be substantial, to the market value of the Underlying Fund Shares on the issue date and the proceeds of any such sale or liquidation may not be sufficient to repay the full amount of principal of and interest on the Certificates that the holders of the Certificates would expect to receive if the Certificates redeemed in accordance with their terms on their Scheduled Maturity Date.

(b) Likelihood of the Fund defaulting on its obligations or becoming insolvent

If a default has occurred with respect to the Underlying Fund Shares, it is not likely that the proceeds of any sale or redemption of the Underlying Fund Shares will be equal to the unpaid principal of the Certificates and interest thereon or the relevant portion thereof. In the event of an insolvency of the Fund, various insolvency and related laws applicable to the Fund may (directly or indirectly) limit the amount the Company or the Trustee may recover in respect of such assets. As a result, Certificateholders risk losing some or all of their investment.

(c) Liquidation constraints

In certain circumstances, the Broker may determine that it is not permitted under applicable laws or under its internal policies having general application or it is otherwise not possible or practicable for the Underlying Fund Shares to be sold or otherwise liquidated by the Broker on behalf of the Company, in which case there may be a delay in the Certificateholders receiving any amounts payable in respect of the Certificates upon such early redemption.

(d) Factors affecting the performance of the Fund may adversely affect the value of and return on the Certificates

The performance of the Underlying Fund Shares will affect the value of the investment return on the Certificates. The performance of the Underlying Fund Shares is dependent upon many factors, including macroeconomic factors (such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments including variation of exchange rates of foreign currencies, political, judicial or economic factors) and Fund-specific factors (such as the risk profile of the Fund, the expertise of its senior personnel and its shareholder structure and distribution policy). The investment objectives and policies employed by the Fund and the underlying components in which it invests may utilise various investment strategies which may also affect the performance of the Underlying Fund Shares. In addition, the Fund may make investments in markets that are volatile and/or illiquid and it may be difficult or costly for investment positions to be opened or liquidated. Any one or a combination of such factors could adversely affect the performance of the Fund which, in turn, could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(e) Costs relating to the Fund

The Fund's performance will be affected by the fees and expenses which it incurs, as described in its offering documents. Such fees and expenses will include the investment management fees (which will be an amount up to 2 per cent. per annum of the net asset value per Underlying Fund Share) and operating expenses typically incurred in connection with any direct investment in the Fund. The Fund will assess fees and incur costs and expenses regardless of its performance. High levels of trading could cause the Fund to incur increased trading costs. Holders of Certificates will be exposed to a pro rata share of the fees and expenses of the Fund and such exposure could have a negative impact on the value of and return on the Certificates than in the absence of such fees and expenses

(f) No claim against a Fund or recourse to the Underlying Fund Shares

Certificateholders will have no claim against the Fund, its management company or any fund service provider, and the Certificateholders will not have any right of recourse under the Certificates to any such entity or the Underlying Fund Shares. The Certificates are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by the Fund, its management company or any fund service provider, and such entities have no obligation to take into account the consequences of their actions in respect of any Certificateholders. The Fund, its management company or any fund service provider may take any actions in respect of such Fund without regard to the interests of the Certificateholders, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of and return on the Certificates.

(g) Valuation risk in relation to the Fund

The Calculation Agent will rely on the calculation and publication of the net asset value per Underlying Fund Share by the relevant Fund itself (or another entity on its behalf). Any delay, suspension or inaccuracy in the calculation and publication of the net asset value per Underlying Fund Share will impact on the calculation of the return on the Certificates. The value of and return on the Certificates may also be reduced if a Fund delays payments in respect of the Underlying Fund Share redemptions – see paragraph (k) below “The Fund may be subject to transfer restrictions and illiquidity”.

The Underlying Fund Shares and/or the investments made by the Fund may be valued only by administrators, custodians or other service provider of the Fund and may not be verified by an independent third party on a regular or timely basis. There is a risk that (i) the determinations of the Calculation Agent may not reflect the true value of the Underlying Fund Shares at a specific time which could result in losses or inaccurate pricing and/or (ii) relevant values may not be available on a relevant date which could result in the Certificates being redeemed early.

Any such factors in relation to the valuation of the Underlying Fund Shares could have a negative impact on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(h) Trading in indices, financial instruments and currencies

The Fund places an emphasis on trading financial instruments and/or currencies. The effect of any governmental intervention may be particularly significant at certain times in currency and financial instrument futures and options markets. Such intervention (as well as other factors) may cause all of these markets to move rapidly in the same or varying directions which may result in sudden and significant losses, which losses could lead to losses to holders of the Certificates.

(i) Strategies of the Fund may not be successful in achieving its investment objective

No assurance can be given that the investment strategy of the Fund will be successful or that the investment objective of the Fund will be achieved, or that any analytical model used by the relevant management company will prove to be correct or that any assessments of the short-term or long-term prospects, volatility and correlation of the types of investments in which the Fund has invested or will invest will prove accurate. The analytical models utilised by a management company of a Fund and upon which investment decisions are based may be developed from historical analysis of the performance or correlation of historical analysis of the performance or correlations of certain companies, securities, industries, countries or markets. There can be no assurance that the historical performance that is used to determine such analytical models will be a good indicator of future performance, and if the future performance of the Fund varies significantly, the management company of the Fund may not achieve its intended investment performance. No assurance can be given that the strategies to be used by the Fund will be successful under all or any market conditions. The Fund may utilise financial instruments such as derivatives for investment purposes and/or seek to hedge against fluctuations in the relative values of the Fund's portfolio positions as a result of changes in exchange rates, interest rates and levels of yields and prices of other securities. Such hedging transactions may not always achieve the intended outcome and can also limit potential gains.

The management of the Fund may have broad discretion over its investment strategy, within specified parameters. The Fund could, for example, alter its investment focus within a prescribed market. Any shift in strategy could bear adverse consequences to the Fund's investment performance. Further, the Fund may have difficulty realising on any strategy initiatives that it undertakes. It may not sometimes be clear whether the Fund fulfils the investment criteria set out in its investment guidelines.

Any such issues with relation to the Fund's strategy or other factors described above could adversely affect the performance of the Fund which, in turn, could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(j) Regulatory and volatility risk

The regulatory environment is evolving and changes therein may adversely affect the ability of the Fund to obtain the leverage it might otherwise obtain or to pursue its investment strategies. In addition, the regulatory or tax environment for derivative and related instruments is evolving and may be subject to modification by government or judicial action which may adversely affect the value of the investments held by the Fund. It is not possible to predict the effect of any future changes to applicable law or regulation or uncertainties such as international political developments, changes in government policies, taxation, restrictions or foreign investment and currency repatriation or fluctuations.

Further, the markets in which the Fund invests may prove to be highly volatile from time to time as a result of, for example, sudden changes in government policies on taxation and currency repatriation or changes in legislation relating to the value of foreign ownership of assets held by a Fund, and this may affect the net asset value at which such Fund may liquidate positions to meet repurchase requests or other funding requirements and, in turn, the value of your Certificates.

Any such regulatory changes or market volatility could adversely affect the performance of the Fund which, in turn, could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(k) The Fund may be subject to transfer restrictions and illiquidity

There can be no assurance that the liquidity of the Fund will always be sufficient to meet redemption requests as, and when, made. Any lack of liquidity or restrictions on redemptions may affect the liquidity of the Underlying Fund Shares and their value and could adversely affect the performance of the Certificates.

The Fund may make investments for which no liquid market exists. The market values, if any, of such investments tend to be more volatile and the Fund may not be able to sell them when it desires to do so or to realise what it perceives to be their fair value in the event of a sale. Moreover, assets in which the Fund may invest may include those that are not listed on a securities exchange or traded on an over-the-counter market. As a result of the absence of a public trading market for these assets, they may be less liquid than, for example, publicly traded securities. The Fund may encounter substantial delays in attempting to sell non-publicly traded assets or securities. Although these assets may be resold in privately negotiated transactions, the values realised from these sales could be less than those originally paid by the Fund and less than the values estimated for such assets by such Fund. Further, entities whose securities are not publicly traded are not subject to the disclosure and other investor protection requirements which would be applicable if their securities were publicly traded.

Trading in the assets held by the Fund may be limited to privately negotiated transactions, which could increase transaction costs relative to exchange trading and which could cause substantial lags in realising amounts from assets designated for sale. Any such issues with regard to redemptions, transfers and liquidity of the Fund could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(l) Lack of control and reliance on the third party management company of the Fund

Certificateholders will have no right to participate in the management of the Fund or in the control of the Fund's business. Accordingly no person should purchase any Certificates unless the investor is willing to entrust all aspects of management of the Fund to the management company of the Fund. The investment return on the Certificates may depend entirely on the efforts of the management company of the Fund and its principals.

The performance of the Fund is dependent on the performance of the management company in managing the investments of the Fund. The management company of the Fund may invest in and actively traded instruments with significant risk characteristics, including risks arising from the volatility of securities, financial futures, derivatives, currency and interest rate markets, the leverage factors associated with trading in such markets and instruments, and the potential exposure to loss resulting from counterparty defaults.

The Company will not have any role in the management of the Fund. Moreover, the Company will not have the opportunity to evaluate or be consulted in relation to any specific investments made by the Fund before they are made. The investment return on the Certificates will depend primarily on the performance of the unrelated management company in managing the investments of the Fund and could be adversely affected by any unfavourable performance of such management company.

The Fund or its management company may also become involved in shareholder, insider trading or other litigation as a result of its investment activities. Any such dispute could adversely affect the performance of the Underlying Fund Shares and consequently, of the Certificates.

Any of the above-described factors could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(m) Reliance on key personnel

The success of the Fund is dependent on the expertise of its management company and fund service providers. The loss of one or more investment personnel associated with such management company or fund service provider could have a material adverse effect on the ability of a management company or fund service provider, as applicable, to complete its obligations in respect of the Fund, resulting in losses for the Fund and a decline in the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. Certain management companies and fund service providers may have only one principal personnel, without whom the relevant management company or fund service provider, as applicable, could not continue to operate. The loss of such principal personnel could adversely affect the performance of the Fund which, in turn, could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on your Certificates.

(n) A change in the composition or discontinuance of the Fund could adversely affect the market value of the Certificates

The management company of the Fund may, without regard to the interests of the Certificateholders, add, remove or substitute the components of the Fund in which the Fund invests or make other methodological changes that could change the investment profile of the Fund, which could adversely affect the investment return on the Certificates. The management company of the Fund may also determine to discontinue such Fund. If the Fund is discontinued, the Certificates may be redeemed early. Any such action could have a negative impact on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(o) Leverage

The Fund may utilise leverage techniques, including the use of borrowed funds, repurchase agreements and other derivative financial instruments. While leverage presents opportunities for increasing the Fund's total return, it increases the potential risk of loss. Any event which adversely affects the value of an investment by the Fund is magnified to the extent that such investment is leveraged. Leverage can have a similar effect on assets in which such Fund invests. The use of leverage by the Fund could result in substantial losses by the Fund which would be greater than if leverage had not been used, and such losses could lead to losses to the holder of the Certificates.

(p) Key Risks relating to the types of investments to be made by the Fund

The Fund principally invests in debt instruments, including but not limited to investment-grade and non-investment grade fixed and/or floating rate transferable debt securities of all types (including corporate debt securities, bonds and notes, zero-coupon and discount bonds, debentures, inflation linked bonds, subordinated debt securities) denominated in any currency and issued owned or guaranteed by sovereign or government agencies, supranational entities and/or corporate issuers located anywhere in the world (including emerging markets).

In respect of the selection of debt instruments, the Fund will give preference to investments in investment grade government bonds issued by governments globally and/or investment grade/non-investment grade debt instruments issued by credit institutions and/or insurance companies authorised to operate in the UK and/or credit institutions and/or insurance companies authorised to operate in the EU or the European Economic Area and listed on the European Banking Authority's credit institution register and/or listed on the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority's register of insurance undertakings (respectively) and/or issued by credit institutions authorised by the relevant regulatory authority to operate in the United States. The Fund will select the debt instruments based on an analysis which includes assessment of debt instruments particular yield levels (i.e., the level of return given by a bond up to its maturity date), yield curve slopes (i.e., different levels of return for different maturity dates) and country spreads (i.e., the difference in yield between certain government bonds having the same maturity date).

The debt instruments in which the Fund invests will be either non-investment grade or investment grade at the time of purchase or, if unrated, which are in the opinion of the manager of the Fund, of comparable quality. At the time of purchase of the debt instruments, the Fund may only purchase, in aggregate, up to 30% of its net asset value in either non-investment grade and/or subordinated debt. Where a debt instrument ceases to be rated or its rating is reduced to below investment grade following its purchase, the manager of the Fund will consider such event in determining whether the Fund should continue to hold the security. The manager of the Fund may invest substantially or fully in government bonds issued by any Member State.

The following risks are the material risks relating to the types of investments made by the Fund, but the list does not purport to be exhaustive. Prospective investors should be aware that these types of investments may have other or additional risks associated with them that are not described below. Potential investors should review the Fund's offering document in respect of the Fund and the Underlying Fund Shares, including the risk factors, prior to making an investment in the Certificates. However, the Company assumes no responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of any Fund offering documents.

(i) Subordinated Debt Risk

As described above, the Fund may invest in subordinated debt instruments which are often more attractive investments than senior debt securities in respect of the yield these investments may provide. Subordinated debt instruments may however involve a greater credit risk as they rank below senior debt securities with regard to the repayment of the principal in the case of issuer default i.e., subordinated debt holders are not repaid until after senior debtholders have been fully paid. The default in the subordinated debt instruments held by the Fund may result in a fall in the value of the Underlying Fund Shares due to the lower recovery prospects of such subordinated investments. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(ii) Small and medium capitalisation companies

The Fund will generally invest in larger capitalisation companies, but it is possible that it may invest a portion of its assets in the securities of companies with small to medium-sized market capitalisations. While the manager of the Fund believes they often provide significant potential for appreciation, those stocks, particularly small-capitalisation stocks, involve higher risks in some respects than do investments in securities of larger companies. For example, prices of small capitalisation companies and even medium capitalisation companies are often more volatile than prices of large capitalisation securities and the risk of bankruptcy or insolvency of many smaller companies (with the attendant losses to investors) is higher than for larger, “blue-chip” companies. In addition, due to thin trading in the securities of some small capitalisation companies, an investment in those companies may be illiquid, particularly where the Fund holds concentrated positions. Increased volatility and higher risk of loss associated with small to medium-sized company investments could lead to greater fluctuations and potential reduction in the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(iii) Investing in Fixed Income Securities

Investment in fixed income securities is subject to interest rate, sector, security and credit risks. The Fund can invest in lower-rated securities which will usually offer higher yields than higher-rated securities to compensate for the reduced creditworthiness and increased risk of default that these securities carry. Lower-rated securities generally tend to reflect short-term corporate and market developments to a greater extent than higher-rated securities which respond primarily to fluctuations in the general level of interest rates. There are fewer investors in lower-rated securities and it may be harder to buy and sell such securities at an optimum time. The volume of transactions effected in certain international bond markets may be appreciably below that of the world’s largest markets, such as the United States. Accordingly, the Fund’s investment in such markets may be less liquid and their prices may be more volatile than comparable investments in securities trading in markets with larger trading volumes. Moreover, the settlement periods in certain markets may be longer than in others which may affect portfolio liquidity. If the Fund invests in lower-rated securities, the volatility and liquidity risks associated in lower-rated securities and international bond markets can lead to fluctuations in the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(iv) Below Investment Grade Credit Risk

Where the Fund invests in securities issued by an entity that has a credit rating of below investment grade by a rating agency it will be exposed to a higher level of risk than is usual in other cases. In particular each of the risks discussed are relevant to any such investments and may have a greater likelihood of impacting on the Fund:

(A) Liquidity Risk

Not all securities or instruments invested in by the Fund will be listed or rated and consequently liquidity may be low. Moreover, the accumulation and disposal of holdings in some investments may be time consuming and may need to be conducted at unfavourable prices. The Fund may also encounter difficulties in disposing of assets at their fair price due to adverse market conditions leading to limited liquidity. This risk may be more pronounced for the Fund’s investments in developing countries. The Fund’s investments in less liquid assets and potential difficulties in asset disposition, which may result in sales of the Fund's assets at unfavourable prices, can negatively affect the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(B) Credit Risk

There can be no assurance that issuers of the securities or other instruments in which a Fund invests will not be subject to credit difficulties leading to the loss of some or all of the sums invested in such securities or instruments or payments due on such securities or instruments. The Fund will also be exposed to a credit risk in relation to the counterparties with whom it trades or places margin or collateral in respect of transactions in financial derivative instruments and may bear the risk of counterparty default. If the Fund's investments face credit difficulties, the Underlying Fund Shares face the risk of reduced returns or potential losses. Additionally, the Fund's exposure to credit risk through counterparties in derivative transactions can result in counterparty default, which may negatively impact the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(C) Risks Affecting Specific Issuers

The value of a debt obligation may decline in response to developments affecting the specific issuer of the security or obligation, even if the overall industry or economy is unaffected. These developments may include a variety of factors, including but not limited to management issues or other corporate disruption, a decline in revenues or profitability, an increase in costs, or an adverse effect on the issuer's competitive position. Any adverse developments affecting the specific issuer of the securities in which the Fund has invested, such as management problems or competitive disadvantages, could result in a decrease in the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(v) Emerging Markets Risk

Where the Fund invests in securities issued by an entity domiciled in an emerging market or developing country it will be exposed to a higher level of risk than is usual in other cases. In particular, each of the risks discussed below will be specifically relevant to any such investments and may have a greater likelihood of impacting on the Fund:

(A) Political and/or Regulatory Risks

The value of the assets attributable to the Fund may be affected by uncertainties such as national, regional or international political developments, changes in government policies, changes in taxation, restrictions on foreign investment and currency repatriation, currency fluctuations and other developments in the laws and regulations of countries in which investment may be made. Furthermore, the legal infrastructure and accounting, auditing and reporting standards in certain countries in which investment may be made may not provide the same degree of investor protection or information to investors as would generally apply in major securities markets. The variety of geopolitical and economic uncertainties in the regions where investments are made together with the lack of robust legal, accounting, and auditing standards in the investment regions could lead to a reduction in the value of the Underlying Fund Shares due to insufficient investor protection or inadequate information. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(B) Custodial and Settlement Risk

A Fund may invest in markets where the trading, settlement and custodial systems are not fully developed. The assets of a Fund which are traded in such markets and which have been entrusted to sub-custodians in such markets may be exposed to risks that may be more pronounced for investments in developing countries. Investments in underdeveloped market systems carry heightened risks due to less sophisticated trading, settlement, and custody processes, which can lead to increased vulnerability for the Fund's assets, and consequently, can negatively impact the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, Certificateholders face the risk of potential loss in value of their Certificates, especially in developing countries where these market systems are more susceptible to operational issues and financial instability.

(C) Currency Risk

The assets of the Fund may be denominated in a currency other than the base currency of the Fund and changes in the exchange rate between the base currency and the currency of the asset may lead to a depreciation of the value of the Fund's assets as expressed in the base currency. It may not be possible or practical to hedge against such exchange rate risk. The manager of the Fund may, but is not obliged to, mitigate this risk by using financial instruments. Therefore, investments held by the Fund in currencies other than its base currency expose the Underlying Fund Shares to currency fluctuation risks, thereby potentially reducing the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(D) Accounting, Auditing and Financial Reporting Standards

The accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards of many of the countries in which a Fund invests may be less extensive than those applicable to Irish companies. The potentially lower standards of accounting, auditing, and financial reporting in certain investment regions may lead to less transparency regarding the valuation of Underlying Fund Shares, therefore increasing the risk of inaccuracy in their valuation. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any uncertainty relating to the valuation of the Underlying Fund Shares could increase the degree of uncertainty relating to the value of their Certificates, which could potentially have an adverse effect on their perceived and actual value.

(E) Exchange Control and Repatriation Risk

It may not be possible for the Fund to repatriate capital, dividends, interest and other income from certain countries, or it may require government consents to do so. The Fund could be adversely affected by the introduction of, or delays in, or refusal to grant any such consent for the repatriation of funds or by any official intervention affecting the process of settlement of transactions. Exchange control or repatriation risk could be relevant for the Fund that invests in emerging markets or which invests during extraordinary market conditions such as a sovereign debt crisis as a result of which there is an increased risk that the markets in which the Fund invests introduces restrictions on the repatriation of funds or where regulations are introduced affecting the process for settlement of transactions. Economic or political conditions could lead to the revocation or variation of consent granted prior to investment being made in any particular country or to the imposition of new restrictions. If the Fund faces restrictions on repatriating funds, this could adversely affect the value of the Underlying Fund Shares. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

(vi) Risks relating to inflation-linked bonds

Inflation is the general increase in prices and fall in the purchasing value of money over time. Due to the impact of inflation, the same amount of money will buy fewer goods and services over time.

The real return (or yield) on an investment in securities may be reduced by inflation. Consequently, the higher the rate of inflation, the lower the real yield on a security will be. If the inflation rate is equal to or greater than the yield under a security, the real yield a holder of such security will achieve will be zero or even negative. Accordingly, inflation may have a negative effect on the value of and return on the securities.

The Fund can invest in inflation-linked securities. Inflation-linked securities are designed to provide protection against inflation. The principal and interest payments of such securities are typically adjusted to reflect changes in an inflation index, thereby mitigating the erosion of purchasing power that inflation causes. However, if inflation deviates significantly from expectations or if the adjustments do not fully compensate for the actual rate of inflation, the real yield on inflation-linked securities can be adversely affected. If the Fund decides to invest in inflation-linked securities, and such securities do not fully compensate for actual inflation rates, the value of the Underlying Fund Shares could be adversely affected. As the value of the Certificates is linked to the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, prospective investors should be aware that any reduction in value of the Underlying Fund Shares could have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Certificates.

5 Risks Relating to the Transaction Parties

(a) Risks relating to the Swap Agreement and the Counterparty

In the circumstances specified in the Swap Agreement entered into by the Company in connection with the Certificates, the Company or the Counterparty may terminate the outstanding Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement in whole. The Company will be entitled to terminate the outstanding Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement in whole upon the occurrence of an event of default (as such events are more particularly described in the Swap Agreement) in relation to the Counterparty, provided that it is acting on the instructions of the Trustee or without instruction by the Trustee if deemed to do so in connection with an early redemption of the Certificates. The Counterparty will be entitled to terminate upon the occurrence of an event of default (as such events are more particularly described in the Swap Agreement) in relation to the Company.

The Company and the Counterparty may be able to terminate:

- i. upon the occurrence of an illegality;
- ii. upon the occurrence of certain tax-related events;
- iii. upon the failure of the Company to pay any amounts or otherwise comply with its obligations under the Certificates;

- iv. upon the occurrence of a default or certain other tax-related events in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares or part thereof (or, in certain circumstances, in respect of the Company);
- v. upon the occurrence of certain regulatory events (including, without limitation, the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement being required to be cleared through a central clearing counterparty or additional risk mitigation measures being imposed with respect to it; the Counterparty needing to maintain a Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement through a different legal entity; any imposition of a financial transaction tax or similar; the Company, the Counterparty or certain related parties becoming an alternative investment fund manager by virtue of their involvement with the Certificates and/or the Swap Agreement; or the Counterparty or the Company being materially and adversely restricted in their ability to perform their obligations under the Swap Agreement or being required to post additional collateral to any person) caused by a relevant law (and relevant law for this purpose includes any arrangements the Counterparty or any of its Affiliates entered into with any regulatory agency regarding legal entity structure or location with regard to, inter alia, the United Kingdom's prospective or actual departure from the European Union); or
- vi. if a payment obligation under the Swap Agreement that would otherwise have been denominated in euro ceases to be denominated in euro or it would be unlawful, impossible or impracticable for the payer to pay, or the payee to receive, payments in euro, all as more particularly described in the Swap Agreement, provided that the Company may only terminate the outstanding Swap Transaction under a Swap Agreement if it is acting on the instructions of the Trustee or without instruction by the Trustee in connection with an illegality or if deemed to do so in connection with an early redemption of the Certificates. Any termination of the Swap Transaction under a Swap Agreement will generally result in a corresponding redemption in whole of the Certificates. Upon any such redemption, the amount paid to Certificateholders to redeem such Certificates may be significantly less than the Certificateholder's original investment in such Certificates and may be zero.

The Certificateholders are relying not only on the creditworthiness of the Underlying Fund Shares, but also on the creditworthiness of the Counterparty in respect of the performance of its obligations to make payments pursuant to any Swap Agreement for such Certificates. Under the Swap Agreement, the Counterparty will pay to the Company amounts equal to the interest payments payable under the Certificates (which the Company will use to fund the interest amounts payable under the Certificates). Default by the Counterparty may result in termination of the Swap Agreement and, in such circumstances, any amount due to the Company upon such termination may not be paid in full. As a result of the termination of the Swap Agreement, the Certificates will redeem early and there is no assurance that upon any such early redemption the funds available will be sufficient to pay in full the amounts that holders of the Certificates would expect to receive if the Certificates redeemed in accordance with their terms on their Maturity Date or that such holders will receive back the amount they originally invested (See the risk factor entitled "Early redemption of Certificates").

(b) Risks relating to the Credit Support Annex

The Company will also enter into a Credit Support Annex with the Counterparty in respect of the Certificates. Such Credit Support Annex provides for credit support to be provided by the Counterparty to the Company, as specified in the Pricing Conditions. The Credit Support Annex shall form part of the Swap Agreement.

Under the Credit Support Annex the Counterparty may have to post Counterparty Posted Collateral to the Company from time to time if the value of the Swap Transaction to the Company is positive. Counterparty Posted Collateral transferred to the Company under the Credit Support Annex may be subject to volatility in their prices and subject to credit and liquidity risks. No investigations, searches or other enquiries will be made by or on behalf of the Company in respect of the Counterparty Posted Collateral and no representations or warranties, express or implied, are or will be given by the Company or any other person to Certificateholders in relation to any Counterparty Posted Collateral.

Due to fluctuations in the value of the Swap Transaction and of the value of any Counterparty Posted Collateral and to the thresholds and minimum transfer amounts in the Credit Support Annex, the value of the Counterparty Posted Collateral at any time may not be sufficient to cover the amount that would otherwise be payable by the Counterparty on termination of the Swap Agreement.

The Company is exposed to movements in the value of the Swap Transaction, the Counterparty Posted Collateral, and to the creditworthiness of the Counterparty and any obligor of Eligible Credit Support (VM).

The value of the Swap Transaction to the Company and the value of the related Counterparty Posted Collateral may increase or decrease from time to time during the term of the Certificates. If the value of the Swap Transaction to the Company increases and/or the value of the Counterparty Posted Collateral decreases, the Company may demand the transfer to it of additional Eligible Credit Support (VM). In such circumstances there may be a period prior to the transfer of the additional Eligible Credit Support (VM) in which the value of the assets transferred to the Company under the Credit Support Annex is less than the amount that would be payable by the Counterparty to the Company if the Swap Agreement were to terminate. The value of the assets transferred to the Company under the Credit Support Annex may also be less than the Company's exposure to the Counterparty if the additional Eligible Credit Support (VM) is not transferred to the Company when required.

Investing in the Certificates will not make an investor the owner of any cash or securities comprising the Counterparty Posted Collateral. Any amounts payable on the Certificates will be made in cash and the holders of the Certificates will have no right to receive delivery of any securities comprising the Counterparty Posted Collateral.

Investors should also note that the Credit Support Annex contains provisions that enable the Company to deliver a notice that items that then comprise eligible collateral under the Credit Support Annex will cease to be eligible. Such notice can be delivered if the Company determines that the relevant items either have ceased to satisfy, or as of a specified date will cease to satisfy, collateral eligibility requirements under laws applicable to the recipient of such collateral requiring the collection of variation margin. Any non-eligible credit support will be given a zero value.

(c) Certificateholders have no direct ownership interest or right to delivery of the Counterparty Posted Collateral

Investing in the Certificates will not make an investor the owner of any cash or securities comprising the Counterparty Posted Collateral. Any amounts payable on the Certificates will be made in cash and the holders of the Certificates will have no right to receive delivery of any securities comprising the Counterparty Posted Collateral.

(d) SFTR (Article 15) Title Transfer Collateral Arrangements Risk Disclosure

The Company has entered into the Credit Support Annex in respect of the Certificates. The Credit Support Annex constitutes a "title transfer collateral arrangement" (as defined in Article 2(1) of Directive 2002/47/EC under EU SFTR (as defined below) and regulation 3 of the Financial Collateral Arrangements (No.2) Regulations 2003 under UK SFTR (as defined below)) (each such arrangement, a "Title Transfer Arrangement") with a counterparty (as the "Title Transfer Counterparty").

Under (i) Article 15 of Regulation (EU) 2015/2365 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 November 2015 on transparency of securities financing transactions and of reuse and amending Regulation (EU) No 648/2012 (as amended from time to time) (“EU SFTR”) and (ii) Article 15 of EU SFTR as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (“UK SFTR”, and together with EU SFTR, “SFTR”), the transferee of securities under any Title Transfer Arrangement is required to inform the transferor of such securities of the general risks and consequences that may be involved in entering into a Title Transfer Arrangement. Such risks are detailed below and are also relevant for Certificateholders even though they will not be directly party to any Title Transfer Arrangement, particularly in circumstances where the Company is a transferor of securities under a Title Transfer Arrangement.

In the section below, the person that transfers securities under a Title Transfer Arrangement is referred to as the “Transferor”, the person to whom such securities are transferred is referred to as the “Transferee” and the securities so transferred are referred to as the “Securities Collateral”.

(i) Loss of proprietary rights in Securities Collateral

The rights, including any proprietary rights, that a Transferor has in Securities Collateral transferred to a Transferee will be replaced (subject to any security granted by the Transferee) by an unsecured contractual claim for delivery of equivalent Securities Collateral, subject to the terms of the Title Transfer Arrangement. If the Transferee becomes insolvent or defaults under the Title Transfer Arrangement, the Transferor’s claim for delivery of equivalent Securities Collateral will not be secured and will be subject to the terms of the Title Transfer Arrangement and applicable law. Consequently, the Transferor may not receive such equivalent Securities Collateral (although the Transferor’s exposure may be reduced to the extent that its liabilities to the Transferee under such Title Transfer Arrangement can be netted or set-off against the obligation of the Transferee to deliver equivalent Securities Collateral to the Transferor).

Upon transfer of the Securities Collateral by the Title Transfer Counterparty, the Company’s obligations to transfer equivalent Securities Collateral in respect of the Title Transfer Arrangement, amongst other things, will be secured by the Mortgaged Property in respect of the Certificates. The Title Transfer Counterparty will not have any proprietary rights in the Securities Collateral transferred to the Company. If the Company defaults under the Title Transfer Arrangement, although the Title Transfer Counterparty’s claim for delivery of equivalent Securities Collateral will benefit from security granted by the Company, the Title Transfer Counterparty’s claim for delivery of equivalent Securities Collateral will, as a result of the applicable payment waterfall, be subordinated to prior ranking claims of certain other Secured Parties in respect of the Mortgaged Property. Consequently, the Transferor may not receive the equivalent Securities Collateral (although the Transferor’s exposure may be reduced to the extent that its liabilities to the Transferee under such Title Transfer Arrangement can be netted or set-off against an obligation on the Transferee to deliver equivalent Securities Collateral to the Transferor).

(ii) Stay of proceedings following resolution process

See “Resolution of Financial Institutions” above for information on the consequences of a resolution process being instituted against the Title Transfer Counterparty.

(iii) Loss of voting rights in respect of Securities Collateral

The Transferor in respect of any Securities Collateral will not be entitled to exercise, or direct the Transferee to exercise any voting, consent or similar rights attached to the Securities Collateral.

(iv) No information provided in respect of Securities Collateral

The Transferee will have title to any Securities Collateral and may or may not continue to hold such Securities Collateral and as such it will have no obligation to inform the Transferor of any corporate events or actions in relation to any Securities Collateral.

(e) Limited Liability of Transaction Parties

In certain circumstances (see, for example, “Risks Relating to the Broker” and “Risks Relating to the Calculation Agent”), a Transaction Party may take or not take certain actions set out in the Conditions or the Transaction Documents and its liability towards Certificateholders or any other Transaction Party for any losses or liabilities caused by doing so may be excluded. This generally includes (without limitation), in respect of each Transaction Party, any losses or liabilities arising from the exercise of any of its rights or the performance of any of its duties in accordance with the terms of the relevant Transaction Document and any reliance by it on the opinion or advice of, or information received from, any expert. In addition, a Transaction Party’s liability may be excluded in the following circumstances (which are non-exhaustive):

- (i) in respect of the Trustee, any enforcement of the Security or any act or default of the Trustee in relation to the Security, any issues encountered by the Trustee in relation to the validity, sufficiency or enforceability of the Security, any exercise or non-exercise of the Trustee of its functions or investment powers, any actions taken in connection with the occurrence of any redemption event, any actions by the Custodian, Broker, or any custodian, agent, delegate or nominee appointed by the Trustee, any reliance by the Trustee on certain certificates provided by the Company following the occurrence of a Regulatory Requirement Event and any reliance by the Trustee upon Extraordinary Resolutions;
- (ii) in respect of the Custodian, any actions by a delegate of the Custodian (in connection with the Custody Agreement), any Clearing System, exchange, broker or third party, any actions taken or not taken by the Custodian in certain circumstances on Instructions from, or appearing to be from, an Authorised Representative of the Company, the Broker, the Trustee or the Counterparty and any failure by the Custodian to notify certain parties of certain changes in its credit rating;
- (iii) in respect of the Agents, any reliance by the relevant Agent on any Certificate, Certificate or other document reasonably believed to be genuine; and
- (iv) in respect of the Administrator, any failure by the Administrator to comply with any instruction, request or advice, any non-receipt by the Administrator of, or lack of authority of any person in relation to, any instruction, request or advice and any investments made by the Administrator in accordance with instructions or guidelines given by the board of directors of the Company.

If Certificateholders suffer any loss or receive a lower return in respect of their investment in the Certificates arising from a Transaction Party’s actions or omissions, such exclusions of liability may limit the rights of redress for Certificateholders by denying them recourse against the relevant Transaction Party.

(f) Risks relating to the Custodian

The ability of the Company to meet its obligations with respect to the Certificates will be dependent upon receipt by the Company of payments from the Custodian under the Custody Agreement for the Certificates. Consequently, the Certificateholders are relying not only on the creditworthiness of the Outstanding Assets, but also on the creditworthiness of the Custodian in respect of the performance of its obligations under the Custody Agreement, subject to any relevant provisions or arrangements intended to provide that the Outstanding Assets comprising Counterparty Posted Collateral in the form of securities held with the Custodian are not beneficially owned by the Custodian and therefore would not be available to its creditors on any insolvency of the Custodian.

If there is an overpayment in respect of Outstanding Assets comprising Counterparty Posted Collateral held in the Custodian's account with a clearing system that leads to a subsequent clawback of such overpayment via the relevant clearing system, the Custodian may seek to recover the corresponding payments made in respect of the Certificates or may retain amounts payable in respect of the Certificates in order to recover the amount of such clawback.

Any cash deposited with the Custodian by the Company and any cash received by the Custodian for the account of the Company will be held by the Custodian as banker and not as trustee and will be a bank deposit. Accordingly, such cash will not be held as client and will represent only an unsecured claim against the Custodian's assets.

(g) Risks Relating to the Principal Paying Agent

Any payments made to Certificateholders in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Certificates will be made by the Principal Paying Agent on behalf of the Company. Pursuant to the Agency Agreement, the Company is to transfer to the Principal Paying Agent such amount as may be due under the Certificates, on or before each date on which such payment in respect of the Certificates becomes due.

If the Principal Paying Agent, while holding funds for payment to Certificateholders in respect of the Certificates, is declared insolvent, the Certificateholders may not receive all (or any part) of any amounts due to them in respect of the Certificates from the Principal Paying Agent. The Company will still be liable to Certificateholders in respect of such unpaid amounts but the Company will have insufficient assets to make such payments (or any part thereof) and Certificateholders may not receive all, or any part, of any amounts due to them. Consequently, the Certificateholders are relying not only on the creditworthiness of the Underlying Fund Shares, but also on the creditworthiness of the Principal Paying Agent in respect of the performance of its obligations under the Agency Agreement to make payments to Certificateholders.

(h) Risks relating to the Broker

(i) Liquidation

Where the Certificates are to be redeemed as a result of a redemption being triggered prior to the Maturity Date or where the Company fails to pay any amount owing on the Maturity Date, the Broker is generally required to sell or otherwise liquidate the Underlying Fund Shares by way of sale or redemption during a period known as the Liquidation Period. The Liquidation Period will generally be a period of 15 Payment Business Days.

The Broker is permitted to effect such liquidation at any time or at different times during the Liquidation Period or in stages in respect of smaller portions, but may not delay the liquidation beyond the Liquidation Period, and will not have any liability for if a higher price could have been obtained had such sale taken place at a different time during or after such Liquidation Period and/or had or had not been effected in stages in respect of smaller portions, except to the extent caused by the Broker's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct.

If the Broker has not been able to sell or otherwise liquidate all the relevant assets within the Liquidation Period (as extended by any Broker Replacement Event), the Broker must sell the relevant assets at its expiry irrespective of the price obtainable and regardless of such price being close to or equal to zero.

The Broker shall not be required to take any further action if the Broker determines, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that there has been a Liquidation Failure Event. A Liquidation Failure Event means that the Broker determines, acting in good faith and in commercially reasonable manner, that it is not permitted under applicable laws or under its internal policies having general application or it is otherwise not possible or practicable for the relevant assets to be liquidated by the Broker on behalf of the Company as required by the Conditions other than by reason of the nature or status of the relevant transferee. The Broker shall not be liable for the effect of any Liquidation Failure Event.

(ii) Resignation following loss of licence

If, for whatever reason, the Broker ceases to have any licence that it considers necessary to perform its role, it may resign its appointment at any time without giving any reason by giving the Company at least 60 days' notice to that effect. The Company will be required to appoint a replacement institution to take its place. Arranging for, and appointing, any such replacement may delay any required liquidation of the Underlying Fund Shares and related payments on the Certificates.

(i) Risks relating to the Calculation Agent

(i) Limited liability of Calculation Agent

All calculations and determinations made by the Calculation Agent shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final and binding on the Company, the Trustee, the agents appointed under the Agency Agreement and the Certificateholders. In making any calculation or determination in respect of the Certificates, or delivering any notice in respect of the Certificates or exercising any discretion, the Calculation Agent assumes no responsibility or liability to anyone other than the Company for whom it acts as agent. In particular, it assumes no responsibility to Certificateholders, the Trustee or any other persons in respect of its role as Calculation Agent and, without limitation, shall not be liable for any loss (whether a loss of profit, loss of opportunity or consequential loss), cost, expense or any other damage suffered by any such person.

In addition, the Calculation Agent shall not be liable to the Company for any errors in calculations or determinations made by it in respect of the Certificates, or any failure to make, or delay in making, any calculations or determinations in the manner required of it by the Conditions save that the Calculation Agent shall be liable to the Company (but not to any other person or persons, including Certificateholders and the Trustee) where such error, failure or delay arose out of its bad faith, fraud or gross negligence, as described in more detail in the Conditions.

Where the Calculation Agent, (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) determines that, as a result of market disruption, force majeure, systems failure or any other event of an analogous nature, it is unable to make a calculation or determination in the manner required by the Conditions, then the Calculation Agent shall not be liable for failure to make such calculation or determination in the required manner, except to the extent caused by the Calculation Agent's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct.

Where the Calculation Agent (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) determines that (i) it has not received the necessary information from any person or other source that is expected to deliver or provide the same pursuant to the Conditions or any Related Agreement which means that it is unable to make a determination required of it in accordance with the Conditions or the provisions of a Related Agreement and/or (ii) one or more provisions (including any mathematical terms and formulae) contained in the Conditions or any Related Agreement appear to the Calculation Agent (taking into account the context of the transaction as a whole and its background understanding) to be erroneous on the basis that it is impossible to make such calculation or that such provisions produce a result that, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, is economically nonsensical, the Calculation Agent shall be permitted to make its determination on the basis of the provisions of the Conditions or such Related Agreement but may make such amendments thereto as, in its opinion, are necessary to cater for relevant circumstances falling under (i) and/or (ii) above, provided always that in so doing the Calculation Agent acts in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.

(j) Systemic Risk

Financial institutions and other significant participants in the financial markets that deal with each other are interrelated as a result of trading, investment, clearing, counterparty and other relationships. This risk is sometimes referred to as “systemic risk”. Financial institutions such as the Arranger, the Broker, the Dealer, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Custodian and the Agents (or any Affiliate of any of them) and the Fund (or any guarantor or credit support provider in respect thereof) that are financial institutions or are significant participants in the financial markets are likely routinely to execute a high volume of transactions with various types of counterparties, including brokers and dealers, commercial banks, investment banks, insurers, mutual and hedge funds, and institutional clients. To the extent they do so, they are and will continue to be exposed to the risk of loss if counterparties fail or are otherwise unable to meet their obligations. In addition, a default by a financial institution or other significant participant in the financial markets, or concerns about the ability of a financial institution or other significant participant in the financial markets to meet its obligations, could lead to further significant systemic liquidity problems and other problems that could exacerbate the global financial crisis and, as such, have a material adverse impact on other entities.

When acting as a trustee, paying agent or in other service capacities with respect to certain obligations relating to the Reference Shares and/or the Underlying Fund Shares, any of the J.P. Morgan Companies may be entitled to fees and expenses senior in priority to payments on such obligations relating to the Reference Shares and/or the Underlying Fund Shares. If acting as a trustee for other classes of securities issued by the Reference Share Issuers or the Fund or an affiliate thereof, it will owe fiduciary duties to the holders of such other classes of securities, which classes of securities may have differing interests from the holders of the class of securities of which any of the Reference Shares or the Underlying Fund Shares is a part and may take actions that are adverse to the holders (including the Company) of the class of securities of which any of the Reference Shares or the Underlying Fund Shares is a part. As a counterparty under swaps and other derivative agreements, any of the J.P. Counterparty

Notwithstanding the generality of the previous section, prospective investors should be aware that, where the Counterparty is entitled to exercise its discretion or to undertake a decision in such capacity in respect of the Swap Agreement (including any right to terminate the Swap Agreement), in respect of the terms and conditions or otherwise in respect of the Certificates, unless specified to the contrary therein, the Counterparty will be entitled to act in its absolute discretion and will be under no obligation to, and will not assume any fiduciary duty or responsibility for, the Certificateholders or any other person. In exercising its discretion or deciding upon a course of action, the Counterparty shall attempt to maximise the beneficial outcome for itself (that is maximise any payments due to it and minimise any payments due from it) and will not be liable to account to the Certificateholders or any other person for any profit or other benefit to it or any of its Affiliates that may result directly or indirectly from any such selection.

What information is included in the Pricing Conditions?

While the Master Conditions include general information about all Certificates, the Pricing Conditions sets out the specific details of this particular issuance of Certificates. The Pricing Conditions amend, supplement and/or complete the Master Conditions and contain, for example, the issue date, the maturity date and the methods used to calculate the redemption amount and any interest payments, as well as any other terms applicable to these particular Certificates.

2. Who is the Company?

The Company is a special purpose entity whose only business is to issue debt securities such as the Certificates and to enter into related transactions. The directors of the Company may be employees of the administrator of the Company, which may also act as the share trustee and the secretary of the Company. The Company is not an affiliate or a subsidiary of any J.P. Morgan entity, and its obligations are not guaranteed by any other party.

3. What does the Company do with the issue proceeds of the Certificates?

The Company will use part of the issue proceeds of the Certificates to purchase the Underlying Fund Shares. The Underlying Fund Shares are specified in the Pricing Conditions of the Certificates.

In addition, as specified in the Pricing Conditions of the Certificates, the Company will enter into a Swap Agreement with the Counterparty and will use the remaining part of the issue proceeds to make an initial payment to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement.

The Underlying Fund Shares are referred to as the “Outstanding Charged Assets”.

The Outstanding Charged Assets and the Swap Agreement will generally be the only assets available to the Company to fund its payment obligations under the Certificates. The payments under such assets (both to and from the Company) will be designed to ensure that the Company has sufficient funds to meet its payment obligations under the Certificates and to meet any related payment obligations.

4. What are Outstanding Charged Assets, Counterparty Posted Collateral, Outstanding Assets and Mortgaged Property?

As described above, the Underlying Fund Shares are known as the Outstanding Charged Assets.

The Company and the Counterparty will enter into a Credit Support Annex, pursuant to which the Counterparty is required to provide collateral to the Company for its obligations under the Swap Agreement. Any such collateral posted by the Counterparty under the Credit Support Annex from time to time is referred to as “Counterparty Posted Collateral”.

“Outstanding Assets” is used in the Conditions to refer to the Underlying Fund Shares and the Counterparty Posted Collateral.

“Mortgaged Property” is used in the Conditions to refer to the Underlying Fund Shares, the charged rights under the Agency Agreement, Custody Agreement and the Swap Agreement and any assets, property, income, rights and/or agreements from time to time charged to the Trustee securing the Certificates.

5. Do Certificateholders have recourse to particular assets of the Company?

The Certificateholders and the other Transaction Parties will have recourse to the Mortgaged Property for the Certificates. The Mortgaged Property includes the Underlying Fund Shares and the Company’s rights under the Swap Agreement.

You should note that the Certificateholders and the other Transaction Parties will have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property in respect of the relevant Certificates and not to any other assets of the Company. Certificateholders’ claims (and those of other Transaction Parties) will be limited to the Mortgaged Property and subject to the order of priority referred to below. If the Mortgaged Property is not sufficient to meet Certificateholders’ claims and those of all the other relevant parties, the Mortgaged Property will be used to meet claims according to a specified order of priority. Amounts owing to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement, and certain other sums payable to certain Transaction Parties, will be paid before Certificateholders. If there is no Mortgaged Property left after paying them, Certificateholders will not be paid.

6. Who will be the Counterparty?

The Counterparty to the Swap Agreement is J.P. Morgan SE.

The original Counterparty may be substituted in the circumstances described in the Conditions.

7. What happens if the Counterparty defaults?

See paragraph 8(iv) (‘Under what circumstances may the Certificates be redeemed before their stated maturity? – Counterparty Default or Insolvency’) below.

8. Under what circumstances may the Certificates be redeemed before their stated maturity?

The Certificates may be redeemed prior to their stated maturity in any of the following circumstances and in any additional circumstance that may be specified in the relevant Pricing Conditions:

(i) Charged Assets Default

If the Fund defaults on its obligations in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares, fails to pay any amount of principal or interest in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares on a scheduled date (including due to an early redemption or repayment), or becomes insolvent, that will constitute an Event of Default for the purposes of the Certificates. As a result, the Trustee may require the Certificates to become due and repayable at their Early Redemption Amount. The Trustee is required to do so if requested by the requisite number of Certificateholders and otherwise may do so at its discretion (provided that, in each case, it has been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities). If the Trustee does not require the Certificates to become due and repayable within 30 days of the date on which the relevant Event of Default occurred and such Event of Default is continuing after such period, the Certificates shall automatically become due and repayable on the Early Redemption Date at their Early Redemption Amount without further action by the Trustee.

(ii) Certain Tax Events

If any of the Underlying Fund Shares are called for redemption or repayment prior to their scheduled maturity date as a result of any tax or associated reporting requirement being imposed, or if tax will be withheld or deducted from payments made to the Company, or if the Company will be required to pay any tax in respect of the payments it receives, the Certificates will be redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount.

In addition, if any Certificateholder fails to provide any documentation, information or waiver as may be required by the Company for the purpose of its compliance with any applicable law (including, without limitation, any Information Reporting Regime) or any agreement entered into by the Company pursuant thereto, the Company may, but shall not be required to, redeem the Certificates in respect of which the failure has occurred at their fair value (as determined by the Calculation Agent) and may liquidate, terminate and/or realise a proportionate part of the Mortgaged Property in such manner as it deems appropriate in the relevant circumstances.

In addition, in certain circumstances where the Company is or will be required to withhold or deduct an amount for tax in respect of any payments made by it under the Certificates or if it is subject to a tax charge or any law, regulation, regulatory requirement or double taxation convention or the interpretation or application thereof that would materially increase its operating or administrative costs or the costs of performing its obligations in respect of the Certificates (and such increased cost or increased operating or administrative cost, as the case may be, is beyond the control of the Company or the Calculation Agent), the Company shall use reasonable endeavours to change its place of residence or to transfer its obligations to another entity, so that the increased costs or tax would be avoided.

The Company will not be obliged to do so if the relevant tax or increased cost is in some way connected to the particular Certificateholder. The Company shall not be required to incur material costs in respect of such a change or transfer and will need to obtain the consent of, among others, the Counterparty. If no such change of residence or replacement of the Company with another entity occurs, the Certificates will be redeemed at their Early Redemption Amount.

(iii) Termination of Swap Agreement

If the Swap Agreement is terminated early, the Certificates will be redeemed at their Early Redemption Amount.

The section of this Prospectus titled “The Swap Agreement” describes the events that may lead to the termination of the Swap Agreement. These include certain payment defaults, breaches of agreement and insolvency as well as the occurrence of certain illegality, redenomination and force majeure events, certain tax-related events, certain regulatory events, notification by the Calculation Agent to the Company that the Certificates will be redeemed and certain amendments to the terms of the Certificates and the Transaction Documents when made without the Counterparty’s consent.

(iv) Market Value Early Redemption Event

If the Calculation Agent determines that the market value of the Certificates is less than, or equal to, the Market Value Threshold, the Company shall direct the redemption of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount.

(v) Redemption following a Fund Event

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Fund Event has occurred (being in summary, events which materially impact the business of the Fund, its management company or its service providers, including insolvency, a merger of the Fund, termination of the Fund, nationalisation of the Fund, and any fund extraordinary events (such as litigation involving the Fund, events which affect the calculation of the net asset value and performance of the Fund, or which affect the trading of the Fund, any operational failures, or other legal or regulatory constraints)) the Company shall direct the redemption of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount.

(vi) Extraordinary Event or Additional Disruption Event for any Reference Shares

If the Calculation Agent determines that an Extraordinary Event has occurred (being in summary events which materially impact the business of any Reference Share issuers, such as a merger event, a tender offer, the nationalisation of any of the relevant Reference Shares or assets of any of the Reference Share issuers, an insolvency filing or other similar proceedings affecting any of the Reference Share issuers which impact on the transferability of the Reference Shares or a delisting of the relevant Reference Shares on an exchange), the Calculation Agent may (a) either (i) make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Extraordinary Event or (ii) replace the Reference Share with the Replacement Reference Share (as defined in Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions) and make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Extraordinary Event and/or the replacement of the replaced Reference Shares. If the Calculation Agent determines that no adjustment that it could make under (i) or (ii) will produce a commercially reasonable result, then the Calculation Agent may deliver a notice to the Company requiring it to redeem the Certificates. If the Calculation Agent delivers a notice which requires a redemption of the Certificates, the Company shall direct the redemption of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount.

If the Calculation Agent determines that an Additional Disruption Event has occurred (being in summary, an event where due to a change in any applicable law, or a change in the interpretation of any applicable law, it has (or, it will, within the next 15 days prior to the maturity of the Certificates) become unlawful or illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Reference Shares or any of the Reference Share Issuers becomes subject to insolvency or similar proceedings), the Calculation Agent may either (i) make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Additional Disruption Event or (ii) deliver a notice to the Company requiring it to redeem the Certificates. If the Calculation Agent delivers a notice which requires a redemption of the Certificates, the Company shall direct the redemption of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount.

(vii) Events of Default

The Certificates may be redeemed early upon the occurrence of certain defined Events of Default. These include a default (for a period of at least five business days) in the payment of any principal or interest due in respect of the Certificates, a failure by the Company to perform any of its other obligations in relation to the Certificates if such failure continues for 30 days after the Trustee gives notice to the Company requiring such failure to be remedied (or such longer period as the Trustee may permit), the insolvency of the Company and, as described under paragraph (i) "Charged Assets Default" above, a default on any Underlying Fund Shares or by their obligor. If an Event of Default occurs, the Trustee may at its discretion give notice that the Certificates are due and repayable on the Early Redemption Date at their Early Redemption Amount (subject to the Trustee being indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities). The Trustee is required to give such notice if requested to do so by the requisite number of Certificateholders (provided that it has been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities). If such notice is not given within 30 days of the date on which the relevant Event of Default occurred and the relevant Event of Default is continuing, the Certificates shall automatically become due and repayable on the Early Redemption Date at their Early Redemption Amount without further action by the Trustee.

9. What is the interest payable under the Certificates?

The payment of interest amounts by the Company in respect of any Interest Accrual Period is conditional on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. If on the Valuation Date prior to any Specified Interest Payment Date the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share amongst the basket of Reference Shares, determined by dividing the closing price of such Reference Share on such Valuation Date by the initial price of such Reference Share on the Initial Valuation Date, is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level, then an interest amount determined at a fixed rate of 6.50 per cent. per annum will be payable by the Company in respect of the Certificates on such Specified Interest Payment Date in respect of the related Interest Accrual Period. If, however, on such Valuation Date the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share amongst the basket of Reference Shares is less than the Barrier Level, then no interest amount will be payable in respect of the Certificates by the Company on such Specified Interest Payment Date even if the performance of the other Reference Shares in the basket is not less than the Barrier Level.

10. What is the Early Redemption Amount?

The Early Redemption Amount payable to Certificateholders if the Certificates are redeemed prior to their stated maturity will generally be an amount equal to their share of (i) the lower of (a) the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates and (b) the proceeds of the sale or redemption of the Underlying Fund Shares plus (ii) any termination payment payable by the Counterparty to the Company in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any), and minus (iii) any termination payment payable by the Company to the Counterparty in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any) plus (iv) an amount, subject to a minimum of zero, equal to such proceeds of the redemption or sale of the Underlying Fund Shares minus the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates and minus (v) any payments owed by the Company to any other Transaction Parties which rank in priority to the claims of Certificateholders.

How are Outstanding Charged Assets liquidated?

The Broker will liquidate (sell or otherwise turn into cash by requiring the Fund to redeem the Underlying Fund Shares by submitting a redemption request in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares on behalf of the Company to the Fund) the Outstanding Charged Assets on behalf of the Company over a 10 Payment Business Day period (or such shorter period as it determines), except for any Outstanding Charged Assets that are due to redeem in full during that period. However, no such liquidation will be affected if the Broker is not permitted to effect such liquidation under applicable laws or under its internal policies having general application or it is otherwise not possible or practicable for it to do so.

The Broker may sell to itself or to any affiliate of itself or the Counterparty (if different), provided that such sale is in accordance with the procedure prescribed in the Conditions and at a price which it believes to be a fair market price.

What happens to assets posted under the Credit Support Annex (if applicable)?

If the Counterparty has posted assets to the Company, then during the Liquidation Period the Broker will sell any such Counterparty Posted Collateral. The proceeds of such sale will be available to the Company to meet its payment obligations, and the termination payment due under the Swap Agreement will take into account the realisation value of that Counterparty Posted Collateral (to give the Counterparty credit for them). By way of example, if the termination amount under the Swap Agreement would be EUR 10,000,000 payable by the Counterparty to the Company but the Counterparty had transferred Counterparty Posted Collateral to the Company worth EUR 12,000,000 then on a termination the Company would owe the net sum of EUR 2,000,000 to the Counterparty.

Who is the Broker?

The Broker is J.P. Morgan Securities plc.

What happens if the Outstanding Assets are not liquidated by the Early Valuation Date?

If any Outstanding Assets have not been liquidated by the Early Valuation Date, including in circumstances where it is illegal, impossible or impracticable, or not permitted under its internal policies having general application, for the Broker to liquidate the relevant assets, the Company will be unable to pay the Early Redemption Amount in full on the Early Redemption Date. You will have to wait until such assets have been realised to receive amounts due on the Certificates and no additional interest shall be payable as a result of such delay. Any default in payment of the Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date (whether in full or in part) will be an Enforcement Event. This means that the Trustee can, and will if directed by the requisite number of Certificateholders or by the Counterparty (provided in each case that it has been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities) take action to enforce the security over the Mortgaged Property. This may include a sale of the Outstanding Assets, which, where practicable, and if so elected by the Trustee, will be effected by the Broker on behalf of the Trustee. The proceeds of the enforcement will be distributed in accordance with the specified order of priority.

If any of the Outstanding Assets have not been liquidated by the Early Valuation Date, the Early Redemption Amount will be determined based on the fair market value (as determined by the Calculation Agent) of the relevant assets instead of sale proceeds. However, when those assets have finally been realised (for example by or on behalf of the Trustee), if the Early Redemption Amount that would have been calculated using such actual proceeds is greater than the Early Redemption Amount that was calculated using such fair market value, the Company shall owe the difference to the Certificateholders. If the actual realisation proceeds are less than the fair market value used to determine the Early Redemption Amount, you will receive less than the Early Redemption Amount.

When is the Early Valuation Date and when is the Early Redemption Date?

The Early Valuation Date is the date as of which the Calculation Agent will determine the Early Redemption Amount in respect of the Certificates. The Early Redemption Date is the date on which the Early Redemption Amount will become due and payable. Unless specified otherwise in the Pricing Conditions, the Early Valuation Date is the day falling five Payment Business Days before the Early Redemption Date.

The Early Redemption Date will depend on the timing of the liquidation of the Outstanding Charged Assets. It will generally be the seventh Payment Business Day following the date on which the Company notifies the Calculation Agent and Counterparty of the receipt in full of the liquidation proceeds, but with a long-stop date falling 20 Payment Business Days after the first day of the liquidation period for the Outstanding Charged Assets. Where the early redemption is caused by an early redemption of the Outstanding Charged Assets, the relevant liquidation period begins on the Payment Business Day prior to the early redemption date of such assets. Otherwise, the liquidation period generally begins when the Company gives notice of the early redemption of the Certificates or when the Trustee gives notice declaring the Certificates due and payable following an Event of Default.

How will the termination payment under the Swap Agreement be calculated?

The termination payment under the Swap Agreement will be based on the value, to the determining party, of the Swap Agreement as at the Early Termination Date (determined on the Early Valuation Date or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter), taking into account all of the amounts that would have been payable by each party if the swap had not terminated. This amount could be negative (in which case the termination payment would be made by the determining party) or positive (in which case the termination payment would be made by the other party). The termination payment will usually be calculated by the Counterparty, unless the Counterparty's default triggered the termination of the Swap Agreement.

11. What is the order of priority?

If the Certificates redeem early, or if there is a default at maturity (whether in respect of the Outstanding Assets, by the Company or the Counterparty, or otherwise), or if there is an enforcement of security then the proceeds of the Mortgaged Property will be applied in accordance with a specified order of priorities. In such order of priorities, the claims of other creditors of the Company in respect of the Certificates will be met before the claims of the Certificateholders. Amounts paid in priority to the Certificateholders include, among other things, (i) payments due to the Trustee, (ii) payments due to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement (if any) and (iii) any payments due to the Custodian and/or the Principal Paying Agent. The Mortgaged Property is the only property the Company has from which to meet the claims in respect of the Certificates. As a result of other claims having priority to those of the Certificateholders, this means there may not be enough cash for the Company to meet its obligations to Certificateholders (whether in full or at all).

12. How much of your investment is at risk?

The final redemption amount payable in respect of each Certificate is expressed to be an amount in EUR determined by the Calculation Agent equal to (i) EUR 1,000 (being 100 per cent. of such Certificate's principal amount) plus (ii) subject to a minimum of zero, such Certificate's pro rata share of the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares payable on their maturity date minus the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates. The redemption amount payable in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares on their maturity date will be dependent on the net asset value per Underlying Fund Share at the time. If the value of the Underlying Fund Shares does not move in the anticipated direction and at maturity is less than the principal amount of the Certificates, although the final redemption amount in such circumstances is expressed to be an amount equal to the principal amount of each Certificate, Certificateholders' claims in respect of such amount will be subject to the limited recourse provisions in respect of the Certificates. This means that Certificateholders will have recourse only to the Mortgaged Property in respect of the payment of the final redemption amount under the Certificates, which will be an amount that is less than the principal amount of the Certificates, and not to any other assets of the Company and therefore the amount payable on the maturity date may be less than your original investment and may even be zero.

In addition, you should note that even in cases where you are entitled to receive 100 per cent. or more of the principal amount of the Certificates, you will still be exposed to the credit risk of the Fund and to the credit risk of the Custodian, the Principal Paying Agent, the Paying Agent(s) and the Counterparty to the Swap Agreement. If there is default on those assets, or by the Custodian, the Principal Paying Agent, the Paying Agent(s) or the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement, you are highly likely to lose some or all of your money.

13. Who is the "Certificateholder"?

As the Certificates are held through a clearing system, the legal "Certificateholder" will be the entity nominated by the clearing system as the depositary for the Certificates (known as the common depositary). Such entity will hold the Certificates for the benefit of the clearing systems. As an investor, your rights in relation to the Certificates will be governed by the contract you have with your broker, custodian or other entity through which you hold your interest in the Certificates and the contracts they have with the clearing system and any intermediaries in between. Accordingly, where this Prospectus describes a right as being owed to, or exercisable by, a Certificateholder then your ability to benefit from or exercise such right will be dependent on the terms of the contracts in such chain.

14. What rights do Certificateholders have against the Company?

Certificateholders' rights include the right to any payments payable to Certificateholders in accordance with the Conditions. Certificateholders may also have the right to make certain determinations or decisions (which may sometimes be required to be by a resolution of Certificateholders or which may simply require a direction in writing by a specified percentage of Certificateholders) and the Company may only take certain actions with respect to the Certificates if approved by Certificateholders. Certificateholders should note that, notwithstanding they may be owed payments under the Certificates, their rights of direct action against the Company are limited as the right to take such action is generally instead vested in the Trustee (see Question 16 below).

The Certificates are secured obligations of the Company and rank equally with each other.

15. What are the requirements for exercising Certificateholders' rights in respect of the Certificates?

The Conditions specify the requirements for exercising each right in respect of the Certificates, including the person (if any) that is entitled to enforce such right on behalf of the Certificateholders and the required percentage of Certificateholders (if any) that may direct such person to enforce such right. For example, the Conditions specify that only the Trustee may exercise the right to enforce the Security on behalf of Certificateholders if a default in payment by the Company has occurred. The Certificateholders may direct the Trustee to exercise such rights by way of an Extraordinary Resolution. An "Extraordinary Resolution" means a resolution passed at a duly convened meeting by a majority consisting of not less than 75 per cent. of the votes cast at such meeting.

In certain circumstances, where the Certificates are held on behalf of a clearing system, the Company will be entitled to rely upon approval of a resolution proposed by the Company or the Trustee (as the case may be) given by way of electronic consents communicated through the electronic communication systems of the relevant clearing system(s) in accordance with their operating rules and procedures by or on behalf of the holders of not less than 75 per cent. in principal amount of the Certificates for the time being outstanding, and neither the Company nor the Trustee will be liable or responsible to anyone for such reliance.

In other circumstances where electronic consent is not being sought, Certificateholders may also pass written resolutions on matters relating to the Certificates without calling a meeting. A written resolution signed by or on behalf of the holders of not less than 75 per cent. in principal amount of the Certificates will be deemed to be an Extraordinary Resolution. For the purpose of determining whether a written resolution has been validly passed, the Company and the Trustee shall be entitled to rely on consent or instructions given in writing directly to the Company and/or the Trustee, as the case may be, by accountholders in the clearing system with entitlements to the Certificates and/or, where the accountholders hold any such entitlement on behalf of another person, on written consent from or written instruction by the person for whom such entitlement is ultimately beneficially held (directly or via one or more intermediaries), provided that the Company and the Trustee have obtained commercially reasonable evidence to ascertain the validity of such holding and have taken reasonable steps to ensure that such holding does not alter following the giving of such consent or instruction and prior to the effecting of such amendment and provided that reasonable steps shall include the obtaining of an undertaking from the accountholder and/or beneficiary, as applicable, that they will not transfer any or all of such holding prior to the earlier of (i) the effecting of such amendment and (ii) a specified long-stop date. Any resolution passed in such manner shall be binding on all Certificateholders, even if the relevant consent or instruction proves to be defective. As used in this paragraph, "commercially reasonable evidence" includes any certificate or other document issued by Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, and/or issued by an accountholder of them or an intermediary in a holding chain, in relation to the holding of interests in the Certificates. Any such certificate or other document shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding for all purposes. Any such certificate or other document may comprise any form of statement or print out of electronic records provided by the relevant clearing system (including Euroclear's EUCLID or Clearstream, Luxembourg's CreationOnline system) in accordance with its usual procedures and in which the accountholder of a particular principal amount of the Certificates is clearly identified together with the amount of such holding. Neither the Company nor the Trustee shall be liable to any person by reason of having accepted as valid or not having rejected any certificate or other document to such effect purporting to be issued by any such person and subsequently found to be forged or not authentic.

Such a written resolution or an electronic consent described in the previous paragraphs may be effected in connection with any matter affecting the interests of Certificateholders that would otherwise be required to be passed at a meeting of Certificateholders and shall take effect as an Extraordinary Resolution. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Certificateholders including Certificateholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting or in respect of the relevant resolution (or participate in the written resolution or electronic consent, as the case may be) and Certificateholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority (either in a meeting or by written resolution).

16. How do you exercise a right to vote or enforce your rights in respect of the Certificates?

As rights under the Certificates can only be exercised by the legal Certificateholders (see 'Who is the "Certificateholder"?'), you must contact the custodian, broker or other entity through which you hold your interest in the Certificates if you wish for any vote to be cast or direction to be given on your behalf.

17. Who can enforce your rights against the Company if the Company has failed to make a payment on the Certificates?

The Company has executed a Trust Deed in respect of the Certificates which is governed by English law, under which it has covenanted to the Trustee that it will make the relevant payments due on the Certificates. The Trustee holds the benefit of this covenant for Certificateholders. If the Company fails to make a payment when due, only the Trustee may pursue the remedies available under the Trust Deed to enforce the rights of the Certificateholders, unless the Trustee fails or neglects to do so within a reasonable time after having become bound to do so and such failure is continuing.

18. How are payments made to you?

As the Certificates are held through a clearing system, payments will be made in accordance with the contract you have with your broker, custodian or other entity through which you hold your interest in the Certificates.

19. When are payments made to investors?

Payments of principal and, if applicable, interest or other amounts are made on the dates specified in the Pricing Conditions.

20. Who calculates the amounts payable?

Determinations will be made by the Calculation Agent. The Calculation Agent will be J.P. Morgan Securities plc.

The Calculation Agent is an agent of the Company and not of the Certificateholders. You should also be aware that the Calculation Agent is an affiliate of the Arranger, the Dealer and the Counterparty. See the section entitled "Conflicts of Interest" on page 48 of this Prospectus.

The calculation agent under the Swap Agreement is responsible for performing the calculations and determinations required under the Swap Agreement in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. If the calculation agent under the Swap Agreement is insolvent or is affected by certain termination events, the Calculation Agent will make these calculations and determinations instead.

21. Are the Calculation Agent's determinations binding on you?

All calculations and determinations made by the Calculation Agent in relation to the Certificates will be final and binding (except in the case of manifest error).

22. Will you be able to sell your Certificates?

A market may not develop for the Certificates. While the Dealer may make a market in the Certificates upon their issuance, it is under no obligation to do so and may cease to do so at any time. Even if the Dealer does make a market in the Certificates, there is no guarantee that a secondary market will develop or, to the extent that a secondary market does exist, that such market will provide the holders of any such Certificates with liquidity or will continue for the life of the Certificates. You should therefore be prepared to hold your Certificates until their repayment date.

The Certificates are subject to certain transfer restrictions and, in such case, will only be capable of being transferred to certain transferees under certain circumstances (see the section entitled "Transfer Restrictions" of this Prospectus below). Such restrictions on the transfer of Certificates may further limit their liquidity.

23. What will be the price of the Certificates in such circumstances?

The market value of the Certificates will be affected by a number of factors, including, but not limited to (i) the value and volatility of the Underlying Fund Shares and the creditworthiness of the Fund, (ii) the value and volatility of the Reference Shares, (iii) market perception, interest rates, yields and foreign exchange rates, (iv) the time remaining to the maturity date and (v) the nature and liquidity of the Swap Agreement. Any price at which Certificates may be sold prior to the maturity date may be at a discount, which could be substantial, to the value at which the Certificates were acquired on the issue date.

Prospective purchasers should be aware that not all market participants would determine prices in respect of the Certificates in the same manner, and the variation between such prices may be substantial. Accordingly, any prices provided by the Dealer may not be representative of prices that may be provided by other market participants. For this reason, any price provided or quoted by the Dealer should not be viewed or relied upon by prospective purchasers as establishing, or constituting advice by the Dealer concerning, a mark-to-market value of the Certificates. The price (if any) provided by the Dealer is at the absolute discretion of the Dealer and may be determined by reference to such factors as it sees fit. Any such price may take into account fees, commissions or arrangements entered into by the Dealer with a third party in respect of the Certificates and the Dealer shall have no obligation to any Certificateholder to disclose such arrangements. Any price given would be prepared as of a particular date and time and would not therefore reflect subsequent changes in market values or any other factors relevant to the determination of the price.

24. Are there any fees, expenses or taxes to pay when purchasing, holding or selling Certificates? What other taxes might affect the Certificates?

You may incur fees and expenses in relation to the purchase, holding, transfer and sale of Certificates. In respect of the offering of the Certificates, up to 3.00% of the Issue Price of the Certificates, will be charged by, and payable to, FinecoBank S.p.A. of Piazza Durante 11, Milan 20131, Italy in its capacity as distributor of the Certificates. For the avoidance of doubt, neither the Company nor the Counterparty shall be liable to pay any subscription fees.

You should also be aware that stamp duties or taxes may have to be paid in accordance with the laws and practices of the country where the Certificates are transferred.

You should note that, if the Company or the Registrar or any Transfer Agent or any Paying Agent is required by applicable law to apply any withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties or charges of whatsoever nature, it will account to the relevant authorities for the amount so required to be withheld or deducted and only pay the net amount after application of such withholding or deduction. None of the Company, any Paying Agent, Registrar or Transfer Agent will be obliged to make any additional payments to you in respect of such withholding or deduction.

If a tax is imposed on payments to the Company in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares or the Swap Agreement, or on payments from the Company to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement, the Certificates will generally be redeemed at their Early Redemption Amount.

You should consult your selling agent for details of fees, expenses, commissions or other costs and your own tax advisers in order to understand fully the tax implications specific to investment in any Certificates.

25. Can the Company amend the Conditions of Certificates once they have been issued without your consent?

The Company may amend the Conditions of the Certificates without the consent of the Certificateholders if:

- (i) the Trustee determines that the relevant amendment is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error or is not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Certificateholders in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed. Any such determination shall be binding on the Certificateholders;
- (ii) the Calculation Agent determines that such amendments are required in order to account for the correction of any prices published on the relevant exchange in respect of any Reference Share and used to make any calculations or other determinations in connection with the Certificates;
- (iii) the Calculation Agent determines that a Potential Adjustment Event (as defined in Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions) has occurred in respect of a Reference Share which has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of such Reference Share and such amendments are required to account for such diluting or concentrating effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relative to the relevant Reference Share);
- (iv) such amendments are required in order to cause (a) the transactions contemplated by the Conditions and the Transaction Documents to be compliant with all Relevant Regulatory Laws, (b) the Company and each Transaction Party to be compliant with all Relevant Regulatory Laws or (c) the Company and each Transaction Party to be able to continue to transact future business (as issuer of Certificates or as a transaction party to the Company pursuant to the Programme) in compliance with all Relevant Regulatory Laws;
- (v) the Calculation Agent determines that an Extraordinary Event (as defined in Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions) has occurred in respect of a Reference Share and (i) such amendments are necessary to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Extraordinary Event (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to such Reference Share or the Certificates) or (ii) such amendments constitute the replacement of such Reference Share with a Replacement Reference Share (as defined in Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions) or are necessary in order to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Extraordinary Event and/or the replacement of the Reference Share with a Replacement Reference Share (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to such Reference Share or the Certificates);
- (vi) the Calculation Agent determines that an Additional Disruption Event (as defined in Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions) has occurred in respect of a Reference Share and such amendments are appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Additional Disruption Event (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to such Reference Share or to the Certificates); and, in the case of paragraphs (ii) to (vi) above, subject to the satisfaction of additional requirements set out in the Conditions.

Any amendment pursuant to the paragraphs (i) to (vi) above shall (I) in the case of an amendment pursuant to paragraph (i) above, be notified to the Certificateholders as soon as practicable, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise and (II) in the case of an amendment pursuant to paragraphs (ii) to (vi) above, be notified to Certificateholders as soon as practicable.

OVERVIEW OF THE POTENTIAL FOR DISCRETIONARY DETERMINATIONS BY THE COMPANY, THE TRUSTEE, THE CALCULATION AGENT, THE BROKER OR THE COUNTERPARTY

Under the terms and conditions of the Certificates and/or the Transaction Documents, following the occurrence of certain events, the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty (as applicable) may exercise discretion to take one or more actions available to it in order to deal with the impact of such events on the Certificates, the Underlying Fund Shares or the Swap Agreement. Any such discretionary determination by the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty could have a negative impact on the value of and return on the Certificates and (amongst other things) could result in their early redemption.

This overview provides a high-level summary of the main types of events that could give rise to a discretionary determination by the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty and the actions available to them to deal with the impact of such events.

This overview does not purport to be complete or comprehensive. A prospective purchaser of the Certificates should read the Conditions of the Certificates set out in the sections of this Prospectus entitled “Master Conditions” and “Pricing Conditions”.

Terms used but not defined in this section have the meaning given to them in the Conditions.

1 What are the main types of events that could give rise to a discretionary determination by the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty?

The main types of events are:

- 1.1 events affecting the Certificates;
- 1.2 events affecting the Underlying Fund Shares; and/or
- 1.3 events affecting the Swap Agreement.

2 If such an event occurs, what are the discretionary determinations that the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty may take?

Broadly, the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty (as applicable) may take one or more of the following actions in order to deal with the effect of the events outlined below.

2.1 Events affecting the Certificates

2.1.1 Adjustments:

- (i) Regulatory Requirement Event. If the Calculation Agent determines that a Regulatory Requirement Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) has occurred, the Calculation Agent may propose modifications that it determines are required to be made to the Conditions or any Transaction Document to ensure compliance with Relevant Regulatory Laws, following which the Company will, without the consent of the Certificateholders, make such modifications if they are agreed to by the relevant parties, including the Trustee, provided that such amendments will not (among other things) (a) amend the dates or amounts for payment under the Certificates; (b) exchange or substitute the Underlying Fund Shares; or (c) have a material adverse effect on the validity, legality or enforceability of the Security or its priority and ranking.

- (ii) Calculation Agent adjustments. The Calculation Agent may determine that (a) it is unable to make a determination required of it due to non-receipt of necessary information from any person or other source; and/or (b) one or more provisions contained in the Conditions or any Related Agreement (taking into account the context of the transaction as a whole and its background understanding) are erroneous as it would be impossible or economically nonsensical to apply such provision. If it makes this determination, then the Calculation Agent may make such amendments to the Conditions or Related Agreement as are necessary in its opinion to cater for such circumstances.
- (iii) Trustee consent to modifications or waiver. If (a) in the opinion of the Trustee, any modification to the Trust Deed or any Related Agreement is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error; or (b) any modification, waiver or authorisation of a proposed breach of the Trust Deed or any Related Agreement is not, in the opinion of the Trustee, materially prejudicial to the interests of the Certificateholders, and, in each case, such modification, waiver or authorisation does not require an Extraordinary Resolution, the Trustee may agree to such modification, waiver or authorisation without the consent of Certificateholders.

2.1.2 Early Redemption:

- (i) Increased Tax Event. If the Company is or satisfies the Trustee on reasonable grounds that it will be subject to an Increased Tax Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below), the Company will use reasonable endeavours to change its place of residence for taxation purposes or effect a substitution of the principal debtor under the Certificates, subject to certain conditions (as applicable). If it is unable to change its place of residence or effect such substitution, the Company will redeem the Certificates.
- (ii) Holder Information Reporting Compliance Default. If the Company reasonably determines that a Holder Information Reporting Compliance Default (as described further in paragraph 8 below) may cause a payment received or payable by the Company to be subject to a deduction or withholding or cause the Company to suffer a penalty, in each case, pursuant to an Information Reporting Regime, the Company will redeem the Certificates.
- (iii) Waiver of Events of Default. The Trustee may, without consulting Certificateholders, determine that an event which would otherwise be an Event of Default will not be so treated and the Certificateholders will not be able to rely on such event to accelerate, or require the Trustee to accelerate, the Certificates.
- (iv) Market Value Early Redemption Event. If the Calculation Agent determines that a Market Value Early Redemption Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) has occurred, the Company will redeem the Certificates.

2.1.3 Miscellaneous actions:

- (i) Reference Share event adjustments or early redemption:
 - (a) Correction of prices. If a price for a Reference Share that was previously published on the relevant exchange and used to make any calculations or other determinations in connection with the Certificates is subsequently corrected and such correction is published on the exchange by the earlier of (i) one Settlement Cycle (as defined in Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions) after the original publication and (ii) two

Business Days before a payment by the Company is due or a determination in respect of the Certificates may have to be made, then the Calculation Agent may make any determination in connection with the Certificates after taking into account such correction and make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are necessary to account for such correction.

- (b) Potential Adjustment Events: If the Calculation Agent determines that a Potential Adjustment Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) in respect of a Reference Share has occurred which has a diluting or concentrating effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Reference Share, the Calculation Agent may make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are appropriate to account for such diluting or concentrating effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relative to the relevant Reference Share).
 - (c) Extraordinary Events: If the Calculation Agent determines that an Extraordinary Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) in respect of a Reference Share has occurred, the Calculation Agent may either (i) make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Extraordinary Event or (ii) replace the Reference Share with the Replacement Reference Share (as defined in Schedule 2 (Reference Share Linked Provisions) to the Pricing Conditions) and make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Extraordinary Event and/or the replacement of the replaced Reference Shares. If the Calculation Agent determines that no adjustment that it could make under (i) or (ii) will produce a commercially reasonable result, then the Calculation Agent will notify the Company and the Company will redeem the Certificates.
 - (d) Additional Disruption Events: If the Calculation Agent determines that an Additional Disruption Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) has occurred in respect of a Reference Share, the Calculation Agent may either (i) make any adjustments to the terms of the Certificates that it determines are appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Additional Disruption Event or (ii) notify the Company of the occurrence of such Additional Disruption Event, following which the Company will redeem the Certificates.
- (ii) Trustee Related Liabilities. The Trustee will only be required to take certain actions in respect of the Certificates, the Underlying Fund Shares and the Swap Agreement if it first determines that it has been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities, which include any costs, liabilities and losses which are or might be levied, properly incurred or otherwise suffered by the Trustee in connection with the performance or non-performance of its functions in respect of such action. These actions include taking any action which may involve personal liability or expense to the Trustee, enforcing the Security, accelerating the Certificates, enforcing repayment of any amounts due, exercising any voting or other rights in respect of any Charged Assets, convening a meeting of Certificateholders or agreeing to any amendments to the Conditions, the Swap Agreement or any other Transaction Documents following the occurrence of a Regulatory Requirement Event

(as referred to in paragraph 2.1.1(i)) or to enable the Company to comply with applicable Information Reporting Regimes.

- (iii) Custodian Replacement. The Company may appoint a replacement Custodian at any time in accordance with the terms of the Custody Agreement, subject to: (a) the replacement Custodian satisfying certain criteria as to its business, incorporation, regulation or credit rating; (b) the Counterparty providing prior written consent; and (c) security being granted in favour of the Trustee over the Company's rights under the replacement Custody Agreement.
- (iv) Foreign Exchange Rate determination. If the Calculation Agent is required to determine (a) any Priority Payments due to Secured Parties in priority to Certificateholders, for the purposes of applying the proceeds of the Mortgaged Property or (b) any Early Redemption Amount, it will convert amounts not denominated in the Relevant Currency (i.e. the currency in which the Certificates are denominated) into the Relevant Currency at the Foreign Exchange Rate. If "Mean FX Rate" is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions as the "Foreign Exchange Rate", the Calculation Agent will request quotations from five major market makers in the currency markets for the rate at which it would perform such conversion but, if the Calculation Agent does not receive any quotations, JPMS plc, in its capacity as market maker in the currency markets, may determine the rate in its sole discretion.
- (v) Disagreement with Swap Agreement calculation. If the Counterparty disagrees, or the Company has reasonable grounds for anticipating such disagreement, with a calculation made in respect of the Swap Agreement upon a Swap Agreement Termination, the Company, prior to a Company Application Date, or the Trustee, prior to a Trustee Application Date, may (a) require that it be indemnified, secured and/or pre-funded (in the case of the Trustee, to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities) in respect of any payment that might be required to be made to the Counterparty should the relevant determination be incorrect; and/or (b) make such retention as seems reasonable to it to provide for payments that might be required to be made by the Company should the relevant determination be incorrect.

2.2 Events affecting the Underlying Fund Shares

2.2.1 Liquidation:

- (i) Conduct of Liquidation. Following the occurrence of a Liquidation Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below), the Broker may take such steps as it considers appropriate to effect an orderly realisation of the Underlying Fund Shares within the Liquidation Period (so far as is practicable in the circumstances and including, without limitation, effecting such realisation at any time or in smaller portions), provided that (a) it may not delay the Liquidation beyond the Liquidation Period and (b) where assets or rights are to be sold, the Broker will request quotes from at least five major market makers for the purchase of the relevant assets and will sell at the highest price quoted (provided that the Broker reasonably believes such quote to be representative of the price available in the market).
- (ii) Liquidation Failure Event. The Broker may determine that it is not permitted under applicable laws or under its internal policies having general application to, or it is not possible or practicable for, the Underlying Fund Shares to be Liquidated by the Broker on behalf of the Company, other than by reason of the nature or status of the relevant transferee. Following such determination, the Broker is not required to take further action to realise the Underlying Fund Shares.

- (iii) Actual Currency Proceeds. If, when calculating the Actual Currency Proceeds for the purposes of calculating any Early Redemption Amount, any Underlying Fund Shares have not been realised by the Early Valuation Date, the Calculation Agent will determine the fair market value of the Underlying Fund Shares that have not been realised (after deduction of any taxes that would have been payable and any costs or charges that would have been incurred by the Company and the Broker by virtue of the realisation of such assets).

2.2.2 Early Redemption:

- (i) Charged Assets Default. If the Company or the Counterparty determines that any information reasonably confirms any of the facts relevant to the determination of a Charged Assets Default (as described further in paragraph 8 below), then the Company or the Counterparty will notify the Trustee and such Charged Assets Default will constitute an Event of Default in respect of the Certificates (following which the Certificates can be accelerated).
- (ii) Fund Event. If the Calculation Agent determines that a Fund Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) has occurred, the Calculation Agent will notify the Company, following which the Company will redeem the Certificates.

2.3 Events affecting the Swap Agreement

2.3.1 Adjustments:

- (i) Adjustments following a Swap Agreement Transfer Rights Event transfer. Where the Swap Agreement has been transferred by the Counterparty to another entity as referred to in paragraph 2.3.3(i) below, the Company and the Counterparty may agree amendments to be made to the Swap Agreement to reflect any differences between the transferor and transferee in terms of jurisdiction of establishment or incorporation, legal or regulatory position or entity type or structure (but the Swap Agreement will otherwise remain in substantially the same form).
- (ii) Adjustments following adjustments to the Certificates. If the Calculation Agent determines that any amendments should be made to the Conditions, the Swap Agreement or any other Transaction Documents following the occurrence of a Regulatory Requirement Event as referred to in paragraph 2.1.1(i) above, the Company and the Counterparty may, without the consent of the Trustee or the Certificateholders, make such adjustments to the Swap Transaction as the Counterparty determines necessary or appropriate to align the Swap Transaction with the amendments made to the Conditions or to implement the proposed amendments relating to the Swap Agreement.

2.3.2 Swap Agreement Termination:

- (i) Additional Termination Events. If an Additional Termination Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) has occurred, then the Counterparty may terminate the outstanding Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement. Following the occurrence of certain of these Additional Termination Events i.e. a Certificates Event of Default, a Charged Assets Redemption Event, a Charged Assets Tax Event, an Increased Tax Event (each as described further in paragraph 8 below), and if so instructed by the Trustee, the Company may also terminate the outstanding Swap Transaction (and the Company will be deemed, in each case, to have delivered a notice of termination if the Certificates are also due to redeem early pursuant to the Conditions following the occurrence of such event and the Counterparty has been notified of this).

- (ii) Swap Agreement Events of Default. If a Swap Agreement Event of Default (as described further in paragraph 8 below) has occurred in respect of the Company or the Counterparty, the non-defaulting party may terminate the outstanding Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement, although the Company may only do so with the prior written consent of the Trustee. In addition, if a Swap Agreement Event of Default has occurred in respect of the Counterparty due to the occurrence of certain bankruptcy events in respect of it and the Company has not terminated the outstanding Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement within 30 calendar days of the occurrence of such event, the Counterparty may terminate the outstanding Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement.

2.3.3 Miscellaneous actions:

- (i) Counterparty transfer. Following the occurrence of a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below), the Counterparty may, subject to certain conditions (as applicable), transfer its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement to an Affiliate of JPMSE with a rating, or a credit support provider with a rating, not less than that of the Counterparty (an “Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee”).
- (ii) Termination Events leading to transfer or termination. If the Company or the Counterparty, as applicable, determines that a Swap Termination Event (as described further in paragraph 8 below) has occurred:
 - (a) (x) in respect of an Illegality or Tax Event affecting either party, the non-affected party, or (y) in respect of a Tax Event Upon Merger affecting the Counterparty, the Company, may, in each case within 30 days of receiving notice from the affected party as to the occurrence of such event and following a failure by the affected party, having used reasonable efforts, to effect such a transfer within 20 days of providing notice of the occurrence of such event, transfer its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement in respect of any affected Swap Transactions (subject to certain conditions, including the consent of the Trustee) to, in the case of the Company, any other entity or, in the case of the Counterparty, any Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee, in each case so that such event ceases to exist; or
 - (b) all outstanding Swap Transactions under the Swap Agreement may be terminated (x) in respect of a Tax Event affecting either party or a Tax Event Upon Merger affecting the Counterparty, immediately by the Counterparty; (y) in respect of an Illegality where either party is the affected party and following the failure of such affected party to effect a transfer of its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement within 20 days of providing notice of the occurrence of such event, by the Counterparty; or (z) in respect of an Illegality where the Company is the only affected party and following its failure to effect a transfer of its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement within 20 days of providing notice of the occurrence of such event, by the Company.
- (iii) Close-out Amount determination. For the purposes of calculating the Close-out Amount relating to any Early Termination Amount in respect of the termination of any Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement, the Counterparty or, where the Counterparty is the defaulting party, the Calculation Agent in respect of the Certificates on behalf of the Company may, when determining the Close-out Amount (a) consider any relevant information, including, without limitation, quotations for replacement transactions from third parties, relevant market data or information from internal sources if that information is of the same type used by it in the regular course of its business for the valuation of similar transactions; and (b) include its costs of funding.

- (iv) Default Rate or Non-default Rate determination. For the purposes of determining the rate of interest payable on overdue amounts by a party under the Swap Agreement in certain circumstances, the party determining the relevant Close-out Amount will determine the rate by reference to the rate offered by a major bank in the relevant interbank market for overnight deposits in the applicable currency, as selected by such determining party for the purpose of obtaining a representative rate reasonably reflecting prevailing market conditions.
- (v) Transfer of Early Termination Amount. If the Company or the Counterparty (a) is a defaulting party under the Swap Agreement and is obliged to pay an Early Termination Amount to the other party or (b) fails to pay an Early Termination Amount payable by it when due or during any applicable grace period, then the party to whom such amount is owed may transfer its interest in such amount to another entity.

3 Why is it necessary for the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty to make such discretionary determinations following the occurrence of such events?

The investment objective of the Certificates is to allow an investor to make a return on an investment with the Company, which is secured by the Underlying Fund Shares held by the Company and the Company's rights under the Swap Agreement and where the scheduled amounts of interest and principal payable under the Certificates will be funded by the scheduled cashflows in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares and the Swap Agreement. If the Underlying Fund Shares or the Swap Agreement are materially impacted by an unexpected event (for example, the occurrence of a Regulatory Requirement Event), then it may not be possible to maintain the investment objective of the Certificates based on the original terms and conditions of the Certificates or the Swap Agreement and there may be a need to make certain discretionary determinations in order to preserve the original economic objective and rationale of the Certificates.

Discretionary determinations may also be required, for example (i) before the Trustee will take certain actions, (ii) in relation to amendments of a formal, minor or technical nature or which are not materially prejudicial to Certificateholders, (iii) in relation to the replacement of the Custodian, (iv) to determine the Foreign Exchange Rate for the purposes of calculating any Relevant Currency Proceeds, (v) in relation to the Liquidation process, (vi) to determine the Close-out Amount for the purposes of calculating any Early Termination Amount under the Swap Agreement or (vii) in anticipation of issues funding amounts due under the Swap Agreement.

The exercise of discretions in many cases will allow the Certificates and the Swap Agreement to continue and avoid the need to redeem them early (for example, with respect to the Counterparty's right to transfer its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement following the occurrence of a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event, an Illegality, Tax Event or Tax Event Upon Merger). However, in certain circumstances it may not be possible or practical to make such determinations or adjustments to continue the Certificates as normal and in such circumstances there may be the need to exercise discretion in relation to the early redemption of the Certificates or an early termination of the Swap Agreement.

4 How will the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty make discretionary determinations?

4.1 Company

The Company is generally required to exercise its discretions in good faith and, unless the relevant discretionary term provides otherwise, in a commercially reasonable manner and (where and to the extent that such exercise of discretion or outcome thereof is subject to a regulatory obligation of the relevant entity to ensure fair treatment) which takes into account whether fair treatment is achieved by any such exercise of discretion or outcome thereof in accordance with applicable regulatory obligations.

4.2 Trustee

Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the Trustee has absolute and uncontrolled discretion as to the exercise of its functions (although the Trustee is acting as trustee for the Secured Parties, including the Certificateholders).

4.3 Calculation Agent

The Calculation Agent is generally required to exercise its discretions in good faith and, unless the relevant discretionary term provides otherwise, in a commercially reasonable manner and (where and to the extent that such exercise of discretion or outcome thereof is subject to a regulatory obligation of the relevant entity to ensure fair treatment) which takes into account whether fair treatment is achieved by any such exercise of discretion or outcome thereof in accordance with applicable regulatory obligations.

4.4 Broker

The Broker is generally required to exercise its discretions in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner.

4.5 Counterparty

In the case of certain determinations to be made by the Counterparty in respect of the Certificates, such as in respect of a Charged Assets Default, and some determinations to be made in respect of the Swap Agreement, such as the determination of the Close-out Amount, the Counterparty must exercise its discretion in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Otherwise, in the case of determinations to be made by the Counterparty in respect of the Swap Agreement, such as whether to terminate all outstanding transactions following the occurrence of an Additional Termination Event or whether to transfer the Swap Agreement following the occurrence of a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event, the Counterparty may make such determinations in its sole discretion.

5 When making discretionary determinations, are the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty obliged to consider the interests of Certificateholders?

The Company, the Calculation Agent, the Broker and the Counterparty do not assume any obligations or duty to, or relationship of agency or trust for or with, any Certificateholder. In making any determination or exercising any discretion, the Company, the Calculation Agent, the Broker and the Counterparty are not obliged to consider the individual interests or circumstances of any particular investor. By contrast, the Trustee is required to have regard to the interests of the Certificateholders when making any determination or exercising any discretion.

6 What is the effect of such event or action taken by the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty on the Certificates?

Any of the above actions, if taken by the Company, the Trustee, the Calculation Agent, the Broker or the Counterparty (as the case may be) may result in a reduced return on the Certificates or have a material adverse impact on the value of the Certificates. For example, the Early Redemption Amount could be less than such investor's initial investment and may be reduced to zero.

Further, if the Certificates are redeemed early prior to the scheduled maturity, an investor may be unable to reinvest the redemption proceeds in another investment at the time that provides an equivalent return.

7 Will the Company notify me if such an event occurs or if it takes any of the above actions?

The Company will generally give notice to Certificateholders as soon as reasonably practicable of:

- Any replacement of the Custodian in accordance with Condition 4(a);
- Any Liquidation Event (and the Principal Paying Agent will notify Certificateholders of any Liquidation Failure Event) in accordance with Condition 4(d);
- The occurrence of any event that requires the Company to redeem the Certificates early (including the designation of an Early Termination Date in respect of the Swap Agreement, a Holder Information Reporting Compliance Default, an Increased Tax Event, a Market Value Early Redemption Event, a Fund Event, an Extraordinary Event in respect of a Reference Share or an Additional Disruption Event in respect of a Reference Share); and
- Any modification, waiver or authorisation of a breach or proposed breach of the Trust Deed or a Related Agreement by the Trustee in accordance with Condition 18(b).

MASTER CONDITIONS

The following is the text of the terms and conditions which, as amended, supplemented and/or completed by the Pricing Conditions and, while the Certificates are represented by a Global Certificate, as supplemented and amended by the provisions of such Global Certificate (including any legend or capitalised text thereon), shall apply to the Certificates.

Capitalised terms unless otherwise defined shall have the meanings given to them in Condition 25.

The Certificates are constituted and secured by an issue deed dated on or before the Issue Date (the “Issue Deed”), supplemental to a Principal Trust Deed made between, amongst others, the Company and U.S. Bank National Association as initial trustee for the Certificates. The Principal Trust Deed and the Issue Deed together comprise the “Trust Deed”. These Master Conditions include summaries of, and are subject to, the detailed provisions of the Trust Deed (copies of which are available for inspection at the registered office of the Company and the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent or may be provided by email to a Certificateholder following their prior written request to any Paying Agent or the Company and provision of proof of holding and identity (in a form satisfactory to the relevant Paying Agent or the Company, as the case may be)). The Principal Trust Deed includes the form of the Certificates in bearer form and the form of any registered certificates (the “Certificates”) to be issued in respect of registered Certificates, the interest coupons (if any) relating to Certificates in bearer form (the “Coupons”), the talons (if any) for further Coupons (the “Talons”) and the instalment receipts (if any) for the payment of principal by instalments on Certificates in bearer form (the “Receipts”). Certificateholders and Couponholders are entitled to the benefit of, and are deemed to have notice of and are bound by, all the provisions contained in the Trust Deed and the applicable Pricing Conditions and are deemed to have notice of those provisions applicable to them of the Agency Agreement.

An Agency Agreement has been entered into in relation to the Certificates between the Company, the Trustee and certain agents in respect of the Certificates being the calculation agent, the principal paying agent, the registrar(s) and the paying agents and transfer agents.

A Custody Agreement has been entered into in relation to the Certificates between the Company, the Trustee and the custodian specified in the Pricing Conditions (and which shall be The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch or such other entity as may be specified as such in the applicable Pricing Conditions). All Outstanding Assets comprising Counterparty Posted Collateral taking the form of securities will be held or caused to be held on behalf of the Company by the custodian pursuant to the Custody Agreement or pursuant to such other agreement as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the initial Agents shall be as follows:

- (i) the initial Calculation Agent shall be JPMS plc;
- (ii) the initial Principal Paying Agent shall be The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch;
- (iii) the initial Registrar in respect of Registered Certificates shall be The Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV, and shall be Dublin Branch in respect of Certificates that are specified in their Pricing Conditions to be subject to Non-U.S. Distribution;
- (iv) the initial Paying Agents in respect of Bearer Certificates shall be the initial Principal Paying Agent and The Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV, Dublin Branch; and
- (v) the initial Transfer Agents in respect of Registered Certificates shall be the initial Principal Paying Agent together with, in respect of Certificates that are specified in their Pricing Conditions to be subject to Non-U.S. Distribution, The Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV, Dublin Branch.

In connection with any issue of Certificates, the Company may appoint agents other than, or additional to, the Agents specified above as the initial Agents. Such other or additional Agents shall be specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions. References in these Conditions to Agents shall be to the initial Agents specified above or, if different, specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions or the then current Successor (as defined in the Trust Deed) (whether direct or indirect) of such Agent appointed in accordance with the Conditions and the Trust Deed with respect to such Series.

In addition, where the applicable Pricing Conditions specify that there is a Portfolio Manager, a portfolio management agreement (the “Portfolio Management Agreement”) shall be entered into in respect of the Certificates which shall comprise a Principal Portfolio Management Agreement entered into between the Company, the Portfolio Manager and the Trustee and a supplemental portfolio management agreement that specifically relates to the Certificates (the “Supplemental Portfolio Management Agreement”).

The Company has also entered into a Master Swap Agreement in the form of the 1992 ISDA Master Agreement (Multicurrency – Cross Border) published by ISDA and a schedule thereto between the Company and JPMSE or, if different, the entity specified as the Counterparty in the applicable Pricing Conditions (the “Counterparty”). If, in respect of a Series, “Credit Support Annex” is specified as “Applicable” in the applicable Pricing Conditions, then the Company and the relevant Counterparty, by execution of a Confirmation in respect of a Swap Transaction relating to the Certificates, will be deemed to enter into a credit support annex under the Master Swap Agreement in the form of the ISDA 2016 Credit Support Annex for Variation Margin (VM) Copyright © 2016 by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. but which relates only to such Series (the “Credit Support Annex”).

Pursuant to the Credit Support Annex:

- (i) if “Applicable - Payable by Company” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the Company shall, if required in accordance with the terms of the Credit Support Annex, transfer from time to time some or all of the Outstanding Assets to the Counterparty;
- (ii) if “Applicable - Payable by Counterparty” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the Counterparty shall, if required in accordance with the terms of the Credit Support Annex, transfer from time to time collateral (which satisfies the eligibility requirements in the Credit Support Annex) to the Company; and
- (iii) if “Applicable - Payable by Company and Counterparty” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the Company shall, if required in accordance with the terms of the Credit Support Annex, transfer from time to time some or all of the Outstanding Assets to the Counterparty and the Counterparty shall also, if required in accordance with the terms of the Credit Support Annex, transfer from time to time collateral (which satisfies the eligibility requirements in the Credit Support Annex) to the Company.

Collateral transferred by the Company pursuant to the Credit Support Annex will be deemed to be released by the Trustee from the Security described in Condition 4(a) (Security) immediately prior to the delivery or transfer of such Outstanding Assets by or on behalf of the Company to the Counterparty.

Subject to the following, if the applicable Pricing Conditions specify that a Swap Agreement has been entered into, the Company and the relevant Counterparty will enter into one or more confirmations (each, a “Confirmation”) pursuant to the Master Swap Agreement, documenting the terms of one or more swap transactions (each, a “Swap Transaction”) relating to the Certificates effective on the Issue Date (such Confirmation(s), together with the Master Swap Agreement, the “Swap Agreement”).

For so long as JPMSE or any Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee (as defined below) is acting as Counterparty, following the occurrence of (i) any Additional Termination Event (as defined in the Swap Agreement) which would cease to be continuing (as determined by the Counterparty) if the Counterparty transferred its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement to an Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee (including, without limitation, a Withholding Event, a Regulatory Event, a Redenomination Event (in each case, as defined in the Swap Agreement)), (ii) a Reference Rate Default Event, where such Reference Rate Default Event occurs due to the Calculation Agent determining that the Adjustment Spread is or would be an interest rate, benchmark, index or other price source whose production, publication, methodology or governance would subject the Counterparty to material additional regulatory obligations, which would cease to be continuing (as determined by the Counterparty) if the Counterparty transferred its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement to an Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee (a “Counterparty Reference Rate Default Event”), (iii) in the case of Certificates any of which are then rated at the request of the Company, an Initial Rating Event (as defined in the Swap Agreement) or (iv) a consolidation or amalgamation with, or merger with or into, or transfer of all or substantially all of the Counterparty’s assets to, another entity (each, a “Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event”), JPMSE or such Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee shall have the right to transfer its obligations and rights under the Swap Agreement entered into in connection with the Certificates to any Affiliate of JPMSE, provided that, in each case, such transferee, or any credit support provider thereto, has a rating not less than that of the relevant transferor, or (if higher) the rating of any credit support provider thereto (each, an “Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee”), subject to the consent of the Trustee and the Portfolio Manager (if any) (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld) and subject to Rating Agency Affirmation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (1) in respect of a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event that is a Counterparty Reference Rate Default Event, JPMSE or the relevant Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee shall only have the right to transfer its obligations and rights under the Swap Agreement within 20 days of the date of occurrence of such Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event, (2) in respect of a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event that is an Initial Rating Event, no consent of the Trustee or the Portfolio Manager or Rating Agency Affirmation shall be required in respect of a transfer to an Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee, to the extent that such transfer is in accordance with the terms of the Swap Agreement and (3) in respect of a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event that occurs due to a consolidation or amalgamation with, or merger with or into, or transfer of all or substantially all of the relevant transferor’s assets to, another entity and the transfer is to such other entity, such transferee is not required to be an Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee (such transferee, a “New Counterparty”) and no consent of the Trustee or the Portfolio Manager or Rating Agency Affirmation shall be required in respect of such transfer. Upon such transfer, references in these Conditions to the “Counterparty” shall be read and construed as references to such New Counterparty or Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee, as applicable. In respect of any such transfer of rights and obligations, the Swap Agreement, including the Master Swap Agreement forming part of the Swap Agreement, may be amended to reflect any differences between the transferor and the transferee in terms of jurisdiction of establishment or incorporation, legal or regulatory position or entity type or structure, but shall otherwise be in substantially the same form as the Swap Agreement between the Company and the relevant transferor.

For the avoidance of doubt, any transfer of the Counterparty’s rights and obligations shall be of all its rights and obligations under the Swap Agreement (and each swap transaction thereunder) entered into in respect of a Series of Certificates.

Each Swap Agreement includes any further Confirmations executed or alternative documentation entered into in relation to any further Certificates issued by the Company which are to form a single Series with the Certificates.

The “Principal Trust Deed”, “Agency Agreement”, “Custody Agreement”, “Principal Portfolio Management Agreement” (where applicable) and “Master Swap Agreement” were first entered into by the respective parties thereto executing a programme deed (the “Programme Deed”) or one or more supplements thereto. The Programme Deed or supplement, as applicable, specifies certain master trust terms, master agency terms, master custody terms, master portfolio management terms and master swap terms. By their execution of the relevant Programme Deed or supplement, the relevant parties have entered into a Principal Trust Deed, Agency Agreement, Custody Agreement, Principal Portfolio Management Agreement and Master Swap Agreement in the form of the specified master trust terms, master agency terms, master custody terms, master portfolio management terms and master swap terms

(together, in the case of the master swap terms, with the 1992 ISDA Master Agreement (Multicurrency – Cross Border) and the ISDA 2016 Credit Support Annex for Variation Margin (VM) (Bilateral Form - Transfer), each published by ISDA), respectively, subject in each case to such amendments or supplements to such master terms documents as are specified in the relevant Programme Deed or supplement thereto the execution of which created such document(s). With respect to the Certificates, references to the Principal Trust Deed, Agency Agreement, Custody Agreement, Principal Portfolio Management Agreement (where applicable) and Master Swap Agreement are to those documents as amended, supplemented or replaced from time to time in relation to the Programme up to and including the Issue Date of the Certificates (including any amendments, supplements or replacements made with respect only to that particular issue of Certificates, whether in the Issue Deed, in a supplemental programme deed or otherwise) and as they may then be subsequently amended, supplemented or replaced in respect of the Certificates as permitted by the Conditions and the Trust Deed with respect to such Series.

Application may be made to list the Certificates on any stock exchange.

The Certificates may be rated by one or more Rating Agency. Any references in the Conditions to “Rating Agency Affirmation” shall only be applicable where such Certificates are rated by one or more of the Rating Agencies at the request of the Company.

1 Form, Denomination and Title

The Certificates are Bearer Certificates or Registered Certificates in the relevant Denomination.

All Registered Certificates of a Series and Class (if any) shall have the same Denomination. For such purpose, if the applicable Pricing Conditions specify that the Denomination of a Certificate comprises a Minimum Denomination and integral multiples of the Calculation Amount in excess thereof then, in the context of Registered Certificates only, the Denomination for such Registered Certificates shall be deemed to be the Calculation Amount and the Minimum Denomination shall represent the minimum aggregate holding required of a Certificateholder. Transfers that would result in the transferee or transferor holding less than such minimum aggregate holding shall not be permitted.

Bearer Certificates are issued with certificate numbers and with Coupons (and, where appropriate, one or more Talons) attached save in the case of Certificates which do not bear interest in which case references to interest (other than in relation to interest due after the due date for redemption in respect of overdue amounts of principal), Coupons and Talons in these Conditions are not applicable. Any Bearer Certificate the principal amount of which is redeemable in instalments is issued with one or more Receipts attached.

Except as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction or as required by law, the holder of any Bearer Certificate, Receipt, Coupon or Talon shall be deemed to be and may be treated as the absolute owner of such Certificate, Receipt, Coupon or Talon, as the case may be, for the purpose of receiving payment thereof or on account thereof and for all other purposes, whether or not such Certificate, Receipt, Coupon or Talon shall be overdue and notwithstanding any notice of ownership, theft or loss thereof or any writing thereon made by anyone.

The Company, the Trustee and each Paying Agent shall deem and treat each Certificateholder and Couponholder as the absolute owner of the relevant Certificate, Receipt, Coupon or Talon (whether or not such Certificate, Receipt, Coupon or Talon shall be overdue and notwithstanding any notice of ownership

- (vii) seventhly, provided that no further amounts remain to be determined or are due and payable under the Swap Agreement (if any), in payment of the balance to the Company.

Notwithstanding the above, no sums shall be applied in accordance with the foregoing paragraphs (i) to (vii) at any time whilst a calculation or determination of a payment due under the Swap Agreement is pending and until an Early Termination Date has occurred in respect of the Swap Agreement. If payment of any sum has been deferred as a result of the operation of the preceding sentence then the date on which the conditions set out in the preceding sentence are satisfied shall be treated as a Company Application Date or Trustee Application Date, as the case may be. If, upon a Swap Agreement Termination, the Company is owed sums from the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement which are unpaid (and does not itself owe the Counterparty any sums thereunder) but the Outstanding Assets have been Liquidated or otherwise realised so as to be in the form of cash then the Company or, following the occurrence of an Enforcement Event and enforcement of the Security, the Trustee, as the case may be, shall apply the sums available to it in accordance with the above. Following any payments received from the Counterparty it will then apply them in accordance with the above.

If, upon a Swap Agreement Termination, the Counterparty or its agent or representative has indicated that it disagrees with any calculations or determinations made in respect of the Swap Agreement or the Company has reasonable grounds for anticipating that there will be such a disagreement (and, for this purpose, the mere fact that the Counterparty is subject to an insolvency or analogous event shall not, of itself, constitute reasonable grounds), the Company in the case of a Company Application Date or the Trustee in the case of a Trustee Application Date may prior to any payment made under this Condition 4(c), (i) require to be indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded (in the case of the Trustee, to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities) in respect of any payment that might be required to be made to the Counterparty should the relevant determination or determinations be found or agreed to be incorrect, and/or (ii) make such retention as seems reasonable to it in order to provide for any payments that might be required to be made by or on behalf of the Company should the relevant calculations or determinations be found or agreed to be incorrect.

(d) Method of Liquidation of Outstanding Assets prior to enforcement of the security

If a Liquidation Event occurs, the Company shall notify (or procure notification of) the Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, the Custodian, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent and the Broker (if any) of such occurrence as soon as reasonably practicable after the Company becomes aware of the same. The Principal Paying Agent shall notify the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving any such notice.

During every Liquidation Period, other than in circumstances involving a Liquidation Failure Event, the Broker, acting on behalf of the Company, shall realise all Outstanding Charged Assets and all Counterparty Posted Collateral by way of sale or redemption other than those in the form of on-demand cash deposits save that the Broker shall not realise any Outstanding Assets that are scheduled to redeem or repay in full during the Liquidation Period other than if such Outstanding Assets fail to make payment in respect of such redemption or repayment when due. Notwithstanding the above, no Liquidation shall occur following the occurrence of a Bankruptcy Event of Default and the Broker shall cease any Liquidation immediately upon it becoming aware of any Bankruptcy Event of Default.

Within the relevant Liquidation Period, the Broker may take such steps as it considers appropriate in order to effect an orderly Liquidation (so far as is practicable in the circumstances), and may effect such Liquidation at any time and at different times within the relevant Liquidation Period or in stages in respect of smaller portions, but may not delay the Liquidation of all or part of the Outstanding Charged Assets and Counterparty Posted Collateral beyond the relevant Liquidation Period for any reason, including the possibility of achieving a higher price, and will not be liable to the Company, or to the Trustee, the Certificateholders, the Couponholders (if any) or any other person merely because a higher price could have been obtained had all or part of the Liquidation been delayed beyond the relevant Liquidation Period, except to the extent caused by the Broker's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct. Further, the Broker will not be liable to the Company, or to the Trustee, the Certificateholders, the Couponholders (if any) or any other person merely because a higher price could have been obtained had all or part of the Liquidation taken place at a different time within the relevant Liquidation Period or had or had not been effected in stages in respect of smaller portions, except to the extent caused by the Broker's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct. If the Broker has not been able to sell all or part of the Outstanding Charged Assets and Counterparty Posted Collateral within the relevant Liquidation Period, then it must sell them at its expiry, irrespective of the price obtainable and regardless of such price being close to or equal to zero.

Notwithstanding the preceding paragraph, where the Broker determines, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that there has been a Liquidation Failure Event the Broker shall not be required to take any further action. If the Broker determines that there is a Liquidation Failure Event, the Broker shall notify the Company, and the Company shall notify or procure notification to the Principal Paying Agent, the Custodian, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent and the Trustee of such Liquidation Failure Event. The Principal Paying Agent shall notify the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving any such notice. The Broker shall have no responsibility for the effect of any Liquidation Failure Event on any arrangements entered into or any other actions taken by the Broker in connection with the Liquidation of such Outstanding Assets.

In connection with the foregoing, during a Liquidation Period, the Broker, acting on behalf of the Company, shall exercise the Company's right under the Credit Support Annex to have the Counterparty deliver to the Company (or the Broker on its behalf) assets equivalent to those comprising the Company Posted Collateral, in order that the Broker may effect an orderly Liquidation of those assets delivered to it (which assets shall, on such delivery, be Outstanding Charged Assets). Under the terms of the Credit Support Annex, it is a condition to such delivery by the Counterparty that the Company posts alternative collateral (which shall form part of the Company Posted Collateral); to satisfy such condition, the Broker on behalf of the Company shall pay to the Counterparty the liquidation proceeds of the assets delivered to it such that such cash forms part of the Company Posted Collateral.

The Broker shall not be liable (i) to account for anything except the actual proceeds of any Liquidation received by it or (ii) for any costs, charges, losses, damages, liabilities or expenses arising from or connected with any Liquidation or from any act or omission in relation to any Liquidation or otherwise unless such costs, charges, losses, damages, liabilities or expenses were caused by its own gross negligence, fraud or wilful default. In addition, the Broker will not be obliged to pay to the Company or to the Certificateholders or the Trustee interest on any proceeds from any Liquidation held by it at any time.

Notwithstanding the above, in carrying out any Liquidation, the Broker will act in good faith and where, as provided above, the assets or rights to be Liquidated are to be sold, the Broker shall request executable quotes from at least five major market makers in the applicable market for the purchase of the relevant assets or rights and will sell at the highest price quoted, provided that it reasonably believes such quote to be representative of the price available in the market for the sale of the relevant assets or rights in the appropriate size taking into account the length of the relevant Liquidation Period and the total amount of the relevant assets or rights to be sold during that Liquidation Period.

Subject as provided above, in carrying out any Liquidation, the Broker may sell to itself, the Counterparty or any Affiliate of either the Broker or the Counterparty provided that the Broker shall sell in accordance with the paragraphs above and at a price which it believes to be a fair market price. A sale price shall be deemed to be fair if five major market makers in the applicable market have either refused to buy the relevant assets or offered to buy them at a price equal to or less than such sale price.

In connection with any Early Redemption, the Counterparty will calculate the Termination Payment except in certain circumstances specified in the Swap Agreement. The Company will procure that details of the Termination Payment (and, if applicable, any interest payable thereon) are notified to the Calculation Agent, who shall as of the Early Valuation Date determine the Early Redemption Amount in respect of such Certificates and notify the Company, the Principal Paying Agent, the Custodian, the Counterparty, the Broker and the Trustee of such Early Redemption Amount. The Principal Paying Agent shall notify the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving such notice from the Calculation Agent.

If the Certificates are to be redeemed pursuant to Conditions 10(b), 10(c), or 10(d) or 10(e) or as a result of an Event of Default, then, from the time that the obligation to redeem is triggered, no further payments will be made by the Company in respect of the Certificates until the Early Redemption Date. For the avoidance of doubt, Conditions 10(b), 10(c), 10(d) or 10(e) shall have no application on or after the Maturity Date (save to the extent that the Certificates are, on or after the Maturity Date, to be redeemed at their Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date by virtue of the application of those Conditions prior to the Maturity Date).

(e) Method of Realisation of the Security on enforcement

At any time after the Trustee becomes aware of the occurrence of an Enforcement Event under paragraphs (i) or (ii) of the definition of Enforcement Event, it may and (i) if so requested by holders of at least one-fifth in nominal amount of the Certificates then outstanding, (ii) if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution or (iii) if so directed by the Counterparty (whichever shall be the first to so request or direct, as the case may be), shall (provided in each case that the Trustee shall have been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities) enforce the Security created by the Issue Deed and/or any other Security Documents (if applicable). In addition, at any time after the Trustee becomes aware of the occurrence of an Enforcement Event under paragraph (iii) of the definition of Enforcement Event it shall, if so directed by the Counterparty (and provided that the Trustee shall have been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities) enforce the Security created by the Issue Deed and/or any other Security Documents (if applicable).

Prior to taking any steps to enforce the Security, the Trustee shall deliver an Enforcement Notice to the Company, the Principal Paying Agent, the Custodian and any Broker appointed at that time.

In order to enforce the Security, the Trustee may:

- (i) sell, call in, collect and convert into money to the extent possible and practicable the relevant Mortgaged Property or any part thereof in such manner and upon such terms as it thinks fit, and the Trustee may, at its discretion, take possession of all or part of the Mortgaged Property over which the Security shall have become enforceable;
- (ii) take such action, step or proceeding against any Underlying Obligor as it deems appropriate but without any liability to the Certificateholders or Couponholders as to the consequence of such action, step or proceeding, except to the extent caused by the Trustee's own fraud or wilful misconduct or that of its officers or employees, and without having regard to the effect of such action on individual Certificateholders or Couponholders; and
- (iii) take any such action or enter into any such other proceedings as it deems appropriate (including, without limitation, taking possession of all or any of the Mortgaged Property and/or appointing a receiver) as are permitted under the terms of the Trust Deed or the Security Documents.

The Trustee shall not be required to take any action, step or proceeding in relation to the enforcement of the Security that would involve any personal liability or expense without first being indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities.

Following the occurrence of an Enforcement Event and subject to the preceding provisions of this Condition 4(e), where the Trustee determines that any Outstanding Assets are to be sold or otherwise liquidated, the Trustee may, in its absolute discretion, direct the Broker, acting on behalf of the Trustee, to effect such sale or liquidation. The Trustee shall have no responsibility or liability to any person for any arrangements entered into or any other actions taken or omissions by the Broker in connection with the sale or liquidation of any Outstanding Assets. Certificateholders acknowledge and agree and shall be deemed to acknowledge and agree that the Trustee shall have discharged its duties and obligations under the Trust Deed and any other Security Documents and under applicable law in relation to enforcement of the Security and realisation of the Outstanding Assets if, and to the extent that, the Broker (on behalf of the Trustee) sells or otherwise liquidates any such Outstanding Assets pursuant to this Condition 4. Pursuant to the Trust Deed, the Trustee is required, subject to the following paragraph, to apply all moneys received by it in connection with the realisation or enforcement of any Security relating to the Certificates in the manner provided in Condition 4(c). The Trustee is required to make such application as soon as is reasonably practicable following receipt by it of the relevant moneys.

If the amount of the moneys at any time available to the Trustee for payment is less than 10 per cent. of the sums then due in respect of the Certificates, the Trustee may, at its discretion, invest such moneys in one or more authorised investments as prescribed by the Trust Deed and with power from time to time to vary such investments. Such investments with the resulting income therefrom may be accumulated until the accumulations, together with any other funds relating to the Certificates for the time being under the control of the Trustee and available for payment, shall amount to at least 10 per cent. of the sums then due in respect of the Certificates and then such accumulations and funds (after deductions of any taxes applicable thereto) shall be applied as specified in Condition 4(c).

(f) Conflicts of Interests of the Broker

Except as expressly provided in Conditions 4(d), 4(e) and 8, the Broker may be any Counterparty or an Affiliate of any Counterparty (which Counterparty is also a secured creditor pursuant to the Trust Deed). Notwithstanding the above, the Broker shall be entitled to take or refrain from taking, in any capacity, any action that it would be entitled to take or refrain from taking in that capacity if it were not acting in any other capacity. The Broker and its Affiliates may enter into any contracts or any other transactions or arrangements with the Company or with the Certificateholders, any obligor in respect of the Outstanding Assets (or any part of them) or any other party to the Programme Deed or Issue Deed or any Affiliate thereof (whether in relation to the Certificates or in any other manner whatsoever) or in relation to the Security and may hold or deal in or be a party to the assets, obligations or agreements of which the relevant Outstanding Assets form a part and other assets, obligations or agreements of any obligor in respect of the Outstanding Assets. The Broker shall not be required to disclose any such contract, transaction or arrangement to the Certificateholders or the Trustee and shall be in no way accountable to the Company or (save as otherwise provided in these Conditions) to the Certificateholders or the Trustee for any profits or benefits arising from any such contract or transaction or arrangement.

(g) Limited recourse

The Company may not have sufficient funds to make all payments due in respect of the Certificates and (if applicable) Coupons and/or Receipts.

If the Net Proceeds are not sufficient to make all payments of Secured Liabilities which, but for the effect of this Condition 4(g) and similar provisions in the agreements to which the Transaction Parties are party, would then be due, then the obligations of the Company in respect of Secured Liabilities shall be limited to such Net Proceeds. Any such shortfall shall be borne by the Secured Parties on such date in accordance with the priority of payments set out in Condition 4(c) applied in reverse order. None of the Transaction Parties, the Certificateholders, the Couponholders or any person acting on behalf of any of them shall be entitled to take any further steps against the Company or any of its officers, shareholders, members, corporate service providers (in the case of an action taken by any Transaction Party other than the Company) or directors to recover any further sum and no debt or liability shall be due or owed to any such persons by the Company in respect of any such further sum. In particular, none of the Transaction Parties, the Certificateholders, the Couponholders or any person acting on behalf of any of them may at any time institute, or join with any other person in bringing, instituting or joining, insolvency, administration, bankruptcy, winding-up, examinership or any other similar proceedings (whether court-based or otherwise) in relation to the Company or any of its assets, and none of them shall have any claim arising with respect to the assets and/or property attributable to any other Series of Certificates or other Obligations issued or entered into by the Company. Failure to make any payment in respect of any amount that, but for the operation of this provision, would have been due shall in no circumstances constitute an Event of Default under Condition 13. None of the Counterparty, any Credit Support Provider of such Counterparty, any Portfolio Manager, the Trustee or any other person has any obligation to any Certificateholder for payment of any such amount. Such limited recourse and non-petition provisions shall survive maturity of the Certificates and the expiration or termination of the agreements to which the Transaction Parties are party.

(h) Limitation on enforcement

If the Security becomes enforceable, such event will entitle the Trustee to exercise its rights as mortgagee in respect of the Security (including any Swap Agreement), subject as provided in Condition 4(e), but such event will not of itself entitle the Trustee to exercise such rights in respect of any other assets of the Company.

(i) Substitution of Original Charged Assets

The applicable Pricing Conditions in relation to each Series of Certificates will specify whether or not substitution of any Original Charged Assets is permitted. If (x) such right of substitution is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions to be “Exercisable by Certificateholder Direction”, then the holders of 66⅔ per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the Certificates then outstanding, acting unanimously, or the Certificateholders by Extraordinary Resolution or (y) if such right of substitution is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions to be “Exercisable by Manager Direction”, then the Portfolio Manager in its sole discretion, shall be entitled on one occasion only and subject to the conditions set out below and any other conditions set out in the applicable Pricing Conditions and also to Rating Agency Affirmation, by not less than fifteen Payment Business Days’ written notice (in either case, a “Substitution Notice”) to the Company, the Counterparty and the Custodian (if the Custodian holds the Original Charged Assets and subject to the Custodian being able to hold such New Charged Assets in the Custody Account (as defined in the Custody Agreement) in accordance with the terms of the Custody Agreement) and in accordance with any procedures specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, to request that Original Charged Assets be substituted (in whole but not in part) with other assets specified in the Substitution Notice and to be provided on the instructions of the Certificateholders who approved the giving of the Substitution Notice or who voted in favour of the Extraordinary Resolution, as the case may be, (the “Instructing Certificateholders”) or Portfolio Manager, as the case may be (the “New Charged Assets”). Such right applies only in respect of Original Charged Assets and shall not apply in respect of any New Charged Assets replacing the Original Charged Assets. The security created over the Original Charged Assets as described in Condition 4(a) will automatically be released with effect from the date of delivery of the New Charged Assets without further action on the part of the Trustee.

The substitution of the Original Charged Assets with the New Charged Assets as stated above shall be conditional upon all of the Substitution Criteria being satisfied.

Release of the Original Charged Assets by the Company to or to the order of the Instructing Certificateholders, if “Exercisable by Certificateholder Direction” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, or to or to the order of the Portfolio Manager, if “Exercisable by Manager Direction” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, shall be conditional upon the Custodian having confirmed to the Counterparty that it has received the New Charged Assets on behalf of the Company. Subject to the foregoing and to the following provisions of this Condition 4(i), the Company shall deliver, assign or otherwise transfer the Original Charged Assets (or cause the same to be delivered, assigned or otherwise transferred) to or to the order of the Instructing Certificateholders or the Portfolio Manager, as the case may be.

With effect from the date of the delivery of the New Charged Assets in accordance with the Substitution Notice to the Custodian on behalf of the Company (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions) and subject to satisfaction of the Substitution Criteria, the payment obligations of the parties under the Swap Agreement will be adjusted (without, for the avoidance of doubt, the need for consent from any person) so that the payment obligations of the Company reflect the substitution of the Original Charged Assets with the New Charged Assets and any Credit Support Annex shall be adjusted (without, for the avoidance of doubt, the need for consent from any person) such that references to the assets constituting the Original Charged Assets shall be replaced by reference to the assets constituting the New Charged Assets. In addition, on the date of delivery of New Charged Assets where a Credit Support Annex is applicable to the Certificates, an aggregate amount of New Charged Assets having a Value as close as practicable to the prevailing Value of the Original Charged Assets forming part of the Company’s Credit Support

Balance (VM) (and, in any event not less than such Value of the Original Charged Assets) shall be transferred to the Counterparty as Eligible Credit Support (VM) (as defined in such Credit Support Annex) and, upon such delivery, the Counterparty shall transfer to or to the order of the Company an amount of the Original Charged Assets equal to that comprised in the Company's Credit Support Balance (VM).

Where the substitution is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions to be "Exercisable by Certificateholder Direction", a Substitution Notice has been given and the Original Charged Assets are to be delivered, assigned or otherwise transferred to the Instructing Certificateholders, each Instructing Certificateholder shall be entitled to receive a Certificateholder Proportion. If the principal amount (after rounding) of Original Charged Assets to be delivered to an Instructing Certificateholder is not by the terms of the Original Charged Assets capable of being delivered, assigned or otherwise transferred, the principal amount of Original Charged Assets to be delivered to such Instructing Certificateholder (an "Affected Instructing Certificateholder") shall be the Deliverable OCA Amount. In such circumstances, the resultant shortfall below the amount that would have been delivered, assigned or transferred had it not been for such rounding shall be satisfied by the payment of a Deliverable Cash Amount in accordance with the following paragraph.

If the sum of the Deliverable OCA Amounts relating to all Certificateholders is less than the total principal amount of the Original Charged Assets as at the date of the Substitution Notice, a principal amount of the Original Charged Assets equal to such aggregate shortfall (the "Aggregate Undeliverable OCA Amount") shall be Liquidated by the Company subject to and in accordance with Condition 4(d), provided that for such purpose (x) the Liquidation Period shall be the period from and including the day on which the Broker is notified that the Company has received the Substitution Notice to and including the proposed date of substitution (which shall be no less than 15 Payment Business Days after the date on which the Broker is notified that the Company has received the Substitution Notice) and (y) the relevant portion shall be the portion of the Original Charged Assets equal to the Aggregate Undeliverable OCA Amount. Notwithstanding Condition 4(c), the Available Liquidation Proceeds shall be applied towards payment to each Affected Instructing Certificateholder of its Deliverable Cash Amount.

In order to receive delivery of the relevant Deliverable OCA Amount and payment of the relevant Deliverable Cash Amount (if any), each Instructing Certificateholder must deposit the relevant Certificate or the Certificate (if any) relating to such Certificate with any Paying Agent at its specified office and must supply to the Company and the Custodian such evidence of the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates held by such Instructing Certificateholder as the Company may require. The following shall, without limitation, constitute evidence satisfactory to the Company:

- (i) if the Certificates are Definitive Bearer Certificates, confirmation that all unmatured Coupons and/or Receipts (if any) appertaining to such Certificate(s) have been deposited with the relevant Paying Agent (or an indemnity from each Instructing Certificateholder in respect of any unmatured Coupons and/or Receipts (if any) not so surrendered as the Company may require); or
- (ii) if the Certificates are in global form held in a clearing system, a certificate or other document issued by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or DTC or the relevant alternative clearing system as to the principal amount of the Certificates standing to the credit of the account of the person entitled to a portion thereof (a "Relevant Accountholder") confirming that such Relevant Accountholder has undertaken to Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, DTC or the relevant alternative clearing system expressly for the benefit of the Company that it will not sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of its Certificates (or any of them) or any interest therein at any time on or prior to the date of delivery of the Original Charged Assets, together with, in either case, confirmation from the Paying Agent that the relevant Instructing Certificateholder has deposited the relevant Certificates (or in respect of Registered Certificates, the Certificate(s) relating thereto) with it. In the case of Uncertificated Certificates, a certificate or other document issued by the Registrar confirming the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates held by such Instructing Certificateholder shall constitute evidence satisfactory to the Company for this purpose.

A holder of Certificates in definitive form, at the same time as depositing such Certificates (or in respect of Registered Certificates, the Certificate(s) relating thereto) together with all unmatured Coupons and/or Receipts (if any) appertaining thereto, with the Paying Agent, shall specify to the Paying Agent its instructions concerning the delivery, assignment or other form of transfer to it, or any nominee for it, of the relevant Deliverable OCA Amount and the payment of the Deliverable Cash Amount (if any) to which it is entitled and the Paying Agent shall forthwith notify the Company, the Custodian (if the Original Charged Assets are held by the Custodian) and the Counterparty of such instructions.

If the Certificates are in global form and held in a clearing system, each Relevant Accountholder shall notify the Company, the Custodian (if the Original Charged Assets are held by the Custodian) and the Counterparty of its instructions concerning the delivery, assignment or other form of transfer to it, or any nominee for it, of the relevant Deliverable OCA Amount and the payment of the Deliverable Cash Amount (if any) to which it is entitled, which instructions must be submitted to the Company, the Custodian (if the Original Charged Assets are held by the Custodian) and the Counterparty together with the certificate or other document to be provided by Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, DTC or alternative clearing system, as the case may be, in accordance with the provisions above.

On receipt of such evidence by the Company and the Custodian and subject to each of the foregoing, the terms and conditions of the Original Charged Assets and to all applicable laws, regulations and directives, the relevant Deliverable OCA Amount of Original Charged Assets shall be delivered, assigned or transferred to an account with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg in accordance with the instructions given by the Portfolio Manager, if “Exercisable by Manager Direction” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, or by the Instructing Certificateholders, if “Exercisable by Certificateholder Direction” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions. Any stamp duty or other tax payable in respect of the transfer of such Original Charged Assets shall be the responsibility of, and payable by, the relevant transferee. If an Aggregate Undeliverable OCA Amount exists, the relevant Deliverable Cash Amount(s) shall be paid on the date falling two Payment Business Days after receipt of the aggregate proceeds of such Liquidation by the Broker to an account with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg account as may be specified by the Portfolio Manager, if “Exercisable by Manager Direction” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, or by the Instructing Certificateholders, if “Exercisable by Certificateholder Direction” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions.

With respect to a Series for which a substitution has been effected in accordance with this Condition 4(i), with effect from the relevant substitution date references to “Original Charged Assets” shall be read and construed as including the “New Charged Assets”.

5 Restrictions

So long as any of the Certificates remain outstanding, the Company will not, without the consent of the Trustee, but subject to the provisions of Condition 4(e) and as more specifically defined and described in the Trust Deed (and with the Trust Deed having priority in the case of any inconsistency):

- (i) incur any indebtedness for borrowed moneys, other than as contemplated in these Conditions and the Trust Deed;
- (ii) engage in any business other than (i) the transactions contemplated by Condition 21, the Trust Deed, any Swap Agreement, the Custody Agreement and any other agreements relating to the Security of any Series and (ii) any other business contemplated in these Conditions and/or the Portfolio Management Agreement (if any);
- (iii) exercise any right to terminate the appointment of the Portfolio Manager (if any) under the Portfolio Management Agreement (if any) unless required to do so or directed by Certificateholders to do so as contemplated in these Conditions and/or the Portfolio Management Agreement and provided that any automatic termination of the appointment of the Portfolio Manager pursuant to the terms of the Portfolio Management Agreement shall not comprise an exercise of a right to terminate the appointment of the Portfolio Manager;
- (iv) declare any dividends (other than dividends contemplated by the Trust Deed); or
- (v) have any subsidiaries.

The Trustee shall give such consent unless in its opinion the interests of any Certificateholders (of any Series) would be materially prejudiced, or the Counterparty reasonably believes it would be materially prejudiced by the proposed action, subject, other than in respect of paragraph (iii) of this Condition 5, if any of the Certificates are then rated at the request of the Company, to Rating Agency Affirmation, and to any rating agency affirmation required in respect of any other Obligations issued or entered into by the Company.

The Company will comply with certain other restrictions more fully described in the Trust Deed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in addition to the further issues under this Programme permitted under Condition 21 and subject, if any of the Certificates are then rated at the request of the Company, to Rating Agency Affirmation, and to any rating agency affirmation required in respect of any other Obligations issued or entered into by the Company, the Company shall be at liberty from time to time (without the consent of the Certificateholders or the Trustee provided the restrictions of this Condition 5 are complied with) to issue under this Programme other Certificates, loans, warrants, options, swaps or other obligations and to incur other indebtedness (whether or not represented by securities) and to enter into related transactions provided that (except as contemplated by the Trust Deed) such other certificates, loans, warrants, options, swaps or other obligations or indebtedness which do or does not form a single Series with the Certificates or any other existing certificates, loans, warrants, options, swaps or other obligations or indebtedness (i) (unless specified otherwise in the applicable Pricing Conditions) are secured (or, as the case may be, such other indebtedness is secured) on assets of the Company other than the assets comprising the security for any other existing obligations of the Company, and (ii) are issued or entered into (or is incurred) on terms in substantially the form contained in these Conditions which provide for all claims in respect of such certificates, loans, warrants, options, swaps or other obligations or indebtedness to be limited to the proceeds of the assets on which such certificates, loans, warrants, options, swaps or other obligations or indebtedness are or is secured. If the Certificates are Irish Listed Certificates, any further Certificates issued to form a single Series with the Certificates must also be Irish Listed Certificates. If the Certificates are Listed Certificates by virtue of a listing on a stock exchange other than Euronext Dublin, any further Certificates issued to form a single Series with the Certificates must also be listed on the same exchange as such Certificates.

6 Interest

(a) Interest Rate

If the applicable Pricing Conditions specify the Interest Basis for a Basis Period to be Fixed Rate or Floating Rate, each Certificate bears interest on its Interest Bearing Amount during each Interest Accrual Period falling in such Basis Period at the rate per annum (expressed as a percentage) equal to the Interest Rate (which, if Fixed Rate is specified, will be a specified rate or rates (a “Fixed Rate”) or, if Floating Rate is specified, will be determined by means of a formula or a series of formulae or may be based on an Index Rate in the manner specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions (a “Floating Rate”), which may be different for different Interest Accrual Periods, or a combination thereof payable in the Relevant Currency in arrear (unless otherwise stated in the applicable Pricing Conditions) on each Specified Interest Payment Date specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions. If the applicable Pricing Conditions specify the Interest Basis for a Basis Period to be Zero Coupon, the Certificates shall not bear interest during such Basis Period. Any of the Interest Bearing Amount, the Interest Rate or mechanism for determining the Interest Rate or the currency of the interest payment may be different for different Basis Periods.

Except as otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, interest will cease to accrue on each Certificate on the due date for redemption unless, upon due presentation, payment of the full amount of principal due on such due date for redemption is not made, in which event interest will continue to accrue on the unpaid amount of principal (after as well as before judgment) until the Relevant Date at the rate determined daily by the Calculation Agent to be the rate for overnight deposits in the Relevant Currency in which the payment is due to be made. Such interest shall be added annually to the overdue sum and shall itself bear interest accordingly.

(b) Calculations

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the amount of interest payable in respect of any Certificate for any period shall be calculated by the Calculation Agent by multiplying the product of the Interest Rate applicable to such period and the Interest Bearing Amount for such period by the relevant Day Count Fraction. If “Adjustment” is specified in the Fixed Rate or Floating Rate sections of the applicable Pricing Conditions to be applicable, then each Specified Interest Payment Date relating to such Fixed Rate or Floating Rate, as the case may be, together with any other date specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions to be so adjusted, shall be adjusted in accordance with the Business Day Convention specified in the relevant section with the Business Day Type for such purpose being Payment Business Days. Where any Interest Period comprises two or more Interest Accrual Periods, the amount of interest payable in respect of such Interest Period will, unless otherwise stated in the applicable Pricing Conditions, be the sum of the amounts of interest payable in respect of each of those Interest Accrual Periods. The Interest Amount in respect of each Denomination of the Certificates and the Specified Interest Payment Date so determined and calculated and published in accordance with Conditions 8 and 17 may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of an Interest Accrual Period.

7 Determination of Index Rates

(a) Index Rate Determination

If any amount whether of principal or of interest is expressed in the applicable Pricing Conditions to be determined by reference to an Index Rate, the Calculation Agent shall determine the Index Rate (the “Index Rate”) on the basis of the following provisions:

- (i) At or about the Determination Time on the Determination Date relating to the respective Reset Date in respect of which the Index Rate is to be determined, the Calculation Agent will:
- (1) if it is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions that the Primary Source for Index Rate Quotations shall be derived from a specified page, section or other part of a particular information service (each as specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions) (the “Page”, which expression includes any Replacement Page or Secondary Replacement Page referred to in paragraph (2) below), determine the Index Rate for such Reset Date which shall be:
 - (x) the Relevant Rate so appearing in or on the Page (where such Relevant Rate on the Page is a composite quotation or interest rate per annum or is customarily supplied by one entity); or
 - (y) the arithmetic mean (rounded, if necessary, to the next one hundred thousandth of a percentage point) of the Relevant Rates of the persons at that time whose Relevant Rates so appear in or on the Page; and
 - (2) if the Page specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions as a Primary Source for Index Rate quotations permanently ceases to quote the Relevant Rate(s) but such quotation(s) is/are available from another page, section or other part of such information service as is selected by the Calculation Agent (the “Replacement Page”), substitute the Replacement Page as the Primary Source for Index Rate quotations and, if no Replacement Page exists but such quotation(s) is/are available from a page, section or other part of a different information service selected by the Calculation Agent (the “Secondary Replacement Page”), substitute the Secondary Replacement Page as the Primary Source for Index Rate quotations,
- and in the case of Certificates falling within Condition 7(a)(i)(1)(x), but in respect of which no Index Rate appears on the Page at or about the Determination Time or, as the case may be, Condition 7(a)(i)(1)(y), in respect of which fewer than two Relevant Rates appear on the Page at or about the Determination Time and, in each case, an Index Cessation Event (as defined in the 2006 ISDA Definitions) has not occurred, establish the Index Rate using the fall back provisions which would apply if the Index Rate were being set pursuant to the 2006 ISDA Definitions and the Floating Rate Option were the ISDA Equivalent specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the values assigned to the relevant variables were the same as those assigned in the applicable Pricing Conditions to the specified variables with the same names and all other terms referred to in the provisions of the 2006 ISDA Definitions for setting a rate were to have the meaning given to them pursuant to the 2006 ISDA Definitions. Where an Index Cessation Event has occurred, the provisions of Conditions 7(b) and 7(c) shall apply.
- (ii) Subject to the operation of Condition 7(b), if, at or about the Determination Time on any Reset Date where the Index Rate falls to be determined pursuant to the above provisions in respect of a Relevant Currency, no Index Rate is obtainable under Condition 7(a)(i)(2) and (a) the Calculation Agent has not determined that a Reference Rate Event has occurred and (b) the Calculation Agent is unable to determine a rate using the provisions specified in Condition 7(a)(i), the Calculation Agent shall notify the Company and the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) and the relevant Index Rate shall be the Index Rate determined on the immediately preceding Determination Date.

(b) Occurrence of a Reference Rate Event

- (i) If the Calculation Agent determines that a Reference Rate Event has occurred in respect of a Series, it shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, deliver a notice to the Company (such notice, the "Reference Rate Event Notice") (copied to the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Principal Paying Agent and the Custodian) setting out a description in reasonable detail of the facts relevant to the determination that a Reference Rate Event has occurred, provided that no Reference Rate Event Notice shall be required to be delivered where the applicable Cut-off Date falls after the latest scheduled payment obligation of the Company under the Transaction Documents or the Reference Rate Event has occurred prior to the Issue Date.
- (ii) Following delivery of a Reference Rate Event Notice, in respect of a Series, the Calculation Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable, attempt to determine:
 - (1) a Replacement Reference Rate;
 - (2) an Adjustment Spread; and
 - (3) such other adjustments (the "Replacement Reference Rate Ancillary Amendments") to the Conditions (including, but not limited to, any Business Day, Business Day Convention, Day Count Fraction, Determination Date, Interest Accrual Period Date, Interest Amount, Interest Payment Date, Interest Period, Interest Rate and Specified Interest Payment Date) which the Calculation Agent determines are necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Reference Rate with the Replacement Reference Rate (as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread) and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Certificates before and after the replacement of the Reference Rate with the Replacement Reference Rate (as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread),

(the amendments required to the Conditions to reflect paragraphs (1) to (3) together, the "Replacement Reference Rate Amendments").
- (iii) If the Calculation Agent determines a Replacement Reference Rate, an Adjustment Spread and the Replacement Reference Rate Ancillary Amendments pursuant to paragraph (ii) above, the Calculation Agent shall deliver:
 - (1) a notice to the Company (such notice, the "Replacement Reference Rate Notice") (copied to the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Principal Paying Agent and the Custodian) which specifies any Replacement Reference Rate, any Adjustment Spread, the specific terms of any Replacement Reference Rate Amendments and the Cut-off Date; and
 - (2) a certificate to the Trustee (such certificate, a "Replacement Reference Rate Amendments Certificate"):
 - (I) specifying (w) the Reference Rate Event, (x) the Replacement Reference Rate, (y) the Adjustment Spread and (z) the specific terms of any Replacement Reference Rate Ancillary Amendments; and
 - (II) certifying that the Replacement Reference Rate Ancillary Amendments are necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Reference Rate with the Replacement Reference Rate (as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread) and/or to preserve as closely as practicable the economic equivalence of the Certificates before and after the replacement of the Reference Rate with the Replacement Reference Rate (as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread).

- (iv) If either the Replacement Reference Rate Notice or the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments Certificate is not delivered at least two Payment Business Days before the Cut-Off Date, Condition 7(d) shall apply.
- (v) If the Company receives a Replacement Reference Rate Notice from the Calculation Agent at least two Payment Business Days before the Cut-Off Date, it shall, without the consent of the Certificateholders or the Couponholders, promptly make the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments, which amendments will take effect from the Cut-off Date (and the amendments effected by any amendment deed entered into following such date shall be expressed as taking effect as of the Cut-off Date). For the avoidance of doubt, references to the Reference Rate in the Certificates and the Transaction Documents will be replaced by references to the Replacement Reference Rate as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread (provided that the Replacement Reference Rate, after application of the Adjustment Spread, may not be less than zero).

The Trustee may rely, without further enquiry and without liability to any person for so doing, on a Replacement Reference Rate Amendments Certificate. Upon receipt of a Replacement Reference Rate Amendments Certificate, the Trustee shall agree to the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments without seeking the consent of the Certificateholders, the Couponholders or any other party and concur with the Company (at the Company's expense) in effecting the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments (including, inter alia, by the execution of a deed supplemental to or amending the Trust Deed), provided that the Trustee shall not be required to agree to the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments if, in the opinion of the Trustee (acting reasonably), the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments would (I) expose the Trustee to any Related Liabilities against which it has not been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction or (II) impose more onerous obligations upon it or expose it to any additional duties or responsibilities or reduce or amend the protective provisions afforded to the Trustee in the Conditions or any Transaction Document of any Series.

- (vi) The Company shall, promptly following the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments having been made, deliver a notice containing the details of the Replacement Reference Rate Amendments to the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17).
- (vii) Neither the Calculation Agent nor the Trustee shall have any duty to monitor, enquire or satisfy itself as to whether any Reference Rate Event has occurred. The Calculation Agent shall not have any liability for giving or not giving any notice in respect of a Reference Rate Event, except to the extent caused by the Calculation Agent's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct.
- (viii) Any Replacement Reference Rate Amendments will be binding on the Company, the Transaction Parties, the Certificateholders and the Couponholders.

(c) Specific provisions for certain Reference Rates

With respect to a Reference Rate that would constitute a "Relevant Benchmark" for the purposes of the 2006 ISDA Definitions Benchmarks Annex as published by ISDA, if the definition of such Reference Rate includes a reference to a concept defined or otherwise described as an "index cessation event" (regardless of the contents of that definition or description) then, for the purposes of determining any Replacement Reference Rate and Adjustment Spread pursuant to Condition 7(b)(ii) and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Conditions, upon the occurrence of such an event, any fallback specified in that definition or description to apply following such an event (the "Priority Fallback") shall be taken into account by the Calculation Agent when making its determinations in accordance with Condition 7(b)(ii).

(d) Interim Measures

If, following a Reference Rate Event, the relevant Reference Rate is required for any determination in respect of the Certificates and, at that time:

- (i) no amendments have occurred in accordance with Conditions 7(b); and
- (ii) the Company has not notified the Certificateholders of the occurrence of a Reference Rate Default Event pursuant to Condition 10(d), then, for the purposes of that determination:

- (1) if the Reference Rate is still available and representative (in relation to a Reference Rate Cessation), the Administrator/Benchmark Event Date has not yet occurred (in relation to an Administrator/Benchmark Event), the Risk-Free Rate Event Date has not yet occurred (in relation to a Risk-Free Rate Event) or the Representative Statement Event Date has not yet occurred (in relation to a Representative Statement Event) or the Material Change Event Date has not yet occurred (in relation to a Material Change Event), the level of the Reference Rate shall be determined pursuant to the terms that would apply to the determination of the Reference Rate as if no Reference Rate Event had occurred; or
- (2) if the level for the Reference Rate cannot be determined under paragraph (1) above, the level of the Reference Rate shall be determined by reference to the rate published in respect of the Reference Rate at the time at which the Reference Rate is ordinarily determined on (I) the day on which the Reference Rate ceased to be available or representative (in relation to a Reference Rate Cessation), (II) the Administrator/Benchmark Event Date (in relation to an Administrator/Benchmark Event), (III) the Risk-Free Rate Event Date (in relation to a Risk-Free Rate Event) or (IV) the Representative Statement Event Date (in relation to a Representative Statement Event) or (V) the Material Change Event Date (in relation to a Material Change Event) or, if no rate is published at that time, that rate is non-representative or that rate cannot be used in accordance with applicable law or regulation, by reference to the rate published at that time on the last day on which the rate was published or can be used in accordance with applicable law or regulation, as applicable.

(e) Calculation Agent determination standard

Whenever the Calculation Agent is required to act in any way under Condition 7(b), without prejudice to Condition 7(b)(vii), it will do so in accordance with Condition 8(f) and the provisions of the Agency Agreement.

(f) Separate application of fallbacks

If, in respect of a Series, there is more than one Reference Rate, then Conditions 7(b) and 7(c) shall apply separately to each such Reference Rate.

(g) Acknowledgement in respect of Reference Rate modification

If "Material Change Event" is not specified as being applicable in the Pricing Conditions and, in respect of a Series, the definition, methodology or formula for a Reference Rate, or other means of calculating such Reference Rate, is changed, then, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, references to that Reference Rate shall be to the Reference Rate as changed.

(h) Occurrence of an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event

- (i) If the Calculation Agent determines that an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event has occurred in respect of a Series, it shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, deliver a notice to the Company (such notice, the "Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Notice")

(copied to the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Principal Paying Agent and the Custodian), setting out a description in reasonable detail of the facts relevant to the determination that an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event has occurred.

- (ii) Following delivery of the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Notice, the Calculation Agent shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, deliver a notice to the Company (copied to the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Principal Paying Agent and the Custodian):
 - (1) confirming that no amendments will be made to the Certificates as a result of such Original Charged Assets Disruption Event (an “Original Charged Assets Disruption Event No Action Notice”);
 - (2) specifying that amendments will be made to the Conditions and the Swap Agreement (the “Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments”) and setting out a description in reasonable detail of such amendments (an “Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendment Notice”); or
 - (3) specifying that the Certificates will be redeemed (an “Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Redemption Notice”).
- (iii) If the Company receives an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendment Notice from the Calculation Agent, it shall, without the consent of the Certificateholders or the Couponholders, promptly make the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments, provided that:
 - (1) the Company has not notified the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) that it has received an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Redemption Notice pursuant to Condition 10(e);
 - (2) the purpose of the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments is to account for any Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Losses/Gains incurred by the Counterparty; and
 - (3) the Calculation Agent certifies in writing (such certificate, an “Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments Certificate”) to the Trustee that the purpose of the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments is solely as set out in paragraph (2) above.

The Trustee may rely, without further enquiry and without liability to any person for so doing, on an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments Certificate. Upon receipt of an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments Certificate, the Trustee shall agree to the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments without seeking the consent of the Certificateholders, the Couponholders or any other party and concur with the Company (at the Company's expense) in effecting the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments (including, inter alia, by the execution of a deed supplemental to or amending the Trust Deed), provided that the Trustee shall not be required to agree to the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments if, in the opinion of the Trustee (acting reasonably), the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments would (x) expose the Trustee to any Related Liabilities against which it has not been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction or (y) impose more onerous obligations upon it or expose it to any additional duties or responsibilities or reduce or amend the protective provisions afforded to the Trustee in the Conditions or any Transaction Document of any Series.

- (iv) The Company shall, promptly following making the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments, deliver a notice containing the details of the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments to the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17).
- (v) Neither of the Calculation Agent nor the Trustee shall have any duty to monitor, enquire or satisfy itself as to whether any Original Charged Assets Disruption Event has occurred. The Calculation Agent shall not have any liability for giving or not giving any notice in respect of an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event, except to the extent caused by the Calculation Agent's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct.
- (vi) Whenever the Calculation Agent is required to act in any way under this Condition 7(h), without prejudice to Condition 7(h)(v), it will do so in accordance with Condition 8(f) and the provisions of the Agency Agreement.
- (vii) Any Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments will be binding on the Company, the Transaction Parties, the Certificateholders and the Couponholders.

For the avoidance of doubt, if, for a Series, any Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Losses/Gains are:

- (1) a negative amount, such Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Losses/Gains may be accounted for by reducing the interest amount and/or principal amount payable (in each case subject to a minimum of zero) pursuant to the Certificates for the Series; or
- (2) a positive amount, such Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Losses/Gains may be accounted for by increasing the interest amount and/or principal amount payable pursuant to the Certificates for the Series.

8 Calculation and Publication of Variable Amounts

(a) Determination and publication of Interest Rates and Calculated Amounts by the Calculation Agent

In respect of any calculation provided for in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the Calculation Agent shall, as soon as practicable after such time on such date as the Conditions may require any Redemption Amount or any Early Redemption Amount or any other amount which the Conditions may require to be calculated (each, a "Calculated Amount") to be calculated or any Interest Rate to be determined or any Interest Amount to be calculated or any quote to be obtained or any determination or calculation to be made, determine the Interest Rate and calculate the Interest Amount in respect of each Denomination of the Certificates for the relevant Interest Period, calculate the relevant Calculated Amount, obtain such quote and/or make such determination or calculation, as the case may be. The Calculation Agent shall cause the Interest Rate for each Interest Accrual Period and the Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date and, if required to be calculated, any Calculated Amount to be notified to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Company and, if the relevant Certificates are listed on a stock exchange and the rules of such exchange so require, such exchange as soon as possible after their determination but in no event later than (i) the commencement of the relevant Interest Accrual Period or Interest Period, if determined prior to such time, in the case of notification to such exchange of an Interest Rate or Interest Amount or (ii) the earlier of the date on which any relevant payment is due and the fourth London banking day (being a day, other than a Saturday or Sunday, on which commercial banks are open for business in London) after such determination or calculation. Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Pricing Conditions, any percentage resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest 1/100,000th of a percentage point with 0.000005 per cent. being rounded upwards and any amount in the Relevant Currency shall be rounded, if necessary, downwards to the nearest minimum unit of the Relevant Currency. As soon as reasonably practicable after receiving such notification, the Principal Paying Agent shall cause such information to be notified to each of the Paying Agents and to the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17).

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Conditions or the Agency Agreement or Trust Deed, where in respect of Bearer Certificates the applicable Pricing Conditions specify that the Denomination may comprise a Minimum Denomination and integral multiples of a Calculation Amount in excess thereof, then each calculation of an amount payable on a Certificate hereunder shall be made on the basis of the Calculation Amount (and, for the purpose of making such calculation, references in these Conditions to Denomination save for the reference to Denomination in Calculation Amount Factor below shall be deemed to be to the Calculation Amount) such that the amount payable on any particular Certificate is equal to the product of the amount produced by such calculation (after applying any applicable rounding in accordance with the Conditions) and the Calculation Amount Factor of that particular Certificate. The Calculation Agent shall only be required to make calculations of amounts payable on the Certificates on the basis of the Calculation Amount and any publication or notification of amounts will be on such basis. Where the applicable Pricing Conditions specify that the Denomination is the same as the Calculation Amount then the terms "Denomination" and "Calculation Amount" shall be construed interchangeably herein.

References herein to "minimum unit of the Relevant Currency" shall be read and construed as references to the lowest amount of the Relevant Currency that is available as legal tender (e.g. one cent or one pence).

(b) Calculation Agent

The Company will procure that there shall at all times be a Calculation Agent if the provisions of the Certificates so require and for so long as any Certificate is outstanding.

The Calculation Agent may not resign its duties without a successor having been appointed. The Calculation Agent shall continue to make the calculations and/or determinations required of it under these Conditions until a replacement Calculation Agent is appointed.

All calculations and determinations made by the Calculation Agent in relation to the Certificates shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final and binding on the Company, the Trustee, the agents appointed under the Agency Agreement, the Certificateholders and the Couponholders (if any). In making any calculation or determination hereunder, or delivering any notice hereunder or exercising any discretion, the Calculation Agent does not assume any responsibility or liability to anyone other than the Company for whom it acts as agent. In particular, it assumes no responsibility to Certificateholders, Couponholders, the Trustee or any other persons in respect of its role as Calculation Agent and, without limitation, shall not be liable for any loss (whether a loss of profit, loss of opportunity or consequential loss), cost, expense or any other damage suffered by any such person.

The Calculation Agent shall not be liable to the Company for any errors in calculations or determinations made by it hereunder, or any failure to make, or delay in making, any calculations or determinations (irrespective of whether such error, failure or delay affects any other calculations or determinations made hereunder) in the manner required of it by the Conditions save that the Calculation Agent shall be liable to the Company (but not to any other person or persons, including Certificateholders, Couponholders and the Trustee) where such error, failure or delay arose out of its bad faith, fraud or gross negligence. For this purpose, "gross negligence" shall not include operational delay or failure, save for where such operational delay or failure is such that no reasonable person performing functions similar to those of the Calculation Agent in comparable circumstances, and working within standard office hours, could have justified such delay. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, it is explicitly acknowledged (and shall be taken into account in any determination of whether it has been grossly negligent) that the Calculation Agent will also be performing calculations and other functions with respect to transactions other than the Certificates and that it may make the calculations required by the Certificates and other calculations and other functions required by such other transactions in such order as seems appropriate to it and shall not be liable for the order in which it elects to perform calculations or other functions or for any delay caused by electing to perform calculations and other functions for such other transactions prior to those in respect of the Certificates, except to the extent caused by the Calculation Agent's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct.

Where the Calculation Agent determines that, as a result of market disruption, force majeure, systems failure or any other event of an analogous nature, it is unable to make a calculation or determination in the manner required by these Conditions, then the Calculation Agent shall notify the Company thereof as soon as practicable, and the Calculation Agent shall not be liable for failure to make such calculation or determination in the required manner, except to the extent caused by the Calculation Agent's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct.

Where the Calculation Agent determines that (i) it has not received the necessary information from any person or other source that is expected to deliver or provide the same pursuant to the Conditions or any Related Agreement which means that it is unable to make a determination required of it in accordance with the Conditions or the provisions of a Related Agreement and/or (ii) one or more provisions (including any mathematical terms and formulae) contained in the Conditions or any Related Agreement appear to the Calculation Agent (taking into account the context of the transaction as a whole and its background understanding) to be erroneous on the basis that it is impossible to make such calculation or that such provisions produce a result that, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, is economically nonsensical, the Calculation Agent shall be permitted to make its determination on the basis of the provisions of the Conditions or such Related Agreement but may make such amendments thereto as, in its opinion, are necessary to cater for relevant circumstances falling under (i) and/or (ii) above.

The Calculation Agent may be any Counterparty or an Affiliate of any Counterparty (which Counterparty is also a secured creditor pursuant to the Trust Deed). Notwithstanding the above, the Calculation Agent shall be entitled to take or refrain from taking, in any capacity, any action that it would be entitled to take or refrain from taking in that capacity if it were not acting in any other capacity. The Calculation Agent and its Affiliates may enter into any contracts or any other transactions or arrangements with the Company or any other Transaction Party, the Certificateholders, any obligor in respect of the Charged Assets (or any part of them) or any Affiliate thereof (whether in relation to the Certificates or in any other manner whatsoever) or in relation to the Security and may hold or deal in or be a party to the assets, obligations or agreements which comprise the Charged Assets. The Calculation Agent shall not be required to disclose any such contract, transaction or arrangement to the Certificateholders or the Trustee and shall be in no way accountable to the Company or (save as otherwise provided in these Conditions) to the Certificateholders or the Trustee for any profits or benefits arising from any such contract, transaction or arrangement. None of the Company, the Trustee or the agents appointed under the Agency Agreement (other than the Calculation Agent) shall have any responsibility to any person for any errors or omissions in any calculation by the Calculation Agent.

(c) Determination of Credit Events

In relation to any investigations or determinations made by the Calculation Agent with respect to matters relating to (and including) Credit Events (as defined in the applicable Pricing Conditions, where relevant), no failure to exercise, nor any delay in exercising, any right (including, without limitation, the right to deliver notices), power or remedy by the Calculation Agent under the Conditions of the Certificates in respect of any such investigation and/or determination shall impair or operate as a waiver thereof in whole or in part, and no single or partial exercise by the Calculation Agent of any such right, power or remedy under the terms and conditions of the Certificates shall prevent any further or other exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or remedy in respect of any such investigation and/or determination. The rights and remedies described above are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies provided by law.

(d) The Portfolio Manager

All elections, calculations and determinations made by the Portfolio Manager in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any) relating to the Certificates shall (save as otherwise provided in the Portfolio Management Agreement) be final and binding on the Company, the Trustee, the agents appointed under the Agency Agreement, the Certificateholders and the Couponholders (if any).

(e) Standard of care for calculation, determination or other exercise of discretion

All calculations and determinations and other exercises of discretion made by the Calculation Agent or the Company under the Conditions shall be made (i) in good faith and (ii) unless the Conditions specifically provide that the relevant calculation or determination or other exercise of discretion shall be made in the sole and absolute discretion (or another standard of care) of the relevant entity, a commercially reasonable manner and (where and to the extent that such calculation or determination or other exercise of discretion or outcome thereof is subject to a regulatory obligation of the relevant entity to ensure fair treatment) which takes into account whether fair treatment is achieved by any such calculation, determination or other exercise of discretion or outcome thereof in accordance with such applicable regulatory obligations.

9 Business Day Convention

If any date which is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions to be subject to adjustment in accordance with a Business Day Convention would otherwise fall on a day which is not of the relevant Business Day Type, then, if the Business Day Convention specified is (i) the Floating Rate Convention, the relevant date shall be postponed to the next day which is of the relevant Business Day Type unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event (1) such date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding day of the relevant Business Day Type, and (2) each subsequent such date shall be the last day of the relevant Business Day Type of the month in which the relevant date would have fallen had it not been subject to adjustment, (ii) the Following Business Day Convention, such date shall be postponed to the next day which is a day of the relevant Business Day Type, (iii) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such date shall be postponed to the next day which is a day of the relevant Business Day Type unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding day of the relevant Business Day Type, or (iv) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding day of the relevant Business Day Type.

In addition to the above, where “TARGET” is specified instead of a city in respect of any business day centre or convention, it shall mean that to be a business day of the relevant type, the day must be a day on which the TARGET System is open for the settlement of payments in euro.

10 Redemption and Purchase

(a) Final redemption

Unless (i) this Certificate is previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled as provided below or (ii) the Certificates are declared due and repayable in accordance with Condition 13 or are due to redeem in accordance with Condition 10(b), Condition 10(c), Condition 10(d) or Condition 10(e), this Certificate will be redeemed on the Maturity Date specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions at the Redemption Amount in the Relevant Currency, together with interest (if any) accrued to the date of redemption. Each of the Scheduled Maturity Date and the Maturity Date (if different) shall be subject to adjustment in accordance with the Business Day Convention specified in the section relating to Condition 10 in the applicable Pricing Conditions with the Business Day Type for this purpose being Payment Business Days; provided that if no such Business Day Convention is specified then the applicable Business Day Convention shall be that applicable in respect of Specified Interest Payment Dates.

In respect of any Certificate which is redeemable in instalments or which is redeemable at the option of the Company or at the option of the Certificateholders, the terms on which such Certificate redeems shall be specified in the Pricing Conditions.

(b) Redemption on termination of the Swap Agreement (if any)

If either party to the Swap Agreement (if any) designates an Early Termination Date in respect of the Swap Agreement (other than in respect of (i) a Reference Rate Default Event (as defined in Condition 10(d)), except for a Reference Rate Default Event that constitutes a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event (by reason of the occurrence of a Counterparty Reference Rate Default Event) and the Counterparty has designated such Early Termination Date within 20 days of the date of occurrence of such Counterparty Reference Rate Default Event or (ii) an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event (as defined in Condition 10(e)), then the Company shall redeem all but not some only of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date. For the avoidance of doubt, because the Early Redemption Date could be up to 20 Payment Business Days following the start of the related Liquidation Period, this may result in the Early Redemption Date falling after the date defined as the Maturity Date of the Certificates. No separate amount of interest will be payable on the Early Redemption Date in respect of accrued interest. Notice of any such redemption shall be given to the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) as soon as practicable after the designation of the Early Termination Date.

(c) Redemption for taxation

(i) If:

- (x) a Charged Assets Redemption Event occurs;
- (y) a Charged Assets Tax Event occurs; or
- (z) a Holder Information Reporting Compliance Default occurs and the Company reasonably determines that such Holder Information Reporting Compliance Default may cause a payment received or payable by the Company to be subject to a deduction or withholding or cause the Company to suffer a fine or penalty, in each case, pursuant to an Information Reporting Regime, the Company shall as soon as practicable after becoming aware thereof notify the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17), the Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, the Custodian, any Counterparty and any Portfolio Manager and, subject to such notification, shall then redeem all but not some only of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date. In such circumstances, no separate amount will be payable in respect of accrued interest.

(ii) If at any time:

- (1) (in respect of the Company only) the Company or any Paying Agent will be required to make a withholding or deduction such as is referred to in Condition 22(a) other than a withholding or deduction in respect of an Information Reporting Regime or Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (a "Withholding Tax Event"); or

- (2) the Company is, or the Company on reasonable grounds satisfies the Trustee that the Company will be, subject to any law, regulation, regulatory requirement or double taxation convention or the interpretation or application thereof or to a tax charge (whether by direct assessment or by withholding at source) or other governmental imposition by any jurisdiction which would materially increase the cost to it of complying with its obligations under the Trust Deed or under the Certificates or materially increase the operating or administrative expenses of the Company or the arrangements under which the shares in the Company are held or otherwise oblige the Company or the Trustee to make any payment on, or calculated by reference to, the amount of any sum received or receivable by the Company or the Trustee or by the Trustee on behalf of the Company as contemplated in the Trust Deed (and such increased cost, increased operating or administrative expense or payment, as the case may be, is beyond the control of the Company or the Calculation Agent) other than where such tax charge or other governmental imposition arises as a result of an Information Reporting Regime or Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (an “Increased Tax Event”), then the Company shall, to the extent that it has not already done so, inform the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) and the Trustee accordingly.

Subject to the following paragraph of this Condition 10(c), upon the occurrence of a Withholding Tax Event or an Increased Tax Event with respect to the Company, such Company shall use reasonable endeavours to change the place of residence for taxation purposes in a tax-efficient manner and without incurring material costs or to effect a substitution of the principal debtor hereunder as described in Condition 18 in each case so that the relevant obligation to make a withholding or deduction or the material increase or other payment referred to in (2) above does not arise. The Company shall be obliged before taking such action (1) to obtain the consent in writing of the Counterparty (if any), which consent may be conditional upon (a) the documentation with respect to such transfer being in form and substance satisfactory to the Counterparty (if any) including with respect to the representations and warranties as to facts, circumstances and laws subsisting in the new jurisdiction and (b) no Event of Default or Termination Event (each as defined in the Swap Agreement, if any) occurring under the Swap Agreement (if any) as a result of giving effect to such transfer or substitution, (2) to obtain the consent of the Portfolio Manager (if any), such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, and (3) to obtain any applicable Rating Agency Affirmation in respect thereof.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if a Withholding Tax Event occurs with respect to the Company:

- (i) owing to the connection of any Certificateholder or Couponholder with any jurisdiction otherwise than by reason only of the holding of any Certificate or Receipt or Coupon or receiving principal or interest in respect thereof; or
- (ii) by reason of the failure by the relevant Certificateholder or Couponholder to comply with any applicable procedures required to establish non-residence or any other similar claim for exemption from such tax; or
- (iii) in respect of any Certificate, Receipt or Coupon presented for payment by or on behalf of a Certificateholder or Couponholder who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Certificate, Receipt or Coupon to another Paying Agent, then such Company shall be under no obligation to change its place of residence for taxation purposes or to effect a substitution of the principal debtor as a result of such Withholding Tax Event and, to the extent it is able to do so, the Company shall deduct such taxes from the amounts payable to such Certificateholder and Couponholder but this shall not affect the rights of the other Certificateholders or Couponholders (if any) hereunder. Any such deduction shall not constitute an Event of Default under Condition 13.

Upon the occurrence of an Increased Tax Event then, unless the Company subject to such Increased Tax Event has changed its place of residence for taxation purposes or effected a substitution of the principal debtor in accordance with the above, the Company shall notify the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17), the Trustee and Counterparty (if any) that the Certificates are to redeem in accordance with this Condition 10(c)(ii) and, subject to such notification, shall then redeem the Certificates then outstanding at their Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date. In such circumstances, no separate amount will be payable in respect of accrued interest.

(d) Redemption Following a Reference Rate Event

If, in respect of a Series:

- (i) it (A) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (B) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, for the Calculation Agent to perform the actions prescribed in Condition 7(b) (or it would be unlawful or would contravene those licensing requirements were a determination to be made at such time); or
- (ii) the Calculation Agent determines that an Adjustment Spread is or would be an interest rate, benchmark, index or other price source whose production, publication, methodology or governance would subject the Calculation Agent, the Counterparty or the Company to material additional regulatory obligations (each of (i) and (ii) above, a “Reference Rate Default Event”), then the Calculation Agent shall give notice of such fact to the Company (copied to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty and the Custodian). The Company shall then notify the Certificateholders of such fact (in accordance with Condition 17) as soon as is practicable upon being so notified and the Company shall redeem all but not some only of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date, and which shall be the only amount payable in respect of such Certificates and there will be no separate payment of any unpaid accrued interest thereon), provided that, if the occurrence of a Reference Rate Default Event under subparagraph (ii) above constitutes a Swap Agreement Transfer Right Event (by reason of the occurrence of a Counterparty Reference Rate Event), then the Company shall only so redeem all but not some only of the Certificates if the Counterparty has not exercised its right under the Swap Agreement to transfer its obligations and rights under the Swap Agreement to an Eligible J.P. Morgan Transferee within 20 days of the date of occurrence of such Swap Agreement Transfer Rights Event in accordance with Part 5.5 of the Master Swap Agreement.

(e) Redemption Following an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event

If, in respect of a Series, the Calculation Agent has given an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Redemption Notice to the Company (copied to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty and the Custodian), then the Company shall notify the Certificateholders of such fact (in accordance with Condition 17) as soon as is practicable upon being so notified and attach to that a copy of the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Redemption Notice or include the information provided therein and the Company shall redeem all but not some only of the Certificates at their Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date, and which shall be the only amount payable in respect of such Certificates and there will be no separate payment of any unpaid accrued interest thereon).

Neither the Company nor any Transaction Party shall have any duty to monitor, enquire or satisfy itself as to whether any Original Charged Assets Disruption Event has occurred. No Transaction Party shall have any obligation to give, nor any responsibility or liability for giving or not giving, any notice in respect of an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event. If the Calculation Agent gives an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Redemption Notice to the Trustee, the Trustee shall be entitled to rely conclusively on such notice without further investigation.

(f) Purchase

The Company may at any time purchase Certificates in the open market or otherwise at any price provided that (i) in the case of Bearer Certificates, they are purchased together with all unmatured Coupons, Talons and Receipts relating to them and (ii) in the case of Certificates originally issued in more than one Class, the Company shall only be permitted to purchase Certificates from a Class that is subordinated to one or more Classes if the Company also purchases, at the same time, a notional amount of Certificates from each such senior Class of Certificates such that the proportion that the outstanding principal amount of the junior Class of Certificates bears to the outstanding principal amount of each senior Class of Certificates is equal to or greater than the corresponding proportion as at the original issuance. For the avoidance of doubt, the Company may at any time purchase Certificates from a Class that is not subordinated to any other Class of Certificates without being required to purchase an equivalent proportion of the related junior Class(es) of Certificates.

All Certificates so purchased ("Purchased Certificates") and any unmatured Coupons, Talons and Receipts attached to or surrendered with Bearer Certificates may, at the option of the Company, be held by it (and, at the option of the Company, subsequently re-issued or resold) or may be cancelled, in which latter case they may not be re-issued or resold. On any such purchase of such Certificates by the Company, there will be a pro rata reduction in payments under any Swap Agreement(s) and, so far as the denominations of the Outstanding Charged Assets being realised or disposed of will allow, in the aggregate amount of the Outstanding Charged Assets held by the Company, and, in addition, such adjustments to the amount of any Credit Support Balance (VM) under any Credit Support Annex as are required in connection therewith, which transactions will in aggregate leave the Company with no net liabilities in respect thereof; provided that any selection of individual assets comprised in the Outstanding Charged Assets to be realised or disposed of shall be made on a pro rata basis so far as the denominations of the Outstanding Charged Assets being realised or disposed of will allow. On any subsequent resale or re-issue of such Certificates which the Company has elected not to cancel, either (i) there will be a pro rata increase in payments under each Swap Agreement (if any) and in the amount of the Outstanding Charged Assets or (ii) a new Swap Agreement will be entered into and new Outstanding Charged Assets will be acquired by the Company.

In connection with the redemption, realisation or disposal of any Outstanding Charged Assets, corresponding amendments shall be effected to the Swap Agreement (if any) to ensure that the Company is due to receive cashflows necessary, when taken together with its payment obligations to the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement (if any) and amounts receivable by it in respect of the remaining Outstanding Charged Assets, to meet its payment obligations in respect of the remaining Certificates outstanding.

(g) Cancellation

All Certificates redeemed by the Company and all Certificates purchased by or on behalf of the Company which the Company elects to surrender, together with all unmatured Receipts and Coupons and unexchanged Talons appertaining thereto, for cancellation, will be cancelled forthwith (together with all unmatured Receipts and Coupons and unexchanged Talons attached thereto or surrendered therewith) and, if cancelled (in the case of Purchased Certificates), may not be reissued or resold and the obligations of the Company in respect of any such Certificates, Receipts, Coupons and Talons shall be discharged.

(h) Minimum Redemption Amount

Notwithstanding anything else in the Conditions, the minimum Redemption Amount and the minimum Early Redemption Amount of any Certificate will not be less than an amount such that the sum of principal and interest (if any) due on the Certificate is zero.

11 Redemption Amount and Early Redemption Amount

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, the “Redemption Amount” in respect of each Certificate shall be the Denomination of the Certificate.

Subject to Condition 4(d), the “Early Redemption Amount” shall be as specified in the relevant Pricing Conditions, save that if no Early Redemption Amount is specified then the Early Redemption Amount shall be the Standard Early Redemption Amount. The “Standard Early Redemption Amount” shall be an amount per Certificate determined by the Calculation Agent to be that Certificate’s pro rata share of (i) the Relevant Currency Proceeds plus (ii) any Termination Payment in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any) which is payable to the Company (together, if applicable, with any interest payable thereon) minus (iii) any Termination Payment in respect of the Swap Agreement (if any) which is payable by the Company to the Counterparty (together, if applicable, with any interest payable thereon) and minus (iv) any Priority Payments. The Early Redemption Amount shall be expressed on a per Certificate basis and shall be subject always to Condition 10(h).

If, in determining the Actual Currency Proceeds (and, therefore, the Relevant Currency Proceeds and the Early Redemption Amount), the Calculation Agent is required to use a fair market value for any Outstanding Assets as a result of their not having been realised as at the Early Valuation Date then, upon the Liquidation or enforcement of Security and realisation of such Outstanding Assets in full, the Calculation Agent shall determine whether the Standard Early Redemption Amount that would have been payable per Certificate would have been greater had the actual realisation value been used instead of the fair market value at the time of determination and, if so, the Company shall make payment to Certificateholders of the difference (determined on a per Certificate basis) (such difference per Certificate being a “Make-Whole Amount”).

12 Payments and Talons

(a) Bearer Certificates

Payments of principal and interest in respect of any Bearer Certificates will, subject as mentioned below, be made against presentation and surrender of the relevant Certificates (in the case of payments of principal and, in the case of interest, as specified in Condition 12(f)(v)) or Coupons (in the case of interest, save as specified in Condition 12(f)(v)), as the case may be, at the specified office of any Paying Agent outside the United States by transfer to an account denominated in the currency in which such payment is due with a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of that currency or in such city.

(b) Registered Certificates

- (i) Payments of principal in respect of Registered Certificates which are not Uncertificated Certificates will be made against presentation and surrender of the relevant Certificates at the specified office of any of the Paying Agents and in the manner provided in Condition 12(a) for the purpose of Bearer Certificates.
- (ii) Payments of principal in respect of Uncertificated Certificates and payments of interest on all Registered Certificates will be made to the person shown on the Register at the close of business on the Record Date. Such payments will be made by transfer to an account in the relevant currency maintained by the payee with a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of that currency or in such city.

- (iii) Subject to Condition 22, to receive a payment on any Registered Certificate without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any taxes imposed by the U.S. authorities, the Company may require a relevant Certificateholder to produce a form W8-BEN or equivalent non-U.S. resident tax form in the case of a U.S. non-resident holder, or a form W-9 or equivalent U.S. resident tax form in the case of a U.S. resident holder, in each case establishing an exemption from U.S. withholding tax and each Certificateholder agrees to produce such form upon request.

(c) Payments in the United States

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Bearer Certificates are denominated in U.S. dollars, payments in respect thereof may be made at the specified office of any Paying Agent in New York City in the same manner as aforesaid if (i) the Company shall have appointed Paying Agents with specified offices outside the United States with the reasonable expectation that such Paying Agents would be able to make payment of the amounts on the Certificates in the manner provided above when due, (ii) payment in full of such amounts at all such offices is illegal or effectively precluded by exchange controls or other similar restrictions on payment or receipt of such amounts and (iii) such payment is then permitted by United States law.

(d) Payments subject to law etc.

All payments are subject in all cases to any applicable fiscal or other laws, regulations and directives in the place of payment to which the Company agrees to be subject and the Company will not be liable for any taxes or duties of whatever nature imposed or levied by such laws, regulations, directives or agreements, but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 22. No commission or expenses shall be charged to the Certificateholders or Couponholders in respect of such payments.

(e) Appointment of Agents

The Paying Agents, the Registrar, the Transfer Agents and any Calculation Agent initially appointed by the Company and their respective specified offices are listed below. The Paying Agents, the Registrar, the Transfer Agents and any Calculation Agent act solely as agents of the Company and do not assume any obligation or relationship of agency or trust for or with any holder. The Company reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Paying Agent, the Registrar, any Transfer Agent or any Calculation Agent and to appoint additional or other Paying Agents or Transfer Agents or a new Registrar or Calculation Agent, provided that it will at all times maintain (i) a Principal Paying Agent, (ii) a Registrar in relation to Registered Certificates, (iii) one or more Transfer Agents in relation to Registered Certificates, at least one of which is based in a major European city, (iv) as applicable, a Paying Agent in such city as may be required by any stock exchange, (v) in the case of Registered Certificates, as applicable, a Transfer Agent in such city as may be required by any stock exchange and (vi) a Calculation Agent where the Conditions so require one.

In addition, the Company shall forthwith appoint a Paying Agent in New York City in respect of any Bearer Certificates denominated in U.S. dollars in the circumstances described in Condition 12(c).

Notice of the appointment of any new agents (which, for this purpose, shall be deemed to include any Custodian or Portfolio Manager), or the termination of the appointment of any existing agents (which, for this purpose, shall be deemed to include any Custodian or Portfolio Manager) or any change of any specified office of an existing agent (which, for this purpose, shall be deemed to include any Custodian or Portfolio Manager) will promptly be given to the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17).

(f) Unmatured Coupons and Receipts and unexchanged Talons

- (i) Upon the due date for redemption of any Certificate, unexpired Coupons relating to such Certificate (whether or not attached) shall become void and no payment shall be made in respect of them.
- (ii) Upon the due date for redemption of any Certificate, any unexchanged Talon relating to such Certificate (whether or not attached) shall become void and no Coupon shall be delivered in respect of such Talon.
- (iii) Upon the due date for redemption of any Certificate which is redeemable in instalments, all Receipts relating to such Certificate having an instalment date falling on or after such due date (whether or not attached) shall become void and no payment shall be made in respect of them.
- (iv) Where any Certificate is presented for redemption without all unexpired Receipts, unexpired Coupons and any unexchanged Talon relating to it, redemption shall be made only against the provision of such indemnity as the Company may require.
- (v) If the due date for redemption of any Certificate is not a due date for payment of interest, interest accrued from the preceding due date for payment of interest or the Interest Commencement Date, as the case may be, shall only be payable against presentation (and surrender if appropriate) of the relevant Certificate. Interest accrued on a Certificate which only bears interest after its Maturity Date or date of redemption shall be payable on redemption of such Certificate against presentation thereof.

(g) Non-Business Days

If any date for payment in respect of any Certificate, Receipt or Coupon is not a Business Day, the holder shall not be entitled to payment until the next following Business Day or to any interest or other sum in respect of such postponed payment.

(h) Talons

On or after the Specified Interest Payment Date for the final Coupon forming part of a Coupon sheet issued in respect of any Bearer Certificate, the Talon forming part of such Coupon sheet may be surrendered at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent in exchange for a further Coupon sheet (but excluding any Coupons which may have become void pursuant to Condition 14).

(i) Restitution

If any amount is mistakenly paid to a Certificateholder in respect of the Certificates when no such amount was due (whether as a result of a miscalculation or otherwise), such payment shall be reimbursed by the relevant Certificateholder to the Company and, if no such reimbursement is made, the Company may reduce any subsequent payments owed by it to such Certificateholder by all or part of such un-reimbursed amounts in satisfaction (or partial satisfaction) thereof and may take such action as it deems fit to recover any outstanding un-reimbursed amounts. In respect of any repayment of any such amount, the amount repaid shall be deposited by the Company with the Custodian but shall not form part of the Mortgaged Property for the Certificates. Any such reduction or reimbursement shall, to the extent relevant, be applied by the Company in meeting the claims of the Custodian, the Principal Paying Agent and/or the Counterparty for repayment of any amount of such mistaken payment funded or reimbursed by the Custodian, the Principal Paying Agent or the Counterparty, as the case may be (or, where such reduction or reimbursement is for less than the full amount of any such claims, in meeting such claims pro rata). Only after satisfaction of all such claims shall the amount remaining (if any) be deemed, for purposes of these Conditions, to have been derived from the Mortgaged Property for the Certificates.

13 Events of Default

Any of the following events shall be “Events of Default”:

- (i) if default is made for a period of five Payment Business Days or more in the payment of any principal or interest due in respect of the Certificates or any of them or in payment of any Management Fees (as defined in the Portfolio Management Agreement) due to the Portfolio Manager (if any) when the same shall become due and payable; or
- (ii) if the Company fails to perform or observe any of its other obligations under the Certificates or the Trust Deed (other than a failure resulting from a Charged Assets Default) and such failure continues for a period of 30 days (or such longer period as the Trustee may permit) next following the service by the Trustee on the Company of notice requiring the same to be remedied; or
- (iii) if a Bankruptcy Event of Default occurs; or
- (iv) if a Charged Assets Default occurs, provided that no event falling under paragraph (iii) of the definition of Event of Default above shall constitute an Event of Default if the action referred to in such Condition and otherwise constituting the Event of Default is taken by any person in breach of any contractual provision prohibiting such person from taking such action unless such action results in the appointment by a court of competent jurisdiction of a receiver, administrator, liquidator, examiner, assignee, sequestrator or other similar official or the entry of a decree or order by such a court for an encumbrancer to take possession or for execution or other process to be levied or enforced upon or sued out against the whole or any substantial part of the undertaking or assets of the Company.

If an Event of Default occurs, whether or not any Event of Default is continuing, the Trustee at its discretion may, and shall (x) if so requested in writing by the holders of at least 20 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates then outstanding or (y) if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution (as defined in the Trust Deed) of the holders of Certificates then outstanding (provided, in each case, the Trustee is indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities), give notice (each, an “Event of Default Notice”) to the Company, the Counterparty (if any), the Principal Paying Agent and the Calculation Agent that the Certificates are, and they shall then accordingly become, due and repayable on the Early Redemption Date at the Early Redemption Amount (and no separate amount of interest will be payable in respect of accrued interest). If an Event of Default Notice is not delivered by the Trustee within 30 days of the date on which the relevant Event of Default occurred and such Event of Default is continuing after such period, the Certificates shall become due and repayable on the Early Redemption Date at the Early Redemption Amount (and no separate amount of interest will be payable in respect of accrued interest).

The Company will, as soon as practicable following its becoming aware of the relevant event, give notice to each Rating Agency of any event which either constitutes an Event of Default under this Condition or is an event falling under paragraph (ii), (iii) or (iv) of the definition of Event of Default above. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing herein shall be construed as imposing an obligation to consult with any Rating Agency over whether the occurrence of an event described under this Condition would result in a withdrawal or downgrading of the current rating of the Certificates.

Subject always to the terms of the Trust Deed, only the Trustee may pursue the remedies against the Company for any breach by the Company of the terms of the Trust Deed, the Certificates or the Coupons and no Certificateholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to proceed directly against the Company unless the Trustee, having become bound to proceed in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed, fails to do so within a reasonable period and such failure is continuing.

Only the Trustee may enforce the Security over the Mortgaged Property in accordance with, and subject to the terms of, the Trust Deed.

14 Prescription

Claims in respect of Certificates, Receipts and Coupons (but not Talons) shall become void and be prescribed unless made within 10 years (in the case of principal) and five years (in the case of interest) from the appropriate Relevant Date in respect thereof.

References in these Conditions to (i) “principal” shall be deemed to include any premium payable in respect of the Certificates, Redemption Amounts, or other Calculated Amounts and (ii) “interest” shall be deemed to include all Interest Amounts.

15 Agents of the Trustee

Each of the Paying Agents, the Registrar, the Transfer Agent(s) and the Custodian acts solely as agent of the Company unless an Event of Default has occurred or a valid Enforcement Notice has been given in which case each of the Paying Agents, the Registrar, the Transfer Agent(s) and the Custodian will, if required to do so by the Trustee in writing, act as agent of the Trustee, and will not assume any relationship of agency or trust with the Certificateholders.

16 Replacement of Certificates, Receipts, Coupons and Talons

If a, Certificate, Receipt, Coupon or Talon is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced, subject to applicable laws and stock exchange requirements, at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent (in the case of Bearer Certificates, Receipts, Coupons or Talons) and of the Registrar (in the case of Certificates for Registered Certificates) in each case on payment by the claimant of the fees and costs incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence, security and indemnity (which may provide, inter alia, that if the allegedly lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate, Receipt, Coupon or Talon is subsequently presented for payment or, as the case may be, for exchange for further Coupons, there will be paid to the Company on demand the amount payable by the Company in respect of such Certificates, Certificates, Receipts, Coupons or further Coupons) and otherwise as the Company may require. Mutilated or defaced Certificates, Certificates, Receipts, Coupons or Talons must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

17 Notices

Notices to holders of Registered Certificates will be mailed to them at their respective addresses in the Register and deemed to have been given on the fourth weekday (being a day other than a Saturday or a Sunday) after the date of mailing.

All notices to holders of Bearer Certificates will be published in one or more daily newspapers with circulation in Europe. Any such notice to holders of Bearer Certificates shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once, on the first date on which publication is made.

In addition, if and for so long as the Certificates are Listed Certificates, all notices to holders of Certificates will be published in accordance with the rules of the relevant stock exchange on which the Certificates are listed.

Couponholders will be deemed for all purposes to have notice of the contents of any notice given to the holders of Certificates in accordance with this Condition.

18 Meetings of Certificateholders; Modification; Waiver; and Substitution

(a) Modification by Certificateholders' actions

The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of Certificateholders to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the modification by Extraordinary Resolution of the Conditions of the Certificates. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution shall be one or more persons holding or representing a clear majority in principal amount of the Certificates for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting, one or more persons being or representing Certificateholders, whatever the principal amount of the Certificates so held or represented, except that, inter alia, the terms of the Security and certain terms concerning the amount and currency and the postponement of the due dates of payment of the Certificates, Receipts and Coupons (except where such modification is not materially prejudicial to Certificateholders), or the provisions concerning the quorum required at any meeting of Certificateholders or the majority required to pass an Extraordinary Resolution, may be modified only by resolutions passed at a meeting the quorum (the "Special Quorum") at which shall be one or more persons holding or representing two-thirds, or at any adjourned such meeting not less than one-third, in principal amount of the Certificates for the time being outstanding. A resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of the holders of not less than 75 per cent. in principal amount of the Certificates of the relevant Series who for the time being are entitled to receive notice of a meeting in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed (a "Written Resolution") shall for all purposes (including matters that would otherwise require an Extraordinary Resolution to be passed at a meeting for which the Special Quorum was satisfied) be deemed to be an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of such Certificateholders duly convened and held in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed. An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of Certificateholders (or by Written Resolution) will be binding on all Certificateholders, whether or not they were present at such meeting or participated in such Written Resolution, and on the holders of Coupons, Receipts and Talons.

(b) Modification without Certificateholders' consent

The Trustee may agree, without the consent of the Certificateholders or holders of Coupons, Receipts and Talons, to (i) any modification of any of the provisions of the Trust Deed, any other Security Document or any Related Agreement as each affects the Certificates which is in the opinion of the Trustee of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error, and (ii) any modification (except as aforesaid), waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of any of the provisions of the Trust Deed, any other Security Document or any Related Agreement as each affects such Series which, in any such case, is not in the opinion of the Trustee materially prejudicial to the interests of the Certificateholders but such power in this sub-paragraph (ii) does not extend to any such modification, waiver or authorisation as would require a special quorum for any Extraordinary Resolution approving the same. Any such determination, modification, authorisation or waiver shall be binding on the Certificateholders and holders of Coupons, Receipts and Talons and, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, any such modification shall be notified to the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17) as soon as practicable thereafter.

(c) Amendments to any Swap Transaction following a Reference Rate Event or an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event

- (i) If the Calculation Agent determines that any Replacement Reference Rate Amendments are necessary pursuant to Condition 7(b)(ii) and the Company makes such amendments, pursuant to Condition 7(b)(v):
 - (1) with effect from the date on which such Replacement Reference Rate Amendments become effective, the terms of any Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement

shall, without the consent of the Trustee, the Certificateholders or the Couponholders, be deemed to be amended so that references to the Swap Reference Rate are replaced by references to the Replacement Reference Rate as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread (provided that the Replacement Reference Rate, after application of the Adjustment Spread, may not be less than zero); and

- (2) with effect from the date on which such Replacement Reference Rate Amendments become effective, the Counterparty and the Company may, without the consent of the Trustee or the Certificateholders or the Couponholders, make such other adjustments to any Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement (including, but not limited to, any Business Day, Business Day Convention, Day Count Fraction, Interest Period, Interest Rate, Floating Amount, Fixed Amount or Payment Date) as the Counterparty determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Swap Reference Rate with the Replacement Reference Rate (as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread) and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the relevant Swap Transaction before and after the replacement of the Swap Reference Rate with the Replacement Reference Rate (as adjusted by the Adjustment Spread).
- (ii) If the Company receives an Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendment Notice pursuant to Condition 7(h)(ii) and the provisos set out in Condition 7(h)(iii)(1) to (3) (inclusive) are satisfied, the Counterparty and the Company may, without the consent of the Trustee or the Certificateholders or the Couponholders, make such adjustments to the Swap Agreement as are necessary in order to implement the Original Charged Assets Disruption Event Amendments relating to the Swap Agreement.

(d) Regulatory Requirement Amendments

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Regulatory Requirement Event has occurred in respect of a Series, it may notify the Company and the Transaction Parties of any modifications that it determines are required to be made to the Conditions and/or any Transaction Document (except for the Programme Deed) (such amendments, the “Regulatory Requirement Amendments”) in order to cause:

- (i) the transactions contemplated by the Conditions and the Transaction Documents to be compliant with all Relevant Regulatory Laws;
- (ii) the Company and each Transaction Party to be compliant with all Relevant Regulatory Laws; or
- (iii) the Company and each Transaction Party to be able to continue to transact future business (as issuer of Certificates or as a transaction party to the Company pursuant to the Programme) in compliance with all Relevant Regulatory Laws.

If the Company receives such a notice from the Calculation Agent, it shall, without the consent of the Certificateholders or the Couponholders, promptly make the Regulatory Requirement Amendments, provided that:

- (1) no Early Redemption Date has occurred in respect of the Certificates;
- (2) the Regulatory Requirement Amendments will not:
 - (I) amend the dates of maturity or redemption of the Certificates or any date for payment of interest or Interest Amounts on the Certificates;

- (II) reduce or cancel the principal amount of, or any premium payable on redemption of, the Certificates;
 - (III) reduce the rate or rates of interest in respect of the Certificates or vary the method or basis of calculating the rate or rates or amount of interest or the basis for calculating any Interest Amount in respect of the Certificates;
 - (IV) vary any method of, or basis for, calculating the Final Redemption Amount or the Early Redemption Amount;
 - (V) exchange or substitute the Original Charged Assets; or
 - (VI) have a material adverse effect on the validity, legality or enforceability of the Security or on the priority and ranking of the Security;
- (3) the Regulatory Requirement Amendments are agreed to by each party to the affected Transaction Documents (in each case, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) and the Trustee; and
 - (4) the Calculation Agent certifies in writing (such certificate, a “Regulatory Requirement Amendments Certificate”) to the Trustee that (I) the purpose of the Regulatory Requirement Amendments is solely as set out in Conditions 18(d)(i) to 18(d)(iii) and (II) the Regulatory Requirement Amendments satisfy the requirements of paragraph (2) above.

The Trustee may rely, without further enquiry and without liability to any person for so doing, on a Regulatory Requirement Amendments Certificate. Upon receipt of a Regulatory Requirement Amendments Certificate, the Trustee shall agree to the Regulatory Requirement Amendments without seeking the consent of the Certificateholders, the Couponholders or any other party and concur with the Company (at the Company's expense) in effecting the Regulatory Requirement Amendments (including, inter alia, by the execution of a deed supplemental to or amending the Trust Deed), provided that the Trustee shall not be required to agree to the Regulatory Requirement Amendments if, in the opinion of the Trustee (acting reasonably), the Regulatory Requirement Amendments would (x) expose the Trustee to any Related Liabilities against which it has not been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction or (y) impose more onerous obligations upon it or expose it to any additional duties or responsibilities or reduce or amend the protective provisions afforded to the Trustee in the Conditions or any Transaction Document of any Series.

The Company shall, promptly following the Regulatory Requirement Amendments having been made, deliver a notice containing the details of the Regulatory Requirement Amendments to the Certificateholders (in accordance with Condition 17).

Neither the Calculation Agent nor the Trustee shall have any duty to monitor, enquire or satisfy itself as to whether any Regulatory Requirement Event has occurred. The Calculation Agent shall not have any obligation to give, nor any responsibility or liability for giving or not giving, any notice to the Company and the Transaction Parties in respect of a Regulatory Requirement Event, except to the extent caused by the Calculation Agent's own gross negligence, fraud or wilful misconduct.

Any Regulatory Requirement Amendments will be binding on the Company, the Transaction Parties, the Certificateholders and the Couponholders.

(e) Waiver

The Trustee may, without consulting the Certificateholders or Couponholders, determine that an event which would otherwise be an Event of Default shall not be so treated. If the Trustee so determines, the Certificateholders and Couponholders shall not be entitled to rely on any such event as entitling them to give, or to request that the Trustee give, notice to the Company accelerating the Certificates in accordance with Condition 13.

(f) Substitution

Subject to such amendment of the Trust Deed and such other conditions as the Trustee may require including the transfer of the Security, but without the consent of the Certificateholders or Couponholders, the Trustee may (with the consent of any Portfolio Manager, any Counterparty and any Credit Support Provider of any such Counterparty and subject to Rating Agency Affirmation (if applicable)) also agree to the substitution of any other company in place of the Company as principal debtor under the Trust Deed and the Certificates and in place of the Company under the Swap Agreement (if any), the Custody Agreement, any Related Agreement and any agreement forming part of the Outstanding Charged Assets in respect of any one or more Series and to the extent that they relate to the affected Series. In the case of such a substitution, the Trustee may (with the consent of any Portfolio Manager, any Counterparty and any Credit Support Provider of any such Counterparty) agree, without the consent of the Certificateholders or Couponholders, to a change of the law governing the Certificates, the Swap Agreement (if any), the Custody Agreement, the Portfolio Management Agreement (if any), any Related Agreement, any agreement forming part of the Outstanding Charged Assets and/or the Trust Deed, in each case, to the extent they relate to the affected Series unless such change would in the opinion of the Trustee be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Certificateholders. The Trustee, the Portfolio Manager (if any), the Counterparty (if any), any Credit Support Provider of such Counterparty and the Company should use all reasonable efforts to effect a substitution (i) if the Company is required to do so in accordance with the terms of a Swap Agreement (if any), (ii) in the circumstances set out in Condition 10(c), upon the occurrence of a Withholding Tax Event or an Increased Tax Event with respect to the Company, (iii) if the Certificates are not rated, where the rating by any Rating Agency of all or part of the Outstanding Charged Assets or any asset by reference to which amounts payable under the Certificates are linked falls or, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, is likely to fall below investment grade or, where there is no such rating, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent would be below or would be likely to fall below investment grade, were such a rating in force or (iv) if to do so would be likely to avoid a downgrading or lead to an upgrading of the rating(s) of Certificates of any other Series if rated by any rating agency at the request of the Company; provided that, in any such case, such efforts should not result in the Trustee, any Portfolio Manager, any Counterparty, any Credit Support Provider of such Counterparty or the Company incurring irrecoverable costs. Subject to such amendment of the Trust Deed and such other conditions as the Trustee may require, but without the consent of the Certificateholders or Couponholders, the Trustee will also agree (with the consent of the Counterparty (if any) and the Credit Support Provider (if any) of such Counterparty) to the change of the branch or office of any Counterparty or the Custodian (if any) unless such change would, in the opinion of the Trustee, be materially prejudicial to the Certificateholders. Any such substitution may be effected in respect of any one or more Series of Certificates.

(g) Miscellaneous Provisions

In connection with the exercise of its powers, trusts, authorities or discretions (including, but not limited to, those in relation to any proposed modification, waiver, authorisation or substitution as aforesaid) the Trustee shall not have regard to the consequences of such exercise for individual Certificateholders or Couponholders resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory and the Trustee shall not be entitled to require, nor shall any Certificateholders or Couponholders be entitled to claim, from the Company any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequence of any exercise upon individual Certificateholders or Couponholders.

The Trust Deed provides, inter alia, that (a) except where the Conditions specifically state that one meeting of Certificateholders of more than one Series will be held, separate meetings of Certificateholders of each separate Series will normally be held, although the Trustee may from time to time determine that meetings of Certificateholders of each separate Series issued by the Company may be held together; (b) a resolution that in the opinion of the Trustee affects one Series alone shall be deemed to have been duly passed if passed at a separate meeting of the holders of Certificates of the Series concerned; (c) a resolution which in the opinion of the Trustee affects the holders of more than one Series of Certificates issued by the Company but does not give rise to a conflict of interest between the holders of the other Series of Certificates concerned shall be deemed to have been duly passed if passed at a single meeting of the holders of Certificates of all the affected Series provided that, for the purposes of determining the votes that a Certificateholder is entitled to cast, each Certificateholder shall have one vote in respect of each U.S.$1 principal amount of Certificates held, converted, if such Certificates are not denominated in U.S. dollars in the manner specified in the Trust Deed; (d) a resolution that in the opinion of the Trustee affects the holders of more than one Series of Certificates and gives or may give rise to a conflict of interest between the holders of the other Series of Certificates concerned shall be deemed to have been duly passed only if it shall be duly passed at separate meetings of the holders of all the affected Series of Certificates, except where the Conditions specifically state that one meeting of Certificateholders of more than one affected Series will be held; and (e) if the Company proposes to exchange part of an existing Series of Certificates for Certificates of a new Series, only the Certificates to be exchanged shall be deemed to be Certificates of the relevant Series.

In respect of any Series, where such Series is divided into two or more Classes, each such Class shall, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions and subject to the provisions of the Trust Deed, be treated as if it were a distinct and separate Series for the purposes of this Condition 18.

(h) Rights relating to Outstanding Charged Assets

Except where the Conditions expressly so provide, the Company will not exercise any rights or take any action in its capacity as holder of the Outstanding Charged Assets unless directed to do so by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Certificateholders, in each case after prior consultation with the Counterparty (if any) and the Credit Support Provider of such Counterparty, and, if such exercise or action is in the reasonable opinion of any Counterparty and the Credit Support Provider of such Counterparty likely to affect the value of the Outstanding Charged Assets, the Certificates or the Swap Agreement, it shall not be done without the prior written consent of any such Counterparty and the Credit Support Provider of such Counterparty. If such direction is given, the Company will act only in accordance with such direction.

19 Notification to the Trustee

The Company shall provide written confirmation to the Trustee on an annual basis or following a request by the Trustee at any time that no Event of Default or other matter which is required to be brought to the Trustee's attention has occurred.

20 Indemnification of the Trustee

The Trust Deed contains provisions for the indemnification of the Trustee and for its relief from responsibility, including provisions relieving it from taking proceedings to enforce repayment or taking any step or action under the Trust Deed unless indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all Related Liabilities or from taking any other action under the Trust Deed which may involve the Trustee in any personal liability or expense. The Trustee and any Affiliate of the Trustee is entitled to enter into business transactions with the Company, any Custodian, any Counterparty, any Portfolio Manager or any of their respective Affiliates without accounting to the Certificateholders or Couponholders for profit resulting therefrom.

The Trustee will not be liable for any failure to make the usual investigations which might be made by a chargee in relation to the Security for the Certificates nor will it have any liability for its enforceability, provided that if the Trustee fails to show the degree of care and diligence required of it as trustee nothing in the Trust Deed shall relieve or indemnify it from or against any liability which would otherwise attach to it in respect of any negligence, fraud or wilful default in relation to its duties under the Trust Deed. The Trustee has no responsibility for the value of the Security.

21 Further Issues

Subject to Condition 5 and the provisions of the Trust Deed, the Company may from time to time without the consent of the Certificateholders or Couponholders create and issue further securities under its Programme having the same terms and conditions as the Certificates in all respects (or in all respects except for the first payment of interest on them) and so that such further issue shall be consolidated and form a single Series with the certificates of any Series (including the Certificates) provided that (a) if such Certificates are to be sold in the United States (1) such further issue of Certificates will be accorded the same tax characterisation for U.S. federal income tax purposes as the original Certificates of such Series, (2) such further issue of Certificates will either (x) be part of the same issue as the original Certificates for purposes of Sections 1271 to 1275 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code or (y) the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of such further issue will not differ in any material respect from that applicable to the original issue of Certificates of such Series, (b) in the cases of Certificates of a Series originally issued in more than one Class, additional Certificates of each Class are issued in the same proportion as in the original issuance and (c) the Original Charged Assets in respect of such further Certificates will be rated no lower than the highest rating of the Outstanding Charged Assets or Company Posted Collateral in respect of the original Certificates, to the extent that any such Outstanding Charged Assets or Company Posted Collateral are rated, as at the date of issue of such further certificates but shall not otherwise be required to be identical to, or fungible with, such Outstanding Charged Assets or Company Posted Collateral or to be issued by the same Underlying Obligor. In connection with such a further issue, the Company may, with the consent of the Counterparty but without the consent of Certificateholders or Couponholders or any other person, amend the Swap Agreement with respect to the relevant Series to reflect the addition of the Original Charged Assets in respect of such further Certificates, subject always to the requirement that the purpose and effect of such amendment is to ensure that the Company's payment obligations thereunder match any amounts receivable by the Company under the aggregate Outstanding Charged Assets for the Series or ensure that the Counterparty's payment obligations thereunder match any amounts payable by the Company in respect of the Certificates and other liabilities. In the case of Certificates which are then rated at the request of the Company, the Company shall notify (or procure notification of) each Rating Agency that then rates the Certificates of any such proposed issuance not later than seven calendar days prior to the issue date thereof. If one or more of such Rating Agencies notifies or indicates to the Company that such issuance would result in the then current rating of the Certificates being adversely affected or withdrawn then the Company shall not proceed with such issuance. In addition, the Company may, subject, if any of the Certificates are then rated at the request of the Company, to Rating Agency Affirmation, and to any rating agency affirmation required in respect of any other Obligations issued or entered into by the Company, create and issue further securities or enter into other Obligations under this Programme upon such terms as the Company may determine at the time of their issue or creation. The total aggregate principal amount of Certificates or other Obligations outstanding at any time issued or entered into by any individual Company shall not exceed the limit (if any) agreed between the Company, the Arranger and the Dealers (or its equivalent in any other currency or currencies at spot rates at the time of issue of such further securities). References in these Conditions to the Certificates and to Outstanding Charged Assets and Company Posted Collateral include (unless the context requires otherwise) any other securities issued pursuant to this Condition and forming a single Series with the Certificates and the assets securing such securities respectively.

In the case of Certificates which are then rated at the request of the Company, the Company shall notify the relevant Rating Agency of any further issue of securities in accordance with this Condition.

(a) Withholding or deductions on Payments in respect of the Certificates

All payments in respect of the Certificates will be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties or charges of whatsoever nature unless the Company or any Paying Agent is required by applicable law to make any such payment in respect of the Certificates subject to any withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties or charges of whatsoever nature. In that event, the Company or such Paying Agent (as the case may be) shall make such payment after such withholding or deduction has been made and shall account to the relevant authorities for the amount so required to be withheld or deducted. None of the Company, the Trustee, any Paying Agent will be obliged to make any additional payments to holders of Certificates in respect of such withholding or deduction. For the purposes of this Condition 22(a), any withholding required by an Information Reporting Regime shall be deemed to be required by applicable law.

(b) Provision of Information

Each Certificateholder, Couponholder and beneficial owner of Certificates shall, within ten Payment Business Days of the Company delivering a request (in accordance with Condition 17) or receipt of a request from any agent acting on behalf of the Company, supply to the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company such forms, documentation and other information relating to such Certificateholder's, Couponholder's or beneficial owner's status under any applicable law (including, without limitation, any Information Reporting Regime or any agreement entered into by the Company pursuant thereto) as the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company reasonably requests for the purposes of the Company's or such agent's compliance with such law or agreement and such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner shall notify the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company (as applicable) reasonably promptly if it becomes aware that any of the forms, documentation or other information provided by such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner is (or becomes) inaccurate in any material respect; provided, however, that no Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner shall be required to provide any forms, documentation or other information pursuant to this Condition 22 to the extent that:

- (i) any such form, documentation or other information (or the information required to be provided on such form or documentation) is not reasonably available to such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner and cannot be obtained by such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner using reasonable efforts; or
- (ii) doing so would or might in the reasonable opinion of such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner constitute a breach of any (A) applicable law, (B) fiduciary duty or (C) duty of confidentiality, and, in each case, such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner promptly provides written notice to the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company (as applicable) stating that it is unable to comply with the Company's and/or such agent's request and the reason for such inability to comply.

The Company and its duly authorised agents and delegates may disclose the forms, documentation and other information provided to the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company (as applicable) pursuant to this Condition 22(b) to any taxation or other governmental authority.

Each Certificateholder, Couponholder and beneficial owner of the Certificates further agrees and consents that, in respect of applicable Information Reporting Regimes, the Company may, but is not obliged and owes no duty to any person to, (i) comply with the terms of any intergovernmental agreement between the U.S. and another jurisdiction with respect to FATCA or any legislation implementing such an intergovernmental agreement, (ii) enter into an agreement with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service or (iii) comply with other legislation or agreements under an applicable Information Reporting Regime, in each case, in such form as may be required to avoid the imposition of withholding on payments made to the Company, or fines or penalties that would be suffered by the Company, under an applicable Information Reporting Regime.

In connection therewith, the Company may without the consent of Certificateholders, Couponholders, any beneficial owner or the Trustee make such amendments to the Certificates, the Swap Agreement and any other Transaction Document as are necessary to enable the Company to enter into, or comply with the terms of, any such agreement or legislation, provided that such amendments are agreed to by each other party to the affected Transaction Documents. Any such amendment will be binding on the Certificateholders and Couponholders. For the avoidance of doubt, this right of the Company is separate from, and does not require any agreement from the Trustee under, Condition 18(b).

Payments made or deemed made or accrued on U.S. Withholding Certificates will be treated as subject to U.S. withholding tax to the extent they would have been so subject if the Certificates had been issued by a U.S. Person. For the purposes of Condition 22(a), any U.S. withholding tax required on such payments as a result of such treatment shall be deemed to be required by applicable law.

U.S. Withholding Certificates may be issued solely as Registered Certificates. If a substitution or change in the composition of the Outstanding Assets for a Series occurs (whether pursuant to Condition 4(i) or as a result of a delivery pursuant to the Swap Agreement for the Series) in respect of a U.S. Withholding Certificate, the Certificate will be treated as if newly issued for purposes of this Condition 22.

Without prejudice to Condition 22(b), and in order to mitigate the risk of U.S. withholding tax applying with respect to U.S. Withholding Certificates, each Certificateholder, Couponholder and beneficial owner of U.S. Withholding Certificates shall supply to the applicable withholding agent, which may include the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company or any intermediary through which a Certificate is held, a properly completed IRS Form W-9 or IRS Form W-8 or other documentation that will allow the withholding agent to make payments on the Certificates without any deduction or withholding for or on account of any U.S. withholding tax imposed under Sections 871 or 881 (other than Section 871(m)) or Section 3406 (relating to backup withholding), or any successor provisions, of the Code, and such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner shall reasonably promptly (i) notify the applicable withholding agent if it becomes aware that any of the forms, documentation or other information provided by such Certificateholder, Couponholder or beneficial owner is (or becomes) inaccurate in any material respect and (ii) provide a replacement form or other documentation or information.

23 Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Certificates under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

24 Governing Law

The Certificates, Receipts, Coupons and Talons, and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Certificates, Receipts, Coupons and Talons, are governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of England. The Company has in the Trust Deed submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts for all purposes in connection with the Certificates, Receipts, Coupons and Talons. The Company has irrevocably appointed the party specified as process agent in the Pricing Conditions for the Certificates as its agent in England to receive service of process in any proceedings in England based on any of the Certificates, Receipts, Coupons or Talons.

In these Conditions:

“2006 ISDA Definitions” means the 2006 ISDA Definitions, as published by ISDA, and, in respect of each Series, as amended and supplemented up to and including the Initial Reference Date of the first Tranche of such Series, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions.

of any changes made to the Swap Agreement as a consequence of the replacement under the Certificates of the Reference Rate with the Replacement Reference Rate; and

- (iii) reflect any gains, losses, expenses and costs that have been or will be incurred by the Counterparty as a result of entering into, amending, maintaining and/or unwinding the Swap Transaction or any transactions to hedge the Counterparty's obligations under the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement to remove any difference between the cash flows under the Certificates, the Swap Transaction and/or any transactions in place to hedge the Counterparty's obligations under the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement which have resulted following the occurrence of a Reference Rate Event.

Any such adjustment may take account of, without limitation, any transfer of economic value as a result of any difference in the term structure or tenor of the Replacement Reference Rate by comparison to the Reference Rate. SCHEDULE 2

REFERENCE SHARE LINKED PROVISIONS

1 Consequences of Disrupted Days

If the Calculation Agent determines that any Valuation Date is a Disrupted Day, then:

- (a) the Valuation Date for each Reference Share which the Calculation Agent determines is not affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Valuation Date; and
- (b) the Valuation Date for each Reference Share which the Calculation Agent determines is affected by the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that the Calculation Agent determines is not a Disrupted Day relating to that Reference Share, unless the Calculation Agent determines that each of the consecutive Scheduled Trading Days equal in number to the Maximum Days of Disruption immediately following the Scheduled Valuation Date is a Disrupted Day relating to that Reference Share. In that case:
 - (i) the last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date for the relevant Reference Share, notwithstanding the fact that such day is a Disrupted Day; and
 - (ii) the Calculation Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for such Reference Share as of the Valuation Time on that last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day, and such determination by the Calculation Agent pursuant to this paragraph (ii) shall be deemed to be the Closing Reference Share Price in respect of the Valuation Date.

2 Correction of prices

In the event that any price published on the Exchange on any date which is utilised for any calculation or determination in connection with the Reference Shares is subsequently corrected and the correction is published by the Exchange by the earlier of:

- (a) one Settlement Cycle after the original publication; and
- (b) the second Business Day prior to the next date on which any relevant payment may have to be made by the Company or in respect of which any relevant determination in respect of the Certificates may have to be made, the Calculation Agent may determine the amount that is payable or deliverable or make any determination in connection with the Certificates after taking into account such correction, and, to the extent necessary, may adjust any relevant terms of the Certificates to account for such correction.

Upon making any such determination or adjustment, as applicable, to take into account any such correction, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Certificateholders (with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent and the Custodian) stating the determination or adjustment, as applicable, to any amount payable or deliverable under the Certificates and/or any of the other relevant terms and giving brief details of the determination or adjustment, as applicable, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of such determination or adjustment, as applicable, or any action taken.

3 Consequences of Potential Adjustment Events

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Potential Adjustment Event has occurred in respect of a Reference Share, the Calculation Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Reference Shares and, if so, the Calculation Agent will (i) make the corresponding adjustment(s), if any, to one or more of any variable relevant to the payment or other terms of the Certificates as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relative to the relevant Reference Share) and (ii) determine the effective date(s) of the adjustment(s). The Calculation Agent may (but need not) determine the appropriate adjustment(s) by reference to the adjustment(s) in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by an options exchange to options on the relevant Reference Shares traded on such options exchange.

Upon making any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Certificateholders (with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent and the Custodian) stating the adjustment to any amount payable under the Certificates and/or any of the other relevant terms and giving brief details of the Potential Adjustment Event, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the Potential Adjustment Event or any action taken.

4 Consequences of Extraordinary Events for a Reference Share

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Merger Event, a Tender Offer, a Nationalisation, an Insolvency or a Delisting has occurred in respect of a Reference Share, then, on or after the relevant Merger Date, Tender Offer Date or Announcement Date, as the case may be, the Calculation Agent may in its discretion either:

- (a)
 - (i) make such adjustment to the payment or any other terms of the Certificates as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting, as the case may be (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the Reference Shares or to the Certificates), which may, but need not, be determined by reference to the adjustment(s) made in respect of such Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting, as the case may be, by an options exchange to options on the relevant Reference Shares traded on such options exchange; and
 - (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment (but, in the case of a Tender Offer, the Reference Share Issuer and the Reference Share will not change); or
- (b) the Calculation Agent may select a new underlying Reference Share (in respect of the relevant Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting, as the case may be, the "Replacement Reference Share"), which Replacement Reference Share will be deemed to be a Reference Share in place of the Reference Share which has been replaced by the Calculation Agent following such Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting, as the case may be (and the Reference Share Issuer of the Replacement Reference Share will replace the Reference Share Issuer of the replaced Reference Share), and the Calculation Agent may make such adjustment to the payment or any other terms of the Certificates as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of the Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting, as the case may be, and/or the replacement of the replaced Reference Share by the Replacement Reference Share (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the Reference Shares or to the Certificates). Any Replacement Reference Share will, to the extent practicable, be selected from the same industry, have Reference Shares denominated in the same currency and have a similar market capitalisation to the relevant replaced Reference Share.

Upon making any such adjustment to the terms of the Certificates under (a) or (b) above or selecting a Replacement Reference Share under (b) above, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Certificateholders (with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent and the Custodian) stating the adjustment to any amount payable under the Certificates or the Replacement Reference Share and/or any of the other relevant terms and giving brief details of the Extraordinary Event in respect of the Reference Share, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the Extraordinary Event or any action taken; or

- (c) if the Calculation Agent determines that no adjustment that it could make under (a) or (if applicable) (b) will produce a commercially reasonable result, then it shall notify the same to the Company as soon as reasonably practicable, following which the Company shall notify the Certificateholders of such fact (including a description of the facts relevant to such occurrence in reasonable detail and with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent and the Custodian) and the Company shall redeem all the Certificates (but not some only) at the Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date and there will be no separate payment of any unpaid accrued interest thereon. Notice of any such redemption shall be given to the Certificateholders (and copied to the Principal Paying Agent) in accordance with Condition 17 as soon as practicable and in any event, no later than the fifth Business Day prior to the Early Redemption Date.

5 Consequences of Additional Disruption Events

If the Calculation Agent determines that an Additional Disruption Event has occurred, then the Calculation Agent shall,

- (a) make such adjustment to the payment or any other terms of the Certificates as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for the economic effect on the Certificates of such Additional Disruption Events (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the Reference Shares or to the Certificates). Upon making any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Certificateholders (with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty and the Custodian) stating the adjustment to any amount payable under the Certificates and/or any of the other relevant terms and giving brief details of the Additional Disruption Event, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the Additional Disruption Event or any action taken; or
- (b) notify the same to the Company as soon as reasonably practicable, following which the Company shall notify the Certificateholders of such fact (including a description of the facts relevant to such occurrence in reasonable detail and with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent, and the Custodian) and the Company shall redeem all the Certificates (but not some only) at the Early Redemption Amount on the Early Redemption Date, and which shall be the only amount payable in respect of such Certificates and there will be no separate payments of any unpaid accrued interest thereon. Notice of any such redemption shall be given to Certificateholders (and copied to the Principal Paying Agent) in accordance with Condition 17 as soon as practicable and in any event, no later than fifth Business Day prior to the Early Redemption Date.

Upon making any such adjustment in accordance with sub-paragraph (b) above, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Certificateholders (with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Calculation Agent and the Custodian) stating the adjustment to any amount payable under the Certificates and/or any of the other relevant terms and giving brief details of the Additional Disruption Event, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the Additional Disruption Event or any action taken.

(iv) Operational failures

- (A) Change in Manager and/or Service Providers: The Calculation Agent determines that (I) the Management Company of the Fund or any Fund Service Provider of the Fund resigns, has its appointment terminated or is otherwise replaced, (II) the Fund, the Management Company of the Fund or any of the relevant Fund Service Providers has experienced or is experiencing or will experience a material adverse change in its business, assets, operations or financial condition, (III) the Management Company of the Fund or any Fund Service Provider of a Fund has breached any term of any contract between such Fund and its Management Company or any of its Fund Service Provider (as applicable), or (IV) that any contract between the Fund and its Management Company or any of its Fund Service Providers (as applicable) terminates or is otherwise not renewed or replaced, and the Calculation Agent further determines, in its discretion, that such occurrence could have an adverse economic impact on the Fund.

- (B) Operational Failures: the Calculation Agent determines that the operation or organisation of the Fund, the Management Company of the Fund, or any applicable Fund Service Provider of the Fund (including, without limitation, its organisational structure and its procedures, processes or policies in respect of investment selection, due diligence, asset allocation, risk management or investment monitoring) has changed from that as at the Fund Determination Date, or that any such procedures, processes or policies are either not being applied or are not being applied consistently with their application on the Fund Determination Date, where such change has, in the determination of the Calculation Agent, a material effect on the Certificates and such changes are not rectified to the satisfaction of the Calculation Agent within five Business Days.
- (C) Reporting Failures: there occurs any failure of the Fund, the Management Company of the Fund or any Fund Service Provider of the Fund to deliver or cause to be delivered to the Hypothetical Investor any information (I) that it is normal practice to deliver or (II) which the Calculation Agent deems necessary for any determinations, including but not be limited to, determinations in respect of the occurrence of any Fund Event or in the execution of its and the Company's duties and obligations with respect to the Certificates, cause to be delivered to any Fund Shareholder or the Hypothetical Investor on or before the time specified in the Fund Offering Documents of such Fund, and such breach is not cured within five Business Days or, if none, within a reasonable time, as determined by the Calculation Agent.

- (B) Regulatory Constraints: the Calculation Agent determines that the Hypothetical Investor is or may in the future be unable, or that it is or may become impractical or difficult for the Hypothetical Investor to perform any obligation imposed on the Hypothetical Investor by any law, rule, regulation or interpretation thereof by any governmental, regulatory or administrative body or authority or court or stock exchange, in each case of competent authority including, without limitation and by way of example only, any reporting or accounting obligation, due to its investment in the Underlying Fund Shares of the Fund.

Level of collateralisation:	The principal amount of the Underlying Fund Shares held by the Company in respect of the Certificates will be an amount such that the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of such Underlying Fund Shares payable on their scheduled maturity date is expected to be no less than the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates. The level of collateralisation provided by the Underlying Fund Shares will be sufficient to fund the final redemption amount payable in respect of the Certificates on their scheduled maturity date, even if such aggregate redemption amount in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares, in practice, is less than the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates. This is because, the final redemption amount in respect of the Certificates actually payable in practice is linked to the extent of the redemption proceeds of the Underlying Fund Shares. Therefore, if the aggregate redemption amount in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares is less than expected, then there will be a corresponding reduction in Certificateholders' claims in respect of the final redemption amount in respect of the Certificates and the final redemption amount payable in respect of the Certificates will be less than the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates. Interest Amounts payable on the Certificates will not, however, be funded by the Underlying Fund Shares or any payments in respect thereon, but such Interest Amounts will be funded by the amounts payable by the Swap Counterparty to the Company under the Swap Agreement. IRISH COMPANY TAXATION

The following is a summary of certain Irish tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Certificates. The summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of the Certificates. The summary relates only to the position of persons who are the absolute beneficial owners of the Certificates and may not apply to certain other classes of persons such as dealers in securities.

The summary is based upon Irish tax laws and the practice of the Irish Revenue Commissioners as in effect on the date of this Prospectus, which are subject to prospective or retroactive change. The summary does not constitute tax or legal advice and the comments below are of a general nature only. Prospective investors in the Certificates should consult their own advisers as to the Irish or other tax consequences of the purchase, beneficial ownership and disposition of the Certificates including, in particular, the effect of any state or local tax laws.

Income Tax

In general, persons who are resident in Ireland are liable to Irish taxation on their world-wide income whereas persons who are not resident in Ireland are only liable to Irish taxation on their Irish source income. All persons are under a statutory obligation to account for Irish taxation on a self-assessment basis and there is no requirement for the Irish Revenue Commissioners to issue or raise an assessment.

A Certificate issued by the Company may be regarded as property situate in Ireland (and hence Irish source income) on the grounds that a debt is deemed to be situate where the debtor resides. However, the interest earned on the Certificates is exempt from income tax if paid to a person who is not a resident of Ireland and who for the purposes of Section 198 of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997 (as amended) ("TCA 1997") is regarded as being a resident of a relevant territory. A relevant territory for this purpose is a Member State of the European Communities (other than Ireland) or not being such a Member State a territory with which Ireland has entered into a double tax treaty that has the force of law or, on completion of the necessary procedures, will have the force of law and such double tax treaty contains an article dealing with interest or income from debt claims. A list of the countries with which Ireland has entered into a double tax treaty is available on www.revenue.ie.

Relief from Irish income tax may also be available under other exemptions contained in Irish tax legislation or under the specific provisions of a double tax treaty between Ireland and the country of residence of the holder of the Certificates.

If the above exemptions do not apply it is understood that there is a long standing unpublished practice whereby no action will be taken to pursue any liability to such Irish tax in respect of persons who are regarded as not being resident in Ireland except where such persons:

- (a) are chargeable in the name of a person (including a trustee) or in the name of an agent or branch in Ireland having the management or control of the interest; or
- (b) seek to claim relief and/or repayment of tax deducted at source in respect of taxed income from Irish sources; or
- (c) are chargeable to Irish corporation tax on the income of an Irish branch or agency or to income tax on the profits of a trade carried on in Ireland to which the interest is attributable.

There can be no assurance that this practice will continue to apply.

Withholding Taxes

In general, withholding tax (currently at the rate of 20 per cent.) must be deducted from interest payments made by an Irish company. However, Section 246 TCA 1997 ("Section 246") provides that this general obligation to withhold tax does not apply in respect of, inter alia, interest payments made by the Company to a person, who by virtue of the law of the relevant territory, is resident for the purposes of tax in a relevant territory (see above for details). This exemption does not apply if the interest is paid to a company in connection with a trade or business which is carried on in Ireland by the company through a branch or agency.

Apart from Section 246, Section 64 TCA 1997 ("Section 64") provides for the payment of interest on a "quoted Eurobond" without deduction of tax in certain circumstances. A quoted Eurobond is defined in Section 64 as a security which:

- (i) is issued by a company;
- (ii) is quoted on a recognised stock exchange (this term is not defined but is understood to mean an exchange which is recognised in the country in which it is established, such as Euronext Dublin); and
- (iii) carries a right to interest.

There is no obligation to withhold tax on quoted Eurobonds where:

- (a) the person by or through whom the payment is made is not in Ireland; or
- (b) the payment is made by or through a person in Ireland; and
 - (i) the quoted Eurobond is held in a recognised clearing system (Euroclear, Clearstream Banking SA, Clearstream Banking AG and the Depository Trust Company of New York have, amongst others, been designated as recognised clearing systems); or
 - (ii) the person who is the beneficial owner of the quoted Eurobond and who is beneficially entitled to the interest is not resident in Ireland and has made an appropriate written declaration to this effect.

Ireland has introduced new legislation which will apply from 1 April 2024 which extends Ireland's withholding tax rules to interest payable by an Irish taxpayer to an 'associated' entity which is established in certain 'blacklisted', 'no-tax' or 'zero-tax' jurisdictions which are on the EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions, subject to certain exemptions. Irish withholding tax is extended to apply to 'quoted Eurobonds' which are held by 'associated' entities. Assuming the Certificateholders are not 'associated' entities, the Certificateholders should not be subject to withholding tax under these new rules.

In certain circumstances, Irish encashment tax may be required to be withheld (currently at the rate of 25 per cent.) from interest on any Certificate, where such interest is collected by a person in Ireland on behalf of any holder of Certificates.

Capital Gains Tax

A Certificateholder will not be subject to Irish taxes on capital gains provided that such Certificateholder is neither resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland and such Certificateholder does not have an enterprise, or an interest in an enterprise, which carries on business in Ireland through a branch or agency or a permanent representative to which or to whom the Certificates are attributable.

Capital Acquisitions Tax

If the Certificates are comprised in a gift or inheritance taken from an Irish domiciled, resident or ordinarily resident disponent or if the donee/successor is resident or ordinarily resident in Ireland, or if any of the Certificates are regarded as property situate in Ireland, the donee/successor may be liable to Irish capital acquisitions tax. As a result, a donee/successor may be liable to Irish capital acquisitions tax, even though neither the disponent nor the donee/successor may be domiciled, resident or ordinarily resident in Ireland at the relevant time.

Stamp Duty

For as long as the Company is a qualifying company within the meaning of Section 110 TCA 1997, no Irish stamp duty will be payable on either the issue or transfer of the Certificates, provided that the money raised by the issue of the Certificates is used in the course of the Company's business.

Consolidated financial statements

By purchasing any Certificates, the Certificateholder agrees to notify the Company if it: (i) does not prepare financial statements under an Acceptable Financial Accounting Standard; (ii) will consolidate the Company in consolidated financial statements prepared under international accounting standards, Irish generally accepted accounting practice or any other Acceptable Financial Accounting Standard; or (iii) would consolidate the Company if any such financial statements were prepared under international accounting standards; and, in either case of (ii) or (iii) the Company is not excluded from such consolidated financial statements solely based on its small size, on the grounds of materiality, or on the grounds that it is held for sale. For the purposes hereof, "Acceptable Financial Accounting Standard" means International Financial Reporting Standards (as adopted by the European Union pursuant to Regulation (EC) No. 1606/2002 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 19 July 2002 on the application of international accounting standards) and the generally accepted accounting principles of Australia, Brazil, Canada, an EU Member State, an EEA state, Hong-Kong (China), Japan, Mexico, New-Zealand, the People's Republic of China, the Republic of India, the Republic of Korea, Russia, Singapore, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States of America.

THE SWAP AGREEMENT

General

The Counterparty shall be JPMSE.

The Swap Agreement will be documented by a confirmation entered into pursuant to the Master Swap Agreement. The Master Swap Agreement incorporates the terms of the 1992 ISDA Master Agreement (Multicurrency – Cross Border) as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. (formerly the International Swap Dealers Association, Inc.) (“ISDA”) (but amended to reflect the provisions described below). The confirmation incorporates the 2006 ISDA Definitions and will set out the payment provisions described below.

The Company and the relevant Counterparty, by execution of the Confirmation in respect of the Swap Transaction relating to the Certificates, will be deemed to enter into a credit support annex under the Master Swap Agreement in the form of the ISDA 2016 Credit Support Annex for Variation Margin (VM) Copyright © 2016 by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. but which relates only to such Series (the “Credit Support Annex”) (subject to the elections and variables agreed between them). The Credit Support Annex will form part of the Swap Agreement.

The Swap Agreement, and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with it, will be governed by the laws of England.

Except as provided in the Trust Deed, the terms of the Swap Agreement may not be amended without the consent of the Trustee. The Trustee can agree, without the consent of the Certificateholders or the holders of Coupons, Receipts and Talons, to any modification of the Swap Agreement which is in the opinion of the Trustee of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error.

Set out below are summaries of certain provisions of the Swap Agreement. Such summaries are qualified in their entirety by the terms of the Swap Agreement.

Payments

The Swap Agreement sets out certain payments to be made from the Company to the Counterparty and vice versa.

Under the Swap Agreement, the Company will make an initial payment to the Counterparty funded from a portion of the proceeds of issue of the Certificates. In return, the Counterparty shall pay the Company amounts equal to (i) the aggregate Interest Amounts that are payable by the Company (if any) in respect of the Certificates on each Specified Interest Payment Date and (ii) for expenses incurred by the Company in connection with the Certificates, including Agent’s fees and expenses.

The payment of interest amounts by the Company in respect of any Interest Accrual Period is conditional on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. If the value of the Worst Performing Reference Share, determined by dividing the closing price of such Reference Share on the relevant Valuation Date by the initial price of such Reference Share on the Initial Valuation Date, is less than the Barrier Level, investors will not receive any interest payment in respect of such Interest Accrual Period. Under the Swap Agreement, the Counterparty will be obliged to pay the Company amounts equal to the aggregate Interest Amounts that are payable by the Company (if any) in respect of the Certificates in respect of any Interest Accrual Period. The payments required by the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement are designed to ensure that following the making of such payments the Company will have such funds, as are necessary to make payments of any Interest Amounts due in respect of the related Certificates.

The Company agrees that the Swap Agreement and any confirmation relating to a Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement shall be amended (and the Company represents and agrees that such amendment may be made without the prior consent of the Trustee) where such amendment is made solely for the purpose of matching a party's obligations under the Swap Agreement to the payments required to be made under the Certificates or scheduled to be made under the Underlying Fund Shares, subject, if the Certificates are subsequently rated at the request of the Company, to Rating Agency Affirmation.

Events of Default

The Swap Agreement provides for certain “Events of Default” relating to the Company and the Counterparty, the occurrence of which may lead to a termination of the Swap Agreement.

The “Events of Default” (as defined in the Swap Agreement) which relate to the Company are limited to:

- (i) failure by the Company to make, when due, any payment or delivery under the Swap Agreement required to be made by it if not remedied within the time period specified therein;
- (ii) any event specified under (a) to (d) below, if (where capable of remedy) such event continues unremedied for a period of 45 days after notice of such event is given to the Company or (if earlier) until a day which falls 14 days before any payment date in respect of the Charged Assets:
 - (a) except where the Conditions expressly provide, the Company exercising any rights or taking any action in its capacity as holder of the Underlying Fund Shares without having been directed to do so by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Certificateholders (or acting otherwise than in accordance with any such direction) and, if such exercise is in the reasonable opinion of the Counterparty likely to affect the value of the Underlying Fund Shares, the Certificates or the Swap Agreement, without the prior written consent of the Counterparty;
 - (b) except where there is an Event of Default relating to the Counterparty or certain Termination Events relating to the Counterparty, the Company permitting any amendment to be made to the Custody Agreement or any other agreement relating to the Charged Assets or agreeing to dispose of or alter the composition of the Charged Assets except in accordance with the provisions of the Certificates or the Company terminating the appointment of the Custodian otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of the Custody Agreement, in each case without the Counterparty's consent where required;
 - (c) failure by the Company to act in accordance with the instructions of the Trustee in relation to the Swap Agreement, or the Company designating an “Early Termination Date” (as defined in the Swap Agreement) under the Swap Agreement without the prior written consent of the Trustee (except in the case of an Illegality (as defined below) or where deemed to do so in connection with an early redemption of the Certificates); or
 - (d) failure to make such declarations and reports, or to execute such certificates, forms or other documents as are necessary (other than under FATCA) in order to make a claim under a double taxation treaty or other exemption available to it in order to receive payments in full in respect of the Charged Assets (provided that it shall only be required to take such actions where such filing or execution or reporting will not involve any material expense and is not unduly onerous, or such reporting requirement does not involve any material expense and is not unduly onerous);
- (iii) failure by the Company to comply with any of its undertakings set out in the Swap Agreement; and

- (iv) certain bankruptcy events relating to the Company.

The “Events of Default” (as defined in the Swap Agreement) which relate to the Counterparty are limited to:

- (i) failure by the Counterparty to make, when due, any payment or delivery under the Swap Agreement required to be made by it if not remedied within the time period specified therein;
- (ii) failure by the Counterparty to comply with any of its undertakings set out in a confirmation entered into under the Swap Agreement;
- (iii) certain merger without assumption events with respect to the Counterparty; and
- (iv) certain bankruptcy events relating to the Counterparty.

The bankruptcy events referred to above with respect to the Company or the Counterparty include, the relevant party (1) is dissolved (other than pursuant to a consolidation, amalgamation or merger); (2) becomes insolvent or is unable to pay its debts or fails or admits in writing its inability generally to pay its debts as they become due; (3) makes a general assignment, arrangement or composition with or for the benefit of its creditors; (4) institutes or has instituted against it a proceeding seeking a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or any other relief under any bankruptcy or insolvency law or other similar law affecting creditors' rights, or a petition is presented for its winding-up or liquidation, and, in the case of any such proceeding or petition instituted or presented against it, such proceeding or petition (A) results in a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or the entry of an order for relief or the making of an order for its winding-up or liquidation or (B) is not dismissed, discharged, stayed or restrained in each case within 30 days of the institution or presentation thereof; (5) has a resolution passed for its winding-up official management or liquidation (other than pursuant to a consolidation, amalgamation or merger); (6) seeks or becomes subject to the appointment of an administrator, provisional liquidator, conservator, receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for all or substantially all its assets; (7) has a secured party take possession of all or substantially all its assets or has a distress, execution, attachment, sequestration or other legal process levied, enforced or sued on or against all or substantially all its assets and such secured party maintains possession, or any such process is not dismissed, discharged, stayed or restrained, in each case within 30 days thereafter; (8) causes or is subject to any event with respect to it which, under the applicable laws of any jurisdiction, has an analogous effect to any of the events specified in clauses (1) to (7) (inclusive); or (9) takes any action in furtherance of, or indicating its consent to, approval of, or acquiescence in, any of the foregoing acts.

Where there is an Event of Default in respect of the Counterparty, the calculation agent under the Swap Agreement will be the Calculation Agent in respect of the Certificates.

Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default under the Swap Agreement, the non-defaulting party may terminate the Swap Transactions under the Swap Agreement, although the Company may only do so if it is acting on the instructions of the Trustee.

In addition, where the Counterparty is the defaulting party, in the case of the Event of Default in respect of the Counterparty described in (iv) above, where the Company has not within 30 calendar days of the occurrence of such Event of Default exercised its right to terminate the Swap Transaction in connection therewith, the Counterparty may, in accordance with the other provisions of the Swap Agreement, designate a day as an Early Termination Date in respect of the outstanding Swap Transaction.

Any Termination Payment (as defined below) in respect of an Event of Default will generally be due on the Early Redemption Date determined in accordance with the Conditions.

Termination Events

The Swap Agreement provides for certain “Termination Events” the occurrence of any of which may lead to termination of the Swap Transactions under the Swap Agreement. The Company may only terminate such Swap Transaction if it is acting on the instructions of the Trustee (except in the case of an Illegality (as defined below)) or on the basis of a deemed notice of termination if the related event under the Conditions results in the Certificates being declared due and repayable in accordance with Condition 13 or being due to redeem in accordance with Condition 10(c), Condition 10(d) or Condition 10(e).

Any Termination Payment (as defined below) in respect of a Termination Event will generally be due on the Early Redemption Date determined in accordance with the Conditions save for where such termination was triggered after the Maturity Date of the Certificates, in which instance the Termination Payment will generally be due on the Post-Maturity Initial Application Date.

Illegality

A Termination Event is triggered where, due to an event or circumstance, it becomes unlawful, or would be unlawful under any applicable law: for a party to perform any obligation to make, or receive, a payment or delivery with respect to the Swap Agreement or to comply with any other material provision of the Swap Agreement or any such payment, delivery, receipt of payment or delivery or compliance would require or result in any affiliate of such party being in violation of applicable law or regulation (an “Illegality”).

Upon notice being given of the occurrence of any such Illegality under the Swap Agreement, the Swap Agreement generally requires the Affected Party (as defined in the Swap Agreement) to use all reasonable efforts to transfer the Swap Agreement within 20 days to another one of its offices or any Affiliate of JPMSE (in the case only where the Counterparty is the Affected Party) or to another entity provided that such Affiliate or any credit support provider thereto has a rating not less than the relevant transferor (in the case only where the Company is the Affected Party), in each case subject to the prior written consent of the other party and the Trustee, so that such Illegality ceases to exist, although there is no assurance that such transfer can be made to cure such Illegality. If such transfer cannot be effected within 20 days, the relevant party will give notice to the other party, which may then effect a transfer within 30 days of the original notification of the Illegality. Where the Company and the Counterparty are each Affected Parties, the Swap Agreement generally requires the parties to use all reasonable efforts to reach an agreement within 30 days of the original notification of the Illegality on action to avoid such Illegality. If such transfer by either party or such action, as the case may be, cannot be effected within such 30-day period so that such Illegality ceases to exist, the Counterparty or the Company may elect to terminate the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement. In any event, any transfer to avoid a Termination Event or any other action to avoid a Termination Event shall be subject, if the Certificates are subsequently rated at the request of the Company, to Rating Agency Affirmation.

Tax Event and Tax Event upon Merger

If payments by the Counterparty are subject to withholding under any applicable law in respect of any Indemnifiable Tax (which term is defined in the Swap Agreement to exclude any tax which would not be imposed but for a connection between the relevant party and the jurisdiction of taxation, any tax imposed on a “dividend equivalent” payment as defined in Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, and any tax withheld on account of FATCA), the Counterparty generally is obliged to gross up its payment obligations such that the net amount actually received by the Company would equal the full amount the Company would have received in the absence of such withholding. If payments by the Company are subject to withholding under any applicable law in respect of any Indemnifiable Tax, the Counterparty is obliged to accept payments from the Company net of the relevant withholding. In either case, any such withholding or, in respect of the Counterparty, any requirement that the Counterparty pay any U.S. insurance excise tax with respect to any payment under the Swap Agreement may trigger a tax event or (in respect of the Counterparty) a tax event upon merger, depending on the reasons for such withholding or excise tax arising in respect of payments under the Swap Agreement. Similar transfer provisions as set out above generally apply in relation to these Termination Events except that only the Counterparty may elect to terminate all outstanding Swap Transactions under the Swap Agreement and may do so prior to the end of the 30-day period. The Termination Payment payable by the Company or the Counterparty will be calculated in the manner summarised below under “Termination Payments”, except that, if the Counterparty is terminating because the payments by it are subject to withholding, it will be required to gross up any Termination Payment payable by it if such Termination Payment is also subject to withholding.

Event of Default under the Certificates

This Termination Event occurs if an Event of Default under Condition 13 of the Certificates occurs. If this Termination Event occurs, either the Company or the Counterparty may elect to terminate all outstanding Swap Transactions under the Swap Agreement, although the Company may only do so if it is acting on the instructions of the Trustee (except where deemed to do so in connection with an early redemption of the Certificates).

Charged Assets Redemption Event; Charged Assets Tax Event

This Termination Event occurs if a Charged Assets Redemption Event or a Charged Assets Tax Event (each as defined in Condition 25) occurs in respect of the Certificates.

If this Termination Event occurs, either the Company or the Counterparty may elect to terminate all outstanding Swap Transactions under the Swap Agreement, although the Company may only do so if it is acting on the instructions of the Trustee (except where deemed to do so in connection with an early redemption of the Certificates).

Termination for certain taxation reasons

This Termination Event occurs if the Company is, or satisfies the Trustee on reasonable grounds that it will be, subject to any law, regulation, regulatory requirement or double taxation convention or the interpretation of application thereof to a tax charge (whether by direct assessment or by withholding at source) or other governmental imposition by any jurisdiction which would materially increase the cost to it of complying with its obligations under the Trust Deed or under the Certificates or materially increase the operating or administrative expenses of the Company or the arrangements under which the shares in the Company are held or otherwise oblige the Company or the Trustee to make any payment on, or calculated by reference to, the amount of any sum received or receivable by the Company or the Trustee or by the Trustee on behalf of the Company as contemplated in the Trust Deed (and such increased cost, increased operating or administrative expense or payment, as the case may be, is beyond the control of the Company or the Calculation Agent) other than where such tax charge or other governmental imposition arises as a result of any FATCA Withholding or Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, provided that, in the circumstances set out in Condition 10(c) (and as referred to in the Swap Agreement) it must also be unable to change its place of residence or substitute the principal debtor and be required to redeem the Certificates in accordance with the Conditions. If this Termination Event occurs, either the Company or the Counterparty may elect to terminate the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement, although the Company may only do so if it is acting on the instructions of the Trustee (except where deemed to do so in connection with an early redemption of the Certificates).

Withholding on account of FATCA

This Termination Event occurs if the Counterparty or the Company will, or there is a substantial likelihood that it will, in respect of any payment due from it to the other party, be required to make any deduction or withholding imposed pursuant to (a) an Information Reporting Regime or (b) Sections 871 and 881 of the Code or under any amended or successor provision of the Code, or under United States Treasury regulations or other guidance issued thereunder. If, on the date falling 60 days prior to the immediately following date on which a payment will be due from the Counterparty to the Company under the Swap Agreement (such date falling 60 days prior being the “Swap FATCA Test Date”), the Company is a “nonparticipating foreign financial institution” or “nonparticipating FFI” (as such terms are used under section 1471 of the Code or in any regulations or guidance thereunder), or has a comparable status under an applicable IGA, there will on the Swap FATCA Test Date be deemed to be a substantial likelihood that the Counterparty will be required to make a FATCA Withholding and, therefore this Termination Event will have occurred on the Swap FATCA Test Date. If this Termination Event occurs, the Counterparty shall be entitled to designate an Early Termination Date in respect of all Transactions. The Company shall not be under any obligation to become a “participating FFI” as defined in FATCA.

Regulatory Event

This Termination Event occurs if the Counterparty determines in its sole discretion that, due to a Relevant Law:

- (a) the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement: (i) is required to be cleared through a central clearing counterparty (a “CCP”) and such requirement was not applicable as at the trade date of such Swap Transaction; or (ii) causes the Counterparty and/or the Company to become the subject of risk mitigation provisions as a result of not being cleared through a CCP, which risk mitigation provisions were not applicable as at the trade date, and which risk mitigation provisions include (without limitation) (A) the imposition on either the Counterparty or the Company of increased capital charges above those (if any) that prevailed at the trade date (as certified by the Counterparty or the Company, as relevant) and/or (B) the requirement for the Counterparty and/or the Company to provide collateral or any form of initial or variation margin to the other in respect of such Swap Transaction in addition to that (if any) contemplated and documented in respect of such Swap Transaction on its trade date; or (iii) results, or would result, in the Counterparty or the Company being subject to any administrative or regulatory penalty or sanctions for any failure to comply with any clearing obligation or risk mitigation provisions that were not applicable as at the trade date; or (iv) results, or would result, in a Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement (x) being required to be maintained through a different legal entity than the Counterparty or the Company or (y) not being capable of being maintained through the Company or the Counterparty, as the case may be, without the Company or the Counterparty, as applicable, being required to take further action; or (v) results in the Counterparty or the Company becoming subject to a financial transaction tax or other similar tax; or
- (b) the Counterparty or the Company is or will be materially and adversely restricted in its ability to perform its obligations under an outstanding Swap Transaction relating to the Certificates (such determination to be made by the Counterparty in its sole discretion) or, without limiting paragraph (a)(ii) above, would be required to post additional collateral to any person (each such determination to be made by the Counterparty in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and which may take into account, without limitation, the imposition of increased costs or compliance burdens on either party); or
- (c) the Counterparty or the Company, or any affiliate, directors, officers or employee thereof would be an “AIFM” or an “AIF” for the purposes of the AIFMD or any similar concept under comparable legislation in the United Kingdom with respect to the Company by virtue (wholly or partially) of their involvement with the Certificates and/or the Swap Agreement.

For this purpose, “Relevant Law” means:

- (A) the Dodd-Frank Act, the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 and the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 (or similar legislation in other jurisdictions) and the implementation or adoption of, or any change in, any law, regulation or rule related thereto and any formal or informal technical guidelines and regulatory technical standards, further regulations, official guidance or official rules or procedures with respect thereto;

- (B) Regulation 648/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council on 4 July 2012 on OTC Derivatives, central counterparties and trade repositories and the implementation or adoption of, or any change in, any law, regulation or rule related thereto and any formal or informal technical guidelines and regulatory technical standards, further regulations, official guidance or official rules or procedures with respect thereto;
- (C) Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 on markets in financial instruments and amending Directive 2002/92/EC and Directive 2011/61/EU (recast) and the implementation or adoption of, or any change in, any law, regulation or rule related thereto and any formal or informal technical guidelines and regulatory technical standards, further regulations, official guidance or official rules or procedures with respect thereto;
- (D) Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 on markets in financial instruments and amending Regulation (EU) No 648/2012 and the implementation or adoption of, or any change in, any law, regulation or rule related thereto and any formal or informal technical guidelines and regulatory technical standards, further regulations, official guidance or official rules or procedures with respect thereto;
- (E) Directive 2011/61/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2011 on Alternative Investment Fund Managers and the implementation or adoption of, or any change in, any law, regulation or rule related thereto and any formal or informal technical guidelines and regulatory technical standards, further regulations, official guidance or official rules or procedures with respect thereto (together, the “AIFMD”);
- (F) the implementation or adoption of, or any change in, any applicable law, regulation, rule, guideline, standard or guidance after the Trade Date, and with applicable law, regulation, rule, guideline, standard or guidance for this purpose meaning any similar, related or analogous law, regulation, rule, guideline, standard or guidance to those in paragraphs (A) to (E) above or any law or regulation that imposes a financial transaction tax or other similar tax;
- (G) any arrangements or understandings that the Counterparty or any of its Affiliates may have made or entered into with any regulatory agency with respect to its or any of their legal entity structure or location with regard to (I) any of paragraphs (A) to (F) above or (II) the United Kingdom’s prospective or actual departure from the E.U.; and/or
- (H) any change in any of the laws, regulations, rules, guidelines, standards or guidance referred to in (A) to (F) above or change in the same as a result of the promulgations of, or any change in, interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation after the trade date or as a result of the public or private statement or action by, or response of, any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction or any official or representative of any such court, tribunal or regulatory authority acting in an official capacity with respect thereto,

Redenomination Event

This Termination Event occurs if, due to the adoption of, or any change in, any applicable law or regulation, a payment obligation under the Swap Agreement that would otherwise have been denominated in euro ceases to be denominated in euro or it would be unlawful, impossible or impracticable for the payer to pay, or the payee to receive those payments in euro (including if precluded by exchange controls or other similar restrictions on payment or receipt of such amounts).

If this Termination Event occurs, the Counterparty may elect to terminate the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement.

Amendments to the Conditions or Transaction Documents

This Termination Event occurs if any amendment is made to the Conditions and/or a Transaction Document which adjusts the amount, timing or priority of any payments or deliveries due between the Company and the Counterparty under the Certificates and/or the Transaction Documents, unless the Counterparty has consented in writing to such amendment.

If this Termination Event occurs, the Counterparty may elect to terminate the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement.

Termination Payments

On the Swap Termination Payment Date in respect of the Swap Transaction under the Swap Agreement, a termination payment (the “Termination Payment”) will be payable by the Company to the Counterparty, or (as the case may be) by the Counterparty to the Company in respect of the Swap Agreement. In such circumstances, interest will generally be payable on the Termination Payment in respect of any delay in payment at the applicable rate set out in the Swap Agreement. The Swap Termination Payment Date will generally be the Early Termination Date.

The Termination Payment in respect of the Swap Agreement will be the Close-out Amount (as defined in the Swap Agreement) plus or minus the Termination Currency Equivalents of any Unpaid Amounts (both as defined in the Swap Agreement) in respect of the Swap Transaction, subject to certain rights of set-off.

Unless otherwise provided in the Swap Agreement, the Close-out Amount in respect of the Swap Transaction will be the amount of the losses or costs of the determining party that are or would be incurred on the Early Termination Date under then prevailing circumstances (expressed as a positive number) or gains of the determining party that are or would be realised under then prevailing circumstances (expressed as a negative number) in replacing on the Early Termination Date, or in providing for the determining party on the Early Termination Date the economic equivalent of, (a) the material terms of the Swap Transaction, including any payments or deliveries that would, but for the early termination, have been required under the terms of the Swap Transaction (assuming satisfaction of each applicable condition precedent), but without regard to (i) any actual or potential (whether or not foreseeable at the date of determination) imposition of withholding taxes on payments under the Swap Agreement and (ii) the occurrence, past or future of any Event of Default or Termination Event (whether or not such event is foreseeable at the date of determination) and (b) the option rights of the parties in respect of the Swap Transaction.

Any Close-out Amount will be determined by the determining party (or its agent), which will act in good faith and use commercially reasonable procedures in order to produce a commercially reasonable result. The determining party may determine a Close-out Amount for the Swap Transaction. Each Close-out Amount will be determined on or about the relevant valuation date (or, if that would not be commercially reasonable, on or about the date or dates following the relevant valuation date as would be commercially reasonable) for close-out of the Swap Transaction(s) with effect from the Early Termination Date (or, if later, after the Determining Party has notice of the same, for close-out of the Swap Transaction(s) with effect from the Early Termination Date).

Unpaid Amounts in respect of a Swap Transaction and certain legal fees and out-of-pocket expenses that are indemnified by the defaulting party are excluded in all determinations of Close-out Amounts.

In determining a Close-out Amount, the determining party may consider any relevant information, including, without limitation, one or more of the following types of information:

- (i) quotations (either firm or indicative) for replacement transactions supplied by one or more third parties that may take into account the creditworthiness of the determining party at the time the quotation is provided and the terms of any relevant documentation, including credit support documentation, between the determining party and the third party providing the quotation;
- (ii) information consisting of relevant market data in the relevant market supplied by one or more third parties including, without limitation, relevant rates, prices, yields, yield curves, volatilities, spreads, correlations or other relevant market data in the relevant market; or
- (iii) information of the types described in paragraph (i) or (ii) above from internal sources (including, if the determining party is the Counterparty, any of the Counterparty's Affiliates) if that information is of the same type used by the determining party in the regular course of its, or any of its Affiliates', business for the valuation of similar transactions.

The determining party will consider, taking into account the standards and procedures described in this section, quotations pursuant to paragraph (i) above or relevant market data pursuant to paragraph (ii) above unless the determining party reasonably believes in good faith that such quotations or relevant market data are not readily available or would produce a result that would not satisfy those standards. When considering information described in paragraph (i), (ii) or (iii) above, the determining party may include costs of funding, to the extent costs of funding are not and would not be a component of the other information being utilised. Third parties supplying quotations pursuant to paragraph (i) above or market data pursuant to paragraph (ii) above may include, without limitation, dealers in the relevant markets, end-users of the relevant product, information vendors, brokers and other sources of market information.

The determining party shall not consider in calculating a Close-out Amount any loss or cost incurred in connection with its terminating, liquidating or re-establishing any hedge related to the Swap Transaction (or any gain resulting from it).

Commercially reasonable procedures used in determining a Close-out Amount may include the following:

- (1) application to relevant market data from third parties pursuant to paragraph (ii) above or information from internal sources pursuant to paragraph (iii) above of pricing or other valuation models that are, at the time of the determination of the Close-out Amount, used by the determining party, or by any of its Affiliates, in the regular course of its business in pricing or valuing transactions between the determining party and unrelated third parties that are similar to the Swap Transaction; and
- (2) application of different valuation methods to Swap Transactions depending on the type, complexity, size or number of the Swap Transaction.

For the purpose of determining the amount of any loss or cost of the Company, no account shall be taken of, to the extent relevant:

- (a) limited recourse provisions contained in the Trust Deed which reduce or limit the amounts payable by the Company to, or recoverable by, any other person; or
- (b) any term of the Conditions which would economically result in such loss or cost being borne by Certificateholders and not by the Company.

The Termination Currency in respect of a Swap Agreement will be the currency in which the relevant Series to which such Swap Agreement relates is denominated.

Unpaid Amounts payable by the Company will be deemed to include amounts unpaid by the Company as a result of the imposition of taxes on payments in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares or a default in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares but will not include any amounts unpaid by the Company as a result of the imposition of Indemnifiable Taxes in respect of payments by the Company under the Swap Agreement (if any).

The determining party will generally be the Counterparty unless the Counterparty is the defaulting party, in which case the determining party will be the Calculation Agent on behalf of the Company.

Credit Support Annex

The Company will also enter into a Credit Support Annex with the Counterparty in respect of the Certificates. As “Applicable – Payable by Counterparty” is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, credit support will be provided by the Counterparty to the Company (but not from the Company to the Counterparty). The Credit Support Annex shall form part of the Master Swap Agreement but shall relate solely to the Certificates.

The Credit Support Annex will be in the form of the ISDA 2016 Credit Support Annex for Variation Margin (VM) (Bilateral Form - Transfer) (ISDA Agreements Subject to English Law) Copyright © 2016 by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc., subject to certain amendments. The sections below provide a summary of the provisions of the Credit Support Annex and of certain terms used in the Credit Support Annex, but do not necessarily set out such terms in full.

Delivery and Return of Credit Support

Under the Credit Support Annex, a party required to provide credit support is known as a “Transferor” and the recipient of such credit support is known as the “Transferee”.

A Transferor will be required to transfer credit support if its Delivery Amount (VM) for the relevant Valuation Date exceeds what is known as the Minimum Transfer Amount of the Transferor. Credit support will be transferred on a title transfer basis.

A Delivery Amount (VM) arises if the Exposure of the Transferee to the Transferor under the Swap Agreement exceeds the value at that time of the credit support then provided by the Transferor (known as the Transferor’s “Credit Support Balance (VM)”), but with the Transferor’s Credit Support Balance (VM) being adjusted to take account of any credit support that is in the process of being transferred (by either party) as if it had been transferred. The “Delivery Amount (VM)” will be equal to such Exposure minus the value of such credit support.

If the Delivery Amount (VM) does exceed the Transferor’s Minimum Transfer Amount, the Transferor can then be required to transfer “Eligible Credit Support (VM)” having a Value equal to the Delivery Amount (VM).

The credit support comprising Eligible Credit Support (VM) is as specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions. Eligible Credit Support (VM) will typically comprise cash in an “Eligible Currency” and may also comprise specified securities. For the purposes of determining how much Eligible Credit Support (VM) is required to be provided as credit support, each item of credit support is given a Value (see “Value and Exposure” below).

Once a Transferor has provided credit support, it may be entitled to receive assets of the same type back from the Transferee if the parties’ exposure to one another under the Swap Agreement, or the Value of the credit support, changes. The amount a Transferor is entitled to receive back is known as a Return Amount (VM).

A Return Amount (VM) arises if the Value of the credit support comprised in the Transferor’s Credit Support Balance (VM) (again adjusted to take account of any credit support that is in the process of being transferred (by either party) as if it had been transferred) exceeds the exposure of the Transferee to the Transferor under the Swap Agreement. The “Return Amount (VM)” will be equal to such Credit Support Balance (VM) minus such Exposure.

If the Return Amount (VM) for a Valuation Date exceeds the Minimum Transfer Amount of the Transferee, the Transferee is required to transfer credit support of the same type, nominal value, description and amount as that comprised in the Transferor's Credit Support Balance (VM) (known as "Equivalent Credit Support (VM)"), up to an aggregate amount having a Value equal to that Return Amount (VM).

If the operation of the Credit Support Annex requires credit support to be provided by the Company as Transferor to the Counterparty as Transferee, the Company would use the Outstanding Assets to satisfy its obligation.

The "Minimum Transfer Amount" of a Transferor will be EUR 250,000 (or its equivalent in another currency as at the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the relevant Series) or such lower amount as is specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions, or, if not so specified, zero; provided that, at any time and from time to time, the Counterparty may designate any amount lower than EUR 250,000 (or its equivalent in another currency as at the time of designation) as the Minimum Transfer Amount for either party at that time.

Any deliveries of credit support are subject to rounding. Cash will be rounded up to the nearest whole unit whereas securities will be rounded up to the nearest denomination in the case of a Delivery Amount (VM) and down to the nearest denomination in the case of a Return Amount (VM).

Value and Exposure

The "Exposure" of a party ("X") to the other ("Y") under the Swap Agreement represents the amount, if any, that would be payable to X by Y (expressed as a positive number) or by X to Y (expressed as a negative number) under the Swap Agreement if it were terminated, but calculated on a mid-market basis.

The "Value" of an item of the securities comprising credit support will be determined by taking the value in the Base Currency of the bid price for that security obtained by the Valuation Agent (which may include a bid price quoted by itself in good faith in a commercially reasonable manner) and by then multiplying by a percentage equal to the Valuation Percentage minus, if applicable, the relevant FX Haircut Percentage.

The "Valuation Percentage" for an item of credit support will be specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions but provided that if at any time the Valuation Percentage assigned to an item of Eligible Credit Support (VM) with respect to a party (as the Transferor) under the Credit Support Annex is greater than the maximum permitted valuation percentage (prescribed or implied) for such item of collateral under any law requiring the collection of variation margin applicable to the other party (as the Transferee), then the Valuation Percentage with respect to such item of Eligible Credit Support (VM) and such party will be such maximum permitted valuation percentage.

The "Base Currency" means the currency in which the Series is denominated, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions. An "Eligible Currency" will mean the Base Currency and each other currency specified in the applicable Pricing Conditions.

The "FX Haircut Percentage" means, with respect to a party as the Transferor and an item of Eligible Credit Support (VM) or Equivalent Credit Support (VM), eight per cent., unless the Eligible Credit Support (VM) or Equivalent Credit Support (VM) is in the form of cash in a Major Currency or is denominated in a currency that matches an Eligible Currency, in which case the FX Haircut Percentage will be zero per cent.

As used above, "Major Currency" means any of (i) United States Dollar, (ii) Canadian Dollar, (iii) Euro, (iv) United Kingdom Pound, (v) Japanese Yen, (vi) Swiss Franc, (vii) New Zealand Dollar, (viii) Australian Dollar, (ix) Swedish Kronor, (x) Danish Kroner, (xi) Norwegian Krone or any other currency specified as such in the applicable Pricing Conditions.

Timings and Methodology of Calculations and Transfers

Under the terms of the Credit Support Annex, the Valuation Agent will determine whether a Delivery Amount (VM) or Return Amount (VM) arises in relation to each Valuation Date, as well as making other valuations required under the Credit Support Annex.

The “Valuation Agent” will be the Calculation Agent for the Swap Agreement (and subject to the provisions thereof regarding replacement of the Calculation Agent as summarised in “Termination Payments” above).

A “Valuation Date” will be each day on which commercial banks are open for business (including dealings in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London, unless the applicable Pricing Conditions specify that different dates apply.

If transfer of credit support is required and relevant notices are received (or are deemed to have been received) by applicable cut-off times, then the relevant transfer is required to be made not later than the close of business on the Regular Settlement Day relating to the date of the relevant demand.

“Regular Settlement Day” means, with respect to a date of demand, (i) for cash or other property (other than securities) that would have been transferred into the relevant bank account specified by the recipient on the date of demand had the instruction for transfer been given on such date of demand, the same local business day as the date of demand; (ii) for any other cash or other property (other than securities), the next local business day and (iii) for securities, the first local business day after such date on which settlement of a trade in the relevant securities, if effected on such date, would have been settled in accordance with customary practice when settling through the clearing system agreed between the parties for delivery of such securities or, otherwise, on the market in which such securities are principally traded (or, in either case, if there is no such customary practice, on the first local business day after such date on which it is reasonably practicable to deliver such securities).

However, if under any law requiring the collection or posting by the Counterparty of variation margin, the Counterparty is at that time required to collect or post variation margin on a shorter timeframe in respect of the Swap Agreement, Regular Settlement Day shall mean the same local business day as the date of demand.

Exchanges

A Transferor is entitled to inform the Transferee that it wishes to exchange credit support comprised in its Credit Support Balance (VM) for alternative Eligible Credit Support (VM). In such case, the Transferor and Transferee will be obliged to exchange the relevant credit support on the timings set out in the Credit Support Annex.

Distributions and Interest Amounts

Where Distributions arise in respect of credit support comprised in a Transferor's Credit Support Balance (VM), the Transferee is required to transfer cash, securities or other property of the same type, nominal value, description and amount as such Distributions, to the extent that this would not create or increase a Delivery Amount (VM).

“Distributions” means, with respect to Eligible Credit Support (VM) comprised in the Credit Support Balance (VM) of a Transferor that comprises securities, all principal, interest and other payments and distributions of cash or other property that would have been received by a Relevant Holder of securities of the same type, nominal value, description and amount as such Eligible Credit Support (VM) from time to time, provided that Distributions shall be gross of any taxes, costs or other charges that may have been imposed on a payment of principal, interest or other payment or distribution to such a Relevant Holder. For this purpose, “Relevant Holder” means a hypothetical holder having the same legal form and being incorporated and domiciled in the same jurisdiction as the relevant Transferee.

Legally Ineligible Credit Support

The Credit Support Annex contains provisions that enable a party to deliver a notice that items that then comprise Eligible Credit Support (VM) will cease to comprise Eligible Credit Support (VM). Such notice can be delivered if the Transferee determines that the relevant items either have ceased to satisfy, or as of a specified date will cease to satisfy, collateral eligibility requirements under laws applicable to the Transferee requiring the collection of variation margin. Any credit support in the Transferor's Credit Support Balance (VM) that does not comprise Eligible Credit Support (VM) will be given a Value of zero. If the Counterparty delivers such a notice to the Company, the Company is unlikely to have any other Outstanding Assets available to it to provide to the Counterparty as Eligible Credit Support (VM) and, as a result, such legal ineligibility would be likely to lead to an event of default under the Swap Agreement if not remedied within the time period therein and would entitle the Counterparty to terminate the Swap Agreement. Such termination would result in an early redemption of the Certificates.

Early Termination

On any Early Termination Date being designated or deemed to occur under the Swap Agreement, the party to whom collateral has been posted shall not be obliged to return such collateral or equivalent collateral, but instead the Value of such collateral (but for this purpose without applying any Valuation Percentage or FX Haircut Percentage) shall be deemed to be owed to the transferor for the purposes of calculating the termination payment under the Swap Agreement.

Addresses

The business address of J.P. Morgan SE is TaunusTurm, Taunustor 1, 60310 Frankfurt am Main, Germany.

PRINCIPAL CASH FLOWS

Set out below is a description of the principal cash flows underlying the issue of the Certificates. Potential investors are referred to the terms and conditions of the Certificates and the detailed descriptions of the relevant Transaction Documents set out elsewhere in this Prospectus for a fuller description of certain cash flows and for an explanation of the meaning of certain capitalised terms used below.

Issue Date:

On the Issue Date, amongst other things:

- (i) the Company shall issue the Certificates and use part of the issue proceeds towards the purchase of the Underlying Fund Shares;
- (ii) the Company and the Counterparty shall enter into a Swap Agreement whereby:
 - a. the Company will use the remaining part of the issue proceeds of the Certificates to make an Initial Payment Amount to the Counterparty;
 - b. the Counterparty will pay the Company various amounts in order for the Company to be able to fund various expenses incurred by the Company in connection with the Certificates, including Agent's fees and expenses.

Duration of the Certificates:

During the period following the Issue Date of the Certificates until the Maturity Date:

- (i) the Company is obliged to pay interest amounts in respect of the Certificates on each Specified Interest Payment Date conditional on the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share. If on the Valuation Date prior to any Specified Interest Payment Date the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share amongst the basket of Reference Shares is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level, then an interest amount determined at a fixed rate of 6.50 per cent. per annum will be payable by the Company in respect of the Certificates on such Specified Interest Payment Date in respect of the related Interest Accrual Period. If, however, on such Valuation Date the performance of the Worst Performing Reference Share in the basket is less than the Barrier Level, then no interest amount will be payable in respect of the Certificates by the Company on such Specified Interest Payment Date even if the performance of the other Reference Shares in the basket is not less than the Barrier Level;
- (ii) the Swap Counterparty will pay periodic amounts to the Company equal to the aggregate interest amount (if any) payable by the Company in respect of the Certificates. The Company will fund the payment of such interest amounts payable under the Certificates solely from equivalent amounts payable by the Counterparty under the Swap Agreement.

Scheduled Maturity Date:

Unless they redeem early, the Certificates will be redeemed at their Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date. The Redemption Amount payable in respect of each Certificate is expressed to be an amount in EUR determined by the Calculation Agent equal to (subject to the applicable limited recourse provisions) (i) EUR 1,000 (being 100 per cent. of such Certificate's principal amount) plus (ii) subject to a minimum of zero, such Certificate's pro rata share of the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares payable on their scheduled maturity date minus the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates.

The Company will fund the Redemption Amount due on the Certificates solely from the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares payable on their scheduled maturity date. The principal amount of the Underlying Fund Shares held by the Company in respect of the Certificates will be an amount such that the aggregate redemption amount comprised of cash in respect of such Underlying Fund Shares payable on their scheduled maturity date is expected to be no less than the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates.

The level of collateralisation provided by the Underlying Fund Shares will be sufficient to fund the final redemption amount payable in respect of the Certificates on their scheduled maturity date, even if such aggregate redemption amount in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares, in practice, is less than the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates. This is because, the final redemption amount in respect of the Certificates actually payable in practice is linked to the extent of the redemption proceeds of the Underlying Fund Shares. Therefore, if the aggregate redemption amount in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares is less than expected, then there will be a corresponding reduction in Certificateholders' claims in respect of the final redemption amount in respect of the Certificates and the final redemption amount payable in respect of the Certificates will be less than the aggregate principal amount of the Certificates.

THE CUSTODY AGREEMENT

The Outstanding Assets (excluding the Underlying Fund Shares (which will be held by the Company directly)) in respect of the Certificates, will be held, or caused to be held, by The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch acting in its capacity as custodian (the “Custodian”) pursuant to the terms set out in the master custody terms specified in the Programme Deed, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Custody Agreement”). The Company may appoint a custodian other than The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch as specified in the Pricing Conditions or may replace the original custodian in accordance with the Master Conditions; this section only relates to The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch as Custodian.

The Custodian will agree under the Custody Agreement to use reasonable care in the performance of its custodial duties thereunder and to exercise the same degree of care with respect to such Outstanding Assets as it would with respect to its own securities and properties.

Under the Custody Agreement, the Company authorises any office or branch of the Custodian and any sub-custodian to hold such Outstanding Assets in their account or accounts with any other sub-custodian, any securities depository or at such other account keeper or clearing system as the Custodian deems to be appropriate for the type of instruments which comprise such Outstanding Assets. Any such appointment is made on the terms that such Outstanding Assets are not to be subject to any lien, charge, right or security interest in favour of such sub-custodian, account keeper or clearing system except to the extent of its charges in accordance with such agreement for administration and safe custody.

In accordance with normal market practice, the Custodian is entitled to hold securities through other entities and securities depositories and the existence of charges over those securities may not be registered in the country or at the depository in which they are ultimately held or notified to any such depository.

The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch as Custodian will perform its obligations under the Custody Agreement through its London office.

The Security in respect of the Certificates includes a first fixed charge over such Outstanding Assets which may be held by or through the Custodian through a sub-custodian or Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or DTC and/or an alternative clearing system. The charge is intended to create a property interest in such Outstanding Assets in favour of the Trustee to secure the Company's liabilities. However, where such Outstanding Assets are held through a sub-custodian or a clearing system the interests which the Custodian holds and which are traded are not the physical securities themselves but a series of contractual rights in the sub-custodian or in the clearing system. These rights consist of (i) the Company's rights against the Custodian, (ii) the Custodian's rights as an accountholder against the sub-custodian or clearing system, (iii) the rights of the sub-custodian or clearing system against the common depository or other sub-custodian or clearing system in which the securities are held and (iv) the rights of the common depository or such other sub-custodian or clearing system against the issuer of the securities. As a result, where securities are held through a sub-custodian or a clearing system the Security may take the form of an assignment of the Company's rights against the Custodian under the Custody Agreement rather than a charge over such Outstanding Assets themselves.

Any cash deposited with the Custodian by the Company and any cash received by the Custodian for the account of the Company in relation to Certificates will be held by the Custodian as banker and not as trustee and will be a bank deposit. Accordingly, such cash will not be held as client money and will represent only an unsecured claim against the Custodian's assets.

The Custodian will not be obliged to pay interest on any cash balances which it may hold from time to time.

The Custodian is entitled, upon receipt of instructions in accordance with the terms of the Custody Agreement, to transfer, exchange or deliver such Outstanding Assets held in the custody account and to debit the cash account in accordance with those instructions and/or what the Custodian reasonably believes to be local market practice. Such instructions may include, but are not limited to, instructions to pay certain amounts that it receives in respect of such Outstanding Assets to the Principal Paying Agent or to the Counterparty. The Custodian is authorised, but not obliged, to pay out certain amounts due (or to become due) in respect of the Certificates, notwithstanding that it has not confirmed receipt by it of the corresponding amounts due to it, unless instructed not to make such payment by the Counterparty or the Arranger, and shall have no liability to any person as a result thereof.

CALCULATION AGENT

The Company has appointed JPMS plc to act as initial Calculation Agent with respect to the Certificates.

For the avoidance of doubt, JPMS plc does not act as calculation agent under the Swap Agreement. JPMSE will act as initial calculation agent under the Swap Agreement.

JPMS plc is a public limited company incorporated in England and Wales and an indirect subsidiary of JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association, a national banking association in the United States of America and a principal subsidiary of JPMorgan Chase & Co. JPMorgan Chase & Co. is a financial holding company incorporated under Delaware law in 1968, is a leading global financial services firm and is one of the largest banking institutions in the U.S. with operational worldwide. JPMS plc had $703 billion in assets and $46 billion in total shareholder equity as of 31 December 2022.

The Company may at any time terminate the appointment of the Calculation Agent by giving to the Principal Paying Agent and the Calculation Agent at least 60 days' notice to that effect, which notice shall expire at least 30 days before or after any due date for payment in respect of the Certificates. The Calculation Agent may resign its appointment at any time by giving the Company and the Principal Paying Agent at least 60 days' notice to that effect, which notice shall expire at least 30 days before or after any due date for payment in respect of the Certificates. No such resignation or termination of the appointment of the Calculation Agent shall take effect until a new Calculation Agent has been appointed. Upon any letter of appointment being executed by or on behalf of the Company and any person appointed as a Calculation Agent, such person shall become a party to the Agency Agreement as if originally named in it and shall act as such Calculation Agent in respect of the Certificates.

TAXATION CONSIDERATIONS

Background

Pursuant to certain provisions of U.S. law, commonly known as FATCA, a withholding tax is imposed (i) on certain U.S. source payments and (ii) beginning on the date that is two years after the date of publication in the U.S. Federal Register of final regulations defining the term “foreign passthru payment”, payments made by “foreign financial institutions” that are treated as foreign passthru payments. This withholding tax is imposed on such payments made to persons that fail to meet certain certification, reporting, or related requirements. The Company may be a foreign financial institution for these purposes. A number of jurisdictions have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement FATCA (“IGAs”), which modify the way in which FATCA applies in their jurisdictions. Certain aspects of the application of FATCA to instruments or agreements such as the Underlying Fund Shares, the Swap Agreement and the Certificates, including whether withholding on foreign passthru payments would ever be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments or agreements such as the Underlying Fund Shares, the Swap Agreement and/or the Certificates, are uncertain and may be subject to change.

Possible impact on payments on the Underlying Fund Shares and Swap Agreement

If the Company fails to comply with its obligations under FATCA (including any applicable IGA and any IGA legislation thereunder), it may be subject to FATCA Withholding on all, or a portion of, payments it receives with respect to the Underlying Fund Shares or the Swap Agreement. Any such withholding would, in turn, result in the Company having insufficient funds from which to make payments that would otherwise have become due in respect of the Certificates and/or the Swap Agreement with respect to the Certificates. No other funds will be available to the Company to make up any such shortfall and, as a result, the Company may not have sufficient funds to satisfy its payment obligations to Certificateholders. Additionally, if payments to the Company in respect of the Underlying Fund Shares are, will become or are deemed on any test date to be subject to FATCA Withholding, the Certificates will be subject to early redemption. No assurance can be given that the Company can or will comply with its obligations under FATCA or that the Company will not be subject to FATCA Withholding.

Possible impact on payments on the Certificates

The Company may be required to withhold amounts from Certificateholders (including intermediaries through which the Certificates are held) that are foreign financial institutions that are not compliant with, or exempt from, FATCA or Certificateholders that do not provide the information, documentation or certifications required for the Company to comply with its obligations under FATCA.

FATCA IS PARTICULARLY COMPLEX AND ITS APPLICATION TO THE COMPANY, THE CERTIFICATES AND CERTIFICATEHOLDERS IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE.

Information reporting obligations and FATCA amendments

Information relating to the Certificates, their holders and beneficial owners may be required to be provided to tax authorities in certain circumstances pursuant to domestic or international reporting and transparency regimes (including, without limitation, in relation to FATCA). This may include (but is not limited to) information relating to the value of the Certificates, amounts paid or credited with respect to the Certificates, details of the holders or beneficial owners of the Certificates and information and documents in connection with transactions relating to the Certificates. In certain circumstances, the information obtained by a tax authority may be provided to tax authorities in other countries. Some jurisdictions operate a withholding system in place of, or in addition to, such provision of information requirements. Pursuant to the Conditions and subject to certain limitations, a Certificateholder or beneficial owner of Certificates is required to provide forms, documentation and other information relating to such Certificateholder's or beneficial owner's status under any applicable law (including, without limitation, any Information Reporting Regime or any agreement entered into by the Company pursuant thereto) as is reasonably requested by the Company and/or any agent acting on behalf of the Company for purposes of the Company's, or such agent's compliance with any such law or agreement. If any Certificateholder or beneficial owner fails to provide any information so requested by the Company, the Company shall withhold amounts from payments due on the Certificates (including to intermediaries through which the Certificates are held) and all Certificates shall be the subject of an early redemption.

Additionally, the Company is permitted, subject to the fulfilment of certain requirements, to make any amendments to the Certificates, the Swap Agreement and any other Transaction Document as may be necessary to enable the Company to comply with its obligations under FATCA (including any applicable IGA and any IGA legislation thereunder) or its obligations under any legislation or agreements relating to any applicable Information Reporting Regime and any such amendment will be binding on the Certificateholders.

Neither a Certificateholder nor a beneficial owner of Certificates will be entitled to any additional amounts if FATCA Withholding or any other withholding or deduction or charge in connection with an Information Reporting Regime is imposed on any payments on or with respect to the Certificates. As a result, Certificateholders may receive less interest or principal, as applicable, than expected.

Each Certificateholder should consult its own tax adviser to obtain a more detailed explanation of FATCA and the other Information Reporting Regimes and to learn how FATCA and the other Information Reporting Regimes might affect such Certificateholder in light of its particular circumstances.

Italian Taxation

The statements herein regarding taxation are based on the laws in force as at the date of this Prospectus and are subject to any changes in law occurring after such date, which changes could be made also on a retroactive basis.

The following is a general overview of certain Italian tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposal of the Certificates by Italian resident investors. It does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations which may be relevant to a decision to subscribe for, purchase, own or dispose of the Certificates and does not purport to deal with the tax consequences applicable to all categories of investors and of Certificates, some of which may be subject to special rules. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisers in relation to the Italian tax consequences associated with purchasing and disposing of the Certificates.

Given the peculiarity of the instruments at stake, the Company cannot exclude that the Certificates may fall within the scope of a tax regime different than those described below.

This overview will not be updated to reflect changes in laws and if such a change occurs the information in this overview could become invalid.

Taxation of Italian resident Certificateholders

The Certificates issued by the Company may be subject to different tax regimes in the hands of Italian resident Certificateholders depending on whether:

- the Certificates qualify as derivative financial instruments or bundles of derivative financial instruments; or
- the Certificates qualify as atypical securities (titoli atipici).

Depending on the qualification of the Certificates, the following Italian tax treatments may apply in the hands of Italian resident Certificateholders.

1. Certificates qualifying as derivative securities

Where the proceeds from the Certificates qualify as securitized derivatives, the following Italian tax regime should apply in the hands of Italian resident Certificateholders.

Any income obtained from the Certificates to the extent that they qualify as securitized derivatives would be treated as part of the taxable business income (and, in certain circumstances, depending on the “status” of the Certificateholder, also as part of the net value of the production for IRAP purposes) if realized by Italian resident companies, Italian resident partnerships carrying out commercial activities or similar commercial entities (including Italian permanent establishments of foreign entities to which the Certificates are connected) or Italian resident individuals engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Certificates are connected.

Pursuant to Decree no. 461 of 21 November 1997, as amended and supplemented from time to time (“Decree 461”), where an Italian resident Certificateholder is (i) an individual not engaged in an entrepreneurial activities to which the Certificates are connected, (ii) an Italian resident partnership not carrying out commercial activities or (iii) an Italian private or public institution not carrying out mainly or exclusively commercial activities, any capital gain realized by such Certificateholder from the sale or transfer for consideration of the Certificates would be subject to a substitute tax (imposta sostitutiva), levied at the current rate of 26%. Certificateholders may generally offset against capital losses with gains of the same nature.

In respect of the application of such substitute tax, taxpayers may opt for one of the three regimes described below.

Under the so called “regime della dichiarazione” (the “Tax Declaration Regime”), which is the standard regime for taxation of capital gains, the 26% imposta sostitutiva on capital gains will be chargeable, on a cumulative basis, on all capital gains, net of any incurred capital loss of the same nature, realized pursuant to all investment transactions carried out during any given tax year. The overall capital gains realized in any tax year, net of any incurred capital loss of the same nature, must be reported in the relevant annual tax return and the substitute tax must be paid on such gains together with any balance income tax due for the relevant tax year. Capital losses in excess of capital gains may be carried forward against capital gains of the same nature realized in any of the four succeeding tax years.

As an alternative to the Tax Declaration Regime, the holders of the Certificates who are:

- Italian resident individuals not engaged in entrepreneurial activities to which the Certificates are connected;
- Italian resident partnerships not carrying out commercial activities;
- Italian private or public institutions not carrying out mainly or exclusively commercial activities, may elect to pay the imposta sostitutiva separately on capital gains realized on each sale or transfer or redemption of the Certificates under the so called “regime del risparmio amministrato” (the “Administrative Savings Regime”), according to Article 6 of Decree 461. Such separate taxation of capital gains is allowed subject to (i) the Certificates being deposited with Italian banks, SIMs or certain authorized financial intermediaries (or permanent establishments in the Italian Republic of foreign intermediaries) and (ii) an express election for the Administrative Savings Regime being timely made in writing by the relevant Certificateholder. The depository is responsible for accounting for imposta sostitutiva in respect of capital gains realized on each sale or transfer or redemption of the Certificates, as well as on capital gains realized as at revocation of its mandate, net of any relevant incurred capital loss of the same nature, and is required to pay the relevant amount to the Italian tax authorities on behalf of the holder of the Certificates, deducting a corresponding amount from the proceeds to be credited to the Certificateholder or using funds provided by the Certificateholder for this purpose. Where a sale or transfer or redemption of the Certificates results in a capital loss, such loss may be offset against capital gains of the same nature subsequently realized, within the same relationship of deposit, in the same tax year or in the following tax years up to the fourth. Under the Administrative Savings Regime, the Certificateholder is not required to declare the capital gains in the annual tax return.

Where the Certificates are part of a portfolio managed under the Asset Management Regime by an Italian asset management company or an authorized financial intermediary, the capital gains realized upon sale, transfer or redemption of the Certificates will not be subject to the substitute tax on capital gains but will contribute the determination of the annual accrued appreciation of the managed portfolio, subject to the Asset Management Tax. Any depreciation of the managed portfolio at year end may be carried forward against appreciation accrued in each of the following years up to the fourth. Under the Asset Management Regime, the Certificateholder is not required to declare the capital gains realized in the annual tax return.

Any income on Certificates held by Italian resident open-ended or closed-ended collective investment funds (together the “Funds” and each a “Fund”), Italian investment companies with variable capital (“SICAVs”) and Italian resident non-real estate investment companies with fixed capital (“SICAFs”) contribute to determine the increase in value of the managed assets of the Funds, SICAVs or non-real estate SICAFs accrued at the end of each tax year. The Funds, SICAVs or SICAFs will not be subject to taxation on such increase, but a withholding tax of 26% will apply, in certain circumstances, to distributions made in favor of unitholders or shareholders (the “Collective Investment Fund Tax”).

Where a Certificateholder is an Italian resident real estate investment funds (“Real Estate Funds”) or an Italian real estate investment companies with fixed capital (“Real Estate SICAFs”), to which the provisions of Law Decree No. 351 of 25 September 2001, as subsequently amended, apply, any income on Certificates will be subject neither to imposta sostitutiva nor to any other income tax in the hands of the Real Estate Fund or Real Estate SICAF. The income of the Real Estate Fund or Real Estate SICAF is subject to tax, in the hands of the unitholder, depending on the status and percentage of participation.

Any capital gains on Certificates held by a Certificateholder who is an Italian pension fund (subject to the regime provided for by Article 17 of Legislative Decree no. 252 of 5 December 2005 (“Decree 252”)) will be included in the result of the relevant portfolio accrued at the end of the tax period, to be subject to a 20% tax (the “Pension Fund Tax”) on the increase in value of the managed assets accrued at the end of each tax year (which increase would include interest accrued on the Certificates during the holding period).

Any income realized by non-Italian-resident Certificateholders without a permanent establishment in the Italian Republic to which the Certificates are effectively connected in respect of Certificates traded on regulated markets in the Italian Republic or abroad are not subject to the imposta sostitutiva, regardless of whether the Certificates are held in the Italian Republic. In such a case, in order to benefit from this exemption from Italian taxation on capital gains, non-Italian resident Certificateholders who hold the Certificates with an Italian authorized financial intermediary and elect to be subject to the Asset Management Regime or are subject to the Administrative Savings Regime, may be required to file in due time to the Italian authorized financial intermediary an appropriate statement (autocertificazione) that they are not resident in the Italian Republic for tax purposes.

Capital gains realized by non-Italian resident Certificateholders without a permanent establishment in the Italian Republic to which the Certificates are effectively connected from the sale or redemption of Certificates not traded on regulated markets issued by an Italian or non-Italian resident issuer may in certain circumstances be taxable in the Italian Republic, if the Certificates are held in the Italian Republic.

2. Certificates qualifying as atypical securities

The Certificates which represent a capital investment but do not fall within the category of bonds (obbligazioni) or securities similar to bonds (titoli similari alle obbligazioni) pursuant to Article 44, paragraph 2, letter (c) of Presidential Decree No. 917 of 22 December 1986 (as amended from time to time) may qualify as “atypical” securities (titoli atipici) pursuant to article 5 of Decree no. 512 of 30 September 1983. In that case, a 26% “entrance” withholding tax may apply in the Italian Republic if the Certificates are placed (“collocati”) in the Italian Republic and payments on the Certificates are collected through an Italian bank or other qualified financial intermediary. However, the 26% “entrance” withholding tax does not apply to payments made:

- to a non-Italian resident Certificateholder. If Certificates issued by a non-Italian resident issuer and beneficially owned by non-Italian residents are deposited with an Italian bank or other resident intermediary (or permanent establishment in the Italian Republic of foreign intermediary) or are sold through an Italian bank or other resident intermediary (or permanent establishment in the Italian Republic of foreign intermediary) or in any case an Italian resident intermediary (or permanent establishment in the Italian Republic of foreign intermediary) intervenes in the payment of Interest on such Certificates, to ensure payment without application of Italian taxation a non-Italian resident Certificateholder may be required to produce to the Italian bank or other intermediary a self-declaration stating that he or she is not resident in the Italian Republic for tax purposes; and
- to an Italian resident Certificateholder which is (i) a company or similar commercial entity (including the Italian permanent establishment of foreign entities to which the Certificates are effectively connected), (ii) a commercial partnership, or (iii) a commercial private or public institution. In particular, in such cases, income paid out of the Certificates must be included in the relevant Certificateholder’s annual income tax return, to be therefore subject to general Italian corporate taxation (and, in certain circumstances, depending on the “status” of the Certificateholder, also to IRAP) according to the ordinary rules and the beneficial owners should be generally entitled to a tax credit for withholding taxes applied outside the Italian Republic, if any.

With respect to the other categories of Italian resident Certificateholders, if payments on Certificates issued by a non-Italian resident issuer are not collected through an Italian resident bank or other qualified financial intermediary, and as such no “entrance” withholding tax is required to be levied, such Certificateholders will be required to report the payments in their yearly income tax return and subject them to a final substitute tax at rate of 26% (only limited to those Certificateholders not engaged in a business activity to which the Certificates are effectively connected). Italian resident individual beneficial owners holding Certificates not in connection with a business activity may elect instead to pay ordinary personal income tax at the progressive rates applicable to them: if so, the beneficial owners should generally benefit from tax credit for withholding taxes applied outside the Italian Republic, if any.

In case Certificates issued by a non-Italian resident issuer are held by an Italian resident individual engaged in a business activity and are effectively connected with same business activity, any payment collected under the Certificates will be subject to the 26% “entrance” withholding tax on a provisional basis and will be included in the relevant income tax return. As a consequence, such income will be subject to the ordinary income tax and the withholding tax may be recovered as a deduction from the income tax due.

3. Certain reporting obligations for Italian-resident Certificateholders

Under Law Decree no. 167 of 28 June 1990, as subsequently amended and supplemented, Italian resident individuals, non-business entities and non-business partnerships that are resident in the Italian Republic and, during the tax year, hold investments abroad or have financial assets abroad (including possibly the Certificates) must, in certain circumstances, disclose these investments or financial assets to the Italian tax authorities in their income tax return (or, in case the income tax return is not due, in a proper form that must be filed within the same time as prescribed for the income tax return), regardless of the value of such assets (save for deposits or bank accounts having an aggregate value not exceeding EUR 15,000 threshold throughout the year, which per se do not require such disclosure). The requirement applies also where the persons above, being not the direct holder of the financial assets, are the beneficial owners thereof for the purposes of anti-money laundering legislation.

No disclosure requirements exist for investments and financial assets (including the Certificates) under management or administration entrusted to Italian resident intermediaries (Italian banks, SIMs, fiduciary companies or other professional intermediaries) and for contracts concluded through their intervention, provided that the cash flows and the income derived from such activities and contracts have been subjected to Italian withholding or substitute tax by the same intermediaries.

4. Italian inheritance tax and gift tax

The transfer of Certificates by reason of gift, donation or succession proceedings may be subject to Italian gift and inheritance tax as follows:

- 4% for transfers in favor of the spouse or direct relatives exceeding, for each beneficiary, a threshold of EUR 1.0 million;
- 6% for transfers in favor of siblings exceeding, for each beneficiary, a threshold of EUR 0.1 million;
- 6% for transfers in favor of relatives up to the fourth degree and to all relatives in law in direct line and to other relatives in law up to the third degree, on the entire value of the inheritance or the gift; and
- 8% for transfers in favor of any other person or entity, on the entire value of the inheritance or the gift.

If the heir/heirress or the donee is a person with a severe disability pursuant to Law no. 104 of 5 February 1992, inheritance tax or gift tax is applied to the extent that the value of the inheritance or gift exceeds EUR 1.5 million.

With respect to Certificates listed on a regulated market, the value for inheritance and gift tax purposes is the average stock exchange price of the last quarter preceding the date of the succession or of the gift (including any accrued interest). With respect to unlisted Certificates, the value for inheritance tax and gift tax purposes is generally determined by reference to the value of listed debt securities having similar features or based on certain elements as presented in the Italian tax law.

5. Wealth tax –holding through non-Italian resident or based financial intermediary

According to Article 19 of Law Decree no. 201 of 6 December 2011 (as amended from time to time), Italian resident individuals, non-commercial entities, including trusts and foundations and noncommercial partnerships holding financial products, including the Certificates, outside the Italian Republic without the involvement of an Italian financial intermediary are required to pay a wealth tax currently at the rate of 0.2% (the level of tax being determined in proportion to the period of ownership). The wealth tax applies on the market value at the end of the relevant year or, in the absence of a market value, on the nominal value or redemption value of such financial products held outside the Italian Republic. Taxpayers are generally permitted to deduct from the wealth tax a tax credit equal to any wealth taxes paid in the State where the financial products are held (up to the amount of the Italian wealth tax due). The wealth tax cannot exceed EUR 14,000.00 per year for taxpayers different from individuals.

6. Stamp taxes and duties – holding through an Italian resident or based financial intermediary

Under Article 13(2*bis*-2*ter*) of Decree no. 642 of 26 October 1972, a 0.2% stamp duty generally applies on communications and reports that Italian financial intermediaries periodically send to their clients in relation to the financial products that are deposited with such intermediaries. The Certificates may be included in the definition of financial products for these purposes. Communications and reports are deemed to be sent at least once a year even if the Italian financial intermediary is under no obligation to either draft or send such communications and reports.

The stamp duty cannot exceed EUR 14,000.00 for Certificateholders other than individuals.

Based on the wording of the law and the implementing decree issued by the Italian Ministry of Economy and Finance on 24 May 2012, the 0.2% stamp duty does not apply to communications and reports that the Italian financial intermediaries send to investors who do not qualify as “clients” according to the regulations issued by the Bank of Italy. Communications and reports sent to this type of investors are subject to the ordinary EUR 2.00 stamp duty for each copy.

The taxable base of the stamp duty is the market value or, in the lack thereof, the nominal value or the redemption amount of any financial product.

7. Registration tax

Contracts relating to the transfer of the Certificates are subject to the registration tax as follows:

- public deeds and private deeds with notarized signatures executed in the Italian Republic (atti pubblici e scritture private autenticate) are subject to fixed registration tax at rate of EUR 200.00; and
- private deeds (scritture private non autenticate) are subject to fixed registration tax of EUR 200.00 only in the case of use or voluntary registration or occurrence of the so-called enunciazione.

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

Subject to the terms and conditions contained in the master dealer terms (the “Master Dealer Terms”) specified in the Programme Deed (as amended, and together with the dealer confirmation, the “Dealer Agreement”), the Certificates may be sold to J.P. Morgan SE under the Dealer Agreement (the “Dealer”), who shall act as principal in relation to such sale.

By entering into the Dealer Agreement, the Company has agreed to indemnify the Dealer against certain liabilities in connection with the offer and sale of the Certificates. The Dealer Agreement may be terminated by the Company or, in relation to itself and itself only, by the Dealer, at any time on giving not less than 10 days’ notice.

The Dealer may sell Certificates to subsequent purchasers in individually negotiated transactions at negotiated prices, which may vary among different purchasers and which may be greater or less than the Issue Price of the Certificates.

Selling Restrictions

United States

The Certificates have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not at any time be offered or sold in the United States (as defined in Regulation S) or to, or for the account or benefit of, any person who is (a) a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S), (b) a U.S. person (as defined in the credit risk retention regulations issued under Section 15G of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) or (c) not a Non-United States person (as defined in Rule 4.7 under the CEA, but excluding, for the purposes of subsection (D) thereof, the exception to the extent that it would apply to persons who are not Non-United States persons). Prospective investors should note that the definition of “U.S. person” in the credit risk retention regulations issued under Section 15G of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is substantially similar to, but not identical to, the definition of “U.S. person” under Regulation S.

By entering into the Dealer Agreement, the Dealer has agreed that it will not offer, sell, pledge or transfer the Certificates as part of their distribution or otherwise at any other time in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, (a) a U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S), (b) a U.S. person (as defined in the credit risk retention regulations issued under Section 15G of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) or (c) persons who are not Non-United States persons (as defined in Rule 4.7 under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act of 1936, but excluding for purposes of subsection (D) thereof, the exception to the extent that it would apply to persons who are not Non-United States persons), and it will have sent to each distributor, dealer (as defined in Section 2(a)(12) of the Securities Act) or person receiving a selling concession, fee or other remuneration in respect of the Certificates sold to which the Dealer sells Certificates during the relevant distribution compliance period (as defined in Regulation S) in respect of the Certificates a confirmation or other notice setting forth the restrictions on offers and sales of the Certificates in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S), U.S. persons (as defined in the credit risk retention regulations issued under Section 15G of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) and persons who are not Non-United States persons (as defined in Rule 4.7 under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act of 1936, but excluding for purposes of subsection (D) thereof, the exception to the extent that it would apply to persons who are not Non-United States persons).

European Economic Area

Each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, in relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area to which the Prospectus Regulation applies (each, a “Relevant Member State”), that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Regulation is effective in that Relevant Member State (the “Relevant Effective Date”) it has not made and will not make an offer of Certificates which are the subject of the offering contemplated by this Prospectus as completed by the Conditions in relation thereto to the public in that Relevant Member State except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Effective Date, make an offer of such Certificates to the public in that Relevant Member State:

- (i) if the prospectus in relation to the Certificates specifies that an offer of those Certificates may be made other than pursuant to Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation in that Relevant Member State (a “Non-exempt Offer”), following the date of publication of such prospectus in relation to such Certificates which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, in accordance with the Prospectus Regulation, in the period beginning and ending on the dates specified in such prospectus, as applicable and the Company has consented in writing to its use for the purpose of that Non-exempt Offer;
- (ii) at any time to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Regulation;
- (iii) at any time to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Regulation) subject to obtaining the prior consent of the relevant Dealer or Dealers nominated by the Company for any such offer; or
- (iv) at any time in any other circumstances falling within Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation, provided that no such offer of Certificates referred to in (ii) to (iv) above shall require the Company or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 1 of the Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer of Certificates to the public” in relation to any Certificates in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Certificates to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe the Certificates and the expression “Prospectus Regulation” means Regulation (EU) 2017/1129.

Ireland

This Prospectus does not constitute an invitation to the public within the meaning of the Irish Companies Act 2014 to subscribe for the Certificates issued by the Company.

The Dealer has represented and agreed that it has not offered, sold, placed or underwritten and will not offer, sell, place or underwrite the Certificates, or do anything in Ireland in respect of the Certificates, otherwise than in conformity with the provisions of:

- (a) the Prospectus Regulation and any rules issued by the Central Bank of Ireland or in force pursuant to Section 1363 of the Companies Act 2014;
- (b) the Companies Act 2014;

These selling restrictions may be modified by the agreement of the Company and the Dealer, inter alia, following a change in the relevant law, regulation or directive. Any such modification will be set out in a supplement to this Prospectus.

Neither the Company nor the Dealer makes any representation that any action has been taken in any jurisdiction that would permit a public offering of any of the Certificates, or possession or distribution of this Prospectus or any other offering material, in any country or jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required.

CONSENT TO THE USE OF THE PROSPECTUS IN CONNECTION WITH NON-EXEMPT OFFERS

This Prospectus has been prepared on the basis that an offer of the Certificates may be made by FinecoBank S.p.A. of Piazza Durante 11, Milan 20131, Italy other than pursuant to Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation (a “Non-exempt Offer”) in the Italian Republic (“Public Offer Jurisdiction”) during the period from and including 14 March 2024 to, and including, 11 April 2024 (“Offer Period”).

In addition, in the context of any Non-exempt Offer of the Certificates, the Company accepts responsibility in the Public Offer Jurisdiction, for the content of this Prospectus in relation to any person (an “Investor”) who purchases any Certificates in a Non-exempt Offer made by the Authorised Offeror (as defined below), where that offer is made during the Offer Period.

Except in the circumstances described below, the Company has not authorised the making of any offer by any offeror and the Company has not consented to the use of this Prospectus by any other person in connection with any offer of the Certificates in any jurisdiction. Any offer made without the consent of the Company is unauthorised and none of the Company and the Dealer accepts any responsibility or liability in relation to such offer or for the actions of the persons making any such unauthorised offer. If, in the context of a Non-exempt Offer, an Investor is offered Certificates by a person which is not the Authorised Offeror, the Investor should check with such person whether anyone is responsible for this Prospectus for the purpose of the relevant Non-exempt Offer and, if so, who that person is. If an Investor is in any doubt about whether it can rely on this Prospectus and/or who is responsible for its contents, the Investor should take legal advice.

The Company consents to the use of this Prospectus in connection with any Non-exempt Offer of Certificates in the Public Offer Jurisdiction during the Offer Period by FinecoBank S.p.A. of Piazza Durante 11, Milan 20131, Italy (an “Authorised Offeror”) for so long as they are authorised to make such offers under MiFID II and in the Public Offer Jurisdiction. The Company may after the date of this Prospectus appoint further financial intermediaries as Authorised Offerors in respect of the Non-exempt Offer which is the subject of this Prospectus. In such cases, the name of any such further financial intermediary appointed as an Authorised Offeror will be published on the website of the Company by way of an announcement identifying such financial intermediary as an Authorised Offeror.

AN INVESTOR INTENDING TO ACQUIRE OR ACQUIRING ANY CERTIFICATES FROM AN AUTHORISED OFFEROR WILL DO SO, AND OFFERS AND SALES OF THE CERTIFICATES TO SUCH INVESTOR BY AN AUTHORISED OFFEROR WILL BE MADE, IN ACCORDANCE WITH ANY TERMS AND OTHER ARRANGEMENTS IN PLACE BETWEEN THAT AUTHORISED OFFEROR AND SUCH INVESTOR INCLUDING AS TO PRICE, ALLOCATIONS AND SETTLEMENT ARRANGEMENTS (THE “TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE NON-EXEMPT OFFER”). THE COMPANY WILL NOT BE A PARTY TO ANY SUCH ARRANGEMENTS WITH SUCH INVESTOR AND, ACCORDINGLY, THIS PROSPECTUS DOES NOT CONTAIN SUCH INFORMATION. THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE NON-EXEMPT OFFER SHALL BE PROVIDED TO SUCH INVESTOR BY THE RELEVANT AUTHORISED OFFEROR AT THE TIME THE OFFER IS MADE. NEITHER THE COMPANY NOR THE DELAER HAS ANY RESPONSIBILITY OR LIABILITY FOR SUCH INFORMATION.

ANY AUTHORISED OFFEROR USING THIS PROSPECTUS WILL STATE ON ITS WEBSITE THAT IT HAS USED THIS PROSPECTUS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF THE CONSENT GRANTED TO IT BY THE COMPANY.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE OFFER

- (1) The offer price in respect of the Certificates shall be equal to the Issue Price, being an amount equal to EUR 1,000 per Certificate.
- (2) Offers of the Certificates are conditional upon their issue. The Company has the right to withdraw the offering of the Certificates and cancel the issuance of the Certificates prior to the end of the subscription period for any reason. Reasons for the cancellation of the offer include, in particular: (i) adverse market conditions, as determined by the Company in its reasonable discretion (such as, for example, increased equity market volatility and increased currency exchange rate volatility) or (ii) that the number of applications received at that time is insufficient, in the Company's opinion, to make an economically viable issuance.
- (3) The Certificates are being offered to retail investors in the Italian Republic. A prospective investor should contact the Distributor during the Offer Period. The Company has the right to close the Offer Period early. A prospective investor will acquire the Certificates in accordance with the arrangements existing between the Distributor and its customers relating to the subscription of securities generally and not directly with the Company. Persons interested in purchasing the Certificates should contact their financial adviser. If an investor in any jurisdiction other than the Italian Republic wishes to purchase the Certificates, such investor should (a) be aware that sales in the relevant jurisdiction may not be permitted; and (b) contact its financial adviser, bank or financial intermediary for more information.
- (4) Investors may apply to purchase Certificates during the Offer Period. In particular:
Any application shall be made to the Distributor.

Door-to-door selling: The Certificates may be distributed by the Distributor through door-to-door selling by means of tied agents, being financial advisors authorised to make off-premises offers (consulenti finanziari abilitati all'offerta fuori sede) pursuant to Articles 30 and 31 of the Legislative Decree 24 February 1998, No. 58, as amended and supplemented (the "Italian Financial Services Act") from (and including) 14 March 2024 to (and including) 11 April 2024 subject to any early closing of the Offer Period or cancellation of the offer of the Certificates.

The Distributor intending to distribute the Certificates through door-to-door selling (fuori sede) pursuant to Article 30 of the Italian Financial Services Act will collect the Acceptance Forms through the tied agents (consulenti finanziari abilitati all'offerta fuori sede) pursuant to Article 31 of the Italian Financial Services Act.

Pursuant to Article 30, paragraph 6, of the Italian Financial Services Act, the validity and enforceability of contracts entered into through door-to-door selling is suspended for a period of 7 (seven) days beginning on the date of subscription by the relevant investor. Within such period investors may notify the relevant Distributor and/or financial advisor of their withdrawal without payment of any charge or commission.

- (5) Distance selling techniques: The Certificates may also be distributed by the Distributor through distance selling techniques pursuant to Article 32 of the Italian Financial Services Act and Article 67-duodecies, Par. 4 of the Italian Legislative Decree 6 September 2005, No. 206 (the "Consumer Code"). In respect of purchase of the Certificates made by means of distance selling techniques, an investor that can be qualified as a consumer for the purposes of the Consumer Code is entitled to a 14-day period in which it can withdraw from the agreement without penalty and without giving any reason. Within such terms, the effects of the subscription agreements will be suspended and the investor can withdraw by means of a notice to the Company/Distributor without any expenses or other fees. The Certificates are being offered with no provision for reducing subscriptions, and consequently, no mechanism exists for refunding excess amounts paid by applicants.

- (6) Applications by prospective investors are not subject to a minimum or maximum amount.
- (7) The Certificates will be issued on the Issue Date against payment to the Company of the net subscription moneys.
- (8) The Company will arrange for the results of the offer to be published on the website of <https://www.defensivecificatesplc.com> on or around the Issue Date.
- (9) The offering of the Certificates does not include any provisions for the exercise of pre-emption rights, the negotiability of subscription rights, or the treatment of unexercised subscription rights.
- (10) Applicants will be notified directly by the Dealer of the success of their application. Dealings may begin before such notification is made.
- (11) Taxes charged in connection with the subscription, transfer, purchase, or holding of the Certificates must be paid by the Certificateholders. Neither the Company nor the Distributor shall have any obligation in relation thereto.
- (12) In respect of the offering of the Certificates, up to 3.00% (the “Distribution Fee”) of the Issue Price of the Certificates, will be charged by, and payable to, FinecoBank S.p.A. of Piazza Durante 11, Milan 20131, Italy in its capacity as Distributor of the Certificates, as appointed by the Dealer. For the avoidance of doubt, neither the Company nor the Counterparty shall be liable to pay any subscription fees.
- (13) FinecoBank S.p.A. of Piazza Durante 11, Milan 20131, Italy (the “Distributor”), as appointed by the Dealer, will be the sole placer of the Certificates.
- (14) The Distributor has agreed to acquire the Certificates from the Dealer with a view to on-selling the Certificates as an independent distributor.

BOOK-ENTRY CLEARANCE PROCEDURES

The information set out below is subject to any change in or interpretation of the rules, regulations and procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (as used in this Appendix A, the “Clearing Systems”) currently in effect and purchasers wishing to use the facilities of any of the Clearing Systems are therefore advised to confirm the continued applicability of the rules, regulations and procedures of the relevant Clearing System.

General

In order to facilitate the clearance and settlement of the Certificates, the Certificates will be cleared and settled through Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg. Euronext Securities Milan may hold Certificates on behalf of Italian investors as custodian through its customer accounts with Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg.

Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg each hold securities for their customers and facilitate the clearance and settlement of securities transactions through electronic book-entry transfer between their respective direct participants. Indirect access to Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg is available to other institutions which clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a direct participant of either system. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have established an electronic bridge between their two systems across which their respective direct participants (a direct participant in either such Clearing System being a “Direct Participant”) may settle trades with each other. Their direct participants are worldwide financial institutions including underwriters, securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations. Indirect access to Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg is available to others (“Indirect Participants”) that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly.

Initial Issue of Certificates

The Certificates are in registered form intended to be cleared through Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and will initially be represented by a Global Certificate. Such Global Certificate will be deposited on the Issue Date with a common depository on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and the Certificates represented thereby will be registered in the name of a nominee of the common depository.

Upon the initial registration of the Certificates in the name of a nominee of a common depository on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and delivery of the related Global Certificate to the common depository, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg will credit each Direct Participant with a principal amount of Certificates equal to the principal amount thereof for which such Direct Participant has subscribed and paid (which subscription may be either for its own account or for the account of persons holding an interest in the Certificates through it).

Certificates that are initially registered in the name of a nominee for the common depository may also be transferred in the secondary market to the accounts of direct participants with other clearing systems through direct or indirect accounts with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg held by other clearing systems. Certificates that are initially registered in the name of and delivered to any other Clearing System (or a depository or custodian on its behalf) may be credited to the accounts of Direct Participants with Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg or other clearing systems.

Relationship of Participants with Clearing Systems

Each Direct Participant shown in the records of a Clearing System as the holder of a book-entry interest in a Certificate represented by a Global Certificate must look solely to that Clearing System for its share of each payment made by the Company to the order of the nominee in whose name the Certificates are registered, and in relation to all other rights arising in respect of the Certificates, subject to and in accordance with the respective rules and procedures of such Clearing System.

Such persons shall have no claim directly against the Company in respect of payments due on the Certificates for so long as the Certificates are represented by such Global Certificate. The obligations of the Company will be discharged by payment to the order of the nominee in whose name the Certificates are registered in respect of each amount so paid. None of the Company, the Arranger, the Dealer, the Broker, the Trustee, the Counterparty, the Custodian, any Agent or any Affiliate of any of them (including any directors, officers or employees thereof) will have any responsibility or liability (i) for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of book-entry interests in the Certificates represented by any Global Certificate, (ii) for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such book-entry interests or (iii) in respect of payments made by Clearing Systems, Direct Participants or Indirect Participants relating to the Certificates.

The Clearing Systems shall have no responsibility for any payments to be made in respect of book-entry interests in the Certificates from Direct Participants to Indirect Participants or from Direct Participants or Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners.

Subject to the rules and procedures of each applicable Clearing System, purchases of book-entry interests in Certificates cleared and settled through a Clearing System must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for such book-entry interest on the Clearing System's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser ("Beneficial Owner") is in turn to be recorded on the Direct or Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from the Clearing Systems of their purchase. No certificates or definitive bonds will be issued by the Company to Direct Participants, Indirect Participants or Beneficial Owners. The Clearing Systems will not be aware of the identity of the Beneficial Owner. The records of the Clearing Systems will reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such book-entry interests are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. Such Beneficial Owners should look solely to the Direct Participant or Indirect Participant, as the case may be, with whom they have an immediate relationship, and to the governing terms of that relationship, to determine their rights in respect of book-entry interests in the Certificates.

Transfers of book-entry interests in the Certificates are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct Participants and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of the Beneficial Owners.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by the Clearing Systems to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements between them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time.

The Clearing Systems may discontinue providing their clearance and settlement services as provided in their rules and procedures.

Trading between Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg Participants

Secondary market sales of book-entry interests in the Certificates held through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg to purchasers of book-entry interests in the Certificates held through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg will be conducted in accordance with the normal rules and operating procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and will be settled using the procedures applicable to conventional eurobonds.

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE CERTIFICATES WHILE IN GLOBAL FORM

Exchange

The Global Certificate limits the circumstances in which registration of title to the Certificates in a name other than the nominee can transfer into the name of another person. For the avoidance of doubt, such limitation does not restrict the transfer of book-entry interests in the Certificates within the Clearing System.

The limitation contained in the Global Certificates is that transfers of the holding of the Certificates represented by any such Global Certificate pursuant to Condition 2(b) may only be made in part (that is to more than one person):

- (a) if the Certificates represented by such Global Certificate are held on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and the Clearing Systems are closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holidays, statutory or otherwise) or announce an intention permanently to cease business or do in fact do so (each, a "Closure Event") and the Company has not, within a period of 30 days following such Closure Event, procured that the Certificates have been deposited in an alternative clearing system that, in the reasonable determination of the Calculation Agent, (i) replaces one or more of the clearing systems that have been subject to the Closure Event or (ii) assumes a substantial proportion of the eurobond clearance business of one or more of the Clearing Systems that have been subject to the Closure Event; or provided that, in the case of the first transfer of part of a holding pursuant to (a) above, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, on behalf of the nominee as the registered holder, have given the Registrar not less than 30 days' notice at the specified office of the Registrar such information as is required to effect such transfer.

In the circumstances described in (a) above, the expectation is that the relevant Clearing System will transfer the Certificates represented by the Global Certificate to Direct Participants (or as otherwise directed in accordance with its rules, regulations and procedures at the time). Such a transfer represents a withdrawal of the Certificates from the relevant Clearing System.

Amendment to terms and conditions of the Certificates

The Global Certificate contains provisions that apply to the Certificates that it represents, some of which modify the effect of the terms and conditions of the Certificates set out in this Prospectus.

The following is a summary of those provisions:

Calculations of Principal and Interest

The calculation of the amount payable upon redemption of the Certificates and (if applicable) the amount of interest payable on the Certificates is made in respect of the total aggregate principal amount of the Certificates.

Payments

All payments in respect of Certificates represented by a Global Certificate will be made to, or to the order of, the person whose name is entered on the Register at the close of business on the Record Date. As used in this paragraph, "Record Date" means the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to the date for payment, and "Clearing System Business Day" means Monday to Friday inclusive except 25 December and 1 January.

Meetings

The holder of the Certificates represented by a Global Certificate shall (unless such Global Certificate represents only one Certificate) be treated as being two persons for the purposes of any quorum requirements of a meeting of Certificateholders. All holders of Certificates are entitled to one vote in respect of each minimum whole unit of the Relevant Currency comprising such Certificateholder's holdings whether or not represented by a Global Certificate.

References herein to "minimum whole unit of the Relevant Currency" shall be read and construed as references to the lowest whole unit of the Relevant Currency that is available as legal tender (e.g. one euro).

Modification by Extraordinary Resolution

In respect of any resolution proposed by the Company or the Trustee:

- (i) where the terms of the proposed resolution have been notified to accountholders in the clearing system with entitlements to the Global Certificate through the relevant clearing system(s), each of the Company and the Trustee shall be entitled to rely upon approval of such resolution proposed by the Company or the Trustee (as the case may be) given by way of electronic consents communicated through the electronic communications systems of the relevant clearing system(s) in accordance with their operating rules and procedures by or on behalf of the beneficial holders of not less than 75 per cent. in principal amount of the Certificates outstanding ("Electronic Consent"). Neither the Company nor the Trustee shall be liable or responsible to anyone for such reliance; and
- (ii) where Electronic Consent is not being sought, for the purpose of determining whether a Written Resolution has been validly passed, the Company and the Trustee shall be entitled to rely on consent or instructions given in writing directly to the Company and/or the Trustee, as the case may be, by accountholders in the clearing system with entitlements to such Global Certificate and/or, where the accountholders hold any such entitlement on behalf of another person, on written consent from or written instruction by the person for whom such entitlement is ultimately beneficially held, whether such beneficiary holds directly with the accountholder or via one or more intermediaries and provided that, in each case, the Company or the Trustee have obtained commercially reasonable evidence to ascertain the validity of such holding and have taken reasonable steps to ensure that such holding does not alter following the giving of such consent or instruction and prior to the effecting of such amendment and provided that reasonable steps shall include the obtaining of an undertaking from the accountholder and/or beneficiary, as applicable, that they will not transfer any or all of such holding prior to the earlier of (i) the effecting of such amendment and (ii) a specified long-stop date. Any resolution passed in such manner shall be binding on the Certificateholder and all holders of beneficial interests in the Certificates represented by the Global Certificate, even if the relevant consent or instruction proves to be defective. As used in this paragraph, "commercially reasonable evidence" includes any certificate or other document issued by Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, and/or issued by an accountholder of them or an intermediary in a holding chain, in relation to the holding of interests in the Certificates. Any such certificate or other document shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding for all purposes. Any such certificate or other document may comprise any form of statement or print out of electronic records provided by the relevant clearing system (including Euroclear's EasyWay or Clearstream, Luxembourg's CreationOnline system) in accordance with its usual procedures and in which the accountholder of a particular principal amount of the Certificates is clearly identified together with the amount of such holding. Neither the Company nor the Trustee shall be liable to any person by reason of having accepted as valid or not having rejected any certificate or other document to such effect purporting to be issued by any such person and subsequently found to be forged or not authentic.

A Written Resolution and/or Electronic Consent shall take effect as an Extraordinary Resolution. A Written Resolution and/or Electronic Consent will be binding on the Certificateholder and all holders of beneficial interests in the Certificates represented by the Global Certificate, whether or not they participated in such Written Resolution and/or Electronic Consent.

Trustee's Powers

In considering the interests of Certificateholders while the Certificates are registered in the name of any nominee of a common depositary for a Clearing System, the Trustee may have regard to any information provided to it by such Clearing System or its operator as to the identity (either individually or by category) of its accountholders with entitlements to the Certificates and may consider such interests and treat such accountholders as if such accountholders were the holders of the Certificates represented by such Global Certificate.

Notices

So long as any Certificates are represented by a Global Certificate and the Certificates are registered in the name of any nominee of a common depositary for a Clearing System, and subject to additional requirements by any stock exchange or other competent authority in relation to the Certificates which are listed, notices to the holders of Certificates may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to that clearing system for communication by it to entitled accountholders in substitution for publication as required by the Conditions or by delivery of the relevant notice to the Clearing System on behalf of the nominee in whose name the Certificates are registered. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of delivery of such notice to a Clearing System.
